I have been taught this was no sham but that we had in the Church of England an actual priesthood; but by your Lordship demanding Mr. Johnston's license because he has acted as a priest, you have raised doubts about the matter in my mind, and make me begin to think that I must have been badly instructed. Yet I find that the Church plainly says Mr. Johnston is a priest, and that he has power to loose and bind and to administer the sacraments, and if this be true why is his license taken away from him for acting as he prove to do? Mr. Johnston was also charged with standing with his back to the people. In this matter, too, I fear I have been badly instructed, for I have been taught that the clergy and people formerly looked one way (towards the altar, and that the desire for the prayer-book to many churches looked towards the other; that, as the Jews in their prayers looked towards the mercy seat, so Christians looked towards the east; whereof the meaning was but a type, especially, we believe, of the Orientalism, the longing with spiritual penitentiary against the evil pantheism of the Macdonald Administration; and when that 1873, the ex-stonemason and Baptist was called on to form a new Cabinet. Having accomplished this he at once dissolved Parliament, and a general election confirmed his power. No stone was left unturned by the agents of corruption to deprive him of his seat; but the fact that he had been a working man was the worst they could bring against him. His reply toasted a chord in the heart of the colony. "True," he said "I have sullied my hands with honest labor but not with Tory gold." As a practical legislator he has achieved splendid things for his adopted country; and that the immense which sank into his young heart at Irvine, when he sat under Dr. Lockman's ministry, have not been forgotten, is made obvious by the character of the measures which he has originated and moulded. He personally conducted the negotiations between Canada and the United States for the establishment of an equitable reciprocity between the two countries. It is one of his chief aims to promote the cultivation of a broad national spirit, and to make the Canadians a great people on the American Continent. We see from the local journals that Mr. Mackenzie intends in a few days to pay a visit to Irvine, the town of his spiritual birth.

The Conviction of the "Spirit Photographers" in Paris.

(From the Telegraph).

A strange trial has taken place before the Correctional Tribunal of Paris, and it has resulted in the conviction of certain "Spirit Photographers" for swindling. Buguet, a photographer of No. 5, Boulevard Montmartre, allied himself with M. Leymarie, the editor of the Revue Spirite, who wrote about him and published fac-similies of his portraits, and with an American named Firman, from whom he learned the art of persuading people that the could if they only willed strong enough, conjure up and photograph the likeness of any deceased relation or friend. For a long time the firm did a large business. Twenty francs was the ordinary fee, but many wealthy people voluntarily paid 2,000, 3,000, and even 4,000 francs. Never was fraud more clearly proved. The operator's spirit box was produced in Court; it contained hundreds of portraits of men, women, boys, and girls of all ages. When customers came desiring spirit portraits, a young lady who acted as cashier, adroitly engaged them in conversation in the waiting room, and generally contrived to find some indications of the physiognomy of the person it was desired to evoke. Then one of the numerous heads was selected, stuck upon a doll dressed up in muslin, and a hazy portrait of a spirit was produced from it. Buguet guarded himself by saying that he could never guarantee a likeness, because much depended on the faith of the applicant, and, moreover, spirits were very capricious, and sometimes when you called one another would come; but in very many instances the force of imagination was so strong that his dupes believed that they saw the portraits of their relations. They burst into tears, fell upon their knees, kissed the photographs, and were profuse in expressions of gratitude to the professor, as well as lavish of gifts to him.

Notwithstanding the palpable exposure of the impostures in open Court, a host of respectable witnesses, including a Russian Marquis, the Comte de Bulleti, Mr. Sullivan, formerly United States Minister at Madrid, two French Colonels, and several ladies appeared for the prisoners, and, undismayed by the sarcasms of the presiding Judge, protested that they really had seen unmistakeable portraits of deceased relatives. The eminent counsel for the defense, M. Lachaud, spoke for two hours, and alluded to Moses, Isaiah, Tertullian, and other authorities on spirits. The Court, however, thought the charge fully proved, and sentenced Buguet and Leymarie to one year's imprisonment, and Firman to six months'. It is curious that the prosecution was not instituted on the complaint of any customer, but spontaneously by the police for reasons not explained.

THE CARDINAL'S OATH.

Quoted from the form furnished the late Lord Palmerston in 1850, by the British Minister at Paris. It is as follows:—

I, ——, cardinal of the Holy Roman Church, do promise and swear that, from this time to my life's end, I will be faithful and obedient unto St. Peter, the Holy Apostolic Roman Church, and our most Holy Lord the Pope, and his successors, canonically and locally elected; that I will give no advice, consent, or assistance against the Pontificate, his may said person; that I will never knowingly or advisedly, to their injury or disgrace, make public to the counsels entrusted to me by themselves or by their legate or letters (from them); also, that I will give them any assistance in retaining, defending and recovering the Roman Papacy and the regalia of Peter with all my might and endeavor, so far as the rights and privileges of my order will allow it, and will defend against all their honor and state; that I will direct and defend, with due form and honor, the legates and nuncios of the Apostolic See in the territories, churches, monasteries, and other benefices committed to my keeping; that I will cordially co-operate with them and treat them with honor in their coming, abiding, and returning, and that I will resist unto blood all persons whatever who shall attempt anything against them; that I will by every way and by every means strive to preserve, augment and advance the rights, honors and privileges, the authority of the Holy Roman Bishop our Lord the Pope and his before-mentioned successors; and that at whatever time anything shall be decided to their prejudice, which it is out of my power to hinder as soon as I shall know that any steps or measures have been taken (in the matter) I will make it known to the same our Lord, or his before-mentioned successors, or to some

Peterborough Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 15, 1875.

MR. CROOKS.

The opposition papers have been very uneasy of late, on account of Mr. Crooks not seeking re-election. Mr. Mowat has explained the cause of this viz.: that Mr. Crooks wished to resign but that he, Mr. Mowat, considered it in the interest of the country that he should not. It would have been wiser in this latter case, to have had Mr. Crooks accept a constituency at once, for no doubt, he could have had one at any time, yet as the premier says, during recess it was not of much consequence. The opposition now forget, that one of their own party had not only retained office, without a seal, but actually met Parliament without out, but then they are privileged to do strange things. They are loyal while signing annexation manifestoes. They are honest while, bartering the country and its interest for office, and while using $356,000 to corrupt the constituencies, and they act constitutionally when one of them retains office for two years without a constituency. Reformers should not, however, be guided by their actions, although there is often a strong temptation to punish others with their own lash. In doing so however they should not establish a bad precedent.

INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION AT PHILADELPHIA NEXT YEAR.

As will be seen by posters, a public meeting is advertised to be held on Tuesday evening next in the Mutual Hall. The object is to discuss the wisdom of having Peterborough Manufacturers represented at the Philadelphia International Exhibition of 1876. Not being manufacturers, we are not fully prepared to take a very decided position on this question. There can, however, be no harm in discussing the matter, and in this way arriving at some definite conclusion. The great question "What will it cost?" is perhaps the one likely to touch the sensitiveness of the Ratepayers. This matter need be no a barrier, as the Government will bear all expenses of freight, there and back. They will insure the articles, and thus guarantee their safe return or the price thereof. Mr. Frazer Secretary of the Ontario Advisory Board, and also Secretary of the Manufacturers' Union of Canada, has promised to address the meeting on Tuesday evening, and he will give full particulars of every thing connected with the proposal. To manufacturers and others it is a matter of some importance. It will be the means of bringing their wares into notice; and, also tend to show that there is such a place as Peterborough in this Canada of Ours. Mr. Frazor paid a flying visit here last Monday. And a few persons were called together. He advised the sending to the exhibition all possible information concerning our resources, our mineral, water power, lakes and scenery as a place of summer resort for pleasure, and perhaps the hint should not be lost sight of. To this end one of Mr. Romaine's maps, one of the Birds Eye Views of the Town, and some accompanying views of our river and lake scenery would attract attention, and might draw large crowds of visitors to Peterborough, Lakefield, Stoney Lake and Mount Julien. The scenery of these back waters is unrivalled for its bold picturesqueness and variety whether the traveller proceeds down the River by the Whistle-Wing to Rice Lake, or by rail and the Steamer Chippewa to Stony Lake. Lakefield is a beautiful Village where good accommodations can be obtained: and the Chippewa leaves there regularly for the Lakes, affording opportunities for pleasure or fishing parties. The accommodation on that steamer, too, is excellent. And the attention to passengers and pleasure parties all that could be desired. Mount Julien Hotel is fitted up in the most comfortable manner, affording comfort and relief from Town and City bustle, that will as soon as known, attract large numbers from the crowded Cities of both Canada and the United States. Mr. McWilliams who has purchased Burleigh Island is now erecting a first class Hotel there; and Mr. Holmes who is now 'mine host' there will be found obliging, and the table one of the best in the Dominion. All these things should be known to tourists and pleasure seekers, and, assist in having Peterborough properly represented, and might be the means of attracting travellers and their money this way.

Let there be a large meeting of Manufacturers and persons interested in the general progress of our Town and County on Tuesday evening. An hour spent in discussing the question will not be lost, at any rate.

THAT $425.

On Thursday last Judge Dennistoun heard the complaint of Whyte & Davis as to the $425 and [illegible] given to the town by Whyte & Davis in the matter of the contract for the iron bridge built in [illegible].

JAMES WHYTE SWORN, I was a member of the firm of Whyte & Davis. It was composed of myself and J. R. Davis. Our firm had a contract of building an iron bridge for the Town and County in 1871-2; Mr. Davis managed the financial matters connected with the carrying on of the work. I don't remember doing anything in this part at all. I received no payments from the Town or County Treasurers, the payments were made to Mr. Davis. I always thought we had received the whole payment until learning from the Review that a portion of the money had been kept back; I learned this since the bridge fell. Up to that time I always thought we had been paid in full. I never had any communication with Mr. Davis as to this drawback and of the contract price. He did not consult with me as to the propriety of making a present of $425 to the School Board or of any other sum. He did not consult with me through any person whatever as to making this present. I was not a party before or at the awarding of the contract that there should be an abatement out of the contract price. I had no knowledge at all of this abatement till seen in the Review. I had no knowledge of a note having been given by our firm for $425 to the Town Treasurer. Mr. Davis spoke to me in regard to the matter; Mr. Stevenson had used a good deal of interest in getting the contract for our firm. This was after we had got the contract. He made no statement to me that he had promised any abatement; I considered Mr. Stevenson's efforts in our favor arose out of our dealing with him largely in coal and other articles. I had no other knowledge why the contract was awarded to our firm. I know nothing further about this matter as to this contract.

W. H. SCOTT SWORN, I was Mayor in 1871 when this contract was let. I was a member of the Joint Committee on behalf of the Town in letting this contract. I did attend meetings of the committee in discharging the duties of my office. I think the contract was awarded to Whyte & Davis, because their tender was the lowest, or at all events a satisfactory tender. I was at the meeting when it was awarded. At the time of awarding of the contract, I was not aware of any understanding as to an abatement or drawback being allowed. During the construction of the bridge I did not become aware of of any arrangement of that kind. I did not know anything about a settlement of $901.94 on 18th March 1872 with Whyte & Davis. I was not in the Council at that time. I had nothing to do with that or of how it was arranged; I had no knowledge then of a note given by Whyte & Davis at that time until the summer of 1874. When Mr. Edg. Pearse spoke to me about it. I did not learn particulars from him; as I gathered from him it was more a matter of suspicion than anything else. I think I did then learn from him that it was supposed the School Board got the benefit, but of this I am not certain. Shortly after the completion of the bridge and after I ceased to have connection with the committee, Mr. Stevenson or Mr. Toole then said Whyte & Davis had made a good thing out of the contract and were going to make a present back. I dont remember to whom as I had no idea they would do so. I have no knowledge of any arrangement to get a drawback or anything else in this matter. I never saw this order of 30th March, 1872, till after it was discussed in the newspaper. I continued to act on the committee till the contract was completed after I went out of office as Mayor.

GEO. A. COX SWORN, I became Mayor of the Town of Peterborough in January 1872. The bridge was completed and in use, I think, when I came into office, at least before I acted at all on the Committee, the first meeting of the committee that I attended was to accept the bridge off the contractors. I attended two or three meetings of that joint committee. The bridge was accepted. This was early in 1872, I think. I know nothing of the payment of the balance to the contractors unless what I have heard since the iron bridge fell. At the time of accepting the bridge I was not aware of any understanding as to this $425. I signed this receipt of March 30th, 1872, but I have no recollection, nor do I know in what capacity I signed it; all who did sign it were members of the town, part of the joint committee, and also of the Town Council. I don't think I signed it as a member of the School Board. I believe I was a member of the School Board. I do not know what the order means, except that it says it was to be paid to the School Fee Fund, which was collected from the pupils monthly. I don't know how this $425 could be applied to this fund. It would supplement this fund. This fund has since been discontinued; the $425 would go with this fund into the general funds. I don't know out of what funds Mr. Edwards was to pay this order. I put my name to the order, but had no impression what induced me to sign it, but I must have considered it right to sign it, by seeing the name of Toole, Stevenson and Smith, I signed it. I think members of the Town Council have signed orders on the Treasurers, but it is not usual for members of the Town Council to sign orders like this unless members of some committee, and there was no committee of this kind in this matter unless it was the bridge committee. I can't say that this order was in connection with the Bridge Committee. I had no recollection of seeing it until I afterward saw my own signature. I suppose I would not have signed unless I thought it was proper for Mr. Edwards to pay it. I think I became a member of that committee by virtue of my office as Mayor. I cannot say that it is or is not lawful for a member of the Council to sign orders on the Treasurer without some authority from the Council but would suppose it was not. I made no examination of the minutes of the Council to find if there was an authority to sign this order. My attention was not drawn to this matter until the discussion this spring since the bridge fell. I have no further knowledge of this matter. I knew nothing whatever of the existence of that note in Mr. Edward's possession, nor was I aware that Whyte & Davis had given a receipt for any larger sum than they had received in cash until after the discussion in the papers and the subject of a rebate was never discussed at any meeting of the committee which I had attended. Mr. Stevenson, who long after the bridge was accepted, told me Whyte & Davis were about to make a present to the town out of their contract by way of rebate. My recollection of what ever Mr. Stevenson told me was about the time I signed the order or near the date. I think that was the most likely time, but I cannot say so positively. I did not know how Whyte & Davis gave the rebate.

A. SMITH SWORN, I was a member of this joint committee from the beginning for building this bridge. I have no knowledge of any understanding of the contractors allowing an abatement on condition of their getting the contract. During the time it was being constructed I may have heard that Whyte & Davis intended making a present to the Town out of the contract. I did hear of it at meetings but I cannot say as to the time. I think it must have been before the bridge was completed. I never criticised they would do it, or would be likely to do it. I have no knowledge of a note from Whyte & Davis being lodged with Mr. Edwards, except what I have seen in the newspapers since the discussion arose. I have no knowledge why [illegible] gave the order [illegible] Davis. [illegible] Edwards [illegible] Davis [illegible] Edwards [illegible] Davis [illegible] Edwards [illegible] Davis

"	Otonabee,	do 105	"

The boxes average about 70 lbs or over 26 tons, perhaps 28 tons.

This is but a small portion of what is already made, and ready for sale. It was shipped to England, and in this way the owners of milk will be likely to realize all the article will be worth there.

ENCOURAGING HOME MANUFACTURES.

On Saturday there was a novel spectacle of a grand show of reaping machines passing along our streets, no less than fourteen or fifteen wagons with new reapers and mowers on their way home; from the Foundry and Machine Works of Mr. Peter Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton is well known to the farming community of this County as a very successful agricultural implement maker. He uses nothing but the best materials, employs good workmen, and manages his own business. Wherever his work goes it is well spoken of and gives good satisfaction. He has been extending his business, adding the manufacture of reaping and mowing machines, and threshing machines. The sale of reapers and mowers on Saturday is unparalleled in Peterboro. On one day no less than sixteen mowers left Mr. Hamilton's establishment. Besides these then delivered, several others are ordered to be delivered at once. Mr. Hamilton's reapers are known as "Wood's Improved" and are said to be as good as any in the market. His mower is known as the "Humming Bird," and is said to be a first class machine. The machines that were delivered on Saturday were divided as follows:—

TO ENNISMORE,

Mr. Wm. Curtin, a mower,
" Thos. Pardee do
" F. Martin Doran do
" Wm. Pape do
" Jeremiah McCarthy, a reaper.

TO EMILY,

Mr. Edward Flaherty a mower
" David Travias do
" Wm. Jackson do
" Henry Sage do
" James Jackson do

TO SMITH,

Mr. Joseph McKewan a mower
" Thos. Young do
" Thos. Stodhart do
" C. Blewitt a reaper and mower
" Robert Grant a mower
" N. Walton a reaper
" Francis W. Bell a reaper
" Wm. McIntyre a mower.

Mr. Hamilton has also sold some of his machines in Otonabee, and one to Mr. Wm. Taylor, of Douro—and as the purchasers can easily go to him and get their machines repaired when they chance to get out of order, they will be better pleased hereafter. The progress of the manufactures of Peterborough is noteworthy, and in this progress Mr. Hamilton is having his full share. He assures us that he uses no doubtful material. His work in the past has given satisfaction everywhere, and we predict for him a large trade in the future. His straightforward and honorable way of doing business will also retain the patronage that may be bestowed on him.

THE TWELFTH OF JULY.

The anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne was duly celebrated everywhere in the Dominion, on Monday, and from all parts the intelligence is, that peace, order, and sobriety reigned. In Peterborough, there was a perfect calm, the different lodges of this district went to Port Hope, where about 26 lodges assembled, and we understand that they had a very pleasant time, and were well treated by the brethren of that district.

At Norwood there was a grand display of colors, and general good order prevailed among the members of the order. Mr. J. P. Brown and Mr. W. Sargent did the speaking, and no doubt did it with a view to the prosperity of the order. Omemee and Milbrook had each their grand gatherings, and from the spread of temperance principles every where, we expect to hear order and harmony were promoted. In the past "drink" had much to do in preventing our best citizens from joining the association. The custom of taking intoxicating liquors into lodge rooms is being done away with. Men, too, are becoming ashamed of meeting on anniversary days for apparently no other purpose than for a guzzle, and hence there are better hopes for the future of the order. The order has long been used by designing demagogues to promote their own selfish purposes, but this 12th of July brings better tidings from all parts, as we are informed that the speakers generally eschewed politics in their addresses. In Port Hope there was a little unpleasantness in attempting to take a man on an old warrant, it is said. The constable was foolish to select such a day for the purpose, but we understand there were no serious consequences.

Their appearance in passing through Peterborough in the morning was very respectable. The members of the different lodges were neatly dressed, and especially the Young Canadians and Young Britons, who drew uniformly. The Young Canadians of Lakefield also, made an excellent appearance, and their beautiful banner attracted a great deal of attention. There was not a word here to mar the pleasure of the day.

There is a growing feeling toward staying at home in future instead of going so far as has been the case during the last few years. Many think that a mammoth pic-nic, would be more pleasurable and serve the same purpose of celebrating the day. The matter is worth consideration, and may be discussed during the year.

EARNESTNESS.—Rowland Hill, in one addressing the people of Wotton-under-Edge, raising himself, exclaimed, "Because I am in earnest, men call me an enthusiast. When I first came into this part of the country I was walking on yonder hill, and saw a gravel pit fall in and bury three men alive. I lifted up my voice so loud for help that I was heard in the town below, at a distance of nearly a mile: help came and rescued two of the sufferers. No one called me an enthusiast THEN; and when I see eternal destruction ready to fall on poor sinners, and about to entomb them irrecoverably it an eternal mass of woe, and call aloud on them to escape, shall I be called an enthusiast now? No sinner, I am no enthusiast in so doing; and I call on thee aloud to fly for revenge to the hope set before thee in Gospel.

—ELECTRICITY—

THOMAS' ECLESIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it, I would recommend it to all.—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

SIXES

I'll try and make a little song
Of unrequested measure,
And though in writing I am wrong,
I'm surely in the fashion.
My love was quite the pink of lover,
And one of her sweet tricks is
To wear such captivating gloves—
Indisputable sixes.

I recollect a month ago,
A week, and then I knew her:
Yes, thirty days have passed I know.
Yet somehow they seem fewer.
But I decree: I recollect
Last Friday three weeks exactly;
Neath trees and beauty's potent effect
I said I loved her dearly.

And, oh, that glove, that right-hand glove.
Lay in my hand so nicely.
Thought I—of course, under—My love.
Your hand is six precisely.
And then I said the usual things
About the heart's devotion,
And added as the rest sings,
A reference to the ocean.

How pretty pretty kid remained to mine,
She said, "now really, Mr.—"
The "Smith" remained unsaid—in fine,
I grieve to say I named her.
I can't say what I really thought,
But somehow she looked frightened;
Also, by sad experience taught,
My mind is now enlightened.

* * * * *

I'm writing at a country place,
Pit only to write rhymes in.
A hundred miles from her sweet face—
Here, waiter bring the Rum in.
What's this? Oh, can it be? yes—no!
How have my hopes miscarried!
It only was three weeks ago,
And now—and now she's married.

THE FLOATING GARDENS OF CASHMERE.

An important use, made of the abundant water surface of Cashmere, is the formation of floating gardens. Various aquatic plants spring from the bottom of the lakes, as water-lillies, confervæ, sedges, reeds, &c., and as the boats which traverse the waters take generally the shortest lines they can pursue to the place of destination, the lakes are in some some places, cut, as it were, in avenues among the plants, which in shallows are separated by beds of sedges and of reeds. In the latter places the neighboring farmer attempts to establish his cucumber and melon floats by cutting off the roots of the aquatic plants just mentioned about two feet under water, so that they completely loose all connection with the bottom of the lake, but retain their former situation in respect to each other. When thus detached from the soil they are pressed into somewhat closer contact and formed into beds of two yards breadth, and of indefinite length. The heads of the sedges, plants and other plants of the floats are now cut off and laid upon its surface, and covered with a thin coat of mud, which, at first intersected in its descent, gradually sinks into the mass of matted roots. The bed floats, but is kept in its place by a stake of willow driven through each end, which admits of its rising or falling, in accomodation to the rise or fall of the water. By means of a long pole thrust among the weeds at the bottom of the lake from the side of a boat, and turned round several times in the same direction, a quantity of confervæ and other plants are torn off from the bottom and carried in the boat to the place where the weeds are twisted into conical mounds about two feet in diameter at their base, and of the same height, terminating at the top in a hollow, which is filled with soft fresh mud, drawn from the bottom of the lake, to which sometimes wood ashes are added, though much more frequently omitted. The farmer has in preparation a large number of cucumber and melon plants, which have been raised under mats, and of these, when they have four leaves he places three plants in the basin of every cone or mound, of which a double row runs along the edge of every bed at about two feet distance from each other. No further care is necessary, except that of gathering the fruit, and the expense of collecting the fruit, and the expense of prepairing these platforms and cones is confined to the value of their labor, which is altogether trifling, as the work is very soon done. Perhaps a more economical method of raising cucumbers cannot be devised, and though the narrow beds are ordinarily almost in contact by their sides yet, by their flexible nature, they are so seperable that a small boat can be readily pushed between the lines without injuring their structure, and for the most part, they will bear a man's weight; but generally, the fruit is picked off from the boat. I traversed a tract of about fifty acres of these floating gardens of cucumbers and melons, and saw not above half a dozen unhealthy plants; nor have I seen, in the cucumber and melon grounds in the vicinity of very populous cities in Europe or Asia, so large an expanse of plant in a state equally healthy, though it must be observed, without running into luxuriance of growth.

ROBERT DALE OWEN.

(From the Chicago Tribune July 2.)

A despatch of this morning tells a sorrowful story. Robert Dale Owen has become insane. After a long life of earnest, unselfish effort for the good of mankind, this terrible infliction comes. The cause of it probably does not lie many months back. When the heartless imposture of the Holmes mediums, the Philadelphia conspirators with "Katie King," was exposed, the shock to Mr. Owen was tremendous. He had accepted the pretended "manifestations" of these rascals with implicit faith. He lived some time in Philadelphia in order to miss none of the seances. The repeated apparitions of "Katie" were to him conclusive proof of immortality. He pinned his faith in the life hereafter, in reunion with his father and his wife, on what Spiritualism, and especially on what his pretended spirit showed him. Readers of his articles in the Atlantic Monthly upon "Katie King" will remember his syllogism which the good old man painfully constructed therein, by which he proved, to his own perfect satisfaction, that the visitor was, indeed, a disembodied bit of supernaturalism. The day before the article appeared the fraud was exposed. Mr. Owen wept bitterly, it is said, when a conviction that he had been made the dupe of a trio of knaves forced itself upon him. He telegraphed to Boston to cut out the article, but it was too late. The magazine was already printed. A thin slip of paper, disclosing any editorial responsibility, and thus ruthlessly increasing that of the author, was prefixed to the sketch. And thus it came to pass that Robert Dale Owen's syllogistic proof that "Katie King" was a spirit and "Katie's" own confession that she was a fraud were published together throughout the country. The mind once so vigorous could not stand the blow that shook the faith of half a lifetime. The insanity feared at that time has at last come. The sun that rose in splendor sets in gloom.

The life so sorrowfully ended—for insanity is death or worse than death, —began in 1804, at New Lanark, a mustrial settlement near Glasgow, Scotland, which was long a monument to the philanthrophy of his father, Robt Owen. The son's fame has never equalled that of the sire, but he has been even more self-sacrificing in his efforts to benefit mankind. When the fatheresame to America in order to carry out his Communistic dreams, the son was his faithful assistant. He edited the paper that served as the organ of the "New Harmony" colony. When that brave, foolish experiment failed, and the elder Owen returned to England to conduct like failures there, to sow the seeds of co-operation, labor leagues, and chartism, to found infant schools, and to preach Spiritualism, Robert Dale remained in America. He was by nature a politician of the old school, the good school, and he was soon in the Indiana Legislature, where he succeeded in emancipating women from the slavery of the common law, then in Congress, and finally in the diplomatic service of the country. President Pierce, who sent Hawthorne to Liverpool, and so indirectly endowed the world with "The Marble Faun," and "Our Old Home," made Owen Minister at Naples. Since he retired from that position in 1858, he had been a student, writer, amateur poltcian and professional philanthropist. His published works fill nearly a dozen volumes No one, we presume, reads now-a-days his unpopular "Popular Tracts," his "Plank Roads," and his "Pocohontas, a Drama," We trust that no one will try to read his "Beyond the Breakers," But book-making was not his forte. A kindly, genial, whole-souled man, the predestined prey of plausible rogues, the friend of every scheme of reform, combining the purity of childhood with the vigor of manhood—he has met a fate worse than death, a fate for which a trio of sordid swindlers are probably responsible.

SHOWING THE WHITE FEATHER

A man took umbrage at an article which appeared in a paper published in the town in which he resided, as personal, the other day, and in an irate manner entered the office, and inquired of the first one he met, who wrote that article, showing the paper, and pointing to the one in which he took exceptions.

Said he, raising his voice in a loud key, and with clenched fist high in air, "I want to see the editor that wrote that article."

"You do," answered the young man interrogated.

"Yes, I do," answered the stranger, angrily. "It is satisfaction I come for, and will have it, and before I leave here, too; do you hear and understand that?"

"All right," said the young man. "But before I call him, I would like to ask you it you ever saw the gentleman before."

"No, of course not, was the savage answer. "Why do you wish to know?"

"Oh, nothing very particular, I thought if you did, you would not care to see him."

"That's just what I come for, young man, and there will be fun, you bet."

"Well, stranger, I tell you beforehand, he is a powerful man, stands six fee two in his stockings, weighs near two hundred, and owns two fists that strike tremendous blows; when angry, his eyes flash fire, his tread is like an elephant, and he can lift a three-hundred pound weight with perfect ease, and top it over his shoulder as easy as I could a baseball. No one dare approach him in an angry mood, for they would be in danger of losing their lives He has held an elephant's trunk for ten minutes, and put his arms around the neck of a horse, and turned him over with comparative ease. He has done powerful things, I tell you, stranger. Besides, he always carries a six shooter, and is an excellent shot, scarcely missing the bull's eye one time out of twelve. Stranger, he is the counterpart of Samson, of old."

During the young man's brief recital of the per sonnel of the editor that wrote that article the stranger turned pale, trembled all over, backing all the time toward the door, out of which he suddenly darted, and has not been heard of since, doubtless deeming it wiser to depart quietly than to encounter such a formidable opponent.

MERCURY.

No ingredient has as yet been adopted, for the cure of diseases which has produced so much harm by its indiscriminate use, nor is there aught that has done so much to weaken the confidence of the public physicians.

Remedies that accomplish the object desired without indidentally inflicting unecessary injury, we say by all means, ought to be sought for and used since they are obtainable by every practioneer; but I regret to say that prejudice too generally prevents their salutary application. I wish not to be understood to advocate the use of what is now termed "Electic" remedies to the entire exclusion of minerals, for I adopt whatever system or remedy I conceive to be beneficial to the invalid, independent of partiality to any school but that there are hurtful and deleterious agents used we have too many sad evidences of, and knowing them to leave lasting and serious effects, I can form no conception of anything to argue the propriety of their employment, and hence regard it an act of humanity to at all times discard them. Dr. Beach, (the great Medical Reformer) says: "Those who wish to preserve their health must avoid the use of all minerals internally; they never were designed by the Author of Nature for medicine; they injure the coats of the stomach and intestines, and instead of removing, create disease. Mercury which is universally used is the worst of all." Dr. Bigelow says:

"Mercury enters into every part of the body—the blood, bones, milk, bile, cutaneous discharges, serum, saliva, breast &c., and there continues; and if the victim of such quackery lives, his system will be a living barometer to denote the changes of the weather—great pain making the only difference." We have been blamed for denouncing the use of mercury and other hurtful poisons, but we deem it a duty to our fellowmen., and to that God who has bountifully provided us with other remedies which are prompt, safe and effectual in eradicating diseases of every kind from the human system—leaving none of those baneful effects which often last during life, such as increased action of the heart and arteries, debility and emaciation, tubercles in the lungs, scrofulous blood, inducing various forms of chronic disease; thickening of various membranes, particularly the pericardium and the pleura, metallic taste in the mouth, ulcerated throat, peculiar and offensive odor of the breath, spongy gums and decayed teeth, increased secretions and excretions, palsy and epilepsy, pale, contracted countenance, indigestion, disturbed sleep and frightful dreams, and other evils too numerous to mention, that follow in the wake of mineral poisons which are daily administered. Even admitting that such agents have a tendency to eradicate acute diseases, yet when their ultimate chronic effects are considered, have physicians any justifiable excuse for using them? May we not at least hope the evil may be abated.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURE TABLE BEVERAGE FREE FROM ALCOHOL

WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS

GRATEFUL THOUSANDS proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the purposes of a family Medicine.

Perhaps no one disease is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, now we every may before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always —that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compositions. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cases are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and constitutions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaints and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for small dose, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well often finds a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and [illegible] effect on the digestive apparatus.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as does our present remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the nations of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does it fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in all obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all the world.

TWO PICTURES.

Before Marriage.

My Maggie, my beautiful darling,
Come into my arms my sweet,
Let me fold you again to my bosom
Be close that I can hear your heart beat.
What! those little fingers been sewing!
Ones been pricked by the needle I see:
These hands shall be kept free from labor
When once they are given to me.

All mine, little pet, I will shield you
From troubles and labor and care
I will robe you like some fairy pellicose,
And jewels shall gleam in your hair.
Those slippers you gave me are perfect,
That dressing-gown fits to a T—
My darling I wonder that heaven
Should give such a treasure to me.
Eight—nine—ten—eleven! my precious,
Time flies when I am with you.
It seems but a moment I've been here,
And now, must I my it! Adieu"

After Marriage.

Oh, Meg, you are heavy—I'm tired;
Go sit in the rocker I pray;
Your weight seems a hundred and ninety
When you plump down in that sort of way.
You had better be mending my coat sleeve
I've spoken about it before—
And I want to finish this novel
And look over those bills from the store.

This dressing-gown acts like the d—l,
These slippers run down in the heel:
Strange nothing can ever look decent;
I wish you could know how they feel.
What's time bill from Morgan's? Why, surely,
It's not for another new dress!
Look here! I'll be bankrupt ere New Year,
Or your store bills will have to grow less.

Eight o'clock! Meg, sew on this button
As soon as you finish that sleeve;
Heigh-ho! I'm so dreadedly sleepy.
I'll pile off to bed I believe.

A TERRIBLE ALTERGATIVE.

BY LADY DUFF'S HARDY.

'You seem to be very much struck by that picture,' said my old friend the Colonel (for as I don't mean to betray family secrets, I shall speak of him as the 'Colonel' only,) at whose cosy nook in Buckinghamshire I had quartered myself for a few days. The picture he alluded to certainly had attracted an unusual amount of my attention, considering that, as a rule, I am strangely deficient in artistic taste.

'Well, yes,' I answered, my eye turning to rest on that particular object which had attracted it many times before; 'regarding it as a picture, I should say it is by no means the best of your collection; but regarding it as a portrait, there is something about it that fetches me. It is not that the face is either handsome or intellectual, but there is a strange, weird something about it which the artist seems to have caught fresh from the living face, and transferred to the canvas, and which all his after act had failed to point out.

The picture which gave rise to these observations was that of a man certainly not past the middle age, dressed in the fashion of the earlier period of George III. The face and figure, as regarded mere face and form and feature, were common-place enough; there was nothing sufficiently remarkable in the portrait to attract more than passing observation; indeed on looking at it, you felt it ought to represent a kindly, genial gentleman; but somehow it didn't. There seemed to be something behind it, working out through the painted eyes as though it or they had seen what they should not, and were haunted by some awful mystery that would not be hidden even in the grave. Turning my back upon it I shifted the conversation, and my friend seemed by no means displeased to dismiss the subject. We had a long gossip that on many matters interesting to old friends who meet but seldom and with long lapses of time between. It was late before we could make up our minds to separate. At last as I left the room, candlestick in hand, I could not help, against my will, casting a furtive glance at the portrait, and hastily shut the door behind me. I was dead tired, for I had come off a long journey; but when I got to bed it was a long time before I could compose myself to sleep, and when I did I was troubled in my dreams. The portrait had followed me up stairs, slipped into the room after me, and tried to get into the bed beside me; but, failing in that, went and leaned against the wall and came out of the frame and climbed up to the top of my bed, hid in the curtain folds, and multiplied itself by thousands, till the whole atmosphere, above and around me, was filled with that one weird, strange face. In the morning my friend hoped I had slept well. I told him the sort of purgatory I had endured, adding:

'I am sure there is some grim secret connected with that picture; you may as well tell me what it is. If it is a family secret, I promise to keep it sacred.'

'Well,' he answered after a moment's reflection, 'there is a painful story connected with it. The portrait is that of my grandfather—Doctor Mathias, let us call him. He was one of the physicians in ordinary to George III., which position he occupied long before he had reached the middle age. He was a courteous, genial, kindly man, full of those social qualities which make a man a favorite of society. So much I have heard. When I knew him things were different. In the year 1770, full of high spirits and pleasant anticipations, he went on the continent for a month's holiday; he came back at the end of it an altered man—his genial nature clouded with an ineradicable gloom. He gave up all practice, all society; bought this place and settled here; he received no visits, paid none, he lived in his library among his books, occasionally taking long solitary walks through the country. His nature did not degenerate into harshness, but a strange melancholy possessed him; its cause was unknown, so was its cure. He turned his back upon the world, and though he was no world scorner nothing would induce him to enter it again. He was a widower, and his only son—my father—was then a boy at Harrow. You may imagine this was not a lively place for a high spirited young fellow to come home to; they saw little of each other. In due time my father married and I was born. Years passed, and one wintry night, when I was about eighteen years old, we received a telegram summoning us here. We came and were shown into the room where you slept last night. The old man with the stamp of death upon his face, was propped up on pillows, where he had been for hours, his eyes fixed upon the door, watching for us. As we entered the room his fleshless eyes brightened, his eager, outstretched hands trembled as we touched them. With the damp dew upon his brow, his voice quaking, and his whole soul shuddering as he lived over again one terrible moment of his life, he told us the story which I had better put together in my own words.

It appears that during that momentous visit to the continent he went to Naples. He was received by the best society, and most hospitably entertained in the most distinguished social and political circles, where he passed many pleasant hours discoursing and discussing intellectual and scientific subjects—chemistry, surgery, and once among these things the use and misuse of poisons cropped up in the course of conversation; and some one present—a gentleman of note and importance—asked what was the quickest and easiest death to die. The subject was freely discussed.

One evening he returned from one of those pleasant gatherings, and in a reflective mood of mind, sat for an hour looking over the moonlit city and the beautiful world famous bay. It was near midnight when two strangers were shown in to him, who requested his immediate attendance in a case of great urgency. He represented that he was there on a visit of pleasure, not for professional purposes. They were perfectly aware of that fact, they said; still they urged him so strongly that at last they overcame his scruples, and consented to go with them. A carriage was at the door; he got in first, they followed him, pulled down the blinds and rattled away. He did not like his position and began to suspect that all was not right. They kept utter silence.

They seemed to drive a great distance turning and turning many times. Once he inquired, 'Had they far to go?' and he received the brief answer 'no.' At last they drove into the court yard of a great house. The door opened as if by magic, 'There was no lights he might as well have been blindfolded; there would have been total darkness but for the moonbeams which struggled through the stained-glass window and fell in fantastic shadows at their feet as they ascended the wide stone staircase. On reaching the first landing they threw open a door, and for a second he was almost blinded by the rays of light that streamed out upon him. The door closed upon him as he stepped into the room. He took the whole aspect of the room at a glance; it was gorgeously furnished, and brilliantly illuminated with wax candles; at a table near the heavily curtained window a man of stern and commanding appearance sat writing. He raised his head as they entered, and, pointing to the far end of the room, exclaimed:

'Your patient lies here, sir.'

My grandfather's eyes followed the direction of his finger, and observed a woman stretched upon a couch. Where had he seen that face before? Slowly it dawned upon his memory. A few days back he had been to the theatre, and glancing round, was struck by a beautiful, fair face, which for the time fascinated him; he thought it the loveliest there. He looked on it again now; but how changed! The hands clasped upon the breast, as though in prayer; a dumb, white terror was written on the face, and in the great uplifted eyes there was a hopeless, despairing agony sickening to behold.

He inquired what was the matter—how she had been attacked, and seeing that she was gagged, he begged them to release her mouth that she might answer his questions, adding:

"Your business here is to kill, not to cure, doctor." said one in a strangely sad tone, which accorded ill with his stern fearful phrase. 'Your patient has spoken her last word in this world. She is doomed to die by a secret though a strictly just tribunal, but we would temper justice with mercy and spare her the shame and public disgrace. You can cause her to die easily and secretly; therefore we have brought you here.'

'If this lady has committed any crime so great as to deserve death,' he answered, full of compassion for the unfortunate, 'she must meet her death at the hands of the public executioner, not mine.'

'By yours, and yours only, said one of his conductors gravely. 'There is no time to waste in mere words. She knows that she has deserved death, and she knows that she must die.'

'God forbid! exclaimed the physician, a frozen horror stealing over him. The ominous stillness, the grim aspect of the terrible men, struck a chill to his heart. He realized all the horrors of his position.

'A doctor never travels without his tools,' resumed the stranger; and as he spoke he turned the face back from the tender throat, and, pointing to it, added significantly, 'Open the jugular vein; it is the easiest and quickest way to die.'

My grandfather started back amazed and horror struck. These were the very words he had uttered during one of those pleasant gatherings at the house of a celebrated Neapolitan a few days back.

'How dare you propose to me such a crime?' he exclaimed. 'I am an Englishman, and will not commit murder.'

'Pshaw! your nation produces as many honorable criminals as any other. Do your work sir, and quickly. If you have any conscientious scruples, remember an enforced sin lies lightly on my conscience: lay that comfort to your soul. No more words,' he added peremptorily—'not one; this is the time for action.'

'I refuse to obey your cruel command. Let me go.'

The man who had been writing, and until now had taken no part whatever in the scene that was passing around him, then rose up and joined the group. Laying his hand lightly on my grandfather's shoulder, he said:

'There is no escape for you, Dr., every moment you hesitate you only prolong that woman's pain. She must die: and you can despatch her with painless speed.'

'What if I refuse? You cannot force me to commit a murder.'

He pointed to two sturdy figures, (either soldiers or hireled servants of some noble family—my grandfather couldn't tell which) who had been standing motionless by the couch, and answered:

'Then those faithful fellows will despatch you; and afterwards despatch her; they are not particular and their work will be equally done. If the operation be not performed upon your patient before the clock strikes you know your fate. You are obdurate, remember you throw away your own life without saving hers. She is doomed, no power on earth can save her.'

It was in vain to speak or expostulate with those fiends in human form. He felt they were stern inexplorable as fate. It was as cruel, as horrible and cowardly. Five men assembled to witness the professional murder of a young and beautiful woman! what had she done? whom had she offended? Some secret machinery was at work: these men were mere instruments in the hands of a higher power—they had owned as much; they had no personal interest in the matter. They were there to carry out justice, they said—secretly, it was time; but the woman had been lawfully condemned, and the sentence of of the law must be privately executed.

The woman's eyes were fixed upon them throughout the whole of this conversation, and travelled from one face to the other in hopeless agony; not a word passed her ears, and only the one despairing, changeless expression sat like a seal upon her face. She knew there was no escape for her—none. There was only one question to be solved Was she to die by unwilling band of a pitying stranger? What a world of terror must have been compassed in those few moments of her life as she lay waiting and watching there?

The clock began to chime the quarters; it was about to strike. At a given signal the statute-like figure stepped forward and rapidly uncoiled a rope with a noose already made; they were about to slip it over his head and hang him to a beam which ran along the centre of the ceiling. The horror of facing a sudden and violent end seized him—his death would avail her nothing for whom he died. His senses were in a whirl; he threw up his hands and sprang forward.

'I'll do it!' he exclaimed, and fell on his knees beside her. 'They will have your life; I cannot save you, my child but I can shield from their rough, cruel hands and put you painlessly to rest. Forgive me, forgive me, for it is in mercy to you I do this cruel deed.'

The white hand went out to him and closed over his in a soft, forgiving clasp the agony died out of the sweet eyes as they rested one moment on his face; then with a low sigh she closed them and turned away her head. In another moment her young life was ebbing slowly away. He remained by her side, holding her hand in his, and watching till all was over. He would not for a second leave her with those stern men, lest a wounding word or rough touch might disturb her on her way from this world to the next. He was conducted from the place in the same way as he entered it, and when his conductors took leave of him they suggested that it would be well if he would leave Naples with as little delay as possible. This forced murder—for such it really was lay upon his conscience to the end of his life, and filled it with one long remorse—a living nightmare—for that scene was always present to his mind. The change that had so long puzzled us puzzled us no more, He could not carry his secret to the grave with him, so gave it to our keeping.

It's a terrible story! I exclaimed.

And unlike most terrible stories it is true,' he answered. 'Come out for a breath of fresh air and sunshine, to blow this gloomy subject from our senses.'—Pictoral World.

DRY GOODS CHRISTIANS.

There seems to be in the churches a great strife raging. It is an Austerlitz of ribbons. The carnage of color is seen all over our religious assemblages.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 22, 1875.

QUIETNESS.

Quietness prevails nearly everywhere in the Province just now. The Mail has failed to produce much stir, even in political rumors. Mr. Crooks still survives all the rancilade of the enemy, and is likely to do so until he chooses to accept a seat. The question of an Irish Catholic entering the Ottawa Cabinet, dame rumour says, is about to be settled, but the person is not yet named. It is a matter of trifling importance and of little real advantage to themselves. The question of national representation in the Dominion or Provincial Cabinets, may be a matter of policy, but cannot be of any consequence to the different nationalities composing the Canadian people. The religious creed of a Cabinet minister ought not to affect his actions or be an incentive to partiality in any way. The demand for it arises out of jealousies and bickerings that are kept alive by designing men who seek their own, rather than the general good, and it will be found foolish in the extreme attempt to govern the Dominion on religious principles will meet with a determined opposition, and will be certain to meet the general disapproval of the mass of the electors. I ease and quietness can best be maintained by all classes uniting to promote economy in the great public works now in course of construction, and by honesty of purpose in carrying on the different departments of our political machinery. The right to enjoy our own religious fancies is already guaranteed to us, but the right to obtrude those fancies into affairs of state and secular education must be granted to no class of the people. and where the over conscientious scruples of any class of persons prevents them from mutually engaging in public concerns the general good should be paramount to any silly scruples. The aim of all wise governments is to ensure to every citizen the just and impartial administration of the laws of his country and the enjoyment of equal privileges with every other citizen. To ask for more than this will frustrate the end for which more may be sought.

THE QUEBEC ELECTIONS.

The Conservatives press is loud in ectaces of joy over the result of the elections in the Province of Quebec. According to the best informed papers the members are classified thus :—

Gov.	33
Opposition	31
Independent	1
Total	65

Well, there is a ray of hope in those figures. The Government has a majority of two; and one ready to go either ways. But how is it that they talk of a coalition? Superhuman efforts were made to get that majority, and yet it is small enough to afford very little consolation.

The Bishops and Clergy took a very active part in this election contest, engendering strong religious animosities, but they claim the right to advise their people on all matters that concern them, both spiritual and secular, and hence their activity to see that their wishes or advice shall be carried out. It is strange however that they do not permit their advice to have its affect and await the result. This would not be found fault with, but active interference is sure of condemnation. It is a much to be regretted that matters of religion and politics get so mixed up ; but, this has been the case in all countries, and under every system where church and state are combined or seek to be ; and the people of Canada must make up their mind either to put up with all such combination or prepare to meet them in the most philosophic way they can.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT MILBROOK.

Yesterday intelligence was received that a disastrous fire occurred at Milbrook, which destroyed 45 to 50 buildings —stores and dwellings in the centre and business part of the village. It is said that the buildings on both sides of the street from the main street westward, are destroyed. The whole of Wood and Kell's block and the blocks on the opposite side of the street.

It is rumored here that there was a row with the circus men on Tuesday, and that the fire occurring that night, it is believed was caused by some of them. Another story is that it caught in Mr. Eyres' Millinery Rooms but that the cause is unknown. The loss must be very great. There is only a partial insurance no doubt. Full particulars have not been received here yet.

THE SHOW

The Show on Monday was well patronized. The people were pouring into Town from three o'clock in the morning determined not to miss the procession. Not less than 8000 people were curious enough to leave their homes to witness the aggregation of men, horses, and rare animals on exhibition. The great attraction however, was the ascension of a balloon, which was advertised to go up at 10 o'clock, but did not go up till six in the afternoon. There must have been fully ten thousand persons present to witness this portion of the show, and zealously did they hold their ground until their curiosity was satisfied. About six p. m. or within a minute or two of it, the monster ascended into the air. Attached to the lower part of it there were fixtures of rope and a horizontal bar suspended by two ropes not more than six to seven feet long. As it left the earth one of the men took hold of the bar in one hand, and rose with it ; when about one hundred feet high he caught it with both hands, and then when about 300 to 400 feet high, as it moved North East, he caught the bar with his legs, let his hands free and hung with his head down, when about over Mr Dunlop's residence he changed position and got higher up on a circular loop and appeared to sit there until becoming like a bird in size, to those whom he left gazing after him. It is said that he lit near the Auburn Mills, where a carriage had been in wait for him. The whole elevation and decension did not occupy much more than ten minutes, and to those who never saw an aeronau expedition, it was the most exciting part of the days proceedings. The show of animals and curiosities was about the same as other shows that have visited Peterborough. but the gymnastic feats were extraordinary. There were the usual number of side shows, gamblers and sharpers, and some of them made money out of the gullibility of those who had more money than discretion. There was none of the accustomary quarrelling, and not much drunkenness was to be seen on the streets notwithstanding the immense crowds of people attracted to town. The Treasurer of the concern assured us that over 6000 persons visited the show in the afternoon, and about 4000 to 5000 in the evening, the hard times appearing to prevent no one.

THE HORTICULTURAL SHOW.

The summer show of the Horticultural Society was held on Thursday last. The number of exhibitors was not equal to what it should be in a town like Peterborough, but what was shown was very good. The exhibition in the flower line was all that could be expected. In ladies' work what was shown was very nice, but there was not that competition, so to speak, that might be expected.

In the vegetable department and fruit department there was more competition, and the articles entered were equal to those shown other years. Mr. Kempt, especially, showing some English gooseberries of an extraordinary size, and free from mildew. In the poultry division there were Brahmas, Cochins, Houdans, Polands, Hamburgs, Bantams, Plymouth Rock, all very fine birds. Mr. John McClelland showed some superior brahma chickens. The number of exhibitors in this line was not large, when we consider how many fowl fanciers there are around town. In fine arts there were few entries.

The following prize list will afford our readers all the necessary information in reference to the successful competitors:—

CALIFORNIA LETTER.

The following letter, sent to us in the mouth of March, has been detained ever since in some unaccountable way, indeed we have published a letter from the same correspondent, written after he found that this one had not reached us. Although a letter out of date, this one will bear reading, as it furnishes information to farmers and others of the troubles to be met with even in the golden regions of California.

Anehim' Los. Angles Co., Cal., March 30

DEAR EXAMINER,—Since the date of my former letter things are going on as usual. The Bandiii, Vasquez, whom I mentioned in one of my former letters, has at last paid the penalty due to his deeds. He was tried in San Jose County where the murders were committed, and found guilty, he was sentenced to be hanged, which was carried into effect a few days ago. He, on the scaffold maintained his innocence of shedding any blood. His Chief Lieutenant published a proclamation a few days before his execution, warning the people of the County that if the sentence be carried out, they expect but little mercy from the Band, who are yet at liberty. I have not heard of the threats being carried into effect, but there is time enough yet. About the date of my last the Postal Law was changed, which is certainly a great boon to all concerned. I observe your Parliament are about making a change in the Newspaper Law. On this side the line, newspapers published in the County circulates free in the mails in the County where published, otherwise the postage is now paid by the publishers. Work on the railroads is progressing eastward towards San Bernardino, as well towards Sanfrancisco. Another railroad is now started from Los Anglos towards the State line of Nevada. These mines promise very rich and will be supplied with the necessaries of life from this valley. A large amount of barley and hay have already been sent there, which has raised prices here materially. There will be a great rush of people to the mines as soon as the spring opens and the roads become passable for teams. All supplies are now forwarded by wagons. Two or three wagons are hitched together and ten or twelve mules or horses attached to the front wagon. In this way, although the roads may be bad, yet they draw great loads: of course they carry water and provisions when none is to be got, for men and teams, and all hands camp out. The mines are chiefly silver and gold.

Seeding time is now past, with us, except corn, this is now the time for planting. Early crops will be favorable but late sown grain looks very backward. Barley and rye first sown, in volunteer is now headed out. Peach, Apricot, Quince, Almonds, and other early trees have been in blossom for some time. Grape vines are also out in leaf. Of rain we had about ½ of an inch two weeks ago, altogether about 14 inches for the season. Very little fell this year so far—and I don't expect any more, at least to do any good. The weather in February was very favorable. We had a heavy frost on the second night in March. The glass stood at sunrise at 28, that is cold for us. The month was favorable afterwards for crops, none of those drying winds visited us, and we were all in hopes that although the the rainfall was short, yet the moisture remains in the ground longer, so that crops would have all the benefit from it, but yesterday paid up for all. A severe wind from the north-west blew all day and almost destroyed everything. I think I told you before that those winds extract much moisture from the soil, and green grass itself feels crisp and dry, they do much damage to crops when they at this was the case last night. This a. m. at sunrise the glass stood at 28 deg. The chief part of the vines, leaked out, are killed and much damage will be done. Several barns and sheds were unroofed or blown down by the wind. I was not in town today and will delay until I hear what damage is done the vines there by the frost. This crop is the great staple there, sometimes about 1000 acres are in bearing.

I have now delayed longer than I anticipated, full one week, and now I could fill another column with news. The frost I mentioned did not do any damage, however. On last monday, the 26th of April, another of these heavy and fierce winds swept over the plains, carrying the lighter portion of real estate to a great height, and when evening came, another and the severest frost of the season came on. A neighbor who has a registering glass, tells me that it registered 22 deg. some time during the night. Ours was 26 deg. at sunrise. People who have lived here 20 years say that they never saw such a frost it being one of the terrible scourges we sometimes read of in the Eastern States. The damage done is enormous, to most it not all the peach crop, and other early kind of fruit, the vines being all in blossom. The foliage is cut from all trees lasted out. The orange crop of next year will be hurt as they were also in blossom. The grape crop is gone, and rye and barley headed out is greatly damaged. Late grain is I am afraid gone. The roots seem to be frozen in the ground and it is not likely any rain will now come to do any good. This storm has not been confined to this county, it has swept over the whole state. Our farmers (at least from present appearances) will not have to accuse their fellows here, this year, of lowering the price of wheat, as they did last year.

In order to assist when the rain fall is not sufficient, we are constructing irrigation works. They will cost $2 the acre, or more. There will be spent this summer, at least, $50,000 in the works, the main ditch will be at least 20 miles long. Real estate has gone up much this year, many coming from the severe winter of other places to settle in this sunny land. Several large blocks of land have been placed in the the market, cut up in small parcels to suit, and then sold at auction. I remark that, on the average they bring over forty dollars per acre in their natural state. Parties purchasing pay one instalment and balance in yearly instalments, at 10 per cent out of the first payment. The company generally set apart a certain portion for the erection of a school house, which encourages sales and settlements. In my last letter I mentioned that Mr. John Edwards had paid us a short visit. He is now about completing arrangements to San Francisco and will return to this place to open a lumber yard, at least I hope this will be the case, and I am sure the news will be gratifying to his parents as well as his old acquaintances. When I saw him he looked well, not much changed by the roll of years. Yours, J. H.

ANOTHER CONSERVATIVE MEMBER UNSEATED.

The Telescope put it thus :—Mr. Wigle, who was returned as elected to the Ontario Legislature for the South Riding of Essex, found it impossible to wiggle through the election court, and in consequence Mr. Chancellor Spragge declared his election void on Tuesday. The result of the trials of members of the Ontario house now stands as follows :

LIBERALS UNSEATED

1. Paxton.... ... for North Ontario,
2. Barber.....for Halton,
3. Chisolm.....for Peel
4. Currie.....for Welland,
5. Haney.....Monck.

CONSERVATIVES UNSEATED.

1. Stock.....for North Wentworth,
2. Baker.....for Russell,
3. Broder.....for Dundass,
4. Munro .....for West Elgin,
5. McGowan.....for West Wellington,
6. Wiggle.....for South Essex.

LIBERALS RE-ELECTED.

1. Haney..... ..... for Monck,
2. Currie .....for Welland,
3. Hodgins (in place of Munro) for West Elgin.

CONSERVATIVES RE-ELECTED.

None.

SEATS GAINED BY THE LIBERALS.

1. West Elgin.....by Hodgins.

SEATS GAINED BY THE CONSERVATIVES.

None.

That does not look very like a defeat of the Liberal Ministry, does it ? Still the Conservative organs must say something, and under the circumstances it is not to be wondered that they endeavor to draw attention from the real issue by making as much display as possible out of the fact that in several instances agency was not proved against the parties who did the bribing in behalf of their candidates, who in consequence were not held responsible for the acts, and were permitted to retain their seats. We have no desire to deprive them of any comfort that can be derived from this. All we want to do is to impress them with the fact that while six unseated Conservative members of the Ontario Legislature are without seats, only three Liberal members are in that position, and that while the Conservatives have lost one and gained no seats, the Liberals have gained one seat and lost none.

Terrible Work of a Religious Maniac

Richard Fryer, a Toquerville (Utah) man, who has recently been under the hallucination that he was a second Jesus Christ, found Thomas Baily, a friend of the family in his house a few evenings ago lighting a fire in the grate. Believing that Baily was an emissary of the devil, who was trying to burn his premises, the lunatic rushed for his pistol and shot him through the head. Mrs. Fryer, paralyzed with fear, crouched in a corner, and was shot through the heart by her demoniac husband. Then he went to the cradle where his infant was sleeping, and deliberately blew its brains out. This was the crowning act of the almost unparalleled tragedy. Fryer then sallied forth into the village, armed with a revolver and a gun, proclaiming that he was the Lord, and saying that he had slain the devil and several of his imps. The sheriff being unable to arrest him, and fearing that still other lives might be sacrificed killed him with a shot from a navy revolver. All the victims of the tragedy were buried on the same day, from the same house.

WHAT ARE WE DOING.

The Pen and Plow is devoted to Agriculture, Horticulture, Floriculture Landscape Gardening, Rural Architecture, and kindred subjects—to the culture of the mind, which embellishes social life, and to the culture of the soil which is the foundation of National wealth.

Ours does not propose to take the place of the many publications which cover every department of learning, science, art, and social life ; but we believe it in our power to give a wide circulation to a journal embracing the most striking and usefull things which relate to the culture of the mind, and the culture of the soil.

We know that all wealth rests on enlightened agriculture, and all civilization on the intellectual and moral culture of the people.

Can we not give the best experience of our fellow laborers throughout the world, and sow the seeds of knowledge over the land ?

Let an understanding of the affairs of life be brought to our homes and fire sides—that it may flow more smoothly and profitably on.

May we not furnish the fruits of great authors without tiring the reader with a long journey before he can reach results ?

In dealing with the business of the tiller of the soil, we will go with the sun in his seasons.

The Pen and Plow will contain useful knowledge of the affairs of rural life, following no pet theories nor "hobbies"—in short, it will be practical, instructive and interesting for farm and fireside. In this spirit we continue to work, trusting that the Pen and Plow may be worthy of the homes and hearts of the people.

CURSING.

(From the Witness)

When the Witness was put under the ban we explained the object was to make a bugbear of it at the then coming elections, and as such it has been used, both at the elections and since. No one can utter his voice on the subject of ecclesiastical aggression but the effort is made to stifle him the cry of "Witness, Witness!" The Rev. Mr. Sax, one of the few remaining constitutionalists among the clergy, tells the people of Quebec the plain truth as to the teachings of the Church a few years ago with regard to the clergy's duties at elections, and again the answer is, "We see!" But the mouth of the Liberal press is not going to be gagged any longer with chaff like this. Now that the elections are over they are all getting as "brutal" as the "Witness" and, —why not!

The readers of the Witness who have been inclined to regard it as serious, find themselves in very numerous and very respectable company. How these curses work may be judged from one or two figures. The circulation of the Weekly Witness has increased, between the first of March and now, the months during which the ban has been operative, from 16,000 to 21,000. The circulation of the Canadian Messenger during the same time increased from 18,600 to 23,900. The income from subscriptions to all our publications during the same months has been twenty-eight per cent. higher than during a similar period of last year. This considering the extraordinary difference between the two years, is more like a miracle wrought in our favor than the operation of a potent curse.

HOPE.

FREAKS OF LIGHTENING.—Mr. James Irwin lives with his wife and several children in what was called a neat cottage in the Township of Hope, just out side of the Town Corporation. They all retired on Monday night in their usual health and spirits. During the thunder storm, Mr. Irwin was awakened by a crash as if the house was coming down over his head. He then with difficulty awakened Mrs. Irwin, who was sleeping in the same bed, and, on examination, found that the chimney on the North end of the house was knocked all to pieces, and the end knocked completely out by the force of the eclectric current. Another current entered the roof over the front door, and forced out both windows and a large portion of the front of the house. Another current entered the roof near the stove pipe, and on going down the water spout disorganized the cistern. The crockery in a cupboard at the end of the house was all broken upas if it had been broken up by a hammer—not an entire piece left. The pendulum ball was knocked of the clock, and the cover on the sewing machine was smashed into pieces. The plastering and window casing were thrown on the bed where Mr. and Mrs. Irwin were sleeping, and it was almost a miraculously escape that no one was hurt. We are pleased to state that the building was insured in the Canada Mutual, and a card in another column informs the public that the loss was promptly paid.

BARNS BURNT.—On Sunday morning the 11th instant, the barns, sheds, and contents, of Mr. Stephen Taylor, lot 26, Con. 2, Township of Hope, were totally destroyed by fire. Loss, say $1,500, only partially insured in the Canada Farmers' Ins. Co., Hamilton. The fire was the work on incendiary. Mr. Taylor offers $200 reward for such information as will lead to the conviction of the parties who set fire to his buildings. A valuable horse belonging to a visitor was also destroyed.—Guide.

NORWOOD.

The Rev. T. F. Fotheringham, of Toronto, having received and accepted the call from the Presbyterian Congregations of Norwood and Hastings, the ordination services in connection with the acceptance of the charge will take place in the Presbyterian Church, in Norwood, on Wednesday next, the 21st of July, commencing at 11 o'clock a.m. The Rev. J. M. Roger, of Peterborough, will conduct the induction services. Special services in connection with the induction will be held at Hastings, commencing at 7 o'clock, immediately before which tea will be served by the Ladies of the Presbyterian Church of that Village.

BELMONT.

During the thunder storm of Tuesday morning last, a horse belonging to Mr Ed. Johns, of Belmont, was struck by lightening, and died from the effects of it shortly after. The animal was a very fine one, and Mr. Johns was frequently offered large prices for it, but no amount could purchase the animal from him.

APSLEY 12 OF JULY.

The orangemen of Apsley, have enjoyed themselves to-day, they assembled at Apsley and marched to the School House, in Burleigh, where the Wesleyan Methodist Preacher addressed them, after which they had dinner at A. McIlmoyl's hotel, and then spent the remainder of the evening playing cricket at Apsley.

The Rev, Rural Dean Smithett, of Lindsay, preached at Apsley on the 11th inst., in the English Church, at 10 o'clock, a.m and administered sacrament and preached at 3 o'clock. p.m., he also baptised some children His reverence went Lakefield on Monday, by Steamboat by way of Stony Lake.—Com.

MASSACHUSETS.

While some Orangemen with their wives were returning from a picnic, in Worcester, Mass., on the 12th, they were set upon by a mob of Irishmen, and during the riot several of them were badly injured by stones. The Mayor and Police finally succeeded in getting the party home, and the mob dispersed.

HASTINGS

From the Campbellford Herald

Mr. Albert Tyler, on the evening of June 30th ult., met with a very serious accident, which came nearly proving fatal. He and several others were running horses around the new race course, training them for next day's races, and while moving at breakneck speed, one of the horses shied so suddenly and violently and against the one ridden by Tyler as to throw both horse and rider—the rider against a stump, and the horse across him bruising him considerably and inflicting internal injuries, the nature and extent of which have not yet been definitely ascertained. Tyler has been confined to his bed and is at present in a convalescent condition. Dr. Fife is attending him.

LARCENCY.—A mean trick was played here upon a one-armed laborer from Alnwick, named McMahon. He came into the Village on Wednesday, and and was seen with two $10 bills. Being a rather sociable fellow and of a bibalistic proclivities he soon, as it is to often the case, gathered around him in a number of confirmed bacchanalians, who were only to ready to encourage him in on his cups. Not satisfied, however, with helping him to spend his money, some one of these would-be his friends, after getting him in a state of unconsciousness, relieved him of his pocket-book, containing $16.00 in bank bills. The thief was generous enough after taking the bills out, to enclose 75 cents in silver, and place the purse where it was afterwards easily found.

OUTRAGE.

The Napanee Beaver says : Particulars have reached us of a brutal outrage committed on Dominion Day. In the forenoon a young man named James Perry met Mary Ann Morgan, aged twelve years, about three-quarters of a mile from Roblin village and enticed her into the woods, there violating her person in a brutal manner Complaint was laid before the proper authorities and a warrant issued for his arrest, but he decamped and has not yet been captured. Is hanging too good for him ? There must be some rough-usage around Napanee.

A British schooner has been chased into Haytian waters by a Spanish warvessel and her cargo seized by the authorities of the island, as it was of a contraband nature.

It has been decided to erect in monument to George Brown, the Confederation statesman.

COBOURG.

DAMAGING HAIL-STORM.—A terrific hail-storm passed over here on Tuesday, about 12 o'clock. Hailstones larger than marbles fell, destroying gardens and crops, and in some instances windows were broken. Considerable damage has been done to the crops in this neighborhood.

LINDSAY.

MEETING OF THE PRESBYTERY.—The new Presbytery of Victoria, of the United Presbyterian Church, met on Tuesday last in St. Andrew's Church here ; Rev. Mr. Currie was elected Moderator, and Rev. J. Allister Murray, of Lindsay, Interim Clerk. The attendance was large.

THE POSTMASTER.—It is now settled that Mr. Gladman is to be our Postmaster and not Mr. Jewett. By some this is looked upon as an indication that Mr. S. C. Wood is likely to enter the Ontario Ministry in the place of the Hon, A. McKellar.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

PIC-NIC.—The Annual Pic-Nic of the of the Mount Pleasant Sunday School in connection with the Methodist Church, was held on Monday the 12th inst., in Mr. John Best's maple grove, who kindly gave it for the occasion. The afternoon being fine, crowds could be seen coming from all directions and ascending to the grove on the mount. Games and amusements, such as base ball, croquet, swings, &c., were the order of the afternoon. Four o'clock came, order was called, and short addresses were delivered by the Rev. Messrs. Barker, McCullough, Dr. Thompson and others. After which the table-linen was spread and covered with the dainties the ladies had provided for the occasion, which reflected great credit upon themselves. After partaking of a hearty repast, amusements were again set on foot, and a great many found pleasure on the swings, and others at croquet, which the Committee had arranged for the pleasure seekers. The Mount Pleasant Brass Band being present, made the afternoon pass off more pleasantly with their excellent music, for which they deserve great credit. At sundown, all, old and young, having spent a pleasant afternoon started for their respective homes.

AMERICAN EARTHQUAKES.

The Boston Transcript says: "A highly respected resident of Brookline, Mass, affirms that he and members of his family felt the Cucuta earthquake in May last. In view of the repeated experiences of the simultaneous earthquake phenomena at widely distant points on the earth's surface it is not at all impossible that the rebound of the internal wave striking the under surface of the earth in South America should be felt in the northern hemisphere The globe is continually shaken with slight earthquakes not a day passing, scientific men assert, when there is not a sensible disturbance of this kind some where upon the whole surface. It is well known that from the beginning of 1783 to the end of 1786, a period of nearly four years, the country was almost continually disturbed, nearly a thousand shocks being experienced in the first of those years. The great earthquake of Lisbon, in 1755, in which 60,000 persons were killed, either by falling walls or by the waves of the sea burying the marblequay by which they fled in a chasm opened under the harbour 600 feet, was distinctly felt along the coast of Massachusetts and Lake Ontario was strangely agitated."

THE CROPS.—A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune has been taking especial pains to get information upon the extent and magnitude of the grasshopper ravages, and has visited and conversed with the people in various localities which have furnished the extraordinary stories upon the subject. He finds that the portions of Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri, which have been the principal sufferers, embrace a district equal to about 20,000 square miles, in which from one half to three fourths of the growing crops have been destroyed, involving the loss of sixty days labor of about 200,000 people engaged in agricultural pursuits. Replanting has taken place once, twice and thrice in some of the districts, and now that the grasshoppers have disappeared fair crops are looked for if the weather is favorable and the fall frosts are late. There is no destitution this year, and in those portions of the States not devastated the crop yield will be larger than ever before.

MILBROOK IN ASHES

The sad intelligence has been received as we go to press, of a terrible fire in Milbrook. The Messenger of yesterday says:—26 places of business are burned! 20 families are homeless!—The loss upwards of $100,000. Not more than one half covered by insurance.

About half-past twelve a fire broke out in the rear of D. G. Greer's residence (over and behind R. Guy's Watch Shop,) or in the back of Mundell and Mayne's Tailoring and Clothing Establishment, (in T. Eyres' building. When first seen by Mr. James Richards, had there been a fire engine in the place, the fire could have been confined to these two buildings, as it was, it spread east to Coombe and Richards', thence to Fee and Beatty's. Duncan's Bakery, and to the Dawson Block, in which were Wm. Might's Saddlery, John Deyell's Grocery, G. W. H. Anderson's Tailor Shop, and Miss Turner's Private School.

To sum up, the following parties have been burned out by this fearful conflagration :—W. Carveth, butcher ; J. C. Elliott, saddler ; W. Vance, grocery and crockery ; Post Office ; John Hunter, Division Court Clerk ; J. G. Hall, Barrister, &c. ; the Orange Hall ; R. Guy, watchmaker ; Thos Brown, tin and stove department ; Coombe & Richards, tailors; Fee & Beatty, grocery and bakery ; A. Duncan, bakery ; W. Might, saddler ; John Deyell, grocery and crockery ; G. W. H. Anderson, tailor; Miss Turner, private school; Joseph Kells, billiard parlor ; A. Griffiths, watch maker ; R. Powell, baker; Thos. Hetherington, turner; W. Scott, butcher; J. P. McCarty, painter; L. S Clary, Novelty Carriage works; W. Irwin, tin and stove store; W. Finlay, picture gallery; J. & J. Richardson, grocery and crockery; H. Campbell, blacksmith; Dr. Turner, druggist; Wood & Kells, general store and millinery; R. Howell, grocery and crockery; Jas. Kerr, hardware; T. B. Collins, general store; A. Leach, druggist; Mrs. Gott, fruit and fancy goods; H. W. Judd, general store; Mundell & Maynes, tailors and clothiers.

DWELLINGS.—W. Carveth, J C Elliott, Joseph Kells, Thos. Hetherington, L. S. Clary, Jos. Grice, Wesley Walsh, Mrs. Johnston, H. Campbell, R. Guy, Mrs. Gott, Mr. Williams, D. G. Greer, Mrs. Deyell, Mrs. Hilliard, R. Powell, Wm. Scott, Mrs. Harkness, Mrs. Burton, Mr. Anderson, Mrs. McNeish, C. F. Krieger, making 22, besides J. Johnson's stable.

How the fire originated is still a mystery. There are various rumors, the most serious of which is that some of the hard cases running some of the gambling concerns in town at the same time Forepaugh's circus was, had threatened to pay off some of the villagers for exposing their rascality, as well as for plunder. Regarding the last. Mr. T. S. Collins caught one of the rogues taking two rolls of silk, and while rescuing the property received a stab in the leg. We understand that this gentleman has been followed. The several losses amount to $160,000, of which possibly one-half is covered by insurance.

As an incident of hard times, an upper-town (Ottawa merchant related the following experience this morning. He said he had accounts due in lower-town, amounting to $2,000, which he had set out at 8 o'clock this morning for the purpose of collecting. It was then 11 o'clock, and he had not collected enough to pay the street-car fare to his shop.

STONY LAKE AGAIN.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR:—As your valuable paper is always open to anything that is of interest to the public generally, I would claim a small space on this occasion. As I had the privilage of being present at a grand Pic-nic that was held at Stony Lake under the auspices of the Orange Lodge recently started there. They had decided to celebrate the 12th of July in that way. The day being all that could be desired, from about 10 o'clock in the morning could be heard the rumble of wheels approaching the place that had been selected by the Lodge. And what was our surprise on arriving on the ground! There was a table stretching to a distance of over 60 feet with seats as comfortable looking as if one was in a hotel, but a great deal more shady, for it was in a delightful shady spot. There was also a fine stand for speakers; showing that the members of the Lodge must have spent some time and labour in trying to make all enjoy themselves to the utmost, for besides all this there was a supply of boats and canoes for any one that wished to go out on the water. At about 12 o'clock there was a call given that dinner was ready, and all eyes were then turned toward the table, and a grand sight it was; for there had been a committee of waiters appointed by the Lodge and they had all things placed in splendid style, and the good things were prepared by the Orange wives and daughters at Stony Lake. Everything was got up so rich and in the best way And after all had satisfied themselves, there were addresses delivered by Mr. McKay, Presbyterian Missionary, and by Mr. Hugh Drain, and the Master of the Lodge. There were two others speakers that had been invited, but by some unforseen cause were unable to be present." After the speaking was over, all went away to enjoy themselves, some with swinging, others went boating, until about 5 o'clock when tea was served, after which all, numbering between two and three hundred left for their several homes highly pleased with the days enjoyment. The fife and drum did much to enliven the day and its memories.

Yours, sincerely,
ONE PRESENT.

TERRIBLE FLOOD IN FRANCE.

AN ANCIENT TOWN IN RUINS; VINEYARDS, CORN FIELDS AND HOMESTEADS DESTROYED.

The special correspondent of the London Times, writing from Agen, France, says that on Thursday, 23rd ult., the old town of Agen was suddenly flooded from two different quarters in less time than it takes to tell. Most of the wretched inhabitants spent the night on the roofs of their tottering houses. One of the causes of the rapidity of the flood was the bursting ot a railway embankment. Through the breach thus formed the water poured like a torrent over the then fertile plain. It would be difficult to imagine more sudden destruction. The country is completely devastated—the vineyards, the cornfields, the pasture lands cased with mud, the trees bent and broken in every direction, and the hedges solid walls of mud and hay carried away from the fields. The trees on the roadside are filled with the same substance. In short everywhere the progress of the inundation is painfully apparent. In some places are ruined cottages; in others, swamps of ratting maize and clover.

The same flood desolated the city of Toulouse, where the damage is roughly set down at over 200,000,000 francs.

The returns of the police commissioners state that among the bodies discovered, more than two-thirds those are of women and children. Burials go on by torch-light as well as by daylight.

In the flooded plain between St. Jory and Castelnau, a boat containing 15 persons, was upset. Fourteen of these were drowned, and the survivor, a girl 15 years of age, has lost her reason. At Anterive, a family of 4 persons took refuge in the branches of an elm, a great part of which was swept away by the torrent, and the four people clinging to its branches were drowned.

At Castelsarrasin a young mother took her two infants (twins at the breast,) tied them together and placed them in a large wooden trough, used for kneading bread, and committed it to the waves, hoping that it would save her children's lives, as she felt that her house was about to fall. The improvised boat swam safely for a time, but soon afterward the current dashed it against the trunk of a tree, where it was broken. The poor woman, succeeded in seizing a branch and climbing into the tree. But it was too weak, and began to crack ominously. She then rapidly tied the infants to a branch, kissed them, made the sign of the cross and leaped into the waves. The two little twins were saved, but the devoted mother was drowned.

Normal School Appointments.

The Council of Public Instruction, during its recent session, selected three masters for the new Normal School at Ottawa. The Principal, who will also be the English master, is Mr. John Mc Cabe, at present master of the English department of the Provincial Normal School at Truro, in Nova Scotia. The science master is Mr. Mr. John Gibson who is at present Professor of classics and lecturer on natural historal and geology in Albert College, Belleville. The mathematical master is Mr. W. R. Riddell, who has for some time occupied the same post in the Cobourg Collegiate Institute. A number of other appointments have yet to be filled before operations have begun in September. It is worthy of the notice that about forty applications have been received for the various positions in the gift of the Council in connection with the Normal and Model Schools, many of the applicants being men of tried ability, long experience, and good standing in the profession. The appointments just made, in accordance with the usual custom of the Council, are only for six months, that being deemed a fair period of probation, after which they will be either made permanent or cancelled.—Globe.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

MONTREAL, July 14.—This morning 300 Mennonites who came out on the steamship Peruvian arrived at the Tanneries where a good breakfast was furnished them and they continued their journey to Manitoba.

LONDON, July 12.—A special from Copenhagen says a Prussian war-ship has been secretly engaged for some days in taking soundings off the coast of Jutland. An explanation of this will be demanded of the Berlin Government.

SANTANDER, July 13.—The Spanish steamer Bayones has been wrecked near the village of Motrico, on the Biscayan coast. The crew was saved by Carlist fishermen, who said they will be held as hostages, and the Carlists threaten to shoot them if the Royalists bombard any more coast towns.

LONDON, July 10.—The Times special from Paris says memoria diplomatique students in Paris have been ordered home, and that with the money hitherto devoted to the education of these youths Turkey will establish an institution at Constantinople offering equal advantages to those of Paris.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12—A private letter received here to-day reports the outbreak of hostilities on the part of the Hoopa Indians on Klamath River. They shot and killed Raymond Carpenter, of Florence Mine, and surrounding the mine forced the men to quit work. Word was sent to here Camp Gaston detachment of soldiers sent to the mine. The Indians say the miners must leave. The situation is critical. The soldiers are not numerous enough to control them. A letter from the superintendent here was to-day laid before Gen. Schofield who promised prompt reinforcements.

LONDON July 13.—The Council of the British National Rifle Association, at its meeting to-day, adoped a resolution to the effect that the New York Rifle Association be invited to accept a challenge cup, to be competed for in 1875 at Wimbledon by Americans the winner to hold the cup until the next meeting of the New York Association, when he is to hand it over to the council of that Association in order that it may be competed for then, and annually there after, at a range of 1,000 yards, on conditions to be determined by the New York Association

CINCINNATI, July 13.—The frequent rains in the past few weeks have swollen all the streams in this vicinity. Licking River commenced rising rapidly yesterday, and at 2 o'clock this morning it was reported to be 10 feet higher than the Ohio River. The floating coal elevator of Gordon & McClure was struck by a large tree and sunk, together with four barges and 30,000 bushels of coal. Quite a large number of other barges were torn from their moorings and carried down stream. Four men were carried with one barge and were rescued with great difficulty. The loss as far as ascertained is estimated at more than $20,000.

LONDON, July 12.—A special despatch to the Standard represents that the disturbance in Hersegovina consists apparently of a number of riots among the Sclavonian inhabitants of villages in the western district who have been aroused to resistance by the endeavour of Turkish officials to collect arrears of taxes. Large bands of fugitives composed of women and children cross the border into Dalmatia daily. The Turkish troops on the night of July the fourth made an attack on defences erected by the insurgents at a bridge over the Krupa river near Celevo and after a long and bloody combat they were defeated and fell back in disorder.

CHICAGO July 9—At 12 o'clock this morning when the express from St. Louis on the Vandalia Railroad came to a stand at a lonely watering station in Clark Co., Ill. two of a band of robbers boarded the locomotive, killed the Engineer, detached the locomotive and Adams' Express car from the rest of the train, ran them out some distance and then tried to gain an entrance into the car. The messenger, who had locked himself in and barricaded the doors, defied the robbers, who fired many shots through the side of the car, but failed to gain an entrance. The men in charge of the train armed themselves and marched to the scene of the attempted robbery, but on arriving there the scoundrels had fled. This is considered the most dangerous point on the road for such work.

NEW YORK, July 12.—An Havana letter states that during the last week in June there has been considerable fighting along the rebel lines at Rodriga. Only one house was left standing and that because it floated the French flag. The recent fight near Eucrucyda resulted in rebel loss of 150 and Spanish loss 200. Five sugar estates near San Domingo have been burned by Cubans. Capt. General Valmesada suddenly left Havana June 2nd, on hearing that the Cubans had captured a Spanish convoy near Gibero killing eighty Spaniards. The rebels afterward captured the fort in the town of Majarqua in which the Spaniards had taken refuge, and after executing the garrison blew up and burned the fort and houses. The rebels are so active in the vicinity of Puerto Principe that the Spanish garrison remain inside the fortifications. The Spanish navy have been very active along the entire Cuban coast as they were informed from Spanish sources in New York that Agubera had left with an expedition. There was no news of any capture being made, however.

CATTLE FOR ENGLAND.

The exportation of fat cattle from Canada to England is looked upon with some degree of alarm by Irish stock raisers who have for years supplied the English market to a very large extent. The following are the remarks of the Dublin Express of June 4th, in regard to the shipment of this class of stock from Canada to England:—The arrival in Liverpool yesterday of a cargo of live stock from Canada is an event of no ordinary interest to Irish agriculturists and the whole community. We learn by telegraph that the Dominion steamer brought 25 head of fat cattle in good condition. The consignment was, of course, a mere experiment but it has proved successful so far at least as regards the essential point of the state of the animals on reaching England. We have no reason to doubt that the result of this venture will encourage the Canadian stockbreeders to repeat it upon a larger scale and that we may begin to look for the regular importation of the cattle from the American as well as from the European continent to compete with Irish stock in the hem market. There is a lesson in this bold enterprise which we hope will not be lost upon Irish stockmasters and farmers. They will have to encounter in the market other and unexpected rivals who have given proof of their public spirit and intelligence in the conception and completion of this project. They are not to be daunted by what might have been thought all but insurmountable difficulties but have firmly grappled with them until success has crowned their efforts. The arrangments necessary for keeping the animals during their voyage in good health denoted a forethought and care which cannot easily be baffled and if they succeed in the attempt to get access to the great English market then competition however slight it may be at first, must when fully developed produce some effect upon its tone and stimulate others to follow its example. Consumers are concerned in the success of the experiment as of course increased shipments of cattle from foreign ports will lower the value of the home stock, and throw back a larger supply upon the local markets. It is not likely, however that for some time the effect will be perceptible, and the greater facilities of communication which Irish cattle dealers possess, and the diminished risk which they have to run, must always give them permanent advantages; but they ought not despise the small beginings of a new competition or neglect the means within their reach of improving the quality of their stock so as to maintain their superiority over all foreign rivals from whatever quarter they may come.

As the express train was going south between Orillia and the Midland Junction a man was discovered lying on the track apparently asleep, ten miles south of Orillia. The brakes were immediately applied but it was too late. Before the cars could be stopped the train had passed over him killing him instantly. On stopping the train it was discovered to be a young man named John Carnahan. When last seen alive deceased was under the influence of liquor, and it is supposed he had laid himself down and went to sleep.

—ELECTRICITY—

THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Ruaan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

Prostration, resulting from the effects of the intense heat of the summer months, is the pre-disposing cause of so many of the diseases peculiar to hot weather. The stomach tartaking of the loss of vitality pervading the whole system is unable to complete digestion; the food passing undissolved through the bowels, irritates the lining membrane, and Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, and when prevailing, Asiatic Cholera may be excited. Attention to diet, moderate exercise bathing, and regular habits must be observed. To maintain the vital forces and prevent lassitude and exhaustion, Dr. Wheeler's,

THE ROSEBUD.

CANADIAN ECHO, NO. 6.

(By W. W. Smith.)

I p'anted a rose by my garden bower,
A rose that bloomened rarely;
And I said I watched it hour by hour,
"I'll give h'm a rosebud early!"

The spring sun warmed to summer's heat,
And flowers were bursting fairly;
When I heard the drums at midnight beat,
And the rebels were forming early.

Of the days that passed, I counted four,
While a solemn sun shone clearly,—
THEN a horseman brought to my fathers door,
A withered rosebud early.

I asked not why the footman swam,
Or who the day were fairly;
But I knew mine fell mid the clover blooms,
And one with a rosebud early.

His sisters mourn in words of woe
A brother loved so dearly:—
I may not tell what none must know,
But I cherish that rosebud early.

Oh weary now the hours I tell,
Of the day that bears us clearly;
For its light went out when at Ridgeway fell
The youth with the rosebud early!

PERE GRATT, ONT.—From the New Dominion Monthly for July, 1875.

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AT WASHINGTON.

The business of this Department is conducted in a commodious building near the Smithsonian Institution, surrounded by spacious grounds and greenhouses. In the offices on the ground floor are registers of all settled and explored lands within the limits of the Union. The general character of each section is here being recorded for reference—its soil, climate, vicinity of streams for communication, power of irrigation, vicinity of nearest market, and such general data as intending settlers require. Thus the Mennonite delegation, who came to America ignorant of the detailed features of the country, by visiting this Department and the Land Commissioner's office, had laid before them particulars of a variety of lands for selection, in which they might have their native climate or choose another, and cultivate, instead of wheat and hemp, rice, cotton or corn. Statistics of crops sown every season are recorded as fully and correct as possible, to serve as basis for calculation of product for consumption and export.

The second floor of the building contains a museum, through which a courteous lady attendant shows the the visitor. Here we see a large collection of indigenous plants, with a few foreign ones for comparison; here are the various kinds of cotton in their different stages of growth and manufacture. Near by are the cocoons of silk-worms, American, Italian and Chinese, with the insects as metamorphosed from grub to moth; their silk is shown transformed into beautifully woven and tinted fabrics. Models of fruit fill several large cases, painted after nature most faithfully, without sacrifice of truth to symetry, and these, with the sheaves of plump grain, give the appearance of an agricultural fair to the hall. Injurious birds are shown with the fruits and grains they destroy, as egg, chick and adult. Insects are so serious a plague as to need a bureau of etomology for their special study. Millions beyond computation have been lost to industry by the army worm, grasshopper and potatoe beetle, and science is doing what it can to stem the current of destruction. It is humiliating to acknowledge that the strong arm of civilization is yet defied by pitiful tiny grubs and flies. This bureau, however, is an important garrison of defence and offence. Here are specimens of all predatory insects in their various stages of development, and some of the powerful beetles and tarantulas of the South might make a Canadian farmer glad that his pests are never so formidible and deadly.

Besides the opposition of the powers of the air and of predatory insects, the farmer is in constant struggle with weeds—that is with plants he does not wish to grow; for, after all, weeds are only plants whose use have not yet been found. Every year their number is decreasing with investigation and experiment, and when they do nothing else, by their strong vigorous roots they tear up and aerate the soil, differentiating it, and making it fit to bear something better.

The Berlin correspondent of Land and Water recently stated that rape seed sown on land infested with thistles exterminates them. The statement awaits proof; but if only partially true, it is good news.

Sulphuric acid is a positive cure for thistles; but its application, though cheap, is very dangerous.

A variety of milk-weed common in Canada, has been found to yield in manufacture a substance like india-rubber, and much promise has attended experiments made.

Rie-grass, which is poor fodder, is now used as a valuable ingredient in paper; and thus in many ways, science is smoothing the rough path of labor.—From the New Dominion Monthly for July, 1875.

BIRDS THE FARMER'S FRIENDS.

Not long ago, near Rouen, in the valley of Monville, the crows had for a considerable time been proscribed. The cockchafers accordingly multiplied to such an extent that an entire meadow was pointed out to me as completely withered on the surface. The larvæ had pushed so far their subterranean works, that every root of grass had been eaten and all the turf could be rolled back on itself like a carpet. The multiplication of insects is almost increditeble, but our birds seem equal to the emergency. Michilet says: "The swallow is not satisfied with less than 1,000 flies per diem; and a pair of sparrows to carry home to their young 4,300 caterpillars weekly; a tomtit, 300 daily. The magpie hunts after the insects which lie concealed beneath the bark of the tree and live upon its sap. The humming bird and the fly-catcher purify the chalice of the flower. The Bee-eater, in all lands, carries on a fierce hostility with the wasp which ruins our fruit. A large number of insects remain during winter in the egg or larvæ, waiting to burst into life; but in this state they are diligently hunted by the mavis, the wren, and the troglodyte. The former turn over the earth, the latter climb to the loftiest branches of the trees, or clean out the trunk. In wet meadows the crows and storks bore the ground to seize the white worm which for three years before metamorphosing into a cockchafer, gnaws at the roots of our grasses."—The Animal Kingdom.

BARNUM ON IDLENESS BASE BALL, AND BILLIARDS.

Mr. P. T. Barnum, the great American showman, on being inaugurated Mayor of Bridgeport, Conn, a few days ago, delivered a short address. Concluding he said: "It is painful to the moral and industrious portion of our people to see so many loungers on the streets, such a multitude whose highest aspirations seem to be to waste their time in idleness, or at base ball, billiards, &c. No person needs to be unemployed who is not over fastidious about the kind of occupation. There are so many soft hands (and heads) waiting for light work and heavy pay. Better work for half a loaf than beg or steal a whole one. Mother earth is always near by, and ready to respond to reasonable drafts on her never failing treasury. A patch of potatoes raised "on shares" is preferable to a poulticed pate earned in a whiskey scrimmage. Some moder Micawbers stand with folded arms waiting quietly for the panic to pass, as a foolish man waited for the river to run dry and allow him to walk over. The soil is the foundation of American prosperity. When multitudes of our consumers become producers, and comfortably clothe their families; when people learn to walk until they can afford to ride; when the poor man ceases to expend more for tobacco than he does for bread; when those that complain of panics learn that we cannot eat our cake and keep it; that a sieve will not hold water, that we must rely on our own exertions, and earn before we expend, then will panics cease and prosperity return. While we should by no means unreasonably restrict healthy recreation, we should remember that "time is money," that idleness leads to immortal habits, and that the peace, prosperity, and character of the city depend on the intelligence, integrity, industry and frugality of its inhabitants."

PRUNING APPLE TREES.

There is probably no better season for pruning trees than now, that is in the month of June or July, according to the latitude. Before pruning your apple trees, however, consider whether they require it or not. To prune with out an object beyond that of merely performing the operation, is time wasted if no worse results follow. There are far too many persons who prune their trees through habit, never for a moment asking themselves the question "Why or wherefore do we prune?"—If the branches of your trees spring out from the stem too low down, then remove enough to suit the taste or convenience. Some varities are too tall, and the fruit are likely to be blown off by the winds. These should have their tallest shoots shortened, in order to make them throw out side branches lower down. Then there are others which produce such a mass of small branches that neither light nor air can pass readily to the centre of the head—the inner branches becoming barren and deceased in consequence. Such as these require thinning out frequently. A removal of one-half of all the branches will be decidedly beneficial. Again, when two branches cross each other, and the bark of either becomes chafed by friction, one should be removed. It sometimes occurs that trees becomes stunted by overbearing. Severe pruning in such cases, with manuring and cultivation, will be beneficial in restoring vigor and fruitfulness. If a man can find no good reason for pruning, and cannot foresee the results in advance, he had better let it alone.

THE CREATION OF WOMEN.

A prince once said to Rabbi Gamaliel "Your God is a thief; he surprised Adam in his sleep, and stole a rib from him."

The Rabbi's daughter overheard this speech, and whispered a word or two in her father's ear, asking his permission to answer this singular opinion herself. He gave his consent.

The girl stepped forward, and feigning terror and dismay, threw her arms aloft in supplication, and cried out, "My liege, my leige, justice! revenge!

"What has happened?" asked the prince.

"A wicked theft has taken place," she replied. "A robber has crept secretly in our house, carried away a silver goblet, and left a golden one in its stead.

"What an upright thief!" exclaimed the prince. "Would that such robberies were of more frequent occurrence.

"Behold, then, sire, the kind of thief that our Creator was; he stole a rib from Adam, and gave him a beautiful wife instead."

"Well said!" avowed the prince.—Talmud Senhedrim.

A RUNAWAY HEIRESS

Miss Agnes Burns, the beautiful daughter of a poor weaver of Dundee, Scotland, secretly left her home last September and sailed for New York. Since then nothing has been heard of her except that her name was found on the passenger list of a Glasgow steamer. Though her father was poor, Miss Burns was given a a fine education, and was surrounded with luxuries by Mr. Robt Gray, a wealthy uncle, of Glasgow. She was only 18 years old, and had just completed her school days when she ran away. Mr. Gray was travelling on the continent at the time, but he returned at once, and has since made every effort to find her. He authorized Drs. Clow and Calnek, of 216 west of twenty-eight street, to offer a reward of $5,000 for news of her whereabouts, and he will come to America this summer unless she is discovered before that time. Mr. Gray is over 70, is worth £100,000, and his neice is his only heir. Miss Burns was unaware of her fortune in prospect when she quit her home.—N. Y. Sun.

Silent Romance of a London Street.

Norfolk Street, Strand, has a curious commemorative monument. An observant spectator will notice that the first floor windows of a large house at the corner of Howard street present a peculiar appearance. The shatters are up, and they are covered thickly with dust, whilst though the chinks can be seen the blinds, also thick with dust, and mouldering away with age. Those shutters and blinds have been in exactly the same position, untouched for about fifty years. During that time no human foot, it is believed, has ever entered that room. And the reason is this:—Fifty years ago a certain nobleman was engaged to be married, the day was fixed, the wedding morning arrived, the breakfast was laid out in that spacious and handsome room, the bridegroom was ready to proceed to church, when it was discovered that the bride was missing; a note in her handwriting was found addressed to the bridegroom, briefly informing him that she had eloped that morning with his "best man," a gay and gallant captain of Dragoons. The jilted bridegroom did not say much, but he went alone to the room in which the wedding breakfast was laid out, with his own hands put up the shutters and drew the blinds, locked the door and took the key. He gave orders that the door should be nailed up and barred with padlocked bars, and that no one should enter the room again. When the house was let, it was stipulated that the room in question should remain untouched, and a sum of £200 per annum was paid to the tenant to compensate him for the deprivation of the use of the room. The nobleman has been dead some years, but it is believed the room has never been entered since the day he closed it, and there are the wedding garments mouldering silently away and the ornaments crumbling into dust in the funeral gloom.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE FREE FROM PURELY CALIFORNIA ALCOHOL

D. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS

grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores; Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

by adapted into use, in every country and among all classes, as the mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by any body. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

On occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him decidedly better, from their cleansing and exciting effect on the digestive apparatus.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so wide and unqualified reputation as this world-renowned specific for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has grown higher and higher in the public estimation, as it has become better known. Its unfailing character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with the antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. What nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of those cured, as the best that assure the public that it is a reliable remedy maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does [illegible] Oil. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Zinc, nor any other mineral or [illegible] whatever, it in no case is [illegible] number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the magical cures effected in obstinate cases, and who in other remedies had totally failed.

Unacclimated persons, going into [illegible] or travelling through districts [illegible] will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold [illegible] the world.

THE MESSENGER BIRD.

(Lines suggested by the custom of a certain tribe of Indians, of letting loose a bird over the grave of a beautiful maiden).

We stand by the maiden's grave, sweet bird, And sever thy silken band; Go! cleave the sky like an arrow swift. And fly to the spirit land.

On, on, through the fleecy, floating clouds. 'Mid the starry gems of night, Till thou fold thy wing and rest thy foot In "the land of love and light."

Soft breezes fan that radiant shore. Its flowers are fresh and fair; Its bowers are green and its harvests free, And the fount of life springs there.

Be true by nought on thy way, sweet bird, Nor allow thy wings to rest. Till thou light on the hand of the loved one there, Or nestle in her breast.

Go, murmur in her listening ear The words of unchanging love; And say that our thoughts are with her still, As she roams the Elysian grove.

Say that her father's heart is weak, That her mother's eye is dim With tears; that her sister pines with grief, Her lover, my naught of him.

No sorrows of earth reveal, since her soul May thrill at the sound of woe; And sensitive chords may bind her still To bleeding hearts below!

Give her the message of love, sweet bird Bestow the fond caress; And say, when a few more moons are waned Our forms her eye shall bless.

Now away, we have heard thy song, sweet bird, We never this silken band; Go, cleave the sky like an arrow swift, And fly to the spirit land.

THE VACANT SEAT.

It was on the morning of the day before Christmas. Most of the people who lived in the hamlet of the St. Anne's were looking forward with jealous anticipations to the morrow; but not all. In the cot of Arkwright, the pilot, there was sadness instead of joy, and the looking forward to the Christmas time was sadder still.

Sitting down to the table on this morning before Christmas, were Mrs. Arkwright and three children—the widow and the fatherless. The widow was a woman of five-and-forty, yet fair and comely though care and sorrow had drawn deep dark lines upon her face. Of the children the oldest was a girl, Mary, of fifteen; and the youngest a boy of eight. And at the table were two vacant seats—one at the head and another at the right of the head. And this is why they were vacant:

Six years before there had been another child in the household—the first born—a stout boy named Edward. At the age of sixteen he had been able, when circumstances required, to take his father's place at the helm of incoming or outgoing vessels, and had been looked at by the hardy pilots and fishermen of St. Anne's as a lad of more than usual promise. Strong and manful for his age, and handsome and good, he had been not only the pride and joy of his parents but the pride of the hamlet. One, day, six years ago, Edward went out in charge of a vessel bound to Liverpool, taking with him only a light dory in which to return when he should have piloted his charge beyond danger. A sudden and unlooked for storm arose, and Edward came not back. It was said by those who understood such matters, that he must have left the vessel before the coming of the storm, Three days afterward the wreck of the dory was picked up outside the Black rocks, and there was no more waiting for the lost one.

Following a custom which their fathers had brought with them from another land, Edward's seat at the frugal board had been left vacant. Morning, noon and night the chair which the brave youth had occupied was set in its accustomed place, and perhaps they in their simple faith, imagined that the spirit of the departed might sometime keep them company, and witness their sorrow, and know, of a verity, how much and how truly they had loved him.

That seat had been at the right of the head; and—now—another seat was vacant. During the autumn last past the husband and father had been swallowed up in the sea, and the chair which he had occupied for three-and-twenty years stood vacant by the side of the other. Surely sorrow was upon the humble household. Aye and more than sorrow—want stared them in the face. And yet, perhaps, this very wolf barking at the door served to blunt and smooth the ragged edge of the keener misery.

'Mother,' said Mary, looking up from the breakfast table with a face that bore marks of an age beyond her years, 'to-morrow is Christmas.'

'Yes my child, but it can be no Christmas to us. Christmas should be joyous. Alas! joy is not for this household!'

'But, mother, the evening of to-day will be Christmas eve.'

'Certainly, my child.'

'Did you not say, mother, that after Christmas eve we would have but one vacant seat at our board?'

An expression of pain passed over the face of the matron.

'Yes, Mary, she replied, huskily, 'I said so; and I think so it must be. Had Edward been with us he would have been at the head. The single vacant seat will keep the memories of both fresh and green. And, moreover, I see that, ere long, we must sell our chairs and content us with more simple seats. One chair we shall keep, and it shall be sacred to the memory of both our loved ones departed.

And on that evening the chairs that were to be sold were set apart, and the widow and her three children sat at the table upon rough wooden boxes. Only one chair remained—at the head of the board—vacant.

While the family were at their painfully frugal repast, the door was unceremoniously opened, and Philip Seabury entered. He was a pilot—had been a dear friend of John Arkwright—and was a bluff, big-hearted man. He was welcomed heartily, for a ray of something akin to sunshine came in with honest genial face.

'Philip,' said the widow reluctantly, 'I wish we could ask you to sit at our board; but, alas! it would only be an empty invitation.'

'I had thought of that Mrs. Arkwright and partly for that reason I am here. We want you to have as merry a Christmas as you can, and—'

The widow put up her hand.

'Hush Philip, I know the goodness of your heart, and I appreciate it; but I am not think of an attempt at joy to-morrow. It would seem to me almost impious. Perhaps at some time, should the need come more cruelly upon me, I may ask a favor; but not for joy for the morrow. No, no—I feel that we can best serve ourselves, and pay respect to the dear ones gone by making our Christmas a day of mourning. We will remember the Crucifixion rather than the Birth.

The old pilot sat at the fire, and rubbed his hands over the lazy flame, and after an extended season of reflection he looked up as though a new idea had struck him.

'By the way, Mrs. Awkright did you ever know the Doloros family?'

The widow said she had never known them, though the name had familar sound.

'They once lived not far from here, pursued, Seabury,' 'and they had a son who was a pilot. Excuse me, for their case was, in some respects, so near like your own, that I couldn't help thinking of it. But I won't go on if you wish me not.'

'On the contrary,' said the widow. 'I should like to hear the story. Even in direct misfortune companionship is a relief.' And she and her little ones came and gathered around the fire, and she added—'Tell me the story; Phillip.'

'It was your own case that made me think of it just now,' said the pilot, still rubbing his hands over the fire. 'You see, 'old Doloroso—queer name isn't it?—was a pilot, and his son was a pilot. D'ye wonder they made me think of old John and Edward? One day, as I was told—I didn't see myself—young Doloraso, the lad, went out in charge of a vessel bound to some foreign port, taking his skiff with him to come back in. While he was gone a dreadful storm came on; and it was known that he must have left the vessel, and that the sudden storm caught him in his eggshell of a skiff. Of course he was lost—but, as it turned out, he wasn't lost for all the time. Some years afterwards—I won't say just how many—young Doloroso grown to be a grand and handsome young man, came home, and joy came with him. He had been all the absent years in India had grown rich—that is, rich for him, rich enough at all events, to support the old home without another stroke of word.'

'Bless God for the joy given to that mother!' said Mrs. Arwright, folding her hands upon her breast. 'My boy can never come back to me! But—how was he saved, and why did he go to India?

'Thus it was' answered Philip—and this I have from one who heard him tell the story: On that day of the storm he had left the vessel he had piloted out as had been supposed. When the storm caught him it swamped him very quickly, but he clung to his little boat, as good luck would have it he was picked up by an outward-bound Indiaman. Of course he was forced to keep on in the ship; and when they reached Calcutta the owners had pjanned that the ship should go into the Chinese trade: A grand chance to make money was offered to our young pilot, and he accepted it; and there he sailed, to and fro, in those far off waters, doing so well all the while that his folks at home were mourning him as dead.'

'And did he not write to his mother during all those weary years?' asked the widow deprecatingly.

'Aye,—be sure he did; but not one of his letters came to hand. Two of those letters, he afterward learned, were lost by the wrecking of the ships in which they were sent. How the others miscarried he could not discover, And thus, you see, he came to his home like one risen from the dead.'

A silence fell upon the group as the pilot concluded his story, broken only by the low sobs of the stricken widow. At length Seabury arose to take his leave. Before reaching the door he turned, twirling his hat nervously in his hands.

''Mrs. Arkwright,' he said, 'we aren't going to impose upon you: but somebody has made arrangements for a grand Christmas dinner for you to-morrow. It will be sent to you, and if you don't want it, you can throw it out of doors.'

And with this the old pilot disappeared; but he was not gone long. In very few minutes he came back, and a companion with him.

'Mistress Arkwright,' he said, 'it's astonishing how things do turn out. Just as I was leaving your door, who should I meet but the very man I'd been telling you about—young Doloroso—and here he is. If I've left out any part of his story, perhaps you can get him to tell the rest himself. This is Christmas-Eve, Mistress Arkwright, and I've no doubt you have much to make you sorrowful; but, I declare for it I'm going to wish you and Mary, and little Nellie, and little Tommy, a right merry Christmas for the morrow!'

And again Seabury disappeared, but he left the stranger standing in the room—a strong, grand looking man, though young, with the odor of the sea upon him. He stood for a few minutes where the old pilot had left him, and then his whole frame quaked as though he could endure no more. He stretched forth his hands, and a single word dropped from his lips—a word next akin to Heaven—a word holy and sacred beyond all other earthly things—a word beautiful and divine from the foundation of the world—'Mother.'

And it had been the story of her own Edward that Philip Seabury had told. She was a long, long time clasped in the strong arms of her son, before she could realise it all; but reason came at length, and joy came also.

And on the following morning the bright December's sun ushured into the widow's cot a merry Christmas indeed.

BOLD ATTEMPT TO ROB AN EXPRESS TRAIN.

The Engineer Shot Dead—The Plucky Express Messenger Barricades His Door—The Robbers Unsuccessful Siege—The Company offer $1,000 for the Arrest of the Robbers.

CINCINNATI, July 9.—A despatch to J. H. Rhodes, Superintendent of Adams Express Company, states a desperate attempt to rob Express Messenger Burke was made at Long Point, Ill., on the Vandalia Railroad, last night. The engine and the car were cut loose, and the engineer killed. Burke barricaded the doors and kept the robbers at bay until helparrived.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., July 9.—Long Point, Ill., on the Vandalia Railroad, where the attempted express robbery occurred, is three miles west of Casey. All trains are accustomed to stop there for the engines to take in water. It is situated in the middle of a dense wood, no person living within a mile and a half of the station. It has been long regarded by railroad men as a dangerous place. Several times lately the engineers have seen suspicious-looking persons lurking in that vicinity at night, and, in consequence, have not stopped their trains. Last night, at midnight, when passenger train No. 5 bound East, Conductor Farley and Engineer Midman in charge, stopped at the water-tank, two men boarded the engine, one from each side, and ordered the engineer to start the engine. The engineer, after a few moments hesitation, obeyed the order. After the starting of the train one of the robbers remarked: "We will run the thing ourselves," and immediately both robbers fired at the engineer, killing him instantly. The fireman who was standing upon the tender, ran to the rear of the train to alarm the train men, he having heard the conversation and comprehending the situation at once. While this was taking place on the engine a confederate of the robbers had detached the Adams Express car from the cars in the rear. The whole party of robbers then ran the train to a point about two miles from the station, where they stopped, and proceeding to the door of the express car, demanded admittance. The express messenger, Mr. Burke, told them he was ready for them and if they entered they would be dead men. The robbers then commenced firing into the car, and the messenger says it seemed to him that there were a dozen of them, as the shots came from all sides. The conductor and train men, seeing the position of affairs, set about to pursue the robbers, but could only find one revolver on the train. They, however discovered two soldiers armed with carbines, and with these weapons the train men and soldiers started after the robbers. When they came up to the train, all was quiet, the robbers having fled. They found the dead body of the engineer on the floor of the cab. A freight train engineer named Jack Vandergrift happened to be on the train, and he and the fireman ran the engine back to the train and brought it in. The robbers failed to gain admittance to the express car, it being one of the close kind having no windows, and very strong in every way. Had they detached the American express car which was immediately in the rear of the Adams express car, they might have accomplished their purpose, as it is an open car, having windows and doors, and not very strong. The finding of a hammer used to knock out the coupling pin may serve, possibly as a clue to the murderers. The train men speak in very high terms of the pluck and courage displayed by Express Messenger Burke. There is intense feeling among railroad men over the tragical death of Engineer Ames, and should his murderers be caught it is very generally believ

To Mr. Cameron—Holmes I understood was an old Reformer, but said he would take no part in the election.

Mr. Bethune remarked that he did not intend to rely on the treating in the side room referred to.

JOHN HOLMES sworn—I kept a tavern in Apsley at the time of the election; I remember the night of the meeting; Major Boulton, Dr. O'Sullivan, and Mr. Stratton spoke at it; Cavanagh came with Dr. O'Sullivan, and Major Boulton; he remained all night; that was all that remained for the night; Mr. Carnegie, expense agent of Dr. O'Sullivan paid the bill for Cavanagh and the Doctor; that night there was drinking going on; Cavanagh treated; I cannot say how often; the account produced is for $4.55, which was paid by Mr. Carnegie; there is $14.75 for treating on election day; the account was made out; the details of this $14.75 I kept on a slate, and when entered rubbed it off, Cavanagh told me to give liquor to voters; he told me the night of the meeting or the next morning; he said it would do them no harm; he said he would be responsable for it; the bar-room was often full; Cavanagh treated all in it; he said 'Come boys and have a drink;' I could not say how many times; some present were the worse of liquor; Cavanagh was in the crowd talking about the election; cannot say what he said; it was well known he was on Dr. O'Sullivan's side; the Dr. was up stairs; I saw Dr. O'Sullivan pass in through the bar; I saw him in the dining-room; Dr. O'Sullivan went away next morning; before he went away Cavanagh came to me, and outside on the road he told me to give liquor on the election day to voters and that he would see it paid all right; when he was going away he said to give the voters what they would drink and keep an account and he would be responsible and me me paid for it; I gave it to almost everybody; John Horan came to me on the polling-day and asked what time dinner would be ready; I said 'in a little while;' he came when dinner was ready and brought a good many with him, and he told me to charge them to Cavanagh; he appeared to know about the arrangement with Cavanagh; I did furnish dinner for 23 persons; Cavanagh was not there on the polling day; he did not say when he would pay for it when he told me to furnish it; after election I went to Cavanagh and took the account; he said to separate the top from the lower part and Carnegie would pay the upper part, and I must wait to see what would be done before the other part would be paid; I did so, and he went with me to Carnegie's, who paid the upper part of the account; that part contained two meals for Cavanagh, and two meals for Phelan; John Horan supported Dr. O'Sullivan; Horan was in the bar the night of the meeting; the $14.75 was for liquor on polling-day; Cavanagh paid for all the liquor ordered the night of meeting; John McDonald stood at dining room door on polling-day and told me whom to charge to Cavanagh; I supposed that was the reason he was there; he told me who voted for O'Sullivan, I took them down; I suppose Mr. McDonald was there as an agent for O'Sullivan; I charged to Cavanagh by order of Horan or McDonald; I used my own discretion in part; I may have called some few up to drink; Horan called them up to drink several times between nine and five o'clock; I cannot say how often McDonald did; they drank whiskey and beer; the front door was shut and the side door open to enter by; ten or fifteen persons were in at a time; the amount is correct, if it is not more; many drank several times; some of them paid, those who did were charged to Cavanagh; don't remember if anything was said about for whom the liquor was ordered; Mr. McDonald drank several times with the rest between nine and five o'clock on polling day; I think Horan asked me in the morning if Cavanagh had made any arrangements; I told him "it was all right;" I think that was all that was said between us on the matter.

To Mr. Cameron—I live now at Burleigh Bridge; I moved there about nine weeks since; Mr. McWilliams is my land lord now; he never spoke to me about the matter; he never saw this account; I did not show it to any one except Mr. Cavanagh; some one may have seen it while Cavanagh had it; Cavanagh said to me to change it, and Mr. Carnegie would pay the top part, and I must wait for the bottom part a while; Phelan was in the bar when Cavanagh and I talked out side about the matter; we had several conversations on the matter in the kitchen, in the bar, and on the road; it was in the morning I talked about supplying the drinks on polling day; he did not say how much liquor I should supply the drinks and dinners; I can't say that he told me there would be an agent on the road; I gave drinks on my account, but could not say how often; I did not charge those to Cavanagh; I can't say how often Horan and McDonald treated; whenever they got 25 cents, or 50 cents, or a dollar's worth I put it down; I put down no names, sums only; I am sure none of my own treats were charged to Cavanagh; I knew the parties pretty well; if persons treated their friends and did not pay, I charged the persons who treated; I don't know how many voted; I was in the meeting before the election; Cavanagh paid for his own liquor that night; Boyd and Cavanagh treated time about; a man in Mr. Cooney's store made out the bill, Horan was explained how it was made up; the name of Major Boulton appeared for that of P. Phelan. TIMOTHY CAVANAGH, sworn—I am a hotel keeper: am acquainted with people on the Burleigh road, where I have relatives; I was never there before on election matters; I was two days with Dr. O'Sullivan, going up and coming back; I went to Spencer's and Sanderson's with him; I went also to Holmes'; we met a few on the road; we left town about 12 o'clock; got to Apsley about 7; called at P. Phelan's; the team was Henthorn's; we came back next day; I remember the meeting at Apsley; I treated a good many times; I may have slipped in a word about politics, I treated more than three times, but I don't remember how often; I don't think I treated ten times; I may have treated nine times; I won't swear I paid at the time of drinking; I can't say how much, but I know that $5 will not go far in treating in that way; I did not tell Holmes to give drinks and dinners; I swear I did not, nor did I agree to pay for any man; I did not tell him I would not pay a bill just now till I would see about the election; I saw Horan the night of the meeting; said nothing to him about the election; I went back to see my mother, not about the election; I did see her; stayed there about fifteen minutes, and also fifteen to thirty minutes coming home; I had not been there for eight years before; I would not have been there yet but for the election; Dr. O'Sullivan, and, I think, John Carnegie with him, came to my place, and told me he was going up to Burleigh road; I said, "Can I go with you?" I did not speak of friends on the road; I do not remember speaking to Holmes about free drinks; I don't remember anything but a friendly chat; we went into the stable to see a horse: I never said to him to give the boys drink; I did say to him to change the bill and that Mr. Carnegie would pay the top part; the Doctor paid my bill at Holmes' for meals; I was going to pay it and he would not let me, but said he would do it; I went to see Mr. Holmes as a friend, but not on election matters; I never talked to Dr. Sullivan about him; Phelan was with us and hence his bill was put in the Doctor's account.

It being six o'clock the Court adjourned till nine o'clock Tuesday morning.

SECOND DAY.

The court opened at 9 a. m. Timothy Cavanagh continued:—John Horan, I think, lives in Apsley; he is not related to me; I was at his place; I saw him the night of the meeting; I had no conversation with him in the bar; I had no conference or consultation; I spoke to him; I knew him for a long time; I asked him how the people were going; he said about divided; I was anxious to get the Doctor elected, hence I spoke to him; I gave him no money to Horan or MacDonald for treating; they asked for nothing; I gave them nothing; I had no talk since then; I had no talk last night; I don't know that I had any talk last night about my evidence or on the subject of the election; I had no conversation with Holmes' about the evidence; I drank with Holmes last night; we did not talk the evidence over; we are not the worse friends; at that meeting I did not see any of the Scotts; I saw Patrick Horan; I talked to Patrick and asked him how the election was going; I don't remember asking H Caldwell about the election; I don't remember seeing Regan; I saw Michael O'Brien after the meeting; I don't know that I talked to him; he may have spoken about the election; I saw Wm. Begs now standing up; I cant say that I spoke to him; Sanderson was not there; Brunson was there; I did see him; I can't say that Robert Macauly was there; I dont know John Macauly; P. Phelan was there; I know that a man named Coons was there; I cannot say F. Elmhurst was there; I keep the American Hotel; a good many from the Road stop with me; this is the only time I was in the Riding during the election; I was not in Hastings, I was in Dunoro; my people live in Dunoro; I was out along the line a night of a meeting; I think it was the night of the nomination; I left home after 12 o'clock on that day; I went out with a Frenchman; I have forgotten his name; I drove out there to see our folks, and to be in time for the meeting; I got the horse from Henthorn; I do not remember paying for it; I sometimes do pay; I got home about twelve o'clock that night; I went out along the boundary line to my brothers, Richard and Thomas; I got there about ten time; I was at Thomas's; I stopped there perhaps half an hour; I called at a threshing at Mr. Tupper's; I only spoke to my brothers and another man; I then went to mother's; I had tea; I went to the meeting at John Smiths. The meeting was not commenced when I arrived; Mr. Burnham, Dr. O'Sullivan and Mr. Hagart spoke at the meeting: John Walsh was chairman; about 100 were present; I left after the meeting was over; I drove my own horse; I did not see Peter Giles; I saw Wm. Kane's; he said he would like to go and hear the doctor speak. No one suggested that I should take him. I gave him no money; know of no conversation with him and others. I treated several times that night; do not know how often. I have not heard of Smith having a bill against me. I was not in Otonabee on polling day. I went to see my friends and to hear the doctor speak; I would have done the doctor good if I had had an opportunity of doing so. D. Haggart came from Norwood with Mr. Burnham and the doctor. I can not say which spoke first. Mr. Haggart was a clerk in Mr. Roger's store, Ashburnham at that time, I did not see Haggart at any other place. I was at no other, I believe. Haggart was at the Lakefield meeting the day after the Apsley meeting. He spoke there. I think the doctor came home that evening with Mr. Scott. I met the doctor at Eanismore on the election day; I think before dinner. I saw him at Mr. Daley's tavern. I did not see him going away. I was for Scott I was working that day. I do not think I saw the doctor after. I remained there all day till the poll was closed.

To Mr. Cameron—I live West Riding, I chiefly worked in the West Riding, except on the two occasions referred to. Our own election was going on at the time. No one asked me to go. I went to hear the doctor. I went there out of mere curiosity. I had no communication with Dr. O'Sullivan that night; took no part in the meeting at Smiths except as to speaking to some in the bar. I am in the habit of treating all I see in a hotel. I volunteered to go to Apsley. I spoke to Mr. Carnegie first as to whether I could go. I go to those meetings to see my friends and customers, for my own benefit, but if I could have got the doctor elected I would have done so. The doctor attended me once for the small-pox. When I spoke to Carnegie he thought he would go, and that I could not go. He afterwards told me I could go, as he could not. I recollect the doctor speaking to me going up, as I was an awful fellow for treating. He said that I must be careful not to spoil his election I treated our party on the way up. I did not see the doctor about treating at Holmes. It was about a child I wanted him to see. I do not remember any words to the effect that if he would see the child it might affect the election. I never gave Holmes authority to give liquor to any one. At first there were 100 present, Several stopped, F Elmhurst and a few others stopped, about ten or more, till morning. I never told Holmes to supply dinners to the electors I wished to pay my bill in the morning and the doctor would not let me. Wished to pay the doctor's bills also. I know that Carnegie would pay the first part. I knew nothing about Horan and McDonald having ordered anything I did not tell Holmes to wait for the balance. I told him to take it to Carnegie and he would pay. I think he left with Mr. Carnegie's Clerk. I went with Holmes Mr. Carnegie was not there, but I think he left the account.

JOHN MACDONALD sworn—I live in Peterborough; I am a lumberman; I have mills here; I lumbered in Burleigh last winter, about 4½ miles from Apsley; I had a vote in Burleigh: I was well acquainted with the Riding; I took no part in the election; I was appointed agent on polling day; I canvassed no one, asked no one; O'Brien knew me the morning appointing me agent: I don't think the Returning Officer asked me for it I do not know what became of it; I showed it to the Returning Officer; I think I put it in my pocket; I took no care of it, thinking it was of no consequence; I did not remain all day at the polls; I went to one meeting of the Dr.s at Apsley; stayed about a quarter of an hour I did not speak to the Dr. after the meeting; I was in the tavern on polling day; I had one glass of beer before the poll was open; I swear distinctly that I drank none during the day; I did not taste liquor at dinner; I went in in the morning; went in through the hall door; Holmes asked me to have a drink; I think I was not in the bar during the day; I had nothing to drink in the dining room; I had my dinner; I paid for my dinner at Holmes in April; I took no money with me I left my pocket book at home; Holmes told me he would charge it; during the day parties told me that all was free and wanted me to drink: James Cleary, Sanderson, Spencer, and half a dozen others said they were getting all they wanted for nothing; this was before noon; I said nothing; when I went to dinner Holmes said he kept an open house to all who would pay; the reason I asked was I was afraid that Cavanagh had done something when he was up, hence I asked Homes about the dinners being free; I was afraid that Cavanagh had made arrangements to give drinks &c.; he was the only man that would; when he was going home I called him and the Dr. in to the shanty; nothing passed between us; I made up my mind that if Cavanagh did not order it there was a snare laid for the Doctor; I did not think so when first told. I thought Cavanagh had ordered it. I felt that Cavanagh being free hearted and friendly to the Doctor had ordered dinners I was satisfied that if the Doctor's agent had ordered an open house it would affect the election. I asked Holmes if he was keeping an open house. He said he was not. This was all that passed between us. I swear this. I did not mention Cavanagh's name to him. I did not know that the dinners were free. I believed the men who told me they were free I would not take the slightest turn to stop them getting drinks, I do not remember Phelan or Dufrese or Horan or J. Horan taking dinner. I think John Horan was one of those who told me things were free. I do not remember communicating with Horan as to voters when with the doctor and Cavanagh and Phelan We had not a word about the election. I think I asked Cavanagh on the occasion if he had done anything toward ordering an open house to give liquors, for if he had I would not go to the election. Cavanagh gave his word of honor that he had not done so. The Doctor I think did not hear us. I took Cavanagh aside so that the Doctor might not hear. I had made up my mind that if there were liquor I would not go to the election. I simply asked him if he had done so as he was the only person would do so. If Cavanagh had lived in Burleigh I would not have suspected him. He was friendly to the Doctor and hot-headed and likely to do something. I was about a quarter of an hour at the meeting. I did not hear a conversation between Phelan and Cavanagh. Phelan was in the shanty when asked to Cavanagh. I did not care whether the Doctor heard us or not. I do not remember any conversation with Phelan, after this till the election. I might have spoken to him, but I cannot say. I do not remember seeing Horan the night of the meeting.

To Mr. Cameron. I have known Cavanagh for years; I never saw him excited; I was told he was so in election times. There were about twenty men in the shanty at the time, at their dinner; I was at Holmes' on the election day, about 8 or 10 minutes; I was not there during the day, except at dinner, between 9 and 5 o'clock; when Holmes states that I was backward and forward all day, he says what is not true; I was out of the hall, but did not go to Holmes'; I did not treat any one; I ordered no liquor; they were getting all they wanted any way; I did not tell Fletcher 2 or 3 times to go and get his dinner, and say it would be all right; about 28 or 29 votes were polled for the Doctor; 30 for Mr. Stratton; several voters after recording their votes left early in the morning; a sleigh load of the voters came about four o'clock; I saw a bottle of whiskey at the poll, with Mr. Stratton's friends; the Doctor had a bottle; I saw it several times.

Witness was then asked to go and get a paper which had been referred to. He said it was impossible to find it, as it might be lost. It was agreed to accept it, containing authority to act at the polls at Apsley for one day.

JOHN HORAN, sworn—I drew voters from every place along the road with my own team. Young O'Brien did not call on me; I saw the elder O'Brien every day I got a letter from Mr. Stratton during the election. I got nothing for my team I did it free. I was at no meeting except at Apsley. I saw voters for both parties I did like to drink, and drank about six times: I drank whiskey on the polling day. Mr. Holmes gave me some whiskey when I was there in the morning to put up the horse. He told me we could have another after the first drink. Holmes called me on one side and told me we could have our dinners and something to drink, but I was to keep an account and let him know who voted for Dr. O'Sullivan, as he was keeping a different account for both parties.

To the Judge—I think he meant by both parties Dr. O'Sullivan and Stratton. I certainly thought as each was running on his own interest each would pay his own bill. I kept account, and I gave him the names of those voting for Dr. O'Sullivan. I got my dinner free. There were five or six open drinks during the day. I gave the names of both. I saw Dr. Clegg have a bottle behind the polling place; can not say what it was. I had no conversation with Cavanagh about the election. He knew I was supporting Dr. O'Sullivan. I shook hands with him at Apsley. He was treating the boys, and being treated. I did not hear anyone saying two could work at treating. There were several at Holmes'. I stopped at the meeting till it was over. After the meeting I went to the tavern, and others went with me. Boyd and Cavanagh had treated turn about. They treated once while Mr. Stratton was speaking.

To Mr. Cameron—I treated all I met, to vote. I could not say who treated first. They treated more than once. I stood at the door of the dining room with Holmes and told him who voted for Mr. Stratton and who for Dr. O'Sullivan. I asked several persons up to drink that day in consequence of what Holmes said. I think there was no distinction as to whose friends drank or took dinner.

Hugh Caldwell, sworn—I live in Chandois; was at the polling place all day: I went with James Scott. I drank all I could get. I saw Horan treated. Horan said he had authority to treat. He did not say whom he had authority to treat I had my dinner. Mr. Holmes told me dinner was ready. I can not swear that I heard that the dinner was free I may have to pay him yet.

DANIEL HAGGART, sworn—I live in Peterborough. I was a voter in the East Riding. I took part in the election of Dr. O'Sullivan from the time he was brought out. I canvassed every day and half the night. I was well acquainted in the vicinity at No. 4 polling place, Otonabee. I acted as agent for the doctor there I was at a meeting in Lakefield. I gave no liquor or polling day: was in no tavern on polling day. I gave no directions to give liquor to voters. There were liquors at the polling place. I had some in my pocket. I gave none to any other person, and only took a mouthful myself. This was the only liquor I had till I came to Peterboro after the poll was closed. There was a man named Smithson there. I am not aware that he had liquor. I know Kennedy. I am not aware of offering him money.

F. BIRDSALL, sworn—I live in Asphodel. I was at the meeting in Keene at which Dr. O'Sullivan was brought out. I got a letter from Mr. Carnegie requesting me to go there. There was forty or fifty persons there. It was arranged at that meeting that Dr. O'Sullivan should run, and that all should help him. I was there after the meeting, and spoke, and agreed to run. I next saw him at a meeting at Westwood I asked people to to vote for him. I attended a meeting of his friends. There were several persons there, Richard Birdsall, Jno. Breckenridge, and others. This was after the meeting, about a week. I don't remember all who were present. Dr. O'Sullivan's brother was not there. We talked over voters who were dead or in the shanties, and mad arrangements to get the voters out. John Breckenridge and Charley O'Reily I think were agents. We did not select any agents. I don't know who called the meeting. There was no other organization in Dr. O'Sullivan's interest. I had my team out for voters on the polling day. I treated some that day between eleven and twelve o'clock. I paid for what I gave. I took brandy and sugar. I did not ask what the others took. Galvin, the landlord, brought the liquor into the sitting-room. I asked for a drink for the others. I treated. One said he had voted, and it would be no harm to treat him then, as it could not be against the law. I came to Peterboro to vote that morning; about thirty-five miles. I canvassed my own neighbourhood. Cavanagh did not come to the house. I saw Carnegie in Norwood, and we talked over the election; can't remember what was said. I think there were no free dinners at Westwood. I know of no orders for dinners to voters.

WM. MULLENS, sworn—I live in Norwood. Am a son of M. Mullens. During the election kept a tavern in Norwood. I was there at nomination. I can not remember who treated at nomination. There was considerable treating Dr. O'Sullivan, Mr. Carnigee and Burnham were there. I rendered an account for dinners. These were friends of Dr. O'Sullivan's. I am not sure that all came from Peterborough. Dr. O'Sullivan, nor Mr. Carnigie, nor Mr. Burnham, that I remember, treated The account was kept on a sheet of paper. I destroyed it. I did not understand what he meant by sending it. The house was open on polling day. Thos. Burk was about the most active at polling. I think Lippet had a sleigh. I do not know who was with him. He drove pretty lively. Dr. O'Sullivan stayed at our place during the canvass. We have an account for keeping horses, Lipsett may have fed his horses and I would not know it. Neither I nor my father canvassed. We supported the Doctor. Do not remember private meetings at our house.

JOHN SMITH, sworn—live in Otonabee. Kept an hotel at the last elections. Voted for Dr O'Sullivan. Meetings were held at my house. No private meetings were held. Was not at the Keene meeting, to bring out the Doctor. There was a meeting in my house in the dining room Dr O'Sullivan spoke. The bar was open Supplied drinks to all who asked. Ted Cavanagh treated all hands after the meeting Never asked him for pay. Do not know how many drank. Bill was for suppers, horse feed, and the use of the room. I tendered the accounts to Mr. Carnegie, but they were not paid because not in a right form. Cavanagh came from Norwood with Dr. O'Sullivan. Can not tell who spoke last. Do not know who was chairman. There were seventy of eighty persons present at the meeting. Cavanagh asked all to drink after the meeting was over. Made no charge separately. Estimated it roughly. There was no private meeting or committee after the general meeting. One could not have been without my knowledge. Ted Cavanagh's bill was not in the account rendered.

To Mr. Cameron—Cavanagh came from his brother's. He had a treat before the meeting and paid for it.

Geo. Lipsett, Sworn—live in Asphodel: am a farmer. The first I attended was at Norwood. I saw Mr. Carnegie at that meeting. He did not invite me to assist him. Never attended any meeting of the doctor's friends. Worked on my farm part of the day, walked down to Norwood Took no voters to poll. Treated it. Becket's, in Mullen's and was also treated myself. Mr McCarty treated. Gave no drinks at the polls. A boy named Hill treated me out of a flask. Think Dr. Ford acted as agent. Saw the doctor's brother at Mullen's, treated him and a good many others. Did not see him treat that day. Did not see what the doctor's brother was doing.

The Court adjourned for half an hour, and resumed at twenty minutes to two o'clock.

Some further witnesses having been examined on the part of the prosecution.

Mr. Bethune stated the cases on which he would rely, after which.

Several witnesses were called on behalf of the respondent,

GARRET GALVIN, sworn—Live in Westwood. I do remember a meeting of Dr. O'Sullivan's friends at my place, between the nomination and polling days. It was a meeting of his friends, F, and Richard Birdsall, English, Powell, and others. The Dr's Brothers was there one day with some papers; I think about the Scotsboro I remember Mr Williams carrying papers on Driscoll, the Returning Officer. I think this was not the day of the meeting. I paid no attention to what they were doing. The meeting of O'Sullivan's friends to arrange for getting out voters I heard nothing said about treats. There were perhaps a dozen present; they were principally neighbors. The Irish friends met there generally. They had liquors supplied several times. Francis Birdsall treated; I do not know how often they treated. My house was closed on the election day. I was in the bar: Francis Birdsall came in and would have a drink, and I had to give it to him. He treated. If a man came in, called a drink, and paid for it, he got it. Some few got drinks. Charles O'Reilly and John Breckenridge acted as agents for the Doctor. John Breckenridge may have drunk on that day; I will not swear that I did or did not give him drink. Dr O'Sullivan may have had a bill, but I did not ball him: I canvassed for the Dr. He came to my place and asked me how the people round there were. I told him I would do what I could for him. I did so. I might have filled a bottle, that I will not swear whether I did or did not. I do not remember if any one asked to get a bottle filled. Breckenridge was there once while the polling was going on, about twelve to one o'clock. It he had drink he had it then. There were people in and out all day; they got whiskey if they asked. I cannot tell the number who got liquor. I refused some liquor, and odd particular ones got liquor anyly.

JOHN BRECKENRIDGE, sworn—I live in Asphodel. I took part in favor of Dr. O'Sullivan. I attended meetings at Norwood and Westwood. I was there the day of the nomination. I was there at a meeting before that day. Dr. O'Sullivan was present. I was at a private meeting of the Dr's friends at Becker's hotel. Pearce, Ford and others were present. It was in an upper room. It was a meeting of his Central committee. The Dr. was not there while I was there. I do not want to mention all other names present. Peter Pearce was chairman of this central committee. I was in 15 minutes. No person invited me. Did not see Mr. Carnegie. Think there was a notice up that the Dr. was to address the meeting. Saw it in the public prints. Must have been in the Review. I was in a committee once for Col. Haultain. At that meeting it was proposed that I should be agent for O'Sullivan at Westwood. I acted for the Dr. He, himself appointed me, and I acted. Understood that I was to act as agent and scrutineer. (Authority produced) Got it from the Dr's. Bros. Got another from the Doctor also. The Doctor called at my house on Saturday, and I then got him to appoint O'Reilly also. Was in Galvin's about 12 and treated myself. I called in there. I asked for a cake and a glass of beer, and believe paid for it. There were persons in the room, but I cannot say that they drank. I did not pay for any drinks I felt annoyed at Mr. Stratton's agent. Birdsall came down with me, but did not, I think, come in with me. The meeting at Westwood was on a Thursday. Wanted to see Dr. O'Sullivan elected. May have called the boys together. Acted as secretary. We made the best arrangements we could to get the votes in Not many volunteers. Driscoll, F. Birdsall, Landrigan and others were present. I understand at the meeting at Norwood that we would meet at Westwood on Thursday. We appointed no agents. Do not remember any other agent appointed. These were the only meetings I attended. I would have done anything to elect the Dr.

To Mr. Cameron—Mr. Pearce was at meeting as chairman. It was O'Sullivans meeting. I was not at the Keene meeting I Believe it. He was a candidate. Dr. O'Sullivan and Carnegie was at my house and appointed and talked to me about the law.

DENNIS O'SULLIVAN, sworn—I am a law student. I prepared this paper. There were all prepared in this form. I think I took an active part in electing my brother, in a particular way. I attended meetings at Keene, Norwood and Town Hall Dorro, to give instructions as to preventing illegal votes. They were meetings to get scrutineers and to get the voters out. The lists were checked at some of those meetings. Agents appointed and appointments were sent then. The meeting at Dorro was of the Doctors Friends, and the other side retired. There were no speeches made, at those meetings. I was at no meeting in which Mr. McDonald was appointed. O'Brien drove me around. I presume he knew what I was doing. I think it was the 26th here most of the time. I was on occasions out of persons to go to. I remember Breckenridge. I called at his house. I was not at a meeting in Westwood. I acted as an agent at Brothersons, corners. I cannot say I paid any money towards the election, except my personal expenses. Mrs. O'Sullivan gave me $20, one of a series of loans. I know Cavanagh. I met him at the Indian River. Did not see any one treating. Did not hear him calling up a treat. Saw him in one of the rooms I think drinking Saw two or three drin

Body of a Woman Found.

On Friday the body of a woman was found in the Otonabee river at the Nassau Mills. It was found to be the body of a Mrs. Cox, of Lakefield, who had thrown herself into the river at the slides, Lakefield, about one week before. She appears to have had considerable method in her act, although, no doubt, her anxious mind must have been disordered when she committed the rash deed. The morning after the said her clothes were found on the river edge, her bonnet hanging on a post, her dress also on a sliver of the post, her slippers neatly laid at the foot of the post, and a portion of her under dress placed on the pear at the slide. Her shawl was also on the pier with a stone on it to prevent its being blown into the river and lost. What thoughts must have passed through her mind while arranging for the fatal leap. An inquest was held and a verdict in accordance with the above facts rendered.

The Georgia Minstrels.

This only origional Slave Troupe of negro artistic performers will visit Peterborough, on Monday evening, August 2nd. They have performed in all the principal cities and towns in America and Europe. They are all real negroes and said to be great artists They promise a varied programme, original, comic and amusing. The following is what the Toronto Mail says about them:

ROYAL OPERA HOUSE.—The Georgia Minstrels.—This bona fide troupe of darkie minstrels gave their first performance last night, before a very numerous audience. They are the best we have seen for years, both as to number training, and real ability. The various songs and concerted pieces were given with a finish, and true harmonious effect, that was exceedingly pleasant, and the comic effects of the "end men" were full of wit and gymnastic fun. We can, without hesitation advise all who desire a couple of hours of thorough enjoyment, to go and see this very clever troupe.

CONCLUDED FROM 2ND PAGE.

Norwood, and the hireing of a conveyance by M. O'Brien the younger, to go to Ashburnham, John Breckenridge purchasing liquor on the polling day, as the agent had no right to induce a man to break the law. I also intend to couple McDonald with Cavanagh in the free dinner and drinks at Holmes tavern.

THE DEFENCE.

JOHN CARNEGIE, sworn—Was the general agent of Dr O'Sullivan in the election Represented the West Riding in Ontario Parliament. There were no committees formed in the East Riding to forward Dr O'sullivans interest. Neither central nor sub-committees formed. The only thing I know that Breckenridge could refer to was ameeting on the day after the nomination to see if the scrutineers understood the law. I asked those whom I knew to be friendly to Dr O'Sullivan to meet to ascertain who was to be suitable to appoint as scrutineers. Breckenridge and Mr. Pearce was present then. There were other meetings held by the Doctors brother for the same purpose. I know of no one having authority to act for Dr O'Sullivan generally except myself and his brother. Horan had complained that none of the candidates had gone up there, and I said I would go. Cavanagh again spoke to me about going. I did not go. I hurried the Doctor off, having arranged with Major Boulton to go with him. Never saw an account of those drinks and dinners by Holmes. It was not rendered to me. The only account rendered was the $4.55 paid. The first time Holmes came in he left the bill. Have no recollection of seeing Cavanagh at Smiths. I had no knowledge of his intention to come. Saw no treating. The meeting was broken up when I arrived. Shortly after we issued the notices for the Apsley meeting, Cavanagh asked to go. I said we would see.

The next morning Holmes and Cavanagh came in and I paid the bill. I knew nothing about Eastlands teams till the bill was rendered. Had told the doctors brother to have teams enough to take scrutineers to polling places, and that these teams had to be engaged for this purpose. I have not paid for that team because sent out contrary to instruction. The Respondent pressed it on his friends not to violate the law.

To Mr. Bethune,—I was anxious not to have a committee, lest might be held responsible for their acts and partly because we had not time to organize them properly. Would have asked Mr. F. Birdsall if I had met him. Dr. O'Sullivan had gone on to the Indian River. Asked for suitable names of persons to act as Scrutineers. Distributed voters lists and went over them with Brekenridge, Grover and Mr. Pearce. Notices were issued for a meeting at Westwood, Keene, & Douro, to explain the law. Dr. O'Sullivan's brother understood to see to those meetings. Was about as active in the election as the doctor; as active as I knew how to be. He knew what I was doing and left a great deal of work to me. Cavanagh was always acting in former elections. Was afraid of his treating propensities. Was not cognizant of the treating at Apsley. Knew Horan, he complained about no candidate having visited that section. I relied on him voting all right.

P. PHELAN, called.—I went to Holmes and returned with Cavanagh and slept with him. Heard no conversation of Cavanagh with Holmes as to Holmes giving free drinks. Did not see them talking that day.

To Mr. Bethune—I got my dinner on polling day; did not pay for it. Horan said come on you may as well have one anyhow; it will not cost anything. Only went in with Horan. Holmes was not out of my sight not one minute. Cavanagh did not require to be watched. Got breakfast in the dining room. After breakfast it snowed and we did not start. Went with Ted to the stables to see the horses we come with. Only went to see the horses. Don't mind Holmes going to the stables. Cavanagh was not more than a minute out of my sight during the night or morning.

This closed the defence. Judgment will be rendered on Monday at twelve o'clock.

—ELECTRICITY—

THOMAS' ECCLESIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rasan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

THE KING'S RING.

BY THEODORE TILTON.

Once in Persia reigned a king,
Who upon his signet ring
Graved a sentence wise and grim,
Which, if held before his eyes,
Gave him counsel, at a glance,
That for every change and chance:
Solemn words, and these are they:
"And even this shall pass away."

Trains of camels through the sand
Brought him gems from Samarcand;
Fleets of galleys through the seas
Brought him pearls to match with these.
But he treasured up his gain,
Treasurers of his gains or pains.
"What is wealth?" the king would say,
"Even this shall pass away."

In the revels of his court,
At the sunset of the sport,
When the palms of all his guests
Burned with clapping at his jests
He, amid his mirth and wine,
Cried, "Oh, loving friends of mine,
Pleasure comes, but let me say:
"Even this shall pass away."

Lady fairest ever seen,
Chose he for his bride and queen,
Crowned upon the marriage bed,
Whispering to his soul, he said:
"Though a bridegroom never boasted
Dearer beams to his breast, I
Mortal flesh must come to clay:
Even this shall pass away."

Fighting on a furious field
Once a javlin pierced his shield.
Soldiers, with a loud lament,
Bore him bleeding to his tent.
Groaning from the tortured skin,
"Pain is hard to bear," he cried;
"But with patience day by day,
Even this shall pass away."

Towering in the public square,
Twenty cubits in the air,
Rose his statute carved in stone.
Then the king, disguised, unknown
Mused before his sculptured name,
Musing meekly: "What is fame?
Fame is but a lifted finger;
Even this shall pass away."

Struck with palsy, sore and old,
Waiting at the gate of gold
Spake he with his dying breath,
"Life is done; but what is death?"
Then in answer to the king
Fell a sunbeam on his ring,
Showing by a lambent ray—
"Even this shall pass away."

The Mountain Meadow Massacre.

TERRBILE BUTCHERY

Men are Shot, and Women have their Throats Cut.

MURDER OF CHILDREN.

[Associated Press Despatch.]

SALT LAKE, July 23.—A jury is secured at Beaver in Lee's case, consisting of eight Mormons and four Gentiles.

BEAVER, Utah, July 23.—In the trial of Lee and others, to-day, for the Mountain Meadow Massacre, Philip Klingman Smith, one of the defendants who has turned State's evidence, testified as follow: I was at the massacre in September, 1857; heard of emigrants coming; the people were forbidden to trade with them; I felt bad about it, and saw a few of them at Cedar. This was on Friday. On the Sunday there was a meeting of the Presidency and, Council of Bishops, I was a Bishop. The matter came up, and there was a discussion as to the destruction of the emigrants. Haight, Higbee, Morrill, Allen, Willis, and others were there. Some brethern opposed the destruction, I did. Haight jumped up and broke up the meeting. I asked what would be the consequences of such an act. Haight then got mad and said the Indians were to destroy them. On Monday, Higbee, Haight, White, and I went into the same subject again. I opposed the destruction. Haight then relented and told White to go ahead, and told our people that the emigrants should go through safe. We did so, and on the road met John Lee and told him where and why we were going. He replied, "I have something to say about that matter." We passed the emigrants at Iron Springs. Next morning we passed them again as we came back. They had twenty or thirty waggons, and over one hundred people, old men, and middle aged, old women, and middle-aged, youths and children. Near home we met Ira Allen. He said the emigrants whom was sended and the die cast for destruction; that he had orders to take men and go out and intercept them. Allen was to go on and counteract what we did. I went home. Three days after Haight sent for me and said orders had come from the camp that they wanted reinforcements; that he had got further orders from Col. W. H. Dame to finish the massacre, and to decoy out and spare only small children who could not tell the tale. I went off and met Allen, our first runner, and others. Higbee came out and said, you are ordered out, armed and equipped," so I went. Hopkins, Higbee, John Willis, and Sam Purdy went along. We had two baggage waggons, and got to Hamlin's ranche in the eight, three miles from the emigrants. There we met Lee and others from the general camp, where the largest number of men were then found. The emigrants were not all killed. Lee called me out for consultation. On one side he told me the situation of emigrants was strongly fortified and that there was no chance of getting them out, and that Higbee wat ordered to decoy them out the best way he could. That was agreed to, and the command given to John D. Lee to carry out the whole plan. They went to the camp. Lee called all the soldiers into the hollow square and addressed them. They were white men, about fifty in all. The Indians were in another camp. I saw there Slade and his son and Jim Pearce and probably his son, too. Bill Stewart, Levin Jacobs, and, I think, Dan McFarlane, were there, too. Slade and I were outraged, but we said, "What can we do? We can't help ourselves." Just then the order to march was given, and we had to go. Higbee had command of part of the men. We marched within sight of the emigrants. Either Bateman or Lee went out with the white flag. A man from the emigrants met Lee and sat down on the grass and they had a talk. Don't know what they talked about. Lee went with the man into entrenchments. After some hours they came out and the emigrants came up with the wounded in the wagons ahead. The wounded were those hurt in the three days previous fight. Next came the women, next men. As the emigrants came up the men halted and the women on foot, children and wounded went on ahead, with John D. Lee. The soldiers had to be all ready to shoot at the word. When the word halt came the soldier's fired. I fired once. I don't know if I killed anyone. The men were not all killed, by the first shot. I saw the women afterwards dead with their throats cut. I saw as I came up to them, a man kill a young girl. John Higbee gave the order to my company to fire. No emigrants escaped. I saw the soldiers on horses take those who ran away. I saw a man run, and I also saw Bill Stuart on a horse go after and kill him. I saw one wounded man beg for his life, Higbee cut his throat. The man said, "I would not do this to you Higbee." He knew him. After I fired I was told to gather up the little children. As I went I saw a large woman running towards the man crying "My husband! my husband!" A soldier shot her in the back and she fell dead. As I went on I found wagons with the wounded all cut on the ground and their throats cut. I went on and found children. I put them in the wagon and took them to Hamblin's house. I saw no more soldiers. Two children were wounded; one died at Hamblin's. I took the rest to Cedar and distributed them among the people. With others I subsequently collected the property of the massacred emigrants and placed it in the church tithing house by orders of Haight. Lee told me he had reported all facts to Brigham Young. When I next saw Young in in the presence of Lee and Charley Hopkins, Young said, "You have charge of that property in the tithing house turn it over to John D. Lee. What you know of this say nothing of it. Don't talk of it even among yourselves." The property was subsequently sold at auction, by Lee and others. Some cattle went to Hooper the delegate for Congress at the time of this massacre. The Indians were assigned to kill the women and children. I saw one Nyack cut a little boy's throat. No effort was made to restrain them.

The court here adjourned.

Great excitement prevails. Smith's testimony is understood to be the same as Lee's supposed confession.

ORIGION OF ODDFELLOWS.

The origion of the order of Odd-Fellows is of an ancient date; it was established by the Roman soldiers in camp after the order of the Israelites, during the reign of Nero, the Roman emperor, who commenced his reign A. D. 55, at which time they were called Fellow-Citizens. The name of Odd Fellows was given to this order of men (A. D. 79) by Titus Cæsar, Emperor of Rome, from their singularity of notions, and from them knowing each other by night as well as by day and for their fidelity to him and their country. He not only gave them the name of Odd-Fellows, but, as a pledge of friendship, presented them with a dispensation, engraved on the Arch of Titus Cæsar, the Ark of the Contenent the Golden Candlesticks, the Golden Table, (weighing one Great Talent), the Son of N. G., the Moon and Stars for V. G., a lamp for the Secretary, the Lion for Geardian, the Dove for Warden, and the Emblems of Mortality for the G. M. It is very probable that the first Odd-Fellows made their appearance in North Wales, and shortly afterwards on the Island of Mono, now called Anglesea. The first account we have of the order spreading into other countries is in the fifth century, when it was established in the Spanish dominions, under the Roman dispensation; and in the 6th century by King Henry in Portugal; and in the twelfth century it was established in France, and afterwards in England by D'Nevile, attended by five knights from France, who formed a Loyal Grand Lodge of Honor in London, which order remained until the reign of George III, when a part of them began to form themselves into a Union, and a portion of them remain until this day; on this account, the lodges which remain, and are very numerous throughout the world, call themselves Loyal Ancient Independent Odd-Fellows, being a portion of the original body.

The Liverpool Post of June 18, says: An extraordinary marriage has been celebrated in the Church of St Wallos, Fewport, between a girl named Elizabeth Hones, of the tender age of thirteen years. The husband is supposed to be a street preacher from britonferry, and the child wife is the daughter of Mr. Evan Jones, a storekeeper at the Vernot Tin Works. On Sunday night last the two met at the North Station, and proceeded to Newport, where they were joined by a sister of the young man. The latter had not before disclosed the purpose which he had in view to his relative, and when she heard of it she uttered an indignant remonstrance, refused to attend the church and returned to her home. On proceeding to the church the following morning, the bridegroom explained the absence of attendants by informing the clergyman that his sister had been suddenly taken unwell. The service was then accomplished and a little girl thirteen years of age married by a priest of the Church of England. The child-wife afterward returned to her parents, who were much distressed at the absence and informed them what had happened."

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE — FREE FROM ALCOHOL

WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS

GRATEFUL THOUSANDS proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In those, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

West Peterboro' Election Trial.

FIRST DAY.

PETERBOROUGH, July 30.

The West Riding of Peterborough election trial commenced this morning before Chief Justice Draper. Hector Cameron and H. H. Smith appeared for the petitioner, and Jas. Bethune and D. W. Dumble for the respondent. In the personal charges,

JOHN DRAKE, sworn—Was a voter at last election, and voted: am a laborer. Cox canvassed me for my vote; was then working in Clark's tannery; Cox came to see me, and said he was a man that did a good deal of work in Peterborough, and kept a large number of men employed, and was going to have a good deal of work this succeeding year. He asked me to give him my interest in the election. I said he had asked me first, but I had not made up my mind yet. He said, "you had best come and give me your interest." I said, "If I am idle will you give me work?" He said, "I shall have plenty of work, and I will give you work for the summer." That was all that passed. There was no person present. Expected work would be dull and I thought I could get some from him. No particular work was mentioned. I can read a little but not write. A few days after I told some one, if I voted for Cox, he would give me work. This was after the election, and I was asked to make a statement about a month or five weeks after the election. Geo. Mitchell came after me to give my evidence about what was promised by Cox. I went to the room. They asked me what Cox had said. I have forgotten who were there. Mr Phelan was there and Breckenridge. I made a affidavit. I signed a statement of what I could prove don't know who took it down. I don't know what was in the statement. I had nothing to drink in Mitchell's saloon the evening I made the statement. I never told any person about Mr. Cox until the time I told the men at Mitchell's corner. I told Mr Clark that Cox had asked me for my vote and offered me work. Mr. Clark is a supporter of Scott. I sometimes get drunk but never saw or tasted liquor during the election.

J. C. WOOD, sworn—I am a painter. I live in the south end of the town. A great number of English mechanics have come to Peterboro. I know nearly all of them. Mr Cox canvassed me at the new school house. He talked to me fifteen or twenty minutes. I said to him I was not much on either side and told him I had no vote. He said, you can do a great deal for me if you like. If you do, I will give you work, as I am doing a great deal of work, and will give you the painting.

To Mr. Bethune—I came from London; I engaged in politics in England; I had strong leanings in England but changed since; I had done work for Mr. Cox under H. Cox when I came to the country first; this conversation in the school house was about the last week in November; did not vote it down; in the first conversation I reproached him for breach of promise, and I lost a week thereby. I had hard feelings against him, I rode around to see how things were going on. I was surprised that Mr. Cox thought I had any influence. I did not think I had any. I never get on a spree. I have received aid from the St. George's Society.

To Mr. Cameron—Mr. Cox has been doing a large amount of work. I came here but I did not work for him on my own account.

DALTON ULLYOT sworn—I was chairman of a committee of Mr. Cox's; a general committee. There were no other committee that I am aware of. There was no names taken down, it was open several nights. I saw G Sproule there a few times. I saw him in the committee rooms. I think there was some talk about non-resident voters; I know of two telegrams one to my partner and one to Mr. Hall, Cobourg. Mr Cox was not often at the committee rooms. I sent a verbal message to one of my shanties that the voters might go to the election. I think two or three of my men came down with one of my teams. The majority of them had votes in the West Riding. This was the only message sent in reference to West Peterboro'.

GEORGE SPROULE sworn—I took part in Mr. Cox's election. A committee met in my house once or twice. Can't say I spoke to Mr. Cox about. I saw him only once on the Saturday night before the Election. I had no conversation with him about outside voters. I made no particular arrangement to get nonresident voters in. I wrote to one Pearce, Minden. I merely said, "Come down by stage." I never saw the man since or before. I can't say I either wrote or telegraphed. I may have said to some one that I paid money, as parties were quizzing to a great degree. I did not pay any one. I know of no one being paid nor of any money whatever being used in the election.

HENRY GORDON, sworn Keep a tavern; it was not open on the day of election; the back door was open; Cardinelle said to give the boys what they wanted and he would make it all right; I gave them whiskey between nine and five o'clock on election day; Peter Hamilton was not there on election day; he was there two nights before and told me that night to give the boys liquor. That night there were four or five men. I gave liquor too all Cardinelle brought. My house was not open for Cox. I can't say Cardinell was active for Cox. Hamilton use to come frequently to my tavern. I presented an account $12.40 to P. Hamilton.

ISRAEL GOYETTE, sworn—Peter Hamilton may have been in my house, and in and out before the election. I sent my bill to Mr. Cox afterwards, and expected to get it.

Mr. Hamilton's agency was here admitted by Mr. Cox.

Witness continued—The bill was for $50. No one came to see me after the bill was sent to Mr. Cox. Four or five days after the election I spoke to Mr. Hamilton about the bill. Mr. Cox never spoke to me about it. Mr. Cox wanted to know from witness what P Hamilton said about the liquor. He saw Cardinell asking votes for Mr. Cox. Cardinell was one of the parties who was treated on the night of the committee meeting.

The JUDGE ruled such evidence inadmissable.

Witness continued—I can't tell how much of the $50 was for liquor on polling day. I understood I was to furnish liquor all along during the election to treat Mr. Cox's voters. I gave Cardinell meals. Parties played on the pigeon hole table for the liquor, and no matter who won Cox was charged. I never spoke to Cox during the election; do not remember seeing him at the meeting.

To Mr. Bethune—The people were going away when Hamilton told me at the head of the stairs that the exact statement was—"take the boys to your place and treat them," meaning that evening. After another meeting Hamilton told me the same thing.

NAPOLEON PRENNEVOIEZ—sworn I an elector at the time of last election; was asked for whom I intended voting; I said for Cox; Hamilton asked me to vote for Cox two days before; said he hoped I would vote on his side. I worked with my team for Mr. Cox. Thought I'd help him a little; began about 7 a. m.; brought all the electors I could. Some one asked me to vote for Scott. I asked Ted Cavanagh if they wanted a team for Scott's election. Cavanagh said "yes, go on and it will be made all right." Ben. Laurin asked me why I voted for Mr. Cox. I said because I liked. Mr. Cox's brother lent me a set of harness. I got a loan of harness the evening before. Fred. Laplant was with me. I afterwards bought the harness for $11. He sent his man to me in the spring when I agreed to pay him $11. He asked a note for it. I agreed to pay in sixty days; I calculated to get the money then. Long before that he was at me to get the harness or the money. I heard of this case, but he did not speak to me about it. He came to me about the money a week ago, but I could not pay it. Mr. Cox did not speak to me about my evidence.

JOHN POWERS, sworn—I know Jeremiah Daly. I saw him on polling day at Ted Cavanagh's. I asked him to vote for Mr. Scott. Mr. Cox afterwards asked him to vote, and said he would pay his way back to the shanty. I heard nothing more. They moved away further. Daly did not promise to vote for Scott.

To Mr. Bethune—I had no vote, but my influence was for Mr. Scott.

The court then adjourned till nine o'clock to-morrow morning.

SECOND DAY.

G. ELLIOTT, recalled—Took notes of a meeting in the Music Hall. Can't say that these are Mr. Cox's exact words at that meeting, as I do not now remember them. The sentence referred to is not the same as Mr. Cox used; I have changed the wording to a running report of what was said. I had no feelings against Mr. Cox; my antecedents had been on his side of politics. I don't think I wrote the sentence as I did to make a point against him.

ALEXIS BORETTE,—Knows Mr. Cardinelle; had a joking conversation with him. I said to him I would not turn to his side for $50. He replied would I not take ten dollars. He showed me no money. It was all a joke.

F. E. TAYLOR—My name was on the voters list for 1874; I sold the property in June 2nd, 1874; I had been in the employ of Mr. Cox; I was not at the time of the election, and I am not now. I think Mr. Cox knew of the sale of the property, but he had nothing to do with the sale. I received no letter or telegram to come and vote in the West Riding. I think I received a postal card from Mr. Stratton to come and vote for him in the East Riding where I have a vote yet. I came on Saturday evening, and stopped at Mr. Donnellys'. I had no conversation about the election at anytime about voting. Mr. Fairbairn spoke to me about voting and insisted that my vote was good, as he had enquired or about the matter. He said he had taken advice.

The Judge remarked that as the name was on the last list revised by the County Judge, his vote could not have been refused unless he refused to take the oath. I got the necessary papers from Mr. Fairbairn to qualify me as Agent at North Monaghan Polling place. One of those who proposed to go had said he could not go. I was not told that I would not be sworn if at North Monaghan. I don't know whether or not Mr. Cox knew I was going to North Monaghan. I voted and in an hour or so came away, but was too late for the train to get home as I wished to do. I never spoke to Mr. Cox about the matter, except that I may have told him that I was subpened, but I can't say I did even that. I made no arrangements to bring down voters. I paid nothing to do so.

ALEXANDER FAIRBAIRN, sworn—am a voter for Smith. I saw Mr. Dumble about getting my taxes reduced as my assessment had been raised by the Judge at the revision of the lists for 1874. Mr. Dumble said he would give me nothing, but would try to get my taxes reduced. He did not say he would, he did not say the committee would. He said some of the party ought to pay the increase.

The JUDGE here reflected on Mr. Cameron's method of questioning and of the political feeling he was importing into the case with this witness, and said he should not indulge in party spleen in any way at this or any other trial.

Witness said, I have always been a Reformer.

To Mr. Bethune—I had been told that Mr. Dumble had been the cause of raising my taxes, hence I went to him. Mr. Dumble did say he would speak to get the Council to reduce my taxes. He said some party ought to pay the increase.

JAS. STINSON, sworn—I employ eight to ten men. Mr. Cox canvassed them once. I always belonged to the Reform party. I asked votes for Mr. Cox, but never canvassed inside of my shop, and very little outside. I can't say I spoke to Mr. Cox about how the men in the shop would vote. I never suggested to him anything about political men, never did so in reference to Griffin. I swear positively I did not ask Griffin how he would vote, if I spoke to any one it was to Masters. I checked voters' list on polling day. I saw some liquor but it was at my own house at dinner. I saw no liquor at polling booth.

COMMODORE VANDERBILT.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE MAN WHO HAS MADE A HUNDRED MILLIONS.

There is a man who hardly ever appears in Wall street, and who yet wields a power sufficiently great to upset in a few hours all the speculators on Chance Jay Gould not excepted. That man is now eighty-one years old, yet he looks so fresh that a good many men of sixty might well envy him. His powerful frame has not suffered either from hard work or the excitment of financial speculations. The invigorating open air which he breathed on Staten Islands in his childhood and on board his vessels in his youth seems to have insured him against the calumities to which town life exposes its children.

The contrast presented in the appearance of the

THREE LEADING FINANCIERS OF N. Y.

Is a most curious one. Daniel Drew looks like a broken-down hollow-chested Harpagon; Jay Gould like a quaint Moorish pawnbroker; while Vanderbilt has about him absolutely nothing suggestive of money dealing. He looks like a stubborn, hard-working Dutchman—not one of those little, fat Dutchmen who could not get along in their own country, and who emigrated here to become the standing but for American jokes, but one of those Dutchmen who never leave the land they conquered from the sea, and whose Herculean frames, red faces with side whiskers, and long, classical pipes have furnished the originals for so many immortal productions of the Flemish school of painting.

A writer in the N. Y. Sun gives the following interesting

SKETCH OF COMMODORE VANDERBILT'S LIFE.

Which is instructive as well as entertaining. The Commodore's father, a well-to-do-land owner to market gardeners, and ran a sail boat in which he carried the gardner's produce to New York at a good round tariff, thus making his land pay double tribute. He was very anxious that his son should acquire a good education and strove to excite the boys ambition in that direction; but "Cornele" did not take kindly to books. He was a healthy and powerful young animal, exhibiting a greater taste for robbing melon patches and punching the heads of the companions who dared to oppose him than for parsing. As a natural consequence of this the great financiers verbs, pronouns and nouns frequently do no not agree even at this day.

Before he was fully 16 years of age he begged his father to purchase a boat for him that he might earn his own living; and began to run it in competition with that of his governor. So well did he manage the business that within two years he became sole owner of two more boats and part owner and captain of a third which was the biggest vessel of the kind in the harbor. This precocious success of the

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 5, 1875.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE WEST RIDING

All friendly to the return of Mr. Cox at the approaching election will do well not to be deceived by any statements of his opponents. He will be a candidate again, of that there is not the least reason to be in doubt, and with your aid he will be re-elected. There is not the least fear of his being disqualified, and without hesitation we make the assertion that he will be a candidate again, and will be re elected. The petty persecution he has been subjected to, founded on the evidence of John Drake and J. C. Wood may have pleased those who promoted it, but it will not affect Mr. Cox one iota. At the close of the next election he will have an increased majority, and will thus teach his opponents that their attempts have been fruitless. One thing is certain, viz.,—That he shirked no part of the investigation. Can his opponents say as much?

TO THE ELECTORS OF EAST PETETBOROUGH.

From the report of the trial in reference to the East Riding it will be seen that Dr. O'Sullivan has been unseated, and that this was brought about by the act of his own agent, Mr. Carnegie, who was held to have employed Mr. Cavanagh to do what he, Mr. Carnegie feared to do. It a righteous decision, and more than this we will not at present say on this matter.

It will be your duty, immediately to select some person to contest the Riding in the Reform interests, for which a meeting will soon be convened, and as there will not be much time before a new election shall take place, we would earnestly request every friend of good Government to prepare to select a good man, and when selected, fail not to support, and elect him.

Several times the writer, who was the Reform candidate at last election, has been requested to become the candidate in this contest, but to all those entreaties and to many enquiries his answer has been "No." In this place he would take this opportunity of returning his sincere thanks to those political friends who warmly and earnestly endeavored to place him at the head of the poll in January last, and who gave him in a much smaller constituency than usual, the largest protestant vote ever polled for any man in the Riding, indeed, it might be added, in the county. He feels no less grateful to those catholic voters who supported him, and to those who while they could not justify the act of voting for him against a co-religionist, did not vote against him. To all he would say, that as in the past so in the present, and for the future, his political creed is neither national nor sectarian, except so far as to be truly Canadian. The creed or the place of birth of any man should not act as a barrier to his preferment if otherwise worthy, and loyal to his Queen and Country. Holding those views and hitherto acting on them, we will not pledge ourselves to support a man solely on religious grounds, but on perfect accord with Reform principles, the candidate of a properly constituted Reform Convention should have the support of all Reformers.

West Peterboro' Election Trial.

Several witnesses, Frenchmen, were examined, but nothing more than reported elicited. Cardinelle had told Gordon and Goyette to give the Frenchmen whiskey; and, no doubt, he did it. Mr. Cox had no communication directly or indirectly with Cardinelle other than asking him for his vote.

Thomas Laplant also had been asked for his influence: and he, following no doubt his usual practice treated all hands wherever he went, and in this way violated the election law; but it was by no means intended by Mr. Cox that Laplant should be his agent. His mere speaking to him however, appears to have constituted him one, and rendered Mr. Cox liable.

Peter Duval got liquor in Ben Laurents, 'a house in Mr. Scott's interest; Duval also voted for Scott, but the investigation of the acts of Mr. Scott and his agents by his abandoning this claim to the seat, could not be investigated.

Mr. Tierney was put in the witness box but nothing was elicited. His teams were engaged by Mr. Cox during the canvas and he got his pay. It is well known that Mr. Tierney is a consistent reformer, that his bill is never an unreasonable one, and therefore it must have been sheer desperation that caused them to suppoena him.

Leon Deon was a voter and aided Mr. Cox; talked to his friends about him; may have treated some of them; brought no one to the polls; did not see Mr. Hamilton in Faucher's till after 5 o'clock; he paid Goyette for all he got from him.

Robert Maxwell, lives in Galway, was brought down because Mr. Phelps who owed Maxwell money, one day paid Maxwell's taxes and charged it to him, (Maxwell.)

Peter Hamilton, lives in Peterborough, employs a few men and generally takes an interest in elections. There were two meetings of committees in No 1 ward. Jas. Moore, John Gillespie, Holmes and one or two others were present. I don't think Moore canvassed any; no undue influence was used to secure the french vote of whom there are not more than 40 to 50. I saw Cardinelle; he passed my place daily to town. I may have had a conversation with him; do not remember it. I took it for granted he would vote for the Reform candidate; heard no speech made in election rooms except when Mr. Ullyott asked them to turn out on the day of polling. I was in Goyettes but did not treat during the election, except one night 4 or 5 of them kept annoying me and I told Goyette he might give give them a lift. On election day I was cold and going into Goyettes' I asked for a drink and got it from Mrs. Goyette. Cardinelle did not speak about an open House. I did not lead Goyette to believe that he would get payment of his bill. I spent no money except ten to twenty-five cents in treating; never heard of Sproule paying for outside voters; I did not send Young Beauvais for his father.

John Doig and his son sworn; but nothing was elicited.

After this evidence Mr. Cameron abandoned his claim to the seat, on the ground of Cardinelle and Laplants' treating. The case then turned on the personal charges.

Mr. Bertram was present at a meeting in the Music Hall, as reported in the Review. Mr. Cox, at that meeting was was replying to an article that had appeared in the Review charging him with canvassing the working men, because of the amount of money he expended in building. He denied having done so, and further that he had put himself to a little inconvenience by stopping the work during the election, least he might be accused of doing this. Do not remember that he named an amount that he had in in the bank, but he did refer to a building he intended to put up, for which he had material on the ground. Witness accompanied Mr. Cox to all his meetings and heard Mr. Cox caution his superters and the people against doing anything that would be illegal. Mr. Cox drank nothing and gave no drinks. He is a total abstainer, I believe.

Jeremiah Daley—I am the person referred to by Powers. I remember Mr. Cox coming to me at the corner of McKeiver & Hogan's store, near Cavanagh's. He came out of his cutter about 3 to 4 o'clock; he spoke to me about voting; I said I had not; I saw Powers near Cavanagh's door. I wanted to see the foreman about leaving before voting. Mr. Cox never spoke to me about paying my way back to the shanty. He never said if I would vote for him he would pay my expenses back to the shanty. He had before asked me for my vote and I had promised it. I swear that what Power's says is not true.

To Mr. Cameron—I have known Powers from childhood, he is fond of a drop. I did not speak to Powers that day. I did not speak to Simons. Mr. Scott passed me by but I cannot say that he spoke. I was in Cavanagh's sitting room. Saw John King. Had not seen Cox from the time he canvassed my vote. The foreman was on Scott's side.

John Clarke—I am a tanner. Was friendly to Mr. Scott. Drake worked with me last fall. I remember Mr. Cox coming to see Drake. He did see him. I did not hear the conversation. I had some conversation with Drake about ten minutes after. I asked how he had got along with Mr. Cox. He said he had promised to vote for Cox, as the other party never asked him. He did not say, that I can recollect, anything at that time about Cox having promised him work. I have known Drake a long time but have seen him seldom. The general reputation he has, as far as I have heard, is that sometimes he would tell lies, and sometimes the truth

To Mr. Cameron—He did tell me that Cox had promised him work. I think this was before the election. I have heard of him drinking. I am sure it was not that day that he told me Cox had promised him work.

James S. Hughes, John Brown, and James Stratton testified to having heard of his reputation as not very reliable, and that in consequence they would hesitate to believe him on oath. Wm. White who lives very near him, said his reputation was bad, and that he would not like to believe his oath.

Hugh Watson, a painter, knew J. C. Wood, said he had a bad reputation in general, and that he would not believe his oath. I am not a supporter of Mr. Cox. George Tanner also testified to the doubtful character of Drake and Wood.

MONDAY.

The first witness was Mayor Toole, who said—I have known John Drake a number of weeks, had never heard anything against his veracity till within the last few years. Would believe him under oath. Know J. C. Wood but nothing against his general reputation. Know George Tanner, he always acted fairly in dealings with me.

To Mr. Bethune.—I don't live in same part of the town, nor move in the same social circle, and am not brought into contact with him often. Witness subscribed to the funds to carry through the petition, and was present in the club rooms when Drake gave his statement, but can't say what it was.

A. Stutt, Thomas Chambers, F. W. Heather, Albert Hall, Thomas Croly, one Thomas Poole a chum of Woods', Wm. Helm, John Irwin, Thomas Beavis, Ben. Green, Lewis Glover and Thomas Beatty were all put in the witness box to establish Drake's character.

Geo. A Cox, sworn—I became a candidate in 1874, in November or December. My desire was that the election should be free from any undue influence. In my addresses I requested the public not to do anything illegal. I did so to my friends. In a letter of 25th Dec. 1875, I was charged with bribing working men with a promise of work. So far from that being the case I was pursuing the opposite course, although I had material preparation made to expend $25,000 in building, instead of procuring full material in winter as I usually did, refrained from the work lest I might be accused of bribing them and I did this to preclude the possibility of the charge. I did not think I was doing wrong, as it was well known that I was providing material. I think it was generally known that the material was mine. I generally get carpenter work done in the winter. I had no idea of influencing a voter thereby. I know John Drake by sight now. I found him in Mr. Clark', tannery. Mr. Clark said he was in the bottom part of it. I asked him for his vote. He replied you are the first man that has asked me, I guess I will: he promised readily. I asked if he knew who I was. He answered: yes, Mr Cox. I asked if he knew what I wanted it for. He said yes, for member of Parliament. I asked about James Drake. He said he was in Mr. Lndgate's shanty. I told him I was obliged to him for his vote and left. Not a word was spoken on the subject of work. He never said if I am idle, will you give me work next summer. I thought he was a tanner. I know John C. Wood about 2 years. I had a conversation with him in No. 1 school building. I went to see Mr. James Webb, Wood was there. I asked if he had a vote. I found he had not a vote. He said he would vote for me if he had, ——that Mr. Cox should have it. I did not say if he would use his influence for me I would give him work. I thought he had none. I held out no inducement to him to work. I know Jeremiah Daly by sight. I saw him polling day. I asked him if he had voted yet. He said no. I asked if it he would get into the cutter and go and vote; he said he wished to see the foreman, who was in Cavagnah's before he Borette left. He said he'd go before the poll closed. I made no offer in any form of words that I would pay his way back. I had canvassed him three weeks before and had his promise. I did not then see Powers; Daley was in front of the Haslett Block, or nearly; I know Cole Barret; he has worked for me; had two conversations with him, and in no one conversation did I try to induce him to vote for me. When I last talked to him he said he had not changed his mind. I said to not allow his working for me influence him.

To Mr. Cameron: I have given his Lordship as near as possible the exact words; only know of Drake by the list of voters. I said no a word about work at all. I thought he was a tanner. I have known Wood. He worked for Keighley. I understood he was a partner. I think I gave him a letter about making him Constable. I talked part of the time to Croly, part of the time to him and to Webb. He spoke of English politics. I looked at the list to satisfy myself. Mr. Dumble spoke to me and told me to be careful about what I said to every one. This was before the meeting in the Music Hall. I heard a report at the time Mr. Dumble spoke to me about it. When I asked Barret he said he had promised to vote for Scott. I said I thought I had as strong claims as Scott. I first learned of Goyette after this trial was commenced. I did show the account to Mr. Donnelly. I treated it as a joke: I did not take it out of the store. I did not show it to Bertram. I first heard of treating on election day. I made no offer to settle the account at any time. I asked merely what it was for. I thought it a joke because I was a temperance man. In general this reputation is not being very good. Mr. Beal may have seen it, he came in at the time and I may have shown it to him.

Robert Fairbairn, sworn.—I am in fire Insurance departments of Mr. Cox's business. I saw Mr. Taylor on Saturday before the election; I administered the oath of secrecy. Mr. Walsh was to go to Monaghan but he could not. I thought of Mr. Taylor and sent to Mr. Donnely's and asked him if he would be kind enough to go to Monaghan on polling day. He did not want to go, and was anxious to go home. He came to me and asked if he had a good vote. I told him after enquiry that I believed he had. I did so in good faith. I did not expect him to return so soon.

To Mr. Cameron,—I don't say I did know he had a vote. I won't swear he said anything about voteing in East Peterborough. I did not know he had. I heard the oath read. I don't think I heard this vote discussed. I took the declaration for Mr. Taylor. I had no knowledge of Taylor's vote being objected to.

Mr. Bethune in summoning up the evidence remarked that the latter part of the trial was through a spirit of vindictiveness with a political object, their plea being to arouse party sympathy rather than to secure honesty and purity in elections. It was evident that not one single dollar had been spent improperly by the respondent Mr. Cox, and that he had been guilty of any improper conduct or practices was not proved, that he had no knowledge of any corrupt practices, and that the charges founded on Drake's evidence, the personal charges were found merely to disqualify him. There could be no conviction unless when the preponderating evidence clearly established the guilt. He argued that the evidence of a man of Drake's character could not for a moment be compared with that of the respondent. It was clear that Drake's memory of what did take place was treacherous, as drink always injures the memory; that Drake was not reliable was beyond question, and Mr. Clarke had shown that Drake's remembrance of what had taken place was not to be accepted. Wood's case was not of sufficient value to take up the time of the court with it. He was no voter, and was surprised to be told that he had any influence, and did not believe he had; at the most he would be only a canvasser, assuming his evidence as true, and that consequently to engage him, if engaged for that purpose was not a corrupt act as to do so was clearly legal. But Wood was a man clearly not to be believed as he had not been long enough in the country to establish a character, and the respondent says under oath that what he (Wood) says never occurred. Barrett was a supporter of Scott, had promised to vote for him, had no offer made him, and was afterwards told by Mr. Cox his voting for Scott would make no difference. The only other charge was that of the vote of Mr. Taylor. He was on the Roll but had sold his property shortly before. He was told that his vote was good, Mr. Cox thought it was good, and although he thought he had heard of Mr. Taylor going to North Monaghan to act as agent and to vote, Mr. Bethune argued that it was not a corrupt act, and consequently could not affect Mr. Cox, as the intent must be corrupt as well as the act to affect the respondent. Mr. Bethune closed a masterly and convincing argument, convincing at least the electors present that Mr. Cox was innocent of any corrupt intent or practice, and although the judgement will not be given till Wednesday, 18th instant, we anticipate the result as favorable to Mr. Cox.

East Peterborough.

THE JUDGE'S DECISION.

The judgment in this case was delivered in writing on Monday, at the close of the trial for the West Riding.

This is the judgment, verbatim:

It is very satisfactory to me to be able to find that there is no evidence whatever in this case which impugns the personal conduct or character of the respondent. I find not only that he is free from the imputation of any forbidden practice in the cause of the election, but that he has endeavored by constant advice and caution to restrain his friends and supporters from doing anything which could enable his opponents to neutralize the success to which he aspired and to render the election in which he confidently anticipated success, being open to question through the indiscretion or recklessness of any of them. Unfortunately his advice was disregarded, the law forbidding the practice of treating and the keeping taverns open during the hours of polling has been wantonly violated and the principal matter of enquiry is whether any of the leading culprits in those offences, are so far identified with the respondent as in point of law to constitute them his agents and to render him responsible for their illegal acts.

There was a meeting of the electors at Apsley about a week before the polling day; it has been publicly anvertised, the respondent, the petitioner and Major Boulton spoke at it. The respondent had engaged a sleigh, and Cavanagh and Major Boulton accompanied them to this meeting. They drove first to Holme's tavern. After the meeting the respondent and Cavanagh returned to Holme's. The respondent retired almost directly for the night. A number of those electors who attended this meeting went also to Holmes. Cavanagh treated the people. Holmes says he told him to give the people liquor, and Cavanagh says he treated many times, and that Boyd, a supporter of Stratton's the opposing candidate; did so like wise. This continued as Cavanagh states from 10 p m, to 2 the next morning. The facts are relied upon to show a violation of 61st section of the election law of 1868 as amended by 36 Vic. c 2, s 2, by Cavanagh at the expense of the respondent or at his own expense, in providing and furnishing drink to a meeting of electors assembled for the purpose of such election. If this be proved, then the question arises, was Cavanagh the agent for the respondent? For if he was, then the latter is answerable for his acts and corrupt practices, though as in this case, he not only did not authorize them but actually and in sincerity endeavored to prevent them.

Agency does not necessarily require to be proved by an actual appointment, verbal or written by the candidate. "It is a result of law to be drawn from the facts of the case and from the acts of the individual." Every instance in which, with the knowledge of the candidate or of his employed agent, say his expense agent, a person acts at all in furthering the election for him or in trying to get votes for him, tends to prove that the person so acting was authorised to act as his agent, a repetition of such acts strengthens the conclusion. I formed these conclusions upon authorities in the mother country going to a great extent their very words and not simply quoting them.

To apply them to this case. Cavanagh at his own request, which I do not doubt and for certain personal motives which he asserts but to which (excepting his gratitude to the Doctor for his professional services) I give but slight credit, accompanied the candidate on a journey which had for one object to attend a public meeting in reference to the election at Apsley: and for another to canvass voters in a particular section of the country. It was intended that Mr. Carnagie one of the respondents authorised agents should have gone with him. He did not go and Cavanagh's request that he should be taken was complied with, though Mr. Carnegie says he had no desire to take him. Cavanagh says he was acquainted with the people on the Burleigh road, that he did not canvass the whole of the Burleigh road, that on this journey he canvassed some voters whom they met on the road and may have introduced some voters to the respondent. The very first witness called in this case was one of them. On the journey Cavanagh states, the respondent knowing his habits (if I remember rightly he used some such expression as he was an awful fellow for treating,) cautioned him to do nothing which would spoil his election, a caution which strengthens the assumption that the respondent counted on Cavanagh's assistance and exertions. Major Boulton who also went with respondent and Cavanagh heard the former caution & tell Cavanagh not to treat nor do anything to compromise him or avoid the election, a charge which points to the employment of Cavanagh for some work or duty in which his acts would be deemed acts done under the implied authority of the respondent. Again on the day after the meeting Mr. Macdonald who appeared to me a very respectable witness, saw Cavanagh and the respondent together, took Cavanagh one side and asked him whether he had done anything towards enabling parties to get liquor on the election day and received his assurance that he had not. He also said that he knew Cavanagh many years and had heard of his character as to being free hearted in treating and busy in elections.

Then Cavanagh goes to a meeting in Otonabee in a cutter which he hired but but does nor know whether he paid for it or whether it was charged to respondent. The respondent's authorized agent pays for the meals which Cavanagh got and which Holmes had charged against him on account dated February, 1875, but relating to Cavanagh's being at Holmes' on the 13th January proceeding, all these circumstances taken separately may, or at least some may be deemed trifling and unimportant, but combined they acquire weight and substance, and substantiated by parties some of whom are not hostile to the respondent appear to me to furnish strong evidence of agency. I am alive to the danger as well as the apparent hardships of fixing the respondent with the liabilities of acts done by another as his agent, which other if the question had been put directly to him, he would not have employed in that character. There was obvious misgivings on the respondent's part and I think still greater on Carnegie's, but I think they resolved to incur the risk and without any informal appointment. The respondent availed himself of his services, and quaod the election became responsible for his acts.

Assuming the agency to be established I go back to enquire into the acts of Cavanagh in treating at Holmes after this meeting of the electors. His own statement may suffice as to this, "I was at the Apsley meeting and afterwards went to Holmes' tavern. Boyd and I treated alternately, turn about. I treated from 10 at night till two in the morning. Can not tell how many times. I paved for each drink as it was taken." I think this a breach of the 2nd sec. of 35 vic. chap. 2, which repeals sec. 66 of the election law of 1868. The only question that can arise, is whether this drink was furnished to a "meeting of electors assembled for the purpose of promoting such election previous to or during such election." The meeting was certainly not convenened at Holmes' tavern but at a Town Hall, not far from it, and Cavanagh and Boyd and a number of electors went from that meeting to Holmes. It is not open to question that the meeting was assembled for the purpose of promoting such election, unless the statute is to receive the narrower construction that a meeting of the supporters of only one candidate is meant, and the promotion of the election means only the election of that candidate. I do not doubt that such a case would be within the act and the evidence on the present trial is by no means conclusive against this being precisely that case, still I am of opinion the wider construction is no more than what the legislation intended. If this meeting consists of electors of different parties and is held with the view of promoting an election, it must necessarily be of a representation for the whole constituency to whichever party he may belong. Unless the larger construction prevail, a general meeting of electors held for the purpose of selecting a candidate would not be within the provision, and the providing and furnishing drink or other entertainment to the electors present would not be prohibited. I do not agree in such an interpretation. Another difficulty has been suggested, namely, that the treating did not take place in the building wherein the meeting assembled, and that the meeting was in fact over. A similar question arose in the North Wentworth case. I then held that when a meeting had been held for the promotion of an election and after the transaction of their business they had goneglenerally together to a neighboring tavern on the invitation of a candidate in whose behalf the meeting was held; who there furnished or provided drink or other entertainment for them, it was within the statute. I have been given to understand that a similar construction was adopted in another case. I have seen no reason hitherto to change my opinion, and adhearing to it, I am under the necessity of finding this was a corrupt practice by an agent of the respondent though without his actual knowledge and consent, and that the election and return are void.

TOWN COUNCIL

Council met pursuant to adjournment;

Present: his worship the Mayor, presiding, and Messrs Rutherford, Cook, Hamilton, Dixon, McDonald, Beal and, Cahill.

APPLICATION TO PARLIAMENT TO ISSUE DEBENTURES.

Moved by Mr. Beal, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that in view of the necessity for the using of debentures to meet certain liabilities already incurred, and to be incurred by this corporation for the purposes hereinafter mentioned, be it therefore resolved that this Council memoralize the Provincial Legislature through the usual course at its next meeting for the necessary permission to issue debentures for the following amounts, and purposes, viz:

For ward school purposes	$12,000

On motion of Mr. Rutherford the council went into committee of the whole on the second reading of the Bylaw to amend the following Bylaw, Mr. Hamilton, in the chair. The By-law was read a second time when the committee rose, the Council resumed.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Beal, as chairman of the finance committee read and submitted the following report which on motion was received and adopted,

Your committee have examined the following accounts and recommend them payments.

Messrs Scott & Edwards half year	$105
Jas. F. Denniston, expenses and investigation	32 18
John McDonald accounts for cedar	68 04
B. Romaine Printing and Stationery	68 90
McKee & Davidson account streets and Bridges	38 81
Boyd, Smith, & Co. Hemlock contract	458 49
" " material for side-walks	20 71

With reference to the last named item your committee deem it their duty to inform you that the bridge inspector presented a Bill for this amount to the Town Clerk, together with the labor required in the work, and was paid in February last but had not up till to-day paid Messrs, Boyd, Smith, & Co., your committee consider such action highly reprehensible and calling for censure on the part of the council.

W. H. Robertson Printing and advertising	$ 23 40
E-tate of Thomas Lannis	5 80
George Stethem	29 13

Your committee have examined pay lists from 17 to 21 inclusive, amounting to a total of $770 94 for the five weeks and find them correct, but recommend that in future the street and Bridge inspector place nothing on the pay-lists but the amount required for labor, and when material is required to submit a bill to the council for such Material.

With reference to this communication if the auditors asking for additional remuneration four committee consider the request not unreasonable inasmuch as last year the Town paid the sum of $20 each to the auditors for auditing the Town accounts. The School Board, $10 each and commissioners $10 each making $40 each. The expense of auditing schools and commissioners accounts now have to be borne by the Town, and taking into consideration the amount of work to be done to get the accounts into such a condition as to give a starting point, your committee would recommend your complying with the request. There are several other matters of considerable importance before your committee, which we have not been able to take with sufficient consideration to report upon but will endeavour to do so at the next meeting of this council all of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed.) Walter Beal, Chairman.

Mr. Beal also submitted the estimated reports and expenditures for the current year, and showing the necessary amounts to be raised by Taxation for the different objects, requiring a rate of 10½ mills on the dollar and moved the first reading of a By-law to authorise the levying of rates and assessments.

On Motion the Council went into committee of the whole; Mr. Hamilton in the chair.

The by-law was read a second time, when the committe rose the Council resumed.

Mr. Beal stated that it was necessary to pass a by-law, authorizing the borrowing of money from the bank, and moved the first reading of a by-law tor that purpose, Mr. Rutherford seconded the resolution, and on motion being put it was lost.

BY-LAW No. 308

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Cook,—That the By-law to amend to Building By-law No. 308, be now read a third time, and that the Mayor and Clerk sign the same, and attach the corporate seal thereto. The By-law was read a third time and passed.

Belcher, Hamilton, Beal and Cook be a committee to examine the remains of the old bridge and see what would be the best plan for the construction of a bridge crossing the River Otonabee at Smith Street, and report to this Council at its next meeting.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Beal, seconded by Mr. Rutherford the council adjourned for one week

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—As a Conservative I have for a number of years supported Mr. Scott I supported him at the last election against Mr. Cox. I was sorry that a desire to be consistent made it necessary in my opinion to vote against a man who has been so deserving in his private life, so free from blame in his public life, and withal, so public spirited as to be a benefactor to the entire community. When he was elected I was glad, for though a political enemy, I could not but feel that he would be a loyal and good member of the legislature. When then, after his election, I was informed that he had secured his seat by many, very many, acts of a grossly, immoral and corrupt nature, I was much surprised, and believing that the men from whose lips I received the statements, had full possession of the facts and knew the truth of their statements, I subscribed to the fund to test his right to the seat. With much interest I watched the long but interesting trial just terminated, and Sir, I am really pleased, not that Mr. Cox is unseated, but that having heard all the charges and evidence in support of them, I am convinced that Mr. Cox is not only as good a man as I first thought him, but better. I take it that as every possible effort was made from the day after the election to the time of the trial to get evidence of corrupt acts committed by him, that all the charges it was possible to make were made, and that all the evidence possible to get was produced. What have these many corrupt personal acts amounted to? simply these:—

1st. A promise of a summer's work to Drake, the tanner.

2nd. A promise of employment to a man who had no vote for his influence amongst the English people.

3rd. Being a party to sending Taylor to North Monaghan to put in a bad vote.

As to the first charge it was only supported by the evidence of a poor worthless creature, whose reputation was bad, and whom every body knows to be easily made a tool of. Besides the man's evidence was so contradictory and bad that without the contradiction of John Clarke and Mr. Cox it would not be sufficient to entitle it to be received by any fair minded man, besides it was so improbable that Mr. Cox would offer a tanner a summers work.

As to charge No. 2.—It simply amounted, at the worst, to employ Wood as a canvasser, and was admitted by judge and counsel as no offence.

Now as to No. 3.—It was a question of doubt amongst lawyers whether any man whose name was on the voters list as Taylor's was, could be prevented from voting. Mr. Fairbairn swore he thought it good, and so advised Taylor. Mr. Cox swore that while there was doubt, yet he thought it a good vote.

Under these circumstances, as an honest man, I cannot but conclude that Mr. Cox came through the ordeal to which he was subjected as very few in the community could, and I feel to-day more proud of him as an honorable, upright man, than ever I did.

For the acts of the two French tavern keepers on which his election was voided, while he was made legally liable he was not morally responsible. It did me good to hear one witness say,—"I went to Mr. Cox and told him if he would pay me for my day I would go and get him a lot of votes, and he answered that if five cents would pay me for my day he would not give it."

I much regret that I have in the least aided in disturbing Mr. Cox in his seat, for it was brought out that although there are over fifty taverns in town, yet only two were open to Mr. Cox's supporters, while by the evidence, which was of course all on one side, it was shown that three French taverns were open to Mr. Cox's friends.

While I will be glad to see my side in politics prevail, I will yet never feel bad to be defeated by a man whose character has stood such a test as Mr. Cox's, and who some day will stand better before his townsmen than he ever did before.

A Liberal, and I hope,
AN HONEST CONSERVATIVE.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Goodfellow relict of the late Mr. Andrew Goodfellow, of South Monaghan, died on Thursday July 29th, at the advanced age of 77 years. Mrs. Goodfellow, was one of the oldest settlers in the Township, having settled there about 52 years ago. She and her family came to Port Hope from Toronto in an open boat, managed by one man. There were only two settlers on what is known as the gravel road. They came by a "blaze" to their wilderness home. Her husband died about 24 years ago, she lived to see her children grow up and be settled around her very comfortably, except two who preceded her to the rest of the dead. Mr. R. Goodfellow, Archibald, George and Andrew, are her surviving sons, she also leaves two daughters. She was a native of Scotland, and sister to the late George Young Esq., of North Monaghan. Her remains were interred on the Saturday following, in the family burying ground Springville.

New Wheat.

We have seen a sample of Deihl wheat grown by Mr. Wm. McAlister of Otonabee, which will compare favorably with any grain we have seen. It is plump, clean, and well colored. If all the new wheat in the country be equal to that grown by Mr. McAlister, and a good price be realized, tight times will not last long.

Horse Disease.

Mr. Hugh Kent, Postmaster at Hiawatha lost two fine horses last week, by some disease similar to that of a few years ago. This one affects the lungs more directly. One took ill on Wednesday and died on Friday, the other took ill on Friday and died on the Wednesday following. The disease is said to be contagious. We have not heard of any other animals in the neighborhood taking it yet.

Fire in the Woods

A fire broke out on Monday in the woods west of the Fraserville Station which has caused considerable damage. It extended to Mr. Wright's woods a little north of the station and consumed some valuable timber, and about $120 worth of railway ties belonging to Mr. Alexander Brown. The barns and stables of Mr. Wright were also consumed and all his hay, fortunately his grain was not in. The dwelling of Mrs. Joseph Latimer was in danger, but with great exertions the effects were saved.

Accident.

On Thursday last, whilst a young man named Dixon was engaged in assisting to take out stumps on a farm of Mr. James Hayes, Otonabee, he received serious injuries, but it is hoped that they will not prove fatal. Our informant says that when the stump was about half way out of its place, the young man and two sons of Mr. Hayes were taking clay off it. While thus engaged one of the hooks of the machine slipped, letting the stump back on young Dixon, and also catching the feet of some of the others. When the young man was got out it was thought that he was dead, but he recovered. His spine is injured so that he has lost all use of one leg for the present at least. He is under the treatment of Dr. Macrae. It is said that his friends live on the Burleigh Road.

Ottawa Normal School.

A Mr. McCabe, of F. R. has been appointed Principal of the New Normal School at Ottawa. Mr. W. Riddell, of the Cobourg Collegiate Institute, is appointed Mathematical Master, and Mr. Gibson, of Albert College, Belleville, teacher of Classics. Mr. McCabe is a Roman Catholic. It is expected that a large portion of those who are likely to attend the School will be of the same faith. The Nation praises the appointment on the ground of the liberality of the appointing power as it was calculated to prove the liberal spirit of those who control the educational affairs of this Province. In matters of science, discipline and classics the faith of the teacher can effect nothing. And if History is to be re-written for our Normal and Public Schools to the historian, so to speak will Canadians look for fact or fiction.

Robbing the Churches.

When the Red River settlement was in its infancy, the Hudson Bay Company gave the Presbyterian Church and the Episcopal church each an acre of land, then worth about five to ten dollars. In the changes that have taken place, this land not being deeded passed into the hands of the Dominion government. This, in turn, by arrangement in connection with other lands, was transferred to the Company, and they now claim that those churches should purchase the lots at prices which they now realize, one thousand per acre.

The grounds on which the city is built was transferred to the Hudson Bay Company by a late Lieut. Governor, it is said, in settlement of their claims, although it was understood that they had been paid for those claims. The progress of the city has rendered the lands worth over two-and-a-half millions of dollars, or more than they were to receive for the whole territory, viz., £200,000 or $1,500,000 nearly. That's the way corporations become wealthy. One million dollars cleared on a few acres (500 acres) in about seven years. Some of John A. McDonald's work.

FIRE.

On Sunday morning about 5 o'clock the Peterboro Manufacturing Co's Works (Whyte & Davis' old Foundry) were totally consumed by fire. The fire when first discovered, was issuing from the building immediately over the engine-house and part of the foundry or moulding house; but it soon spread to all parts of the building, and in a very short time the whole buildings were destroyed and the combustible portions of the material inside consumed. The walls had to be thrown down to prevent accidents by wind, etc. A large part of the ready-made work was in sheds and buildings at some distance and escaped injury. The loss is variously estimated at from $14,000 to $18,000, covered by insurance to the amount of $11,500; it is said $7,500 on the buildings and contents, and the balance on machines, in sheds, &c. We have not learned full particulars, but learn that there are $4,500 in the Royal $2,000 in the Phœnix.

This fire is an unfortunate one as it will turn about 30 men out of employment at least for a time. As it is not yet known whether the Company will rebuild or continue business. The business appears to have been unfortunate since its inception. Whyte & Davis commenced with a very limited capital, and failing to succeed went into insolvency. The statement of insolvents showed assets to the amount of about $40,000, with liabilities to the amount of $28,000 to $30,000. Notwithstanding this apparently favorable state of the concern, the assigned sunk about $6000 more and then sold the whole thing for the $8,000 or thereabouts. Leaving the creditors minus dividends This Company was organized to carry on the business with a subscribed capital of $25,000, and paid up stock of $8,500; and it is said under the new management and increased means was doing better than the old company.

The fire on Sunday morning, however, has for the present, left it uncertain what course the Company will pursue. The loss of employment to the men and the loss of their tools in numerous instances will be serious to very many of them, when it is considered that the present year is not remarkable for enterprise or abundance of labour. The loss to the town will also be felt in throwing them out of employment if only for a short period.

Mr. Robert Walton narrowly escaped suffocation while attempting to save books and papers of the office which might not be in the safe. He went into the building but the smoke so suffocated him that he could not come out again till Mr Logan caught hold of him and pulled him out.

There are various opinions as to the origin of the fire some attributing it to incendiarism, others to a spark from the moulding room which may have lain on some beam till it became a flame and communicating to other portions of wood. The latter opinion prevails.

Peterboro, August 3, 1875.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—Through yor valuable paper I would like to ask James F. Dennistoun, William Hepburn Scott, Henry H. Smith and William Henry Moore, lawyers learned in the law, and John Carnegie, the inspirer, if they think it to their credit to have attempted to destroy the character and prospects of the best citizen Peterboro' has to-day, by the evidence of John Drake, J. C. Wood, and — Powers, three men whose characters they would be ashamed to defend. One of them a would be hangman, who solicited the office for Brenton.

Yours truly,

HONOR.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

—ELECTRICITY—

THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all.?—J. H. Karl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rosan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

DAN'S WIFE.

Up in the early morning light,
Scrubbing, dusting, washing, right,—
Oiling all the household springs,
Sewing buttons, tying strings,
Getting up and down the stairs,
Fifty baby in the chair
Kissing sweet and spreading bread,
Answering yes or 'mash her head,'
Taking as she can, by chance,
Giving husband kindly glance
Toiling, working, busy life,
"Smart woman,
Dan's wife!"

Dan comes home at fall of night,
Home so cheerful, neat and bright,
A hilldrop sweet him as she does,
Pull him in and look him over,
Wife asks: "How the work has gone?"
"Any fuss with as at home?"
Supper done. Dan reads at ease
Happy Dan, but one to please.
Children must be put to bed—
All the little prayers are said;
Little shoes are placed in rows,
Bed-clothes tucked o'er little toes,
Sister, noisy, sunny life,
Tired woman,
Dan's wife.

Dan sinks on and falls asleep;
Has the woman coldly creep.
Baby rests at last poor dear,
Not a word her heart to cheer
Mend'ng basket full to top,
Stockings, shirt and little frock.
Tired eyes and weary brain,
Side with darning ugly pain:
"Never mind 'Twill pass away.
She must work and never play.
Grand piano, unused body,
Done the walks to shady nooks,
Brighter as faded out of life,
Saddened woman,
Dan's wife.

Up-stairs, tossing to and fro,
Never holds the woman low:
Children wander, free to play,
When and where they will, to-day.
Bridget loiters dinner's cold
Dan looks anxious, frets and old:
No smiles! scowls are out of place,
Lacking one dear, pleasant face.
Stiffly hands, so weak but wise,
Handy that knew just what to do,
Never knowing rest or pay,
Folded now and laid away;
Work of six in one short life,
Shattered woman,
Dan's wife.

GRAND JUNCTION RAILWAY.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—Every man in the Town must regret the position in which the affairs of the Grand Junction Railway are at the present time. Every tax payer is interested in the work, and every one who desires to see the Town prosper and grow, would be glad to see the work progress to completion. It is not necessary to discuss the cause which was brought about the present state of affairs; the question now is, what can be done to prevent the iron being removed, not only from the wharf but from the track, and the total loss to the town of the $160,000 which it has invested in the undertaking. Of late we have heard, various schemes propounded, which were as soon rejected. What is wanted to secure confidence is a plan which contains within itself a guarantee to the people that it will succeed; and the only way to do that, is for those who are able, to invest their means in the enterprise, in doing which confidence will be restored.

A plan has been submitted to us for the completion of the Road from Belleville to Peterborough, by a gentleman well acquainted wit the state of Grand Junction affairs, which we give to the people in order that the question may be thoroughly discussed and understood. Without committing ourselves to the details, we commend it to the attentive consideration of the people of the Town. The following is the scheme:

The cost of completion from Belleville to Campbellford (33 miles) will be	$ 65,0 0
From Campbellford to Hastings, (12 miles)	70,789
Balance due on Iron, Bellville to Hastings	163,189
Cost of building from Hastings to Peterborough, including Iron (21 miles)	253,130
	$552,889

The present assets are —

Stirling Bonus	$ 5,000
Rawdon Bonus	8,000
Seymour Bonus	35,000
County Hastings Stock	35,000
Government aid (46 miles)	92,000
County Peterborough Bonus	75,900
	$247,000

To be provided to complete the Road from Belleville to Peterboro', including ballasting, fencing and stations, (66 miles) $305,889

It is believed that the work can be done for less than the above figures at the present time, owing to the low price of labor and Iron: but the above estimate is based on the calculations, carefully made, of three independent engineers after a full examination of the line and its present conditions.

It is probable that a bonus of $50,000 can be obtained from Peterborough, as the Cobourg road to which they have granted $10,000 is not going on, at least not at present, and it would be far more beneficial to them for to give a larger bonus for connection with Bellville and the east.

There is reason to believe that the government aid will be increased $1,000 or $66,000.

But, putting aside these chances of increased aid, ther should be no difficulty in a wealthy business community like that of Bellville providing the means to complete this Road, so essential to their prosperity, especially as the $100,000 already contributed by the the town will be entirely lost unless, arrangements are at once made for carrying on the work. The Bank of Montreal, as morgagers of the Road for the balance due on the Iron already supplied, have several a month's notice of sale, under the power of sale in the mortgage, and will proceed to exercise it unless a settlement be arrived at by the 9th of August.

The connection of the North Hastings railroad and trade with Belleville will be cut off and destroyed, unless the Grand Junction Road to Stirling be completed and put in running order, and a connection between the North Hastings Road and the Trent Valley Road will probably be made and is already in negotiation.

If the people of Bellville privately and as a Municipality unite in carrying out the following scheme, each part of it being conditional on the other, there will be no difficulty in finishing the road to Hastings this season, and making such progress in the work towards Peterboro' as to ensure its completion early in 1876.

Let the Company issue bonds to the extent of $10,000 a mile or $666,000 from Belleville to Peterboro', and deposite them in the Bank of Montreal to be held as security for the payment of the Iron, now the first charge on the road, and after that the proceeds be applied in repayment to the town of the additional advance to the road hereinafter mentioned, and the residue to be held for the benefit of those private parties who provide the funds to carry on the above work and complete it to Peterborough.

Let the Town of Belleville make an advance of $1000,000 in their bonds in exchange for an equal amount of Company's bonds, the town bonds to be deposited with the Bank of Montreal on condition that one half, or $50,000 only be handed over to the use of the Company on completion of the Road to Hastings, and the residue on the completion to Peterboro', as soon as the Company's bonds to be held by the Bank can be sold (which could readily be done when the road is finished to Hastings), the proceeds of the $100,000 held for the Town to be paid to the Town so that the additional assistance asked for would only be a temporary loan and the Town could sustain no loss beyond the discount on the Company's bonds. If the Town bear 7 per cent interest the Company must guarantee to pay the interest.

Let a limited number of private parties in Belleville contribute $100,000, and assume the work of completing the Road in the most economical and prompt manner possible, and arrange with the Bank for the further advance of the remaining $105,000 required until the bonds can be disposed of, when the proceeds of the $660,000 of Company's bonds shall belong to them after repaying to the Town the proceeds of the $100,000 of bonds belonging to them and paying the outlay for finishing the Road to Peterboro'.

The Company to retain the right to issue $5,000 a mile additional in bonds to be covered by the first mortgage, but no part of this issue to be disposed of until the last issue of $10,000 a mile are sold, and then only for the purpose of supplying rolling-stock and building work shops in Belleville and Peterboro'.

The road must ultimately be expected at Omemee to form a junction with the Midland, but it is unnecessary to arrange for that until the Midland is completed to the Georgian Bay, which, however, will be in 1876.

When the Grand Junction Railway is finished to Peterborough, arrangements can probably be made for running that part of the Cobourg Road to Bridgenorth already finished and ready for traffic so as to secure the lumber trade from Bobcaygeon and the Buckhorn waters."

UTAH: WIFE OR NOT WIFE?

THE MOUNTAIN MEADOW MASSACRE.

Salt Lake, July 29.—Brigham Young has fyled in the court an amended answer to the complaint of Ann Eliza Young. He denies any marriage with her, and sets up the marriage in Ohio with Mary Ann Angel as his only true and lawful marriage. He however sets up a polygamous relation with Ann Eliza, maintaining that it did not constitute marriage. He also denies the charges of neglect or cruelty.

BEAVER, Utah, July 29.—Counsel Spicer occupied all the morning addressing the jury for the defence. He stated the theory of the defence to be that the emigrants by their own misconduct at Corn Creek so enraged the Indians that they sent runners ahead gathering help from other tribes. At Meadows they numbered 400 to 500; that the whites did sell supplies to the emigrants, and treated them well; that Lee held no military or church office, but was simply a farmer to the Indians; that he tried to protect the emigrants, and left when the massacre was proposed; that not Lee, but William Bateman went with the flag of truce, and that afterwards Lee went to Carral, and stayed two hours, believing the treaty was bona fide; that while in with the emigrants, Carral, Haight Higbee, and Klingman Smith, wer plotting to kill them; and that what the whites did was through fear of death at the hands of the Indians, who threatened that if they did not help to kill the emigrants the would kill them.

Samuel Pollock, sworn—He said Ezra Curtis' Lieutenant of Militia called him out from Cedar city to go to the meadows; was told to save emigrants and bury the dead; took the guns and spades, stayed in the camp in sight of the emigrants; saw no one but Indians who were shooting from various points. Next morning Lee arrived and more men and also more Indians. The flag of truce went out and the emigrants, messenger met it; saw the emigrants come out; heard the report of guns, but could not then see them. when he did see them he saw the Indians rushing in.

The use of tobacco causes indigestion, palpitation, slowness of intellect, a desire for strong drink, and an intermittent pulse, it destroys the vitality of the blood, produces dizziness, disturbs sleep, makes a man miserable and prematurely old When the diseases are serious and stubborn, the best Remedy is Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, as it restores circulation, the nervous ganglia, builds up the muscles, and induces healthy liver, stomach and intellect.

WILD CHERRY BALSAM.—The memory of Dr. Wistar is embalmed in the hearts of thousands whom his Balsam of Wild Cherry has cured of coughs, colds, consumption, or some other form of pulmonary disease. It is now over forty years since this preparation was brought before the public, and yet the demand for it is constantly increasing.

IDLENESS.—If idleness does not produce vice or malevolence it commonly produces melancholy: therefore let every man be occupied, and occupied in the highest employment of which his nature is capable; and if he is suffering from rheumatic pains, colds or summer complaints, and desirous of getting immediate relief, let him try a bottle of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," it can be had at any druggist's, and most of the country merchants in the Dominion, at 25 cents per bottle.

BRAIN EXHAUSTION.—Mr. James I. Fellows, St. John, N. B.:—Sir: Having, while at your establishment, carefully examined your prescriptions, and the method of preparing your Compound Syrup, I feel anxious to give it a fair trial in my practice: For the last twelve months I have done so, and I find that in incipient consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs, it has done wonders. In restoring persons suffering from the effect of Diptheria, and the cough following Typhoid Fever, prevalent in this region, it is the best remedial agent I have ever used. But for persons suffering from exhaustion of the powers of the brain and nervous system, from long continued study or teaching, or in those cases of exhaustion from which so many young men suffer, I know of no better medicine for restoration to health than your Compound Syrup

If you think this letter of any service, you are at liberty to use it as you see fit.

I remain yours, &c.,
EDWIN CLAY, M. D.

Parrsboro, N. S., January 14, 163.

The great superiority of Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya consists in its being purely physiological in its action in restoring all forms of debility by supplying the waste of tissues resulting from mental and muscular exertion, and thus preventing nervous prostration and general debility. For building up constitutions of low vitality from scrofulous, or consumptive diseases, or impaired by dissipation and bad habits, it is unequalled, as it immediately imparts energy to the digestive aparatus, and creates healthy blood, toning and vitalizing at once all the organs of the body in the same manner as our daily food. Phosphates are the only compounds of Phosphorous assimilated by the system, and are nature's agents for maintaining the vital power.

HORSES SAVED.—The lives of thousands of horses have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and exacts from all the highest praise. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful or given such universal satisfaction: it cannot be equalled. We can confidently recommend it, and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for Canada.

For the Blood is the Life.

See Deuteronomy, xii: 23.—The blood being the source from which the system is built up, and from which we derive our mental as well as our physical capabilities, how important it is that it should be kept pure! If it contains vile, festering poisons, all organic functions become enfeebled. Settling upon important organs, as the lungs, liver, and kidneys, the effect is most disastrous. Hence it behooves all to keep their blood in a perfectly healty condition, and more especially does this apply at this particular season of the year than at any other. No matter what the existing cause may be, the real cause of any certain proportion of all diseases is bad blood. Now, Dr. Pearce does not wish to place his Golden Medical Discovery in the catalogue of quack patent nostrums, by recommending it to cure every disease, nor does he so recommend it; on the contrary, there are hundreds of disease that he acknowledges it will not cure, but what he does claim is this, that there is but one form of blood disease that it will not cure, and that disease is cancer. He does not recommend his Discovery for that disease, yet he knows it to be the most searching blood cleanser yet discovered, and that it will free the blood and system of all other blood poisons, be ther animal vegetable or mineral. The Golden Medical Discovery is warranted by him to cure the worst forms of skin diseases, as all forms of blotches, pimples and eruptions; also all glandular swellings, and the worst forms of scrofulous and ulcerated sores of the neck, legs, or other parts, and all scrofulous diseases of the bones, as white swellings, fever sores, hip-joint and spinal diseases, all of which belong to scrofulous diseases.

VINEGAR BITTERS

POOR'S PURE FINE

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

DR. WALKER'S Vinegar Bitters proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so solid, and wide a hold upon the confidence of mankind, as it has in relief and cure for pulmonary complaints. Through long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in the estimation, as it has become better known by its intrinsic character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, that are made known as a reliable protector against them. When adopted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most efficient remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. No complete list is possible over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, for the most obstinate of them yield to it. When no drug else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known, that we do not publish the certificates of its cures, but refer the people to their neighbors, and to the certificates of their own fellow citizens. Our pride is gratified in the unbroken preference of the medical profession, and the people, which we have always enjoyed, and which we shall endeavor to merit and maintain.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

For sale by NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Ague Cure

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it Ayer's Ague Cure, and is a perfect antidote to Fever and Ague. Containing neither Arsenic, Mercury, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance, it is in no sense a dangerous medicine to take, whatever, it is powerful to cure. The most inveterate and obstinate cases of Fever and Ague, and the various disorders of the Liver caused by the Fever and Ague poison, are literally broken up and subdued by it. Our pride is gratified in the unbroken preference of the medical profession, and the people, which we have always enjoyed, and which we shall endeavor to merit and maintain.

Unacclimated persons, residing in or travelling through districts of country where Fever and Ague prevails, are protected by taking the Ague Cure.

For Liver Complaints, arising from derangement of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, as it will restore the Liver to healthy action.

For Bilious Disorders, and as an excellent remedy to prevent them, it is unrivalled, and we advise all who are subject to attacks of Biliousness to keep it by them, as a dose in time will save them from much suffering.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

For sale by NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, General Agents for Ontario.

Choice Poetry.

FOUR YEARS OLD.

"I'm four years old to-day, papa!
I guess you didn't know
How very old and big and strong
In one night I should grow;
For last night when I went to sleep
Your boy was only three!
Just see how tall I am to-day—
Papa, do you know me?
I'm four years old!

"And now I am almost a man,
And want a ready-store—
To sell ice-cream and nuts and figs,
And lots of good things more!
And O! I want a big black dog
To keep bad boys away;
A pony fast as white as snow
To ride on every day—
I'm four years old

"I'm sorry for poor little Ned;
Just think he's only two!
But if he lives he'll grow a man,
And all these nice things do.
I'll give him all my toys and books,
My dresses and my tags;
For things like these are very nice
To please such little boys!
I'm four years old.

"What! four years old! My little son
You fill me with surprise;
My boy become a man so soon!
Can I believe my eyes!
Ah! golden time, so full of hope,
So fresh and sweet and fair!
I well remember now the day
When I, all free from care,
Was four years old.

THE GREAT NORTH-WEST.

LECTURE BY THE REV'D. LACHLAN TAYLOR.

The Rev. Lachlan Taylor, D. D., recently delivered a lecture on Canada, in Oban Scotland, which is reported in the Times newspaper of that town:—

Dr. Taylor began by saying that he had never felt greater pleasure than in finding on coming to his own dear native country, that he was received with so much kindness his fellow-countrymen. He had lectured in hundreds of places, but it was a peculiar source of satisfaction to him to be permitted to do so in spots so familiar in days of yore, and always so dear to his heart as the different places in Argyleshire which he had visited. Mull he must yet go to—the land of his kinsmen the Maclaines—but he found it necessary in the meantime to go further north. He had been at Campbellton on Wednesday the 9th, and at Rhumahoorine on the following day. Canada has an area of three and a half millions of square miles, and yet how seldom is that fact realized in Britain; and more rarely still did people at home arrive at the tact that the territories of the Dominion were much larger than the whole Continent of Europe with its different nationalities and mighty empires. How few Scotchmen there are—intelligent though Scotchmen generally are—who seem to be aware that Canada is over thousands of square miles larger than the United States; Great Britain owns one out of every seven acres of dry land, while one out of every five yield allegiance to her. Would he believe believe him that Lake Ontario alone was large enough to put Scotland and the Hebrides in, leaving a very decent little lakelet of 676 miles to the good? He, however, loved Scotland and Scotsmen too well to sink or swamp them in any such way. (Loud cheers and very hearty laughter.) Canada has 1,412,000,000 of acres which are suited to growing fine crops of cereals. He said it was a question whether Canada or Russia could grow the greatest quantity of wheat, but the United States could not compete with Canada in its wheat growing capacity. We behold in the immense acreage of good soil which Canada presented a grand provision by a bountiful God for the millions of people of different nationalities who yet would find in the Old World to occupy it. Europe has eighty of a population to each square mile, and that rate would give Canada 380,000,000. Great Britain has 400 to the square mile, and that gives the figures still more immense. Canada had one-tenth of that number—say 140,000,000 souls—she would be able to support them. Canada will have all those millions too, for the Creator had not provided the soil in order that it should be left waste. (Applause.) Those millions will gradually occupy the country till their prosperous shouts shall be heard from shore to shore. (Loud cheers.) He had travelled over 7,100 miles—a journey which took him five months to accomplish. During the whole of ten weeks he had slept on the ground, and never enjoyed better health in his life. He was so enraptured with all that he saw that he could not find words to express his admiration of it—a boundless waste of verdure; he could compare it to nothing so much as to the ocean. No finer pastures for cattle in the world than was constantly found in all that vast area; yes, and what would a sportsman think of seeing from 80,000 to 100,000 head of bison! Dr. Taylor went on graphically and minutely describing uplands of immense extent composing thousands of square miles of land ready for the plough, but then only bearing grass and wild flowers of rare beauty. Five days he had travelled without seeing a single human being except his own companions. As they rode along they now and then came upon a small lake on which were countless numbers of birds. He certainly "stripped" to his subject when he proceeded to give a grand description of a sunset on the prairies, but to follow the eloquent gentleman through the whole of his eloquent discourse would occupy a great deal more space than we could spare. We cannot, however, refrain from noting what he said about Manitoba. He dwelt upon that word as it were sweet to his taste—Manitoba—he would say slowly—"The resting place of the Great Spirit," which is its Indian meaning. Manitoba and the territory of the Saskatchewan and Red River he considered the very finest of the whole soil of Canada. Anything could be made to grow there. Nothing had been seen since he was on the banks of the Nile to compare for richness to the soil of Manitoba. He knew several noble Highlanders from Ross and Inverness-shires who were flourishing there on splendid farms. No one can know a distant land thoroughly except him who sees it, and it is difficult to get people to believe in the fine crop raised in Manitoba. He saw a three-gallon pail completely filled by eight potatoes! How Donald Gunn had raised twenty successive crops of wheat on the same land without using manure, and forty bushels to the acre.

Oats grew splendidly in most parts of the Dominion, and cropmen here grow there in the open air which have to be carefully looked after under glass in most European countries. Maize and Indian corn were readily raised over a large extent of country in the open air, so were the squash, tomatoes, peaches, apricots, grapes, and so forth; and yet we were told that the climate of Canada was intolerable! Montreal was about the coldest settled part of Canada, and it had the climate of St. Petersburg, while Toronto had the same as Berlin. There could be no comparison between the crisp, brisk cold of Canada so keen and so enjoyable, and the miserable, shivering cold of Great Britain and other trying conditions. Winter weather in Canada is truly pleasant. As to the summer weather on the other hand, he was thankful for it, as it ripened their crops properly, and so added to the general prosperity of the country. People who were steady and industrious lived long and prospered in Canada to a degree which spoke well for the really healthful climate it possessed. Those people because their own masters in a few years, even those who had been but poor ill-paid laborers at home. In this country, on the other hand—once a laborer always a laborer as the rule. Look at the Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, a Perthshire Highlander, who is now Prime Minister of Canada—the finest, grandest country under the sun—as an instance what Canada can do for men possessing intelligence, education, and sober habits, and a willingness to labor. Hundreds of other gentlemen could be named who are now wealthy, but who were very poor at home. How long would a poor man live in Argyleshire ere he could expect to be his own landlord? Canada wants the masterful Englishman (who always wanted to be at the head of matters when the Scotsman would let him!) the volatile and mercurial Frenchman, the generous Irishman (not of the Fenian kind), the poetic Italian, the plodding German, the hardy, industrious Dane, Norwegian and Swede; and when the Canadian crucible was ready furnished, the hardheaded, stiff-necked, self-opinionative, honest Scotsman would be put at the top of them all. (Applause.) Add the free institutions, the common school system (and schools in Canada are within three miles of each other), and the open Bible in every one's vernacular, and they would bring out in the next generation a race not second to any in the world in regard to their national character and their intellectual and spiritual life. (Great applause.) He concluded by saying that it was the desire of every true Canadian to work their institution in intimate connexion with the British throne. (Applause.) From the boundary of the American Republic to the Artic Circle, from the amen of Niagara's melodious thunder to the lofty peaks of the Rocky Mountains and the music of ceaseless streams, from the camp of the solitary settler on the far-off prairie to the crowded city and the congregation, where they had the polished and the intellectual, they should and they intended ever to pray—

Send her victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us,
God save the Queen!

(Enthusiastic and long continued cheering.)

THE USE OF TOBACCO.

The following is from the late Prof. Moses Stuart, one of the most distinguished theologians of this country and century. The N.Y. Observer calls him 'that glorious old Rabbi.' His experience and remarks are worthy of consideration by all who are using it, by all who are thinking of using it. Perhaps three-fourths of those who are smoking or chewing regret they ever began.

As its consumption has much to do with home, it properly comes under this department. S. S. P.

"I have been in the use of it for thirty-five years; but I confess myself able on any grounds, to defend or excuse the practice. The wants which are altogether artificial, are such as duty calls us to avoid; the indulgence of them can in no way promote our good or our real comfort."

Prof. Stewart broke off from the habit and he says:

A good way of accomplishing this is to procure some of the most detestable tobacco which can be found, and when appetite will not forego the use of without an evil greater than the use of it, then take it in such a nauseous and prostrate. This will put the next dose farther off; and two or three doses thus administered will so blunt the appetite that quitting the practice will appear to be quite a moderate degree of self-denial. Those who never felt the appetite may laugh at such directions as these; but those who know its power, will at least think them worth some consideration.

I do not place the use of tobacco in the same scale with that of ardent spirits. It does not make men maniacs and demons. But that it does undermine the health of thousands; that it creates a nervous irritability, and thus operates on the temper and moral character of men; that it often creates a a thirst for spirituous liquors; that it allures to clubs and grog-shops and taverns and thus helps to make idlers and spendthrifts, and finally that it is a very serious and needless expense, are things which cannot be denied by any observing and considerate person. And if this be true, how can the habitual use of tobacco, as a mere luxury, be defended by any one who wishes well to his fellow-men, or has a proper regard to his own usefulness?

TEACH CHILDREN SINGING

Every teacher who has made a practice of singing with his pupils must have witnessed the softening and humanizing effect it has upon their minds, and the power it has in cultivating the finer feelings of their nature, and in soothing the fiercer and more rugged dispositions. It strengthens and improve their voices, and creates a taste for the beautiful and sublime. Music imbues them with a higher respect for themselves, and with a greater love for their teacher. But perhaps, one of the most pleasant features of vocal music in school is, that it forms a sort of recreation or a relaxation, to our pupils when their minds become wearied and bewildered, and their powers almost exhausted by arduous study. They may have been endeavouring to solve some difficult problem, and being unsuccessful they throw down their slate, pencil and figures, and almost with their school days were ended. It is then they should be asked to lay aside their studies and engage for a few minutes in vocal exercises, and they will then resume their work with renewed energy, and even pleasure. The variety and entertainment mingled with instruction and the delight which the music affords will be sufficient reward for perseverance on their part. Music will improve animation and cheerfulness which are necessary for all the well working of the school, and I think that we as teachers should endeavour to be as cheerful as possible and not to be always grumbling and finding fault with our pupils. Music will also form a agreeable break in the studies of the school; it will excite an interest and have a tendency to make school a great deal more pleasant and attractive. If one class of children should participate in singing more than another we think it should be those of the junior division. The most of them love music and if you say to them, "Now, children put away your books—we are going to sing for a while," you will be amused to see their young countenances beam a smile of approbation, and their eyes sparkle with delight. They love to spin their top, and play ball, and engage in all their various sports and amusements but equally well they love to sing, and they will go at it soul and body evidently trying to see who can sing the loudest and make the most noise. But never mind, it will brighten their indexes or have a tendency to shake of that drowsiness and stupor which sometimes comes over them, and it will check their restlessness for children will get noisy and impatient under the restraint and monotony of position and occupation. In teaching children to sing we would first give a short explanation of the piece selected to read to them, or have it written on the blackboard, where all would have an opportunity of seeing it. We would then ask for their attention while we sing the first two or three times, until they get an idea of the tune. We would then require all to join in concert and sing the first verse until the tune is mastered.

With very small children it would be advisable to divide the verse and let them learn to sing the first couplet and when both are thoroughly mastered sing the whole verse through. We would ask them to try and sing it without our assistance, or it might be advantageous for the boys to try it alone, then the girls alone, as there would probably be some striving to see who could sing it the best. The next verse might then be taken in a similar manner, and so all through. The songs which they learn at school will make lasting impressions on their minds, which time cannot efface; and when they grow up to be men and women, and have to contend with the trials and difficulties of life, with what pleasure and delight will they look back and recall to mind those very songs! and probably sing them in their homes.—From a paper read by Miss Spicer at the Exter Teacher's Institute.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 12, 1875.

Mr. Carnegie lately passed through a somewhat whitewashing process, and some persons were found to hope that a beautiful butterfly might be the result, but they were doomed to disappointment, he is in the same old caterpillar state yet. We had hoped also that the laying on of hands would have had an effect contrary to present manifestation, our disappointment is not a surprise, however. Can the "Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots." The continued tirades from the pen of that gentleman in the columns of the Review against Mr. Cox and Mr. Dumble and others are proofs positive, that at least, he has not ceased to devise wicked imaginations.

He admits, because he can not do otherwise in the face of the judgment, that Dr. O'Sullivan was unseated for corrupt acts, but the Judge also says that Cavanagh was misled by the Dr. and Carnegie, knowing him (Cavanagh's) habits, and that "the respondent counted on Cavanagh's assistance and exertions." The caution to Cavanagh "also points to the employment of him for some work or duty." And what work or duty so natural to him as treating wholesale, as he did, and this, too, with the knowledge of his habits by the Dr. and Carnegie and a will-ingness to "incur the risk" for the sake of the cause—the progress of Liberal Conservatism.

This "new creature" also says that Cavanagh went in the Dr.'s sleigh while Mr. Stratton was driven to Apsley by and at the expense of the man who treated him about with Cavanagh. Now what can John Carnegie know about at whose expense Mr. Stratton went to Apsley? It certainly was not at Mr. Carnegie's expense, and Mr. Boyd will not claim that it was at his. Mr. Boyd, however, was there, and he treated not with Mr. Stratton's consent, or wish, or desire, but because he always treats when he goes to taverns, and notwithstanding too, that he was was warned not to do so. Mr. Stratton, however, does not claim that because Mr. Cavanagh treated it was not wrong for Mr. Boyd to treat: not at all. He holds and teaches that the giving of whiskey to any man at any time is a grievous wrong committed against the man, and against society. He condemns the act and would not be a candidate again so long as it is possible to use intoxicating liquors to promote his election. It was the act of John Carnegie, in tacitly employing Mr. Cavanagh to go to Burleigh because "an awful fellow to treat" that has put the County into the trouble and cost of a new election. It is generally said round Town that Mr. Carnegie has very few misgivings or scruples about political acts, but as the Judge's decision is law, we will accept and admit that when Mr. Carnegie and the Dr. employed Cavanagh he had (i. e. the Dr.) and Mr. Carnegie had still greater misgivings "but they resolved to incur the risk," and they will do so again. It may not, this time true be Mr. Cavanagh, but some one will be used, perhaps more adroitly than before, for the same general will lead the forces.

Mr. Carnegie has had experience and the Doctor will use that experience, and he should be in the spirit that he was during the late election campaign, he will not object to using Cavanagh if his acts do not hurt the election. John Carnegie lifts up his hands in holy horror because such men as John Drake and J. C. Wood swore what no one believed, not even the few rabid souls who procured their services. It is not the crime he abhors, it is the profession of better things. Apsley over again, Cavanagh treated say they, and Boyd treated, therefore it was not wrong in Cavanagh, because Conservatives always did so, but it was a dreadful crime in Boyd. Guelph and others kept open house on polling day, but they were supporters of Scott, and it was no harm, Scott always drinks. Gordon kept his house open, without Mr. Cox's knowledge and it is a dreadful crime, although Cox is a total abstainer. What logic! it is not the act that is wrong; no, no, Scott may do with impunity what Cox dare not, just because Scott is a Conservative, that's it, and they have been used to such things, and professed nothing higher. Last February we were foolish enough to state that Mr. Scott did not claim the seat when he protested the election. For this we were accused of false hood and deceiving the people. When the time came to test the matter we discovered that Mr. Scott did not claim the seat—he withdrew his claim. In his preliminary examination he swore he never expected to get it. Was that not another proof that he did not claim it. He merely put in a claim in the process, so that he might have an opportunity of getting into the witness box to speak: but before he got in he stripped himself of all unworthy acts of bribery, treating, and undue influence, placed them in the safe keeping of H. H. Smith, his attorney, and claimed they were privileged. Did Mr. Cox do so? No, like a gentleman of honor and truthfulness, and fearing no investigation, he claimed no privileged acts, words or thoughts. He told the truth, though it should be distorted and misinterpreted by partizan writers and demagogues. But when the day of trial came, Mr. Scott found his plea of "privileged" would not serve, and fearing exposure, abandons the claim in toto. The whole was an act of dishonesty from the first. He placed them in E. H. Smith's satchel, a dark enough spot, all will agree, and then refused to answer.

When the day came that they must come to light he throws up the sponge and says better abandon the claim than reveal the deeds of darkness committed at Gosrine, at Braulta. at Fascher's and other taverns where they assembled: yet Mr. Carnegie sees no evil in this, and considers Mr. Scott a model politician, while Mr. Cox, who openly, freely, and before all told the truth, he brands as a coward. Mr. Carnegie's sense of right and wrong, it is true, is as dull as his sense of truth and error, as that sense is blunted by political perversity, and dulled still more by associations with men like Drake and Wood, one of whom is the would be hangman of Brenton, whom he offered to execute for a mere trifle. If a man is judged by the company he keeps, how shall we judge the associates of a would be hangman.

Mr. Taylor, a young man of unblemished character, who had been a voter in Peterborough ever since he became of age, is on the assessment roll. The Roll is revised by the Judge according to law and the statute declares this final, after which no questions can be asked. Mr. Fairbairn, believing the vote was good, advised Mr. Taylor to that effect. Neither of them up till the Saturday evening had seen the oath. They considered (and reasonably too) that the vote was good, but afterwards Mr. Taylor had some doubts. He was sent to North Monaghan to act as agent, and got a certificate to enable him to vote. He left after voting, to erect his vote in the East Riding and did not return to Monaghan. This is the whole of his great error magnified to such a degree by his opponents. Mr. Cox heard of the doubts but believed the vote good. Where is the crime? No crime at all, only that it was a vote cast for a Reformer.

In the Bercham election also a pious Conservative with more zeal than sense voted twice for Mr. Clinton. Reformers pitied the man but did nothing to him. In the Dumble Scott election, we think it was, an over zealous Reform voter voted twice, and immediately on action was instituted and costs incurred. Not a word is said about the pious Conservative, but the same act is a te. rible crime when done by a Reformer. To fix the clap trap we are treated to weekly by that paragon of perfection and political purity Mr. Carnegie. Owing to certain reports of office seekers and consequent responsibilities, are hoped that this kind of thing would be superseded by a spirit of love for all men, and speaking the truth in love. We have felt the disappointment and can only say that thereby our faith in the teaching of the good book is much strengthened. The Ethiopian or not change his skin. John Carnegie and Dr. O'Sullivan did employ T. Cavanagh to do their treating at Apsley and at the Indian River. John Carnegie did know that "Cavanagh was not a fellow to treat" and with that knowledge used him, and the result is the County is put to the expense of a new election. In vain will he refer, "Mr. Boyd treated." The Reform Candidates in the last election defy their opponents to say that they favored or countenanced the use of liquor to gain them votes, or office, or honors. Not only so, but neither of them would give one glass of whiskey to gain the highest honor in the gift of either the crown or people, and they both regret that all their political friends do not see and act as they do. On the contrary neither Mr. Scott nor Dr. O'Sullivan can say so much. They both drank liquor during the Canvass. Mr. Scott treated at Emismore we are informed, at least he drank, he did so by his own admission at Halls Bridge, Young's Point, and at Bridgenorth. Meetings of his friends, including clergymen, met at taverns to further his election, and in the face of all this and ten times more—they try to defame men who will not use such means. Surely sheer hypocricy cannot go further. They treat, they drink, they meet in taverns and groggeries, their candidates treat and drink without remorse. They conceal their acts by abandoning their claim to the seat, thereby prohibiting the necessary evidence which would have disqualified Mr. Scott. Their associates Drake and Wood (Bro. Drake and Bro. Wood shall we say) have been used to damage the character of Mr. Cox, whose word and character is respected everywhere, and all this for the basest purposes, and by men who profess to be influenced by the teachings of the New Testament.

Whiskey has mulcted the County in the trouble and cost of a new election. Whiskey, too, placed Drake and Wood in the box to swear Mr. Cox's character away. Will John Carnegie and the Review join with us in getting rid of such a nuisance and a curse? and never mind political parties till it is accomplished.

Why is Doctor O'Sullivan the Conservative Candidate in the East Riding?

This is a question that was put to the leaders of the Conservative party in the East Riding in January last, but was often evaded. It was, however for this cause. John Carnegie was a candidate on the day before Christmas day, on Christmas day he went to Douro following the noble example of P. M. Grover. He got a snug seat in Father O'Connell's parlor, he pleaded for the rev. gentleman's influence, no doubt admitted his former sins and promised to be a better child for the future, prayed earnestly and promised penance, but all was of no avail, the influence could not be obtained. He wended his way home, and next day did obeisance to Dr. O'Sullivan and got him out because he was a Catholic and thus might secure the Catholic vote, which was denied to honest John the day before. Mr. Carnegie admitted by this act that he dared not contest the Riding with Mr. Stratton without the influence of the very people he had a few years previously abused and slandered. Mr. Carnegie is an adept at doing penance. In 1871 he approached Father Lynch, and afterwards fibbed about it saying that he did not. We fondly trust that he has again repented in sack cloth and ashes. It is not love for the Doctor that induces Mr. Carnegie to stand sponsor for him everywhere, it was not for Father O'Connell that took him there on Christmas day 1874, not a bit of it. It was the only way he could devise to defeat Mr. Stratton. He dare not enter the contest single handed himself; of the dead we will say nothing.

The Doctor then is out solely because a catholic, and for no other reason, for no one will accuse the Doctor of any knowledge of politics although he may know how to cut off a leg or an arm.

This importation of religion into politics every honest man should set his face against. It is the fulcrum of the worst, not his religious sword or prejudices that should induce the electors to send him to parliament. From experience we can warn all aspiring politicians that a good conscience can best be secured by yourself keeping religion Catholic, nor clergymen, bishops, clergymen, priests nor friars, nor anything but the honest electors.

He who counts religion his capital in hand alone, and he who counts clergymen will find himself depending on hollow friends, indeed, unless he becomes the tool of cunning knaves and designing demagogues. Deal righteously with both, but serve neither the one nor the other.

Doctor O'Sullivan is in the field because he has promised to Catholics to support them in their demands for, what they no doubt, think their due. Orangeism is the antipodes of Catholicism and yet Doctor O'Sullivan during the last election promised to support an Orange Bill if elected. Did he ever intend to fulfil his promise? Let him answer without equivocation. Those hole and corner promises are not to be relied on. Dr. O'Sullivan attended a meeting in the separate school house in December, 1874, at which resolutions were passed affirming that they, the Roman Catholics, were prepared to support any party that would give them a candidate. Are these his views still? If they are he is not a Conservative but merely a Catholic. If they are not, he is not a true friend to his Catholic fellow citizens and is ready to barter his religion for honor or gain. He was then ready to support the party that gave them a Roman Catholic candidate and member. Is he so still? or is he not? Did he say to those very same Catholics afterwards, I don't want to be seen talking to you during the election?

Did he also tell one of his Clergy that, "he did not wish to be seen walking with him on the street during the election?" These are important questions to the electors, as the man whose politics are religionless a dangerous man, and a man who can barter his religion for honor is a still more dangerous man. But if it should turn out that all this was merely a matter of policy, then to sinners who thus try to split between truth and error, rectitude and deceitfulness, are dangerous men to elect to go where their deception can be practised to the great danger of the commonwealth: and if a man can become a trimmer in sacred things what may he become in secular things? If he is not faithful in little things who will commit to him the weightier matters of State, whence we expect justice, truthfulness and equality in general matters, irrespective of consequences. Then if he did say to his people, I don't want to be seen talking to you in public during the election, does this imply that now I am a protestant so to speak but when elected I will be a Catholic again? Which of these positions does he chose, and for which purpose is the Doctor a candidate? To serve the church or the orange body or both? And if both, how will he do it? for they are antagonistic to each other? Awaiting an answer.

ELECTION AGENTS REPORTED BY THE JUDGES FOR CORRUPT PRACTICES.

From the last volume of the Journals of the House of Commons we learn that at the election trials held in 1874 a number of Election Agents were reported for corrupt practices, who may be classified as follows:—

REFORM

Essex	1
Lincoln	2
West Northumberland	4
West Montreal	3
Richmond	5
Colchester, N.S.	10
East Toronto	2
Two Mountains	2
	29

CONSERVATIVE

North Grey	7
Centre Montreal	71
Centre Wellington	10
Niagara	3
L'Assomption	2
Kingston	4
Halton	2
East Middlesex	2
	101

INDEPENDENT

Addington	2
Cornwall	3
London	17
	47

In the following constituencies no persons were reported guilty of corrupt practices:—

Prescott—South Renfrew, East North Cumberland, South Norfolk, North Victoria, North Simcoe, Chambly, South Huron, Lanark, Pictou, L'Islet, Hants, South Renfrew, 2nd. Marquette—13.

CONSERVATIVE.—Argenteuil, Joliette, Cumberland, Cardwell, Leeds and Grenville—6.

From the above it will be seen that four conservative agents have been reported for corrupt practices to one reformer in an equal number of constituencies each, and 13 reform constituencies are reported as free from corrupt practices, but only 5 conservatives. How is that for purity? and what purity is the purest? But the conservatives never professed to be pure; that's it.

SOUTH VICTORIA.

HON. MR. WOOD RE-ELECTED BY A HANDSOME MAJORITY.

The acceptance of office by Mr. Wood of Lindsay, and his appeal to his constituency for re election, caused no small political stir in that riding during the past week. The whole opposition poured into the riding and remained there during the whole week. M. C. Cameron, Wandering Willie, Boultbee, W. H. Scott, and a host of lesser lights from Peterborough went in to assist Mr. Hudspeth the Conservative Candidate. Messrs. Mowatt and Fraser, John O'Donohoe, John Carroll, and John Bertram addressed Mr. Wood, who, by the way, was very ill during the Campaign. The contest was sharp but short, continuing only about a week or ten days and resulted in a decisive victory for the Government Candidate. The majority is 74. When it is considered that South Victoria has always been conservative, Emily, Ops, Verulam and Lindsay continually giving conservative majorities; Mariposa alone being reform, it enhances the victory as showing the popularity of the present government. Mr. Hudspeth is said to be a very popular man, never was in any office to incur any blame, and was taken hold of with a determination worthy of a better cause. Several days before the election the conservative lights here were boasting that they would protest the election if defeated, and thus they would be able to annoy Mr. Wood and the government. If this is the sort of tactics they are forced to adopt, they indeed must be driven to desperation. But men who can take to their bosom Washington McDougall can do anything.

The following are the majorities in the various divisions:—

	Wood.	Hudspeth.
Mariposa	209	.....
Lindsay	55	.....
Verulam	15	.....
Ops	...	62
Emily & Omemee	...	220
	299	282

Majority for Wood, 74

THE DEPTH OF MEANNESS

Mr. Scott is already canvassing we are told, and canvassing Mr. Cox's friends. He is representing, that he, (Mr. C.) will not run again, and is then endeavoring to obtain the promise of men who would not otherwise give him a vote. It is a poor cause that requires such means to bolster it up. Why cannot Mr. Scott appeal to the people on his own good name and popularity? Why does he not allow the purity of his principles and the justness of his cause determine the views of the electors? Mr. Scott has now appealed to the people three times, and three times has he been defeated, for he was defeated by Mr. Dumble, "the electors of Ennismore had been permitted to cast their vote without trouble or fear of their lives.

The present attempts to mislead the electors will be of no avail. We have all the electors to wait a day or two and they will see Mr. Cox's address. Judge Draper will never disqualify a man on the oaths of such men as Drake and Wood, while hundreds of good citizens on both sides of politics would not believe the oaths of those men. Mr. Cox will there fore be a candidate again and no one need feel surprised if Mr. Scott should yet be found deserting the West and trying the East. Dr. O'Sullivan can easily be got to retire. Not being a prophet we cannot exactly say which certainty, but this would not disappoint us. But if Mr. Scott should be compelled for consistency's sake to remain in the West Riding, we trust that he will not seek to deceive the electors into proroguing the vote. It will only recoil on his own head.

Falsehood cannot prosper.

ALMOST AN ACCIDENT

On Tuesday while a wedding party was driving over the temporary bridge the horse of one of the party got frightened at something and backed up the wheels of the buggy knocked off the main log and over went the buggy, horse, young man and lady into the river, fortunately there were several near who rushed to their assistance at once. They caught the young lady and pulled her out safely but very wet. The horse was soon extricated and got out. The only damage of any consequence was the breaking of a buggy shaft, that is, beyond the spoiling of the fun and the change to the young lady's appearance. The accident happened near the shore on the town side where it was not difficult to get the parties out. Had it been nearer the centre of the river the chances of the young lady's life would have been slim indeed. As it was the joy was dimmed but for a few minutes.

It is time the new bridge was erected. If anything fatal or of serious consequences had happened, it might have cost the town and county half the price of a bridge in damages or law costs. We advise our town and county councillors to have no more putting off.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The following report of council was omitted in last issue.

FINANCIAL REPORT.

Councillor Beal read the report of the Finance Committee as follows:—Your Committee examined the following accounts and recommend their payment:

Reed & Edwards for half-cord	0 00
J. P. Dumble, re. expenses investigation	19 30
J. Aldis, paid cedar stumps	19 84
D. Reynolds, printing and stationery	63 00
McKee & Davidson, cullen and sheets and pillow	28 00
Boyd, Smith & Co., hauling cement	68 10
" " material for culverts	20 71

With reference to the last named item, your Committee deem it their duty to inform you that the Street and Bridge Inspector presented a bill for this amount to the Town Clerk together with the labour required on the work and was paid in February last, but had not up till to-day paid Messrs. Boyd & Co. Your Committee consider such action highly reprehensible and calling for censure on the part of the Council.

W. H. Robertson, printing and advertising &c.	0
J. Bengough & Co.	3 00
Messrs. Tees Lamont	6
George Sanborn	20 50

Your Committee have examined pay lists from No. 17 to No. 21 inclusive, amounting to a total of $770 95 for the five weeks, and find them correct, but recommend that in future the Street and Bridge Inspector place nothing upon the pay lists but the amount required for labour; and that when material is wanted he submits a bill to the Council for such material.

With reference to the communication of the Auditors asking for additional remuneration, inasmuch as last year the Town paid the sum of $20 each to the Auditors for auditing the Town accounts alone, the School Board $10 each, and the Commissioners $10 each, making $40 each; the expense of auditing School and Commissioners accounts now have to be borne by the Town, and taking into consideration the amount of work to be done to get the accounts into such a condition as to give a steering pointer reference for future years with regard to debentures &c., your Committee would recommend your complying with their request.

There are several other matters of considerable importance before your committee which we have not been able to take into sufficient consideration to report upon, but will endeavour to do so at the next meeting of this council. All of which is respectfully submitted, (signed)

WALTER BEAL, Chairman.

Mr. Cummings being allowed to explain said that the sum in question had not been paid, but it was an oversight. The report was received and and adopted.

Councillor Beal then submitted the estimates of receipts and expenditure for the current year as follows:—

HURON & QUEBEC RAILWAY.

We clip the following excellent communication from the Monetary Times. It is from the pen of one of our most intelligent citizens, and a large shipper, and gives facts in his own experience, which show the necessity for action in securing the Huron & Quebec railway with as little delay as possible.

To the Editor of the Monetary Times.

As an ardent admirer of the Monetary Times, a paper that is exercising a good influence, permit me to say that I think your article in your last issue on the Quebec & Ontario Railway will not share the approval of your readers, who are suffering for want of better railway facilities.

This country was for many years ruled by three great monopolies—the Allans, Mr. King and the Grand Trunk. The steamship monopoly, after having killed out nearly every hearty shipper in Montreal, men of ability, energy and experience, effected its own cure, and now we have other excellent lines, and moderate ocean freights. The treatment of Upper Canada by Mr. King caused the establishment of well and liberally managed banks in Ontario. As to third monopoly, people will not rest satisfied, nor refuse to give bonuses, until they have a competing road from the West through the interior of the country to Montreal, which will carry local freight when required, and at a fair rate.

Let me give you a few instances out of many to show how the management of the Grand Trunk effects shippers east of Toronto. Last November I shipped butter from Port Hope to Liverpool via Portland at 55s per ton; my next shipment, in January, was at 95s, making a difference of about $17 10 0 stg. per car load. In December I shipped grain at 9s 6d per quarter, but when my next shipment was ready to send a few weeks later, the price was 11s 6d, or a difference of about £7 10 0 stg. per car. But, strange as it may appear, while the rate from Port Hope was 11s 6d, it was only 12s from Chicago to Liverpool, or in other words; the Grand Trunk carried a quarter of grain from Chicago to Port Hope for sixpence, or less than one penny per bushel. I also shipped grain from Port Hope to Boston, the highest rate for freight being 38c per 100 lbs., and the lowest rate 22½ cents, making a difference of about $37 per car load, and at the same time the rate from Stratford and Toronto, (where there are competing lines) was less than it was from Port Hope.

Now let us see how this works. When I shipped butter at 55s and grain at 9s 6d, I went on buying, calculating the price in Liverpool, the rate of freight and the price paid to the farmers, leaving a margin for profit, but when I was ready to ship again, I found, owing to the advanced rate, the margin would be on the other side of the account, so I was compelled to load the grain in vessels at Port Hope, and the Grand Trunk lost the carriage altogether.

When the rate was put up to 11s 6d, shipments ceased to such an extent that it was found there was not enough grain to "stiffen the steamships," and the agent wrote to shippers asking them to name a rate at which they would be willing to ship, but in the meantime the grain was locked up in elevators, where it had to lie until the opening of navigation, and take its chance of the market then.

When in addition to these sudden and arbitrary changes of rate, it is borne in mind that it is not an uncommon thing for station-masters to receive instructions not to supply grain cars for local freight, it will be seen how dangerous and unsatisfactory it is to do business while depending upon the Grand Trunk.

Besides this, why should grain and merchandize pay the additional freight on the lateral roads? Towns in the interior want to send their stuff direct to market, and not due south thirty or forty miles and then due east.

But, sir, I think the Grand Trunk, like other monopolies will have to compete for business before many years. If we do not get other railways in Canada, until the Grand Trunk pays running expenses and interest on its enormous cost, it will be unfortunate. Railways can be built at moderate cost, and managed as business enterprises, and the sooner we have them the better for the country.

A CLIPPING.

Our contemporary the Review is very fond of clipping from the Bobcaygeon Independent nor do we find fault with him for so doing. There is a very good article in the last number of the Independent, which our confrere should give to his readers, but for fear he may pass it over, we will take the clipping this time. Here it is:—

THE ELECTION.

On Tuesday next, the electors of the South Riding of Victoria, will be called upon to elect a representative to the Ontario Government. There are two candidates,—the Hon. S. C. Wood, and Mr. Hudspeth. For whom shall we vote? Let us give this matter a few minutes consideration, and look at the subject from two different stand-points. These are the common-sense stand-point, and the political stand-point.

First, then, we find that Mr. Wood is our present member; that the Premier has invited him to become a member of the Government; that he has accepted the post of Provincial Secretary; and that he now asks for re-election. This is the first time in her history that Victoria has had the honour of being represented by a Cabinet Minister: it is the first time she has ever had the chance of obtaining from the Government the means for improving her position, of developing her resources, and of giving a merchantable value to the raw material the possesses in such abundance. The appointment of Mr. Wood to office,—a gentleman well acquainted with the resources of this section of the country and with the best means of giving them a commercial value,—is one of those rare chances that happen only in a century. It is beyond question the happiest and most fortunate circumstance that could have occured, and then the whole district cannot fail to derive great material advantages from Mr. Wood's position in the Government. We want grants of money both for roads and for railways, we want aid to make a tramway from Bobcaygeon to the iron mines; we want money to complete the water improvements; we want subsidies for explorations, for surveys, for geological investigations, and the development of mineral. With Mr. Wood in the Government there is a reasonable chance of obtaining such aid. Why, then, should we not seize this happy chance and vote for Mr Wood? The reason why we should not, is that Mr. Hudspeth has not confidence in the Government, which he further says has violated the Constitution by spending too much money on the Parliament House fixes in Toronto, by building a brick asylum at Hamilton when brought to Toronto Windows for certain buildings were somewhere sometimes. Away with such flolery. Mr. Hudspeth's arguements are not those of a politician, they are simply objections to departmental details, and put he asks us to resign our first and best chance of obtaining material benefits for the whole district and to vote for him, in the name of party! It won't bear a moments reflection, and taking a real common sense view of the question Mr. Hudspeth is now here.

Let us now look at the question from a political point of view. We submit that the course taken by Mr. Hudspeth will under any circumstances prove a heavy blow to the Conservative party and it will delay Conservative progress for a long period. The present Government was moving slowly but steadily towards dissolution; but if Mr. Hudspeth is beaten it reserves its lease of life, it gives it a fresh vigour, an emancipated triumph, a new vitality. If Mr. Hudspeth wins it is even more disasterous, as it will precipitate a crisis and cause a public exposure of the utter inability of the Conservative party to form a Government, simply from the want of men. Give it them, and the Conservative party in Ontario could at anytime and consolidate into a power, but cannot be permanently to take action and it will fall to pieces from sheer weakness. Let Mr. Hudspeth be elected, and there would probably be brought about a crisis in which conservative weakness would be made to tell against it and the necessity of the party would in very short time be found to be already established such a want of tact, discretion, and judgment as we question whether the electors be ready to subdivide on his party will be fully recognized, whilst moderate men, and those who are free from party obligations and personal connections will certainly avoid the opportunity to choose others of more political advantages to the district and will vote for Mr. Wood. We regard Mr. Wood with no personal feeling, but we regard him as the best man for the position, and we are glad to find that our friends are more numerous than we expected.

FATAL ABORTION CASE.

THE DEAD BODY OF THE VICTIM FOUND IN A DITCH. TWO ARRESTS ON SUSPICION.

(From the Toronto Globe.)

The dead body of a young woman was found yesterday in a ditch on Bloor street road under circumstances which, taken in connection with those proceeding and following the discovery, have led to the arrest of two persons who have been living in our midst, on suspicion of having perpetrated a crime of the most serious nature. It appears that about half-past ten o'clock last Saturday night a private watchman named Campbell, while on his beat Scott-st. observed some person place a box in an express waggon which was then drawn up almost opposite the residence of a person who is known and advertises himself as Dr. Davis. After a few moments' delay the wagon was driven off, and was followed by a man and woman, who proceeded on foot. Upon reflection the whole occurence struck Campbell as being very unusual and he accordingly reported what he had seen to the policemen whose beat was nearest. The constable conveyed the intelligence to the City Hall police station, and Detectives Newhall and Reburn at once started for the Great Western and Grand Trunk stations, expecting that an attempt would be made to convey the box from the city by rail. They succeeded, however in finding nothing at the station of a suspicious character.

A few minutes before eleven o'clock Mr. Nicholas Rooney, who had left his house on Bay-street in order to satisfy himself that a warehouse owned by his firm was safely secured, while walking along Melinda street, towards Jordan street, noticed a waggon cross the road and proceed down Jordan street. He followed as far as Gunther's warehouse and then saw the waggon on the east side of the street, and a man and woman standing on the side-walk. He then rushed to the door of the St. Lawrence Bank, when the woman hastily jumped on the seat of the waggon by the side of the driver. Mr Rooney seeing a box in the waggon, had some vague idea that a robbery might have been committed, and, acting on the impulse of the moment, he ran to the spot and placed himself in front of the woman's companion thus preventing him following her into the conveyance. The driver, in the meantime whipped up his horse and drove off. Mr. Rooney then asked the man thus left behind what he was do

The Cost of a Kiss.

In England a Col. Baker has been fined $500 and one year in prison, for attempting to kiss a lady in a railway carriage. It is also thought it will cost him his commission. He is a brother of Sir Samuel Baker. If he had even got the kiss it would have been a costly one.

The Town Council have agreed to place a clock on the New Town Hall, with four faces. It is very much needed. The Hall when completed will be a credit to the Town. Mr. Bradburn has displayed great energy in carrying on the work, and we doubt not, will finish it so as to be a credit to himself.

County Engineers.

The Bobsaygeon Independent of last week is down on some County Engineers some of whom he scores of his peculiar style, whiskey, short pipes, dirty clothing and still dirtier language. What do the "Independent" mean? To what County does he refer? Is he dement? What's the matter? O, he's just a piece of engineering.

Fire Brigade

We regret to find from the minutes of the Town Council that Mr. Wightman has tendered his resignation as Chief Engineer of the Fire Brigade. He is an excellent officer, and one in whom the Company and the citizens had perfect confidence, and whose conduct during fires led to admire, on account of his energy, impartiality and good management. We trust he will change his mind.

Civic Holiday

There is some talk of a Civic Holiday soon. When it comes would it not be well to have it general. Why should not hotels follow the example of storekeepers and shut off all business on such days. Holidays would then be a blessing, but if spent in partial rioting and drinking they become a curse to those for whose benefit they are intended. Friday will be a Civic Holiday.

Mr. Wm. Croft, of the Smith House, lost $20 on the South Victoria Election. He bantered James Millar, Esquire, of Otonabee to the bet, and had to hand over the cash yesterday. The country is safe yet.

Keeping a House of Ill-Fame.

Charles Bannon and his daughter Margaret Bannon, of Asphodel, were committed to jail for six months on Friday last, for keeping a house of ill fame. The place had become a nuisance to the neighborhood. The people residing near it were afraid to go out after dark. There will be peace for a few months in that portion of the Village. It is said that there is another establishment of a similar kind in a different part of the Village. A similar fate awaits them if proved against them.

Death of an Ex-President.

Telegrams announce the death of ex President Andrew Johnston, which occurred on Saturday last in Tennessee. He was born in 1808 in the city of Raeleigh, N. C., of humble parentage. Commodore Rodney, and was elected Governor of Tennessee in 1855. He was elected Vice President in 1865. He was elected to Congress at last election, but did not live to take his seat. He was a self-made man of good judgement and firm will, raised himself to the highest honors, is the gift of the people and was honored by the President and people to his death.

The late Wm. Hall, Esq.

We understand that the heirs of the late W. Hall, Esq., have determined to carry out an expressed wish of his, although not provided for in his will, and have appropriated $30,000, to be distributed for charitable purposes among the Protestant poor of the Town. The whole matter is to be entrusted to four Trustees selected from the Protestant churches of the Town, one from each namely; Presbyterian, Episcopalian, Methodist and Baptist. The method of carrying out this wish is not yet further made known, but if the deceased gentleman has left any further instructions they no doubt will be scrupulously carried out.

Attempted Rape.

Joe Valois, of Harvey, Indy of Asphodelbrook, was committed to Jail on Monday to take his trial at the next assizes for attempting the abominable crime of rape, and what adds to the brutality, the attempt was on his own daughter, a girl of about 17 years of age. He was convicted of a similar offence on a young woman he met on the way some years ago and was confined to Jail for a year for it. The heinousness of the crime must not be visited with severe punishment. Though two children within a short time had made their appearance and form, and because of its Catholic principles is likely to receive a large patronage.

Musical

Our Town is highly favored at present by having a gentleman of fine musical talent and education, viz., Professor Hammersmith. We had the pleasure of a visit to his rooms this week, and of hearing him render some overtures, and other very beautiful pieces. The people of Peterborough should be careful to patronize him so as to retain his services. He has accepted position of Bandmaster for the 57th Batt. Band, and is about introducing changes that will tend to make our band one of the best bands in the country. He is also director of the Philharmonic Society, of which Wm. Clenton, Esquire, is President, and by their lively interest in those things we may expect an improved taste and skill in the most delightful accomplishment. We understand that Mr. Hammersmith has already a large number of pupils in piano and vocal music, but is prepared to accommodate others who may wish to favor him. His rooms are over T. Chambers & Son's grocery store and are neatly furnished. From what we learn, we believe ourselves safe in recommending him to the favor of parents who are desirous of obtaining the services of an excellent teacher.

Mr Hamilton, chairman of Special Committee on sidewalks reported as follows:—Having opened the tenders for Brock Street Bridge accepted the tender of John McGinnis for $185, which your committee thought advisable to accept; to be commenced immediately. The tenders for Hunter and Water Streets being so much over the proposition of your Council. Your committee could not entertain them consequently they decided that it would be better for the Street and Bridge Inspector to have the work done not to exceed appropriation. In reference to Brock Street recommend an appropriation of one hundred dollars for sidewalks and gravelling south side of Brock Street, also recommend the appropriation of $25.00 to petition of John Douglass for taking out stumps in Downie street, also recommend the appropriation of twenty-dollars for the purpose of making a water table on the East side of Water street from Smith street to the river, also recommend that the petition of John McGee be granted on condition of petitioner giving two days work on the job subject to the Street and Bridge Inspector, and also recommend the expenditure of thirty dollars on Patterson Street for grading and improving said street; also recommend an expenditure of $10 for forming water tables on Dougal street between Dublin and Smith streets; also recommend the repairing of the Bridge on Park street, and also plank sidewalks on the west side of Park street from Helm to McDonald St. It was also recommended by the committee that Messrs Bridbara and Double be allowed 3 months within which to open Ridge street, on conditions that they do within one week enter into a written agreement to do so, failing to enter such agreement that the Street Inspector be directed to take the necessary steps to open it without any delay; the committee would further recommend that no approbation of public money be made or expenditure on that part of Rubidge street so lately opened for two years from this date.

Mr. Helm wished to hear what had been done towards removing the stumps off Prince Albert street.

Mr. Rutherford said that $30 had already been spent on Peterson St. this year, and that the $5,000 allowed for Streets and Bridges this year would be spent before the necessary repairing and Bridges had been done, and therefore moved that the $30 on Patterson Street be struck out.

STREET INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Mr. Cahill referred to the expenditures, and showed that large sums were being expended in the North part of the town for its protections and also for a large bridge, and thought that $20 was a mere trifle for the south part of the town.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Cahill, chairman of the Fire Committee reported as follows:

To the Mayor and Town Council of Peterborough, Gentlemen.—The Fire Committee beg leave to report that in virtue of the power invested to them by a resolution passed at a late meeting of this Council they employed a practical mechanic to examine the old fire engine, from the fire marshal they have received from him, a much as to the engineer of the Fire Department, they consider that it would require about one hundred and fifty dollars to put the engine and hose cart in repair, and purchase some two or three lengths of cotton hose, in case of the possibility of the steam fire engine becoming temporarily disabled during a fire, your committee recommend that the hand engine be repaired and placed in the North end of the town and a stand to hold same be erected from the weather, which would cost perhaps about $60 more, making in all about $210, all of which is respectfully submitted.

Council Chamber, } THOS. CAHILL,
Aug. 9th, 1875. } Committee.

On motion of Mr. Dixon the report of the Fire Committee was adopted.

Mr. Hamilton introduced a by-law to enable the Mayor and Treasurer to borrow from the Ontario Bank to enable the expenses of the Town to go on the taxes are collected, he also moved the second reading of it.

The Corporation West Into committee for the whole on By-law, Mr. Rutherford in the chair.

Mr. Hamilton explained the necessity of borrowing money for the bridge.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Thornton, that the by-law to borrow money be now read a third time.—Carried.

The by law to borrow money was read a third time and passed.

Moved by Mr. Hamilton, seconded by Mr. Helm, that the by law to levy rate be now read a third time and passed and signed.—Carried.

Mr. Hamilton explained that Miss McMahon felt that the extension of Georgeson Street would injure her property, and that she would require a large sum for it, and a committee were willing to give.

Moved by Mr. Hamilton seconded by Mr. Helm, that in view of the great importance of the extension of George Street, south to Dorenfus Street with the ultimate view of constructing the same to the southern boundary of the Town, feeling that they cannot accede in opening the street same without arranging with Miss McMahon, and that Councillor Hamilton be entitled to accept $475, and Councillor Lapland damages ($300, making in all $675 with Miss McMahon to arrange with your Committee. It might probably be as well to allow her house and property to remain for the present, as we think it possible to form a good street without interfering with her property and would decidedly recommend the opening of the street same and proceeding with the understanding that Mr. Donnelly agree to grant to the Council the right of way across his property free of cost, and recommend a By-law to be prepared with the view of opening said street.

F. HAMILTON.
Chairman of Committee.

Messrs. Tobin and Scott addressed the Council.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford seconded by Mr. Thornton, that the By-law now read for to be submitted to the ratepayers be referred to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. On motion of Mr. Macdonald seconded by Mr. Dixon, that Mr. Fowler and Mr. Scott be now heard in reference to granting a bonus to the Railway.

The Council adjourned for one week.

MIDLAND RAILWAY

We congratulate the indefatigable President of the Midland Railway Company on the approaching completion of this road to Waubashene. Considering the difficulties with which Mr. Hughes had to contend, his success is worthy of all praise, and we cross with our fellow-townsmen, and all others interested in the welfare of the Midland, a joint wish in congratulating and praising the President for his persevering and [illegible] efforts to extend the road thus far; and we hope to see and welcome him on the completion of the Midland Road. With the present energies and enterprise of President, we are sure it to begin is to finish. We wish him every success, and that it may long be his honor and happiness to enjoy the enviable reputation of being the most energetic and persevering President on the continent. As we say, may the Midland rank the name of A Huge Engineering success, and may it prosper and mark the progress of the road under the management of its President.—Guide.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—It appears that the public of Peterborough are being asked to subscribe to a fund for starting another Band, but being thrown out that the Battalion Band is broken up, so as to the formation of another is desirable.

It is only right that the facts of the case should be known so that people may know to whom and for what they are giving their money.

The 57th Band is not broken up but the engagement of the late Bandmaster, Mr. Walter Hall, has been terminated with the entire concurrence of the members of the Band and Mr. Hammersmith is to take his place.

Under these circumstances we may expect to have a really good Band in Peterborough without any necessity for repealing the old mistake of endeavoring to keep up two Bands, clashing with each other and both proving failures. At all events the present attempt to collect subscriptions is not made on behalf of either the 57th Band or the Philharmonic Society, so these friends must not be deceived.

And I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I would let it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A. Moyle, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pains, sore throats, etc., and is now by of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Nunn, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a sore knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness, it is a great public benefit."—A. Select Poetry.

THE LITTLE BOY THAT DIED.

By Chalmers [illegible] author of the following beautiful poem, which contains the confessions of the death of a young son whom he greatly loved.

I am sitting alone in my chamber now,
And all my household is gone to rest,
As I watch the fire-light flit to and fro
On the graceful cracks that chequer the floor;
And the only sounds I hear;
Are the ticks of the clock in the hall below,
And the quiet breathing of little Joe,
Over my head in his cradle bed,
And the chirp of the cricket that never will die.

And memory draws back the curtain of time
To a spot where a little headstone stands,
And I see a mound where the violets grow
And hear the sound of subdued voices low,
As they carve the name on the marble white
Of the little boy that died.

I went one night to my father's home,
Went home to be dandled on his knee,
And softly I opened the garden gate,
And softly I trod the path I knew well,
And my mother came out to meet her son,
She kissed me and then she sighed,
And her head fell on my neck and she wept
For the little boy that died.

I shall miss him when the flowers come
In the garden where he played;
I shall miss him more by the fireside
When the flowers have all died;
I shall miss his toys and his empty shoes,
And the hat on the stand beside,
And they will speak with a silent speech
Of the little boy that died.

We shall go home to our Father's home
To our Father's house in the skies,
Where the hope of our soul shall have no blight
Our love no broken ties:
We shall roam on the hills of the river of peace,
And bathe in its lilies of calm,
And one of the joys of our Heaven shall be
The little boy that died.

MEN OF SCIENCE DEVOUT MEN.

When some of our modern 'scientists,' to use the new-fangled word, talk with such a lofty and disdainful air of Religion, as if they were tall enough to walk over the heads of the whole Christian world, we feel like asking "But who are you that set yourselves up as the heralds of a new dispensation of light and knowledge?" We have a strong suspicion that these loudly pretenders are, after all, but mere smatterers in science. A distinguished professor, in this city, not biased by any religious prejudice, assures us that Tyndall is but "a third rate man of science;" that he is not to be named beside others in England and Germany, some of whom are devout believers in Christianity. Tyndall's teacher and master in science was Michael Faraday, who was really in that realm one of the giants of the present century; but he was an humble disciple of Jesus Christ. So was Sir David Brewster, who after all his attainments in science, when he came to die, was raised above all fear by his Christian faith; who died not in the doubt or despair of the skeptic, not as one taking a great leap into the dark, but as one who knew in whom he believed; who had all his life served his blessed Master, and now, become again as a little child, cast himself in childlike confidence into the arms of that mighty and ever faithful friend.

So in the past the really great men, the patriarchs of science—the founders of the modern scientific world—were devout believers in God as the author of nature. It is said of Newton that he never mentioned the name of God without uncovering his head, in token of profound reverence and awe.

A Century before Newton, the great astronomer Copernicus was not only great as a man of science, but a devout believer in Christianity. His tomb in the Church of St. John bears upon it a Latin inscription, which has thus been translated:

I crave not the grace which Paul merely had,
Nor the favor with which thou did'st honor Peter,
Those riches which thou bestowed'st upon each error
That alone can entreat."

Kepler concludes his work on the "Harmony of Worlds" with the words "I thank thee, my Creator and my Lord, that thou hast given me this joy in thy creation, this delight in the works of thy hands. I have shown the excellency of thy works unto men, so far as my finite mind was able to comprehend thine infinity. If I have said aught unworthy of thee, or aught in which I have sought my own glory, graciously forgive it."

So it may be said of almost all the great promoters of science in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, that they were devout men. Pascal's genius as a mathematician was allied with a profound Christian faith. Robert Boyle who founded the "Boyle Lecture," which for more than a century and a half has continued to present the world with able defences of the Christian revelation, was, in his day, second only to Newton. Of the school of scientific men that he gathered about him, there was scarcely one, who was not, like himself, a firm believer in Christianity.

Happily the race of men who are at once scientific and devout, has not died out in the world. Many such there are in England and America, and if they do not make quite as much noise as these loud-talking unbelievers, they are quite as worthy of respect for their scientific attainments. Agassiz was one of the truly great men of science of the age, and he believed in the all-creating Mind. Hitchcock and Silliman were devout Christians, of whom Dana and Dawson, and others like them are worthy successors.—N. Y. Evangelist.

FALLEN FORTUNES.

DANIEL DREW'S RECENT HEAVY LOSSES—HOW RICHES SOMETIMES TAKE WINGS.

The many Methodists throughout the country one time and another has been benefited by his liberality will be very sorry to hear that Daniel Drew, the great Wall street operator, is not only about used up pecuniarily, but has really been sick for a long time. One year ago he was making money hand over fist, by bearing the Toledo and Wabash Railroad stock, whose decline from above 60 to 6½ the present price swept away the earnings of so many people. Through his bear operations in Wabash he made a round million of dollars. But to much "bearing" this spring has brought him to financial grief. When Union Pacific sterling at 22 steadily advanced to 77, Daniel Drew was caught upon the wrong side of the market, and lost heavily before covering. He was likewise caught in a large number of "puts" which he had to make good when Wabash rallying, advanced from 9½ to 18. He also was a heavy loser in quicksilver. Other stock in which he was "short" went up to his heads during the spring advance. Altogether his losses are computed at a quarter million of dollars.

While Mr Drew has been repeatedly accused by fellow-operators of treachery and dishonor generall in his Wall street transactions, it must be a heart of stone which would not feel pity for the old man in his present fallen condition. He began life up the Hudson river as a poor ragged drover boy. A gentleman living in Westchester county tells me he distinctly remembers when Daniel a great awkward ostler, on a bare footed boy of seventeen, used to come to his father's farm and buy the young calves and drive them to the New York market. It was in this humble business that he laid the foundation of the colossal fortune which in his now advanced years he has fluttered away in his Wall street operations. It must, however, always be remembered to Daniel Drew's credit that he has contributed liberally to the support of religious educational and charitable enterprises, giving a half million of dollars in one instance for the establishment of the Drew Theological Seminary in New Jersey.

I can recall no time within fifteen years when matters have been so utterly stagnant in Wall street as they are at the present time; a majority of the brokers are not making enough in the way of commissions to pay for car fares and lunches. Speculation is at a stand-still. The big operators are doing nothing, and the little fish are waiting to see what will turn up. There are gloomy forebodings of the future, materially increased by the numerous and heavy failures being daily reported from England. Many strong men have been financially ruined during the past six months.

I recall one in particular. Mr—— came into the street as a broker a few years since. He accumulated money rapidly, purchased a residence in Madison avenue, and could be seen almost any pleasant afternoon last Summer driving a fine turnout in Central Park. Last week a friend of mine met him walking down town to Wall street from his present humble abode, four miles distant. In response to the inquiry why he was doing so he said he was now compelled to economize even in so small matters as car fare. Ten cents the price of a ride was worth saving to him. One brief year had brought about all this change. The gale which last year struck Wall street completely wrecked his financial bark. Such failures in New York on Change. To-day the broker lives in a palatial mansion, to-morrow his fortune puts if he can raise enough money to pay his quarterly rent in a cheap lodging row." To day he lunches at Delmonico's and washes down his nibbles with champagne. To-morrow he puts up with a five cent sandwich and cannot afford another five-cent for a glass of lager. To day he rides to business in a twelve shilling coupe; to-morrow he cannot afford to patronize a stage even. So it goes. New parties yearly come hither from all parts of the country to make rapid fortunes in the old golden wheel of fortune and return in a few months' time sadder, if not wiser, men.

THE WAGWARTEN.

Leading up from the valleys and hills of Switzerland toward the summit of the Alps are some exceedingly steep, narrow and difficult passes. While the valleys, far, far below, are clothed with verdure and constantly hum with active life, there upon the mountain side nearly all forms of animated existence disappear.

To the traveller the silence is oppressive. About him the light clouds are flying. The hunter is chasing the chamois, but him he has not seen for hours.

He see huge granite cliffs; yawning between them the awful chasm. Yonder, slowly forcing its way toward the valley, is the glacier. He sits down to rest; and weary with looking at the great distant, but so frequent, so delicate, and so beautiful on the close examination!

A thought rushes upon him. The same infinite power displayed ages ago in lifting up those huge snow-covered mountains is manifest here to-day this moment, in painting and nourishing this tiny flower! In a moment his sconce of loneliness is gone. He takes up his staff and mounts lightly upward. The Wagwarten, "way watcher," has proved a revelation

We have all the Alps to mount. And how often do we have difficult paths to go alone—no human hand or human voices within reach of hearing; God and angels helped others when in trouble, but was long ages ago. He may be helping others now, but it is somewhere far away. We want to behold an actual Saviour: we want to hear a voice, or see a vision of ministering angels. Weary, oppressed, we sit down, and as our eyes rest upon the rocky paths of God's providence and the debris of our own broken fortunes, we are springing up and breathing odor a sweet flower, though exceeding small yet telling more of God's goodness than gardens of roses in the rich valleys of our former prosperity.

Those who will may find along life's dreariest way the precious evidences of God's present, active goodness. He has planted upon all his rugged cliffs the bright little "Wagwarten"—but to see them it will often be necessary to bow down and put the face close to the earth, like Elijah of old.

MAKING CHILDREN OBEY

The law of obedience to authority is one that a babe will learn very early. And it is the first lesson. If it be neglected a day it will be at the peril of subsequent insubordination. The mutiny of an irreverent is not a terrible thing save as it suggests revolt in time to come. It is a germ of after defiance. Hence the importance of preventing its appearance, that the child may grow up feeling that it knows nothing of subjection to the beneficent government that is over it. We are convinced from extended observation that nearly all parents fail, first of all, in not teaching their children to obey.—They command and see their commands unnoticed; they reason and are overcome by the childs argument they plead and are denied their solicitation. After that there is no telling what length the child will go, or what griefs the parents will be called to endure. The strife between the father and boy has begun. The serpent's tooth has appeared. Far in the distance may be seen the gray hairs going down down in sorrow to the grave but in this first filial perversity is the begining of that deplorable end. Parents see that you are obeyed.

TRAMPS.—Legislatures are beginning to awaken to the character of the tramp nuisance. By a recent act of the Connecticut Legislature, whenever any tramp shall apply for bounty the person to whom such application shall be made in return may require the applicant to perform a reasonable amount of labour, and on the refusal may call on the authorities for assistance, who if necessary, shall commit the tramp to gaol. The last legislature of Ohio also passed a law under the terms of which any tramp refusing work when offered may be fined or committed to gaol.

At what season of the year did Eve eat the apple?—Easily in the fall.

What kind of robbery is not dangerous? A safe robbery of course.

It is a strange fact that when people indulge in high words they use low language.

"Letter go?" as the boy said when he bung-posted his letter at the street corner.

"Get out of the way! what are you good for?" said a cross old man to a little bright-eyed urchin, who happened to stand in his way. The little fellow, as he stepped one side, replied very gently: "I hey make men of such things as we are."

—A rustic couple, newly married, marched into a drug store and called for soda water, the obliging apothecary inquired what syrup they would have in it, when the swain, deliberately leaning over the counter, replied, "Stranger, money is no object to me; but sugar is."

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE TEMPERANCE D. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS possess the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative PILL. The obvious reason, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them, those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compositions. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and firmly upon the confidence of mankind, as the world-wond remedy for pulmonary complaints. Throughout a series of years, and among most of the diseases it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the most distressing affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to younger children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and for the more serious affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here. It is sufficient to assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and never fails. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of the cures in the annals of this remedy are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicines. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgements we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold around the world.

THE USUAL WAY.

Two or three maids when a lover is near,
Two or three times talk with a bead of a tear,
Two or three frowns if he dare to caress,
Two or three "How, don't you remember my dress?"
Two or three "Ah! is that man go away?"
Two or three times if you want him to stay;
Two or three smiles to wheedle him on,
Two or three frowns to see his crown salmon,
Two or three "some" "I" "titled"—read them
Two or three times among "I am my a"
Two or three sighs and a little help ho!
Two or three pats when command 'go to go;
Two or three whispers bend love to express,
Two or three "I'll all intended for" "you."
Two or three carriage rides just for the treat,
Two or three longs in a lonely retreat;
Two or three evenings, and when time is done,
Two or three hours beneath asked for last one;
Two or three bit of down; "I" dear me," and then
Two or three eyes, one, and a red make-up again;
Two or three times to a church or hall,
Two or three "I feel rather tired, don't all?"
Two or three blushes, and hang down the head
Two or three times when requested to wed;
Two or three "I mean I" and then "you dearest love."
Two or three days he as fixed on a dove;
Two or three I "one, then serves to obey,
Two or three words other have your own way;
Two or three months if you follow this course,
Two or three times you may wed and divorce.

HARRY GREY'S ADVENTURE.
BY HELENA DIXON.

HARRY GREY was plowing away on the last "land" of a twenty-acre lot, and feeling very comfortable over the thought that his spring plowing was almost done, when he saw his neighbor, Mark Trowbridge, driving slowly past, in company with his wife, who was seldom to be seen away from home.

'Hang me, if I don't run over and see Lucy,' said Harry, as he hit his horses a smart cut with the whip, to hurry them to the end of the bott.

'They are going to town, and will be gone three hours, at least, by the way old Mark drives. I can stay two hours and a half with Lucy, and then get back again before they come home.'

And the young man hitched the team to the fence, over which he bounded and walked away to the house in a double-quick, as though every minute now was doubly precious.

He was almost out of breath when he entered the house, which caused his mother to enquire very anxiously what was the matter. Without heeding her question he pulled off his brogans, leaving them lying in the middle of the room—a thing his wondering mother was sure she had never seen him do before. Then he surprised her still more by running or rather leaping up stairs three steps at a time, to his own room. Here he pulled on a pair of calf-skin boots, took off his blue frock, and substituted therefor a white linen coat.

It was a raw day in April, and farmer Trowbridge, when he started for town, had put on his overcoat. But Harry's blood was at fever heat, and he imagined the linen coat and straw hat would be just the thing. After filling his pockets with chesnuts where with to bribe Eddie Trowbridge into secrecy, he stole to his sister's room, and emptying the contents of her cologne bottle into his hand, applied it without stint to his hair and handkerchief. Then seeing a scarlet ribbon on the table, he appropriated it for a necktie, gave himself an approving glance in the mirror, dashed down stairs, slammed the front door after himself, and was gone.

'What in the world is Harry up to now?' exclaimed Mrs. Grey, in wonder, as she paused from her work to watch the fast receding figure of her son.

'He is going to see Lucy Trowbridge, I guess.' replied Harry's sister, a demure little damsel, who was busy ironing. 'You know, mother, that her father and mother have gone away. Won't there be a scene, though, if they get home before Harry leaves?'

'Your brother is the biggest simpleton I know of,' exclaimed Mrs. Grey with spirit. 'There's Clara Beamer just as good-looking and smart as Lucy, and she thinks the world and all of Harry, and her folks is always inviting him over, while Lucy's father won't even let her look at him if he can help it.'

'Lucy is worth a dozen such rattle-brains as Clara,' said her daughter, 'and I do believe Mr. Trowbridge would rather have Lucy marry Harry than any one else. But he thinks a girl should never think of a lover till she's a horrid old maid, and too ugly to get one. He keeps Lucy as close under his eye as though she were a baby instead of a grown-up woman. I declare if I were in her place now I'd elope the first dark night. But I believe Lucy would see Harry married to Clara Beamer, and pine away to a shadow about it before she would do that.'

Lucy Trowbridge had taken her seat by the window, where she sat quietly sewing, until the buggy containing her parents was out of sight, then she threw down her work and stood gazing for a few moments down the pleasant road along which they had disappeared.

Then she brushed her hair till it shone like satin, and fastened a knot of blue ribbon among the braids, after doing which she resumed her seat and her work. Did she expect that Harry Grey would come? He had not been in her stern father's house for a year, she had not spoken with him in a month, though could see him at his work in his fields beyond her father's meadow almost every day. Her father she knew, would be very angry if he visited her, and it should come to his knowledge, and yet she hoped he would come. Lucy was not long kept in uncertainty, for Harry was soon coming up the lane, followed closely by Eddie, with his fat hands full of chesnuts.

The young man's pants was tucked in his boots, and the wind was flapping the skirt of his coat about unmercifully while the straw hat was only kept in its place by its owner's hand.

Lucy wondered what freak had brought her lover out in summer apparel; when nature had not put on so much as a leaf of hers.

Harry tossed his hat onto the floor, and sat down before the glowing fire, apparently, as the truth to tell he felt rather chilly there otherwise, while Lucy sat down by the window to watch the cloud that some mishaps should bring her parents home prematurely, and thereby break up the tête-à-tête. Harry was the first to break the silence, and he did so by saying:

'Lucy, I've got a proposal to make to you, and I want you to answer me right off.'

'Don't be in a hurry, Harry,' said Lucy, with a nervous laugh.

'I am in a hurry,' said Harry, 'and I want you to answer me right off. Will you have me?'

'Why, Harry, what a question!' said Lucy, with a blush.

'Will you have me?' repeated Harry.

'Why, I suppose I will,' said Lucy, with a laugh.

'Then that's settled,' said Harry, 'and now I'll tell you what I came over for. I want you to run away with me.'

'Run away with you!' exclaimed Lucy, in astonishment.

'Yes, run away with me,' said Harry. 'I've got a good mind to go right out and 'beard the lion in his den,' he muttered, as he leaned against the smoke begrimmed wall of his prison. Presently he heard the key turn in the lock, and realised that he was fastened in. The farmer, in passing from the barn to the house, saw that the smoke-house was unlocked and locked it, putting the key in his pocket.

When her parents and Eddie were seated at the table, Lucy took a pail and went out to the well, singing loudly and clearly that sweet old tune, 'Old Hundred.' Then without glancing at the smokehouse, she came in and took her place at the table.

'I wonder where Harry Grey is?' said Mr. Trowbridge. 'His horses are tied to the fence, and I know by the looks he hasn't turned a furrow this afternoon.'

Eddie looked very wise, but his sister trod on his toes to make him keep still.

'He's up to the house, no doubt,' said his wife.

'Clara Beamer is there with hair all in ringlets. There'll be a match, shouldn't wonder.'

'Well, I should then,' replied Lucy's father. 'What does any sensible man want with such a gadabout as she is. Why sooner than see that happen I'd give Harry leave to court our Lucy three or four years from now.'

Nothing more was said until the farmer grumbled:

'These hams won't half smoked. I must take them in hand,' and true to his word, as soon as he rose from the table he procured an old kettle and made a smudge, which he carried to the smoke-house. He removed a plank which covered a small, square hole, left there for the sake of convenience, through which he thrust his kettle of smoking cornocbs and sawdust. Then he replaced the plank, and left the hams, and alas, Harry, too, to be thoroughly smoked. Lucy watched these proceedings with interest, thankful that her signal had given Harry time to escape. But her feelings underwent a change when Eddie, with a comical look, told her that her "her beau" was locked in the smoke-house. Without waiting to see whether she was observed or not, she hastened to the smoke-house and removed the smoking kettle.

"Harry, Harry!" she called, in a hoarse whisper.

"Is that you Lucy? I'm in purgatory. Have you taken the confounded thing out? I'm as blind as a bat and my throat is full of soot and ashes."

Harry's voice came from near the ground.

He was lying prone in the ashes, soot and lime, which composed the floor of the smoke house.

"I cannot liberate you at present, Harry; father has the key. But I'll bring you some supper, and when he goes to bed I'll get the key and release you. In a few minutes a plate of edibles was shoved through the apperture and the board restored to its place. But, as ill luck would have it, the farmer discovered by the absence of smoke about the crevices that his smoke had gone out, and so the board was again removed and the farmer's arm thrust in to get the kettle, but instead of that Harry's untouched supper was brought to light.

"Well, this puts the cap-sheaf on everything I ever heard of."

Just then a ham fell to the ground with a dull thud, sending a cloud of ashes into the farmer's face, for he was still kneeling before the hole.

"There, what on earth be? Well, I've got to search into this matter or I shall always think the smoke-house was haunted."

So saying he opened the door, when the form of Harry, unrecognizable in his coat of ashes and soot, rose up before him.

The farmer sopped back and yelled, as he involuntarily grasped his jackknife:

'Murder! Murder!'

'Stop, stop, stop. Don't call them all out,' said Harry as he glanced ruefully at his dirty coat.

'A thief! A thief!' again roared Mr. Trowbridge, and by this time all with the exception of Lucy were on the spot.

'It is only I, neighbor, don't you know me?'

Harry's voice came from near the ground.

'What?'

'Harry Grey.'

[illegible] Clara Beamer would have you or would own you if she did. What are you doing here?'

All at once Harry felt bold as a lion.

'I want your daughter, Mr. Trowbridge. Will you give her to me?'

Were you lying here in ambush watching your chance to steal her?'

'No; but if you don't give her to me you may repent it. I shall never ask again.'

'That means he will marry Clara Beamer, and I should repent it then, thought the farmer, as he scratched his head meditatively. Presently he said:

'Eddie, go and call Lucy.' She came out shortly, hanging her head and blushing deeply.

'Lucy, do you want to marry this chimney-sweep?'

'If you please, father.'

'How long will you wait?'

'As long as you say if——'

'If what?'

'If you will let him come over once in a while.'

'And Harry, how long will you wait?'

'One year.'

The farmer scratched his head again. Well, you can have her, and I s'pose I'll have to let you come over as often as you please. But see that you keep out of the smoke-house,' and with that spoken gruffly enough, the farmer walked off.

Harry was soon on his way home whistling merrily, despite his forlorn appearance.

He nearly frightened his mother and sister out of their wits when he bolted into their presence. They listened to his story and at its conclusion agreed with him that although a ludicrous occurrence, it was a very fortunate one.

THE ONTARIO MODEL FARM.

(From the Country Gentleman.)

As may be remembered, the Ontario Government purchased some 550 acres of Moreton Lodge from Mr. F. W. Stone, of Guelph, for a model farm in connection with the Agricultural College. Last year but little was done towards bringing it up to the standard required, as much preparatory work had to be done. A large proportion of the land was in old grass and badly in need of drainage and summer-following, or clearing crops. Mr. James McNair, of Richmond Hill, one of the best working farmers in the country, was appointed Field Superintendent.

On a recent visit to the farm (July 8th), he kindly showed us over the farm, and we were gratified to notice the energetic efforts being constructed of tiles, supplemented by side drains 30 to 40 feet apart. These drainage works were being done by contractors, and we doubted if the main drains were laid deep enough.

The entire field work of the farm, for the season, consists of well prepared and clean land. A finer crop we have not seen anywere. There then were 11 acres of spring wheat, 40 acres of oats, 40 acres of peas and 36 acres being summer-fallowed.

Roots and clearing crops were being largely grown, and the land is in the finest tilth and cleanest culture possible. Twenty-three acres of *

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 19, 1875

THE $425.

The course taken by the Editor of the Review in the matter of the $425 rebate given by Whyte and Davis on the old bridge, and Mr. Carnegie's attempt to injure Mr Cox in connection therewith fully verifies our statements of last week that the Ethiopean cannot change his skin. Mr. Carnegie is the same man he always was—hateful and hating others.

In order that the people of the Town and County may know all the particulars although publishing the evidence before as reported at the time, we have decided to give the evidence as taken by the Judge, so far as Mr. Cox is in any way mixed up with the affair.

Mr. Edwards—after referring to the several items of cost of the Bridge, says: "I produce vouchers for the $601.94 signed by Whyte and Davis, and their receipt of amount as balance due on acct. for bridge. I produce order to make that payment signed by Wm. Toole, Commissioner for Town, dated 18th March, 1872. Check book produced at page 132. I found the entry 18th March: by bridge contract $601.94. I produce the stump of cheque book it shows cash given $176.94 to Whyte & Davis; that was all the money paid then. Balance $425 was paid them by giving up a note made by themselves for that amount to the Town Treasurer. I can't tell the date of the note, don't remember. I have no entry in any book showing any particulars of this note. it was given to me. I was requested to hold it to put it away by Mr. Stevenson. Can't say when. He said it was something about contract as to bridge with Whyte & Davis. It was said to be something as to a reduction to be settled when the contract would be completed. These were all. I was was subsequently instructed by Stevenson and Toole to give it to Whyte & Davis as so much of the balance of $601.94 coming to them, and then Toole gave me the order on 18th March and I made an entry in cash book of having paid out $601.94, although I had paid out 176.94. I had thus $425 more in my hands as Town Treasurer than the cash book accounted for. Subsequently I made no entry in cash book to rectify that amount, and it would still show that amount in my hands. I mean I made no entry until recently. On the 6th of May 1875, I did make entry charged cash, to Otonabee bridge (old rebate) charged twice $425, and that was the same $425 I took credit for on 18th March. When I got instructions to give up note to Whyte & Davis per Stevenson, I said to him what am I to do with this $425? Where am I to enter it? Under what head? He said he did not know. I told him it must be entered somewhere. He said not to enter it now. He charged me to secrecy to say nothing about it, as it would be arranged. I protested against this being kept secret, and I was told it would be all right. I refer to and produce an order to pay O'Beirne to be applied to School Fee Fund, the sum of $425 dated 30th March, 1872, signed Wm. Toole, Jas. Stevenson, A. Smith Scott, Cox. On 25th April I paid O'Beirne cash $425 in pursuance of that order. I said to him I shall give you this money without a receipt for it. He said I must take a receipt for it and he gave me the one produced and I charged it as cash in my book as paid Secretary of School Board, page 194, and at page 97 ledger that same sum is debited to School as money paid them. I never paid out any money since 18th March to any person or persons on account of this $425 without entering it in my cash book. Auditors' report for 1872 produced. It shows at 31st Dec. there was $2943.95 cash in my hands as Treasurer, whereas there was $425 more. Another report for 1873, produced, shows in my hands $1077.30, and that also is $425 less than should have been. I find no reference in the reports to this $425. I acknowledge that I have in my hands of Town money $425.

There is not a word of reference here to Mr. Cox, except that he with three other members of the Town Council signed an order to p it over to Mr. O'Beirne.

Mr. E, Pearse then gave his evidence but in no way connects Mr. Cox with it.

Mr. Toole's evidence in no way connects it with Mr. Cox.

Mr. Davis' does not connect Mr. Cox with it.

James Stevenson's evidence. When the contract was agreed to be given to Whyte & Davis I went out to tell Davis his contract was accepted. Before I had time to speak Davis said if he got the contract he would throw off 5 per cent, that others said they would, and so they could afford to do it. I asked if I would tell the committee he would throw off 5 per cent. He said certainly not. And on the way down I mentioned it to Toole, who said if Davis would give 5 per cent off that he should give it to the Town. A month after I told Davis if he could throw off 5 per cent anything he should give to give it to the town, as the town had no right to pay the one half of cost. I never expected to get anything as he put me off, and nothing more was said until after the contract was taken off their hands, when Davis said if he should make any allowance he would make it to the School. This was three or four days after the contract was taken off his hands. A week after Davis said he would give $425, and would give a due Bill for it. He did so. Can't say whether he or I wrote it. I handed it to Mr. Edwards and told him to deduct that amount from the next payment to be made to Whyte & Davis. I never saw it afterwards. Three or four weeks after Mr. Edwards said to me, "What will I do with the $425 ?" I said to leave it alone. He said he could not put it through his books and wanted to know what to charge with it. Shortly after I sent an order to Edwards to pay O'Beirne the $425. It was signed by myself and the other drawers. I told them Davis was making a present to the School Board. None of them knew anything more about it. I said to Mr. Edwards to be secret as if known the County would want one half of it. It turned out that the School Board got no benefit from it I told those who signed the order that it was a present from Davis to the Schools.

Mr. Stevenson declares that none of those signing of the order to pay it to the School Board knew anything about the money except what he (Stevenson) told them, viz: that it was a gift from Whyte & Davis to the School, and that those most likely persons Mr. Edwards would accept as authority to pay it.

Mr. Cox on his own evidence says: "I do not know out of what moneys Mr. Edwards was to make payment. I do not know that I satisfied myself about it when I signed the order. Seeing the names of Smith, Stevenson & Toole, I probably supposed it right, and signed it." I suppose I would not have signed the order unless satisfied the same was proper authority to Mr. Edwards to pay it. I state that I knew nothing whatever of the existence of a note in Mr Edward's possession. The subject of rebate was never talked of at any committee meeting. The first I heard of it was from Stevenson after the bridge was accepted, to the effect that Whyte & Davis were going to make present to the Town of a Rebate. My recollection of what Stevenson told me was that it was about the time that order bears date and probably on the occasion of signing the order.

Mr. Smith also remembers Mr. Stevenson coming to him with the order to pay the $425 to the School Board. He had signature of members of Town Council and part of the Joint Committee. He had no further knowledge of the matter. Mr. Smith did not act on the Joint Committee and Mr. Cox was not a member of it till the bridge was completed.

THE JUDGE'S DECISION.

To His Honor the Mayor and Councillors of the Town of Peterborough.

Gentlemen—

As requested by the resolution hereto annexed and in accordance with the enactment in the Statute therein referred to, I have made the enquiry and investigation asked for by you and examined on oath all the parties produced before me by your Council. And I now report to you all the evidence obtained in such enquiry and investigation which is also hereunto annexed.

I do not consider that I am called upon to pronounce any judgment, or give any opinion in regard to the matter enquired into or brought to light by the said investigation as shown by the said evidence, by putting you in possession of that evidence, as I understand, my duties as to it are fulfilled. I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

(Signed) ROBT. DENNISTOUN,
County Judge Peterborough.

Is it not evident, therefore, that Mr. Cox was completely innocent of any knowledge of the object of the order when signing it, and that he considered that as the others had signed it, it was all right.

The meanness of the attempt to connect Mr. Cox with any evil purpose in signing the order cannot be too strongly designated and could only be done by men lost to all sense of truth or fair play.

WEST PETERBOROUGH ELECTION TRIAL.

On Wednesday, Chief Justice Draper delivered the judgment on the personal charges.

He found all points in favor of Mr. Cox except the Taylor matter, and as to this he left it as a question of law to be decided by the Court of Appeal whether the act of Mr. Taylor in going to North Monaghan to vote, he having previously sold his property, was a corrupt act within the meaning of the Statute.

If it is a corrupt act then Mr. Scott sent two persons with certificates from the returning officer to vote at places where they never had votes, after they had parted with the property they had qualified on, and is thus in the same position as Mr. Cox. It is satisfactory to know that the plot to destroy Mr. Cox on testimony like Drake and Woods has signally failed. The fact that the County Judge saw no reason to pronounce a judgment affords ample proof that he saw nothing to find fault with.

WHO IS THE CANDIDATE FOR THE EAST RIDING.

Reform electors, a Reform Candidate will be chosen in a few days. Do not allow your opponents to deceive you in any way. There will be a Reform Candidate and with your help he will be elected.

The majority is not so large that we need fear, there are Reform votes enough in Dummer to defeat any candidate that may be brought out against us. Dr. O'Sullivan will not be the Conservative Candidate it is hinted. He is not quite happy over this matter. He spurned his countrymen and co-religionists, last time; took Mr. Carnegie for his contessor, played traitor to them whenever he could, and now he fears the reckoning. He may yet retire and allow his confessor to take his place. But in any case there will be a Reform candidate in the field. Buckle on your armor and be ready. A dash and victory will be the reward. Less talk and more work and a triump is a certainty.

There is no candidate out yet in the East Riding on either side. Rumor points still to Norwood for a candidate, and if tactics will permit it, the Review office might supply one. The matter is quite undecided. The Doctor and his creature are awaiting revelations, but a few days will bring matters to a crisis.

EAST RIDING.

There will be a convention of delegates held at Norwood soon, to choose a Candidate to contest the East Ridin gin the Reform interest. Full particulars will appear next week.

In the meantime the townships should select three delegates for every one hundred voters on their lists, who may be ready to give advice in the selection of a proper person. There need be no uneasiness on this head, but there need be no great haste. As to the last majority, it was nothing to speak of. In 1867 Mr. Grover had nearly 400 of a majority, in 1871 only 48, and in 1874 was left 113 behind. One days steady work will leave the Doctor and his guide in a hopeless minority.

The action of Mr. Carnegie in selling himself in the hope of securing the Doctor's friends for himself, is sure to produce reaction, and will end in the defeat of both.

NORTH VICTORIA

(By Special Telegram to the Examiner)

On North Victoria case respondent Smith held guilty of Bribery by agency of Malcom McDougall who treated on polling day at Coboconk. Mackenzie Q. C. for respondent. Having called attention to fact that McDougall's act had not been particularized. Judgement was suspended until to-morrow at noon. In recriminatory charges against petitioner McRae, that relating to the act of an agent McFayden was held fatal.

O'CONNELL'S CENTENNIAL

The centennial anniversary of this great Irish Statesman has this year been honored by his fellow countrymen at home and abroad. Public meetings have been held in every country where Britain has either made a foothold or found a settlement. In Canada especially has the day been honored and orations delivered in praise of the Liberator, as he is often styled, by his own people. It is really a harmless way of spending a day, and if it should be the means of inculcating the virtues, the love of country, and the blending of strong sympathies of true patriots, then will it have served a good purpose by teaching men to forget self in their efforts to release their fellow men from thraldom political, social, or dogmatical, which are calculated to rob them of the nobler instincts and lofty ambition of making their country and humanity the better of their existence.

No one would seek to prevent any class of our citizens immortalizing the memory of any man whose virtue and honor and rectitude are calculated to render such memories worthy to be handed down to posterity. But when these occasions are seized as fitting opportunities to sow the seeds of antagonism to British law or to strengthen the prejudices that have been imported from the Gem of the sea, then there is danger in their existence, as they are calculated to injure the very cause which they are intended to promote. In too many cases, as reported, the orations have been little less than tirades against British rule in Ireland and that to a degree at once offensive and dangerous. English Rule or what they call misrule, is charged with the misery, poverty, landlord system and agrarian outrages which render the people unhappy the landlords unsafe and their lives uncertain. There are other causes however for the past and present state of Ireland, which a great many of her sons are unwilling to acknowledge as having a very important and powerful influence to that end. Would it not be well then to use those occasions of reviewing either the history of Ireland or of any of her honored sons to enquire more closely into those other evils, and thus by exposing them, take one step towards their eradication. The bigotry and intolerance of creeds have played no small part in the history of Ireland's present misgovernment, and perhaps it is just as well to acknowledge that this religious intolerance and consequent arraying of man against man, have not been confined wholly to one creed. And but for this, what is prevent Irishmen in Canada controling the affairs of State instead of continually complaining that Scotchmen step in and carry off the honors and the prizes? Is it not the same divisions of sentiment and faith that prohibits confidence and arouses suspicions of treachery and danger in the land whence they came? If Irishmen in Canada were not separated by the impassable gulf of religious bigotry and the dead suspicions of religious persecutions and tyranny, what could prevent them uniting and electing almost every Legislator, securing every office of value and governing the country at their will? The existence of these evils prevents their union in Canada, and prevents Ireland securing all she could desire for herself in the parliament of the Empire.

At present Canada is agitated by the same evils, and they are founded on the same basis, religious differences and distrusts, and they cannot be the friends of Canada or of the Irish people who seek to extend and perpetuate the cause of these differences. In Toronto and Ottawa it is said two protestants were found willing to become ministers to cater to the discontent and dissatisfaction of the Irish people. They certainly had strange ideas of their mission, but nevertheless one of them did make a speech which could not be designated otherwise than seditious. The only effect of this is to fix more deeply the discontents, and to make them believe that they are not dealt justly with here. It will bear repeating here, however, that it is not much the tyranny of England as the tyranny of bigotry that leaves Ireland as she is; and nothing will sooner elevate her to her true position among the nations than cultivating union and confidence, forgetting religious differences and aiming at a national rather than a personal influence as the latter is the only object of too many who pretend to be patriots.

It will perhaps be said that Orangemen should show the example by refraining from public demonstrations. The demonstration by either party is a trifle not worth referring to. It is the inflammatory speech, the bitterness that is engendered, the passions aroused by whiskey and the rancour that follows, that are required to be done away, while both should be ready to defend by sound argument the faith that is in them, neither should be more ready to take offence at the orange or green banner than at the orange flower or green leaves that adorn our Canadian landscape. Orange speeches are loyal. Pepper's was not, neither Globe nor Mail dare publish it.

GROSS DECEPTION

In the history of newspapers a gross piece of deception could hardly be found, than in the following paragraph, from the Belleville Intelligencer, in reference to the South Victoria Election.

In addition to these influences, others equally as powerful were brought to bear. In a constituency like South Victoria, where the lumbering interest is so strong and where public works are so much required, the idea of having a Cabinet minister to represent them was all powerful, and brought Mr. Wood influences and votes which he would not otherwise have received. Among these influences were inducements held out to the people that by electing Mr. Wood, they would receive "great material advantages," in the shape of "grants of money" for "roads" "railways," "tramways from Bobcaygeon to the iron mines," "money to complete the water improvements," "subsidies for explorations" "for surveys" "for geological surveys"—a subject by the way which belongs to the Dominion Government—and money for the "development of minerals." These and other inducements were held out as a "reasonable chance of obtaining," if they elected Mr. Wood, hence the "happy chance" was seized and the vote cast for Mr. Wood.

That there may be no mistake in the position in which the electors were placed, we give an extract from a paper printed in South Victoria, which contains as palpable a bribe as ever was offered, and which, if offered by an agent of a candidate, would render the election void. This Grit journal discourses the following fashion.

"First then, we find that Mr. Wood is our present member; that the Premier has invited him to become a member of the Government; that he has accepted the office of Provincial Secretary and that he now asks for re-election. This is the first time in her history that Victoria has had the honor of being represented by a Cabinet Minister; it is the first time she has ever had the chance of obtaining from the Government the means of improving her position, of developing her resources, and of giving a merchantable value to the raw material she possesses in such abundance. The appointment of Mr. Wood to office,—a gentleman who is well acquainted with the resources of this section of the country and with the best means of developing them a commercial value,—is the first chance that has happened since the county was formed. It is beyond question a rare and short fortune for this county, and should have opened, and the whole country can fall to perceive great material advantages from Mr. Wood's position in the Government. We want grants of money both for roads and for railways, we want aid to make a tramway from Bobcaygeon to the iron mines; we want moneys to complete the water improvements; we want subsidies for explorations, for surveys, for geological investigations, and, the development of minerals." With Mr. Wood in the Government there is a reasonable chance of obtaining such aid. Why, then, should we not seize this happy chance and vote for Mr. Wood?"

Now it is well known that the extract is from the Bobcaygeon "Independent" which is a most rabid conservative journal, under its present management, but, which for reasons well known near home at the time supported Mr. Wood. It said to reflect on means used by the opposition press to mislead the electors of Ontario, and when a journal of the respectability of the "Intelligencer" will resort to such means what may be expected from the small fry that have not yet established a character for faithfulness in political matters? Will the "Intelligencer" in its next issue make the correction and tell its readers that a conservative journal (not a grit one) discoursed in the above fashion, and that in South Victoria the reason is well known.

Communications were read from John E Belcher, Esq. Town Engineer calling the attention of the Council to the arches being built over a portion of the creek adjoining Simcoe street, by Mr. Phelan. After some discussion whether Mr. Phelan could build the arch to suit himself or not it was referred to the town solicitor for advice.

The amendment was declared carried and the motion lost.

Moved by Mr. Helm, seconded by Mr Cahill—That the Inspector be permitted to avail himself of the advantage of stuff to be had from a cellar being now excavated by Mr. Corkery to fill up a hole in front of Mr. Cox property on Park street provided the same can be done at a cost not to exceed $7.—Carried.

The By-law was read and the blanks filled in, when the Committe rose and the Chairman reported By-law read a second time without amendment.

On motion the Council adjourned for two weeks.

OUR LITERARY TABLE.

USEFUL BOOKS.—We have received a copy of "Care of the Sick" and "Accidents, Emergencies and Poisons," from the head office of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., New York. They are distributed free to their policy holders, and we should think will prove themselves very valuable if carefully studied.

THE NEW DOMINION MONTHLY has been enlarged. It is one of our best family Magazines, containing good family reading, and is very moderate in price.

VICKS FLORAL GUIDE.—The last number of this Guide for 1875 is now on our table. The lovers of flowers should not fail to attain a copy. It is beautifully illustrated. Its descriptive Catalogue of seeds and Flowers and the instruction in floral culture are of great value.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE for September, is now before us. It is one of the best of the American Magazines. Always neatly illustrated, and contains information of valuable to either general or special reader. All the Harper's publication are worthy of a place in every house.

THE LAKEFIELD NEWS.—We have received the first copy of the Lakefield News. It is printed on Double Demy and has a respectable appearance, professes to be non political, but makes no promises for its future course. It is published by Mr. J. H. Sharin. The Lakefield people must bear in mind that the success of the News will depend on their liberality.

Just think of it! It costs one million two hundred and fifty thousand and eighty-nine dollars and ten cents to keep the women of this country in imported corsetin for one year. What a waste.—

NEWS OF THE WEEK

BEARA.

BEAR SCOPE.—Messrs. Hargreave and Warren, of Marmora, had a bear scope on Friday night last. The bear was first seen by a young lad named Bailey, who was walking in the bush. Bruin walked towards the lad, and seeing a sheep dropped on its fore knees, threw it, placed one paw on its breast and reaching back to the rear, stripped off the skin in less time than it takes to tell it. A large steer that had been mixed with the sheep then came up, and seeing the state of affairs ran to the rescue of his foster-by-ther, and bear and steer had an up and down fight, but getting a few sound blows on the nose, the steer gave back, leaving his bearship in undisputed possession of his prey. The young man recovering from his surprise, now ran for help from the above named gentlemen, and rushing into the house of Mr. H., he asked if he was home, and stating by way of apology, that a large bear was tearing a sheep to pieces down in the road. On hearing the word "bear" a large dog that was lying apparently asleep sprang up, and giving a suspicious sniff, started off of his own accord. Messrs. H. and W. having been hailed, the three men ran to the encounter and soon came to the scene of action and found the dog engaged in a close fight with the intruder, but soon brought the battle to a close, and Bruin's carcass which weighed 270 lbs, found a resting place in Orillia.—Canadian Post.

KINMOUNT

I am happy to inform you that Mr. W. Robinson, the Road Commissioner on the Monck Road, east, has obtained authority to expend $500 on the Monck Road between Kinmount and the Burleigh Road. I also hear that his repair of the road from Cheddar east has given great satisfaction. Now that the road is, or shortly will be, in good repair, it is intended to establish a mail line along the entire length.

CAMPBELLFORD.

EXTENSIVE ROBBERY.—The house of Abraham Waller, at the Narrows, on the river Trent, in the township of Seymour, was entered on the night of Aug. 13th. by some person or persons unknown, and the sum of $3,000 abstracted from his desk. There is no clue whatever to the perpetrators.

COBOURG.

THE NEW HARBOR.—Work on the new pier is progressing very favorably, twenty-six cribs having been sunk up to Thursday last, containg 51,140 cubic feet of timber and 4,373 yards of stone. The contractors have now on the ground ready for the work, 58,358 cubic feet of timber, together with 13,000 feet on schooner in harbor, and 2,296 yards of stone. The weather has for the past nine or ten days been very unfavorable for sinking cribs, but the superstructure of crib number 27 was sunk yesterday.

PERTH FALLS

A WINDMILL.—Mr. Wm. Hamilton, of the Fenelon Falls foundry, has just completed a windmill, which he intends shall run his machinery, and which is undoubtedly the cheapest, if not the most reliable "motor" he can obtain. As the foundry stands on the edge of Cameron Lake, it is exposed to the full sweep of the winds from several directions, and the first trial on Tuesday last, was perfectly satisfactory. —Gazette,

Rochester Races.

The attendance at the driving park on Saturday was large. The unfinished race for the 2:29 class was first called, Rarus having two heats, Mollie Morris and Eva one. Rarus won the heat. The free-for all race brought out Goldsmith Maid, Lulu, Nettie, and American Girl. Lulu broke up badly on scoring. The first heat was won by the Maid in 2:15¼, with American Girl, who had lead at half, a good second; Lulu, third; and Nettie, fourth. The second heat was won by Lulu in 2:16¼, beating the Maid by half length, amid the wildest excitement; Nettie, third and the Girl fourth. The third heat was won by Lulu in 2:15¾. She crossed the score a length and a half ahead of the Maid, Nettie third, and American Girl just saved her distance. The fourth heat and race was won by Lulu in 2:17, leading the Maid by a head only, American Girl third and Nettie last. These are the best four consecutive heats on record, and Lulu has taken the place of the Maid as the Queen of the trotting turf. Time in full as follows—First heat—Quarter 33; half, 1:06; three quarters, 1:40; mile, 2:15¾. Second heat—Quarter, 33½; half 1:07 three quarters 1:41½; mile, 2:16¼. Third heat—Quarter, 34½; half, 1:07½; three-quarters, 1:40½; mile, 2:15¾. Fourth heat —Quarter, 34; half, 1:07½ three-quarters, 1:44; mile, 2:17. The 2:34 race was won by Nerea in 2:28, 2:26½, and 2:23¼. Hall took the first heat in 2.26. Frank Munson won th third money and Clifton Boy fourth.

A Carlist Victory.

PARIS, Aug 14.—A battle has taken place between the Carlists and Government troops at Ardeina, in which the Carlists were victorious; driving the Alfonsists off the field with considerable slaughter. They captured a number of prisoners, boskies artillery and ammunition stores.

A striking example of the dearth of employment for laboring men in and around the city was shown at the lot of small tenture labor contracts, which Mr. A. M. Ross, Reeve of London East, condemned in the northern part of that municipality on Saturday afternoon. A large number of these were let out, and there was such a competition that the contracts were disposed of at very low prices, at least one-fourth less than expected.

A Bishop Expelled from his Diocese—The old Catholic Conference.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A special from Berlin says that the Bishop of Guhen, who has been acting to some extent for Archbishop Ledochowskee has been expelled from the province comprising his diocese by a decree of the Governor.

BONN, Aug. 13.—The Old Catholic Conference was occupied to-day in discussing the question of the procession of the Holy Ghost. The Conference has nearly agreed to a formula concerning it, which will be submitted to-morrow, to which the eastern and western churches may jointly subscribe.

A fast Chap.

Early on Monday, the 9th, Mary Ann Weiss who had exhibited signs of insanity left her home with her child, aged ten months. In the evening the body of the child was found in the North River and to day the body of Mrs. Weiss was found in almost the same locality.

The Lumber Trade.

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—The Citizen's lumber report contains the following:—"There is nothing but continued dullness to report in the lumber trade. The Chaudiere men say there are neither rates nor quotations to give, as they will not sell at the price offered, and some of them are afraid to part with their lumber to many of the buyers from the Eastern States except for cash or gilt edge paper. A few of the Chaudiere men are now shipping deals to Quebec in consequence of the prospects for a rise in the market when the fall trade commences. It is feared that the mill-owners will have to resort to extreme measures to keep down the supply of lumber, as they say the price now offered is less than the logs cost them at the mill before they are put through the saws. A meeting of the executive committe of the Timber and Lumber Association is to be called shortly to consider the matter, and it may result in a determination to shut down the mills immediately for the remainder of the season. It is a trying time for the trade, and many small capitalists who embarked in the manufacture of lumber three years ago will be ruined. During the period between 1865 and 1871 there were was no more prosperous business in Canada than the lumber trade, and fortunes were made so rapidly by those who were engaged in it, that every one who had capital to invest in the Ottawa Valley, put it into lumber lands and saw mills. The result is that from Montreal to Pembroke the banks of the river and its tributaries became dotted with saw mills wherever steam or water power could be utilized, until strangers imagined that the people of this district did nothing but lumber. It has now come to such a pass that only the firms with the best facilities will weather through, while small manufacturers will go to the wall. Veteran lumbermen who have been in the business for the last twenty-five or thirty years are quietly saying that they never knew such dismal times before, and they know that the re-action cannot come before another year has passed.

Carlist Retreat and Retreat.

MADRID, Aug. 14.—General Quesada after a sharp fight has captured the Carlist position at Lemos.

The Carlist force mentioned on the 10th as [illegible] surprising the Alfonsist [illegible] village of San D'Urgel, to the [illegible] this three leagues off, has [illegible] and, but the movements of the royal army again accomplished their retreat to the mountains.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The Carlist Committee here report that they have received official advices from the commander of the troops defending San D'Urgel, to the effect that the Alfonsists have captured one of his positions and have lost 1,500 men during the siege. The citadel and fort are intact. The garrison has 45 guns, and is well supplied with ammunition and provisions. One of the Alfonsist batteries has been silenced. The besieged have made several sorties with success.

The Lost Balloonists

CHICAGO, August 7.—A special despatch to the Chicago Evening Journal from Whiteland, Mich., says, the body of N S Grinwood, who ascended with Pros. Donaldson in his ill-fated balloon, was found yesterday on the beach of Lake Michigan, near Stony Creek. by Mr. A. Beckenoth. The body was fully dressed with exception of the boots or shoes. Letters belonging to Grinwood and notes of his balloon trip were found on the body fully establishing its identity.

Spread of the Sclavonic Insurrection.

LONDON, Aug. 18, 6 a. m.—A special despatch to the News from Vienna says that the Bosnian insurrection is spreading. The towns of Berpier, Dobiesa, and Kostainiesa are in flames. Many Turkish nobles have been slaughtered. Large numbers of Crostians have joined the insurgents and it is feared that the outbreak will assume the character of a religious war.

The old Heroes.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—Among the veterans of 1812, paid off recently in the County of Glengarry, was a Frenchman whose age was ascertained to be 103years. He was hale and comparatively active, his only defect being deafness. The united ages of the veterans in Carleton and Russell counties reach 1, 669 years, or an average of 82 years and nine months each.

The old heroes in the vicinity of Niagara are the next on the list to be paid.

Crop Report.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The Mark Lane Express in its review of the crops for the past week says the unsettled weather has been very unfavourable for harvest work, which is everywhere delayed, and the high temperature has put wheat in some danger of sprouting, while its condition must be necessarily unsatisfactory. The London market from the constant arrival of foreign grains has not shown activity or a tendency upward. The Paris market has felt some reaction and rates have given way one shilling and one shilling and six pence per quarter. It now seems confirmed there as well as here that neither samples nor quantity will come up to last year, while the condition is greatly jeopardised where gatherings are not complete. In Austria and Hungary the same sort of result is looked upon as certain, and northern Europe has had much the same sort of weather, therefore the samples must partially be affected. Russia reports a very unequal growth, being most affected by very early drought, the damage from which subsequent rains could not repair. Belgium and Holland have been much interfered with in their harvests and the spread of the potato diseasd is no longer doubtful.

A Fatal Boiler Explosion.

KNOXVILLA, Tenn, Aug. 16.—The steamer Hugh Martin exploded her boiler at Washington landing on the Tennessee river on Saturday afternoon, causing the complete wreck of the boat. Captain Fritts, one passenger, one engineer, from the Cincinnati Southern Railroad, and a boy and man standing on the bank were killed. Several of the boat's crew, and passengers were more or less injured.

Another Insurrection.

VIENNA, Aug. 16.—A despatch from Agram reports, that an insurrection has broken out in Turkish Croatia, in the district between Kastainje and Dubecsa, along the Austrian frontier. The insurgents had surprised a guard house, killed the guards and seized their arms.

Railroad Engine Explosion.

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—The freight engine standing in Fitchburg Railroad yard at Charlestown, blew up yesterday afternoon with terrific violence. The engineer and fireman were blown to the top of the car in rear of the tender; but strangely, escaped serious injury. The brakeaman who was on the engine was, however, horribly scalded, but may possibly recover. The violence of the explosion was so great as to blow a fragment weighing 200 lbs. through the wall of the freight house twenty feet distant; the rails were torn from the track beside the engine and bent as though made of lead; and one piece of the boiler, weighing 32 lbs., was blown into the air and fell nearly a quarter of a mile from the scene.

Terrible Hurricane.

LONDON, Aug. 14, 5 a. m.—A dispatch to the Standard reports a hurricane and hailstorm at Ponters, twenty miles northwest of Paris. Houses were unroofed and windows and chimneys were everywhere demolished. In the surrounding country for a distance of several miles cattle were killed, and fruit trees and vines destroyed. A number of people were badly injured by hailstones, which were of enormous size, and it is feared that some will die from the injuries. The tempest lasted only half an hour, but the damage caused in that time is estimated at $100,000.

A Religious War.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—A special despatch to The News from Vienna says, the Bosnian insurrection is spreading. The towns of Berbier, Dubiesa and Kostainicze are in flames. Many Turkish nobles have been slaughtered. Large numbers of Crostians have joined the insurgents, and it is feared that the outbreak will assume the character of a religious war.

The Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 1, 1875.

Personal.

Miss L. Johnston, of Peterboro, has received an appointment in the Lakefield School.

Fire in Cobourg

The Cobourg Drill Shed was consumed by fire last week. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

A Tramp.

A tramp named Dr. Cunningham, has been sent to jail from Bowmanville, for stealing a set of surgical Instruments.

Personal.

Mr. M. P. Jordan, lately of Peterboro, has kindly sent us several papers from his section of Michigan, for which we tender him our thanks.

The Army Worm

Has reached Cape Breton and in some parts of Nova Scotia farmers have been working night and day to secure their crops from their ravages

Cornwall

A protest has been entered against the return of John G. Snetsinger, Esq., member elect for Cornwall. He was elected instead of Mr. McIntyre, who was unseated for corrupt practices by agents.

Suicide.

A Broker in Toronto, named Ross shot himself on Monday, while in Delirium Tremens. He leaves a wife and three children. It is said that he drank liquor on Saturday until it ran out of his mouth freely.

Burglary in Persey.

We regret to learn that the house of Mr. Abraham Waller, at the Narrows on the Trent, was entered Sunday night and $3900 stolen therefrom. The perpetrator must have known something about the money being there.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. James Sheridan, piano tuner for Messrs. A. & S. Nordheimer, between Toronto and Kingston, will visit Peterborough regularly until further notice. All orders left at Mathias & Reid's Book store will be attended to promptly.

Joseph Valois

Referred to in our last issue for attempting a rape on his own daughter has been sentenced to 18 months in the Central Prison, but it is said the authorities there will not receive him, as he has but one hand, and cannot work at a trade. It is a small loss where Joe is sent.

Pictures

Mr. R. Thompson, has got into his new gallery over A. Cox's Boot & Shoe store, entrance north of S. Hymans Hat store. It is fitted up with the most modern apparatus, and he is now prepared to furnish pictures in the best style of the art. All should call and see him in his new place.

Accident

A sad accident has occured at Uxbridge Mrs, Hillborne, who with her husband were the oldest settlers in that place, died on Saturday, aged 84. Her daughter, Mrs. Hall, while attending the funeral yesterday, was thrown out of the buggy through the horse taking fright, and will probably not recover from the injuries she has thus sustained.

Incestuous.

One Dennis Crimmins, residing near the station was brought before Mr. Hatton P. M. on Monday, charged with incestuous connections with his sister the day previously. There were several witnesses who appeared to have been eye witnesses of the deed. Whiskey guess; sent up for trial. He claims to be an adopted child. He is a hard case and has been up several times before.

Fallen.

The Court House and the whole surroundings, sheds, stables and all the outbuildings are just as they were when last seen, but the flag pole is fallen; neither loyalty nor disloyalty, grit nor tory can any more give expression to his feelings on that flag pole. It's down cause unsoundness at the base owing to the action of the air, earth and water on the woody fibre causing rottenes. A new one is wanted.

Valuable Farms

It will be observed by the advertisment in our columns and from posters, that on Tuesday, 7th of September, (Fair Day), a number of valuable farms all within three miles of Peterborough, are to be sold by public auction at Morgan's Hotel. As Peterborough is bound to be a City, all lands in the neighbourhood will advance in value. The lands are good and well situated; and will, we are informed, be sold for whatever they will fetch as the sale is preemptory.

Shut your Windows.

On Monday night last some person or persons, unknown did enter the residence of one of our citizens, in the South Western part of the Town, by his rosen window, took his pants and vest into another room, extracted from the pockets a $2 bill, some silver leaving by the door which he left open after him. The party must have known the way of the house pretty well, and the hour must have been a very opportune one, when all were in a deep sleep.

Toronto Parliament Building

The Nation suggests the wisdom of the erection of a new commodious and well ventilated parliament building in Toronto while labour and material are cheap. It further suggests the idea of plans with a view of Toronto being the Capital of the Dominion, and that the House of Commons may meet there, as more central than at Ottawa. The hint may not be lost sight of, as the present parliament house is far from being what it ought to be. It is old badly dilapidated and ventilated.

Using the Wrong Name.

Silas Bernhaem was brought up for trial by James Edwards, Esq., on Tuesday last, on the charge of forgery, in connection with Insurance business. Application is being made to get him out on bail Adam Scott is also in Jail on a charge of putting his brother's name to a note. Montreal has had an extensive series of forgeries by the Hon M. Desmarles, to the extent of about $40,000. And in England a member of a very large firm has been found guilty of forging paper to the amount of $1,250,000.

Personal.

Dr. Clarke, son of John Clarke, Esq., of Ashburnham, has returned after a severe illness to Iroquois to resume his professional duties; and we are pleased to see has been honored by his friends there in a very becoming manner, as the following paragraph from the Morrisburg Courier testifies.—"Our friend Dr. Clarke has resumed his professional duties at Iroquois. He appears to have quite recovered from his recent severe illness. Last Wednesday afternoon, upon his arrival he was met at the station by a number of his friends, and invited to a banquet, which was held in the evening, and which, we learn, was a very pleasant affair." Dr. Clarke is deservedly popular with all classes of people, and we are glad to learn that he has secured an excellent practice. He richly deserves it."

The Doctor

We gave currency last week to what was rumored at every corner in January last that Dr. O'Sullivan had entered into a promise to support an Orange Bill if elected. His organ does not deny it and his father confessor—Mr. John Carnegie is also silent on the matter. His co-religionists are anxious to know the truth of the matter, and await an answer. The silence of Confessor O'Carnegie and his protege Dr. O'Sullivan confirms the truthfulness of the report, and now there need be no doubt on the matter. We may now safely affirm what a leading supporter of the Doctor's told us during last election that the Dr. did promise support to an Orange Bill. A day or two since another supporter of the Doctor, but of a different creed to the first supporter, intimated that his intention was to absent himself on such vote and thus not vote against it. Really what intended shuffling! If one vote should be required, good by Orange Bill, and if one vote should be required for its defeat, good by Catholic principles. The Dr. did make the promise, by his silence he says he did, and confessor O'Carnegie does not deny it.

NORWOOD.

P. M. Grover has offered his services to the party of progress it is said, if required to preserve it from defeat in the approaching contest. The Orangemen can't help but vote for him if he becomes a candidate, for he nobly kept the Sabbath day in his contest with Mr. Ingram. He always keeps the 4th Commandment by going to Church on Sunday; but is not exact which one if it would gain votes and afford an opportunity to get teams to draw voters. And Catholics can't help but support the man who on the Sabbath went to their sanctuary even if for world ly purposes. Mr. P. M. Grover, should become a candidate again, so that he might learn how much the people admire him. Yes: he is willing to sacrifice his ease and devote Sabbaths to the cause of Progress Some wag has already cruelly hinted that he should search up his speeches in the commons for use in the Local Legislature. Shame.

REV. B. DAVIES, LL.D

(A Letter from Dr. Crump to the Halifax Christian Messenger.)

MY DEAR SIR.—Intelligence of the death of my highly esteemed brother, the Rev. Dr. Davies, has just reached me, and I hasten to pen a few lines in memoriam.

Dr. Davies was a native of Wales. He studied for the ministry at the Baptist College, Bristol, England, and afterwards pursued further enquiries, chiefly in the languages on the Continent.

In 1838 he came across the Atlantic and settled at Montreal, where, in conjunction with other brethern, whose memories are still fondly cherished, he assisted in founding the Baptist College in that city, and became its first president. He left Montreal a few years after to undertake the presidency of Stepney College, London. In subsequent years he filled the post of Classical Professor in the McGill College, Montreal. In the year 1857 he joined Dr. Angus in Regent's Park College, London, and discharged the duties of Classical and Oriental Tutor with great efficiency till his death.

When the companies of revisors of the authorized version were formed, and learned men of different denominations were invited to join ministers of the Church of England in that undertaking, Dr. Davies was appointed a member of the "Old Testament Company," and regularly attended its meetings.

Dr. Davies, contributions to the literature of the period were not numerous, but always of a practically useful character. Students of the Hebrew language were indebted to him for translation of Roediger's Edition of Gesenius' Hebrew Grammer. In 1872 he published the "Student's Hebrew Lexicon," a very serviceable volume, furnishing to young men, at a moderate price, the means of acquiring accurate knowledge of the venerable tongue in which prophets "spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

Dr. Davies was held in great respect and esteem by his brethern. He lived a quiet life—loving and being loved—a steady worker for god. He rarely engaged in dispute, and when he did—as in that controversial age will sometimes fall to the lot of even the most peaceable—he was careful to mingle the mild with the firm—and though he would not "sell" the truth, he shrank from defending it by unlovely measures, and was not eager to have the last word. He exemplified in an eminent degree "the meekness and gentleness of Christ," and it is not know that he had an enemy.

Dr. Davies died on the 19th ult.

CANADIAN MOB LAW

In Montreal, the agitation against the Health By-law and compulsory vaccination culminated on Monday evening in a violent interruption of the meeting of the Council. Stones were thrown, windows smashed, and several members received slight injuries—Not a single whole window-pane of the Council Chamber remains to-day. Chief Penton and about a dozen policemen were present, but they were totally unable to quell the mob which had gathered round the City Hall to the number of four thousand. On the attempt to arrest one of the rioters Detective Cullen was seriously injured by a large stone striking him on the forehead. The City Councilors became intimidated, and after unsuccessful efforts to postpone taking action on the by-law until next meeting it finally received the six months' hoist. The result of the vote on the by-law having been communicated to the mob, they left the City Hall and proceeded to the residence and apothecary's shop of Dr. Larocque, a leading supporter of the Health By-law, and is strongly in favor of compulsory vaccination In a few minutes the windows of his house were broken in, and the contents of his drug shop smashed to pieces. The rioters consisted wholly of French Canadians from the east end of the city.

THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it; I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Hart, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. W. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes. "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

THE CAVALRY CHARGE AT BALACLAVA.

BY REV GEORGE HILL.

Light Dragoons—Hussars and Lancers—
Dare ye trample your hostile phalanx?
Never will these noble paladins
Bear you to your ranks again.
Lo, the polished cuirasses, ready
To give fire at the Ishmaelite flank:
Lo, the bristling bayonets, steady,
To receive your headlong dash!

"Comrades, rather than thus mock us
With those backs and scurvy of fear,
Let Ali Bahadour's cohorse
Thunder out one Bismark cheer!"
Gallantly ground each stalwart rider
As on that dread charge they go—
And they've stands near them prouder
While they near the Russians foe.

Naught we hear but armour ringing,
Naught we can but flashing bright,
As, into a center springing,
Furiously they rend the light.
Mad already are the combatants,
Heads the whistling bullet's strew:
But they know their hearts steeds appealing
They, too, sweep into the melee.

Crash! The Cossacs fly before them—
Chaff before the whirling gale;
Now the thunder closes o'er them,
And the shot comes on like hail.
"Charge the guns in front!" No sooner
Said, than in, the fast is done.
There has many a Russian gunner
Shrieved, cleft, hands bit gun.

Light Dragoons, Hussars and Lancers—
Gallop to your ranks again;
Ye have spurred your noble prancers,
Ye have brandied your swords in vain
No reserves! No time for showing
Where or how to take your ground;
See, the Muscovites are flowing
Fiercely, fleshy, all around!

There is room for one wild sally
Make it—ye have made it well
Now, of Balaclava's valley
History has more to tell.
Proudly will the thrilling story
In the distant years be told,
How these riders wrung their glory
From the cannon's mouth of old.

THE FINANCIAL DIFFICULTY.

The stringency which had occurred in the fall of 1871 and '72 was significant of the approaching absorption by expanding credit of the legally limited amount of paper currency. In the summer of 1873 the Granger agitation at the West frightened investors from railroad bonds, and crippled the enterprises which depended on the continuance of these investments for funds. The rebuilding of Chicago and Boston had also caused a great absorption of circulating capital. September 8 the New York Warehouse and Security Company failed, followed by one or two firms involved in railroad construction. Confidence in persons known to be burdened in this way was impaired, and a run on them for deposits began. September 18 J. Cooke and Co. succumbed to this demand, and a panic followed. The country depositors began to run on their banks, though without panic. The country banks called for their balances, and the city banks called their funds in from the brokers; On the 20th the Union Trust Company suspended, followed by two or three other banks and trust companies. The panic on the Exchange was so great that the Exchange was closed, and remained closed for 10 days. The Gold Exchange closed on Monday the 22nd, gold at 112. On the 20th the Associated Banks formed an alliance by which 7 per cent certificates were issued for seventy-five per cent of the value of securities deposited by any bank, which certificates were good for Clearing-house balances; $22,000,000 of them were issued before the tide turned. The President and Secretary were in New York on the 21st, but refused to draw on the $44,000,000 The Secretary ordered bonds to be bought as a measure of relief, and $12,000,000 were bought. This depleted the cash on hand, and before January 2 he was obliged to issue over $26,000,000 of the $44,000,000 for current expenses. This carried the greenbacks up to $382,000,000. The suspension of paper payments by the banks lasted until November 22. Meanwhile the crisis was affecting industry in all forms. It produced a general doubt of the status and of the future. Hours of labor and wages were reduced and workmen discharged. The lack of reviving courage and enterprise has been very marked, and is due to nothing else than the general feeling that there can be no permanent cure until the financial problem is solved. The failures in 1873 were 5183, liabilities $228,100,000; those in 1874, 5830, liabilities, 155,200,000. The act of January 14, 1875, specified January 1, 1870, as the day for resuming specie payments.

The people of a new country are not likely to be very careful financers. They have no traditions to carry down the warning of the past. They are not trained to look back or to look forward. They do not look back, because the great achievements of yesterday only provoke a smile to-day. They do not look forward, because they trust their power to deal with whatever may come. We must not expect that it is inconsistent with the conditions. If we look to the past, there has been a great progress. The theories on which the colonists based their paper 'banks' obtain no attention from no sober men to-day. The banks, whatever their faults, are not like those of 1616, nor yet like those of 1836. On the other hand, we are still struggling with the problems of currency and taxation and debt. A student of our past history can hardly expect that these will be solved by a heroic effort, but by a long and painful growth up to the conviction that financial make-shifts do not pay, and that the first condition of dealing successfully with financial difficulty is to get free exercise of the national productive powers.—Professor W. G. Sumner, in "Harper's Magazine" for September.

CAN WE SPEAK ENGLISH.

In our daily conversation we disfigure it with all varieties of slang, masculine or femenine, as the case may be—one as bad as the other. We disregard its delicate shades of meaning, we do all we can to deprive it of all force by our careless use of its terms, we load it with provincialisms and foreign phrases, and then we scornfully turn our backs upon it as if it were an old worn-out servant who may have been of use to scrub our floors or sweep our base-yards. We hire foreign nurses for our children, so that the first words they utter shall be either a French or German dialect, and we boast of the fact that these children talk only French or German, and "do not understand one word of English.

Esau sold his birthright, but he hardly considered it a good bargain. We are not so wise as he yet, for we have not yet reached the recognition of our terrible blunder by the mourning which showed that he was in reality not so foolish as he seemed. At present we are glorying in our mess of pottage.

For is this not literally all that we have as the result of our barter? I do not mean to speak disrespectfully of the German language, for we owe it too much to be so childish. Noble in thought, accurate in construction, musical in its flow, it opens up to its thoroughstudent a mine of wealth which can not be equalled by any modern language, and our own owes its vitality and strength to the self-same stock. I would not be unjust to the French tongues, which masters so well the so-called exact sciences, and bends itself with so much smooth facility to every varying mood of thought or fancy.

But what German or what French do our children gain from the nurses and inexperienced teachers to whom they are confided in their first nine or ten years of life? At most they can learn but baby-talk, for that is all they are capable of receiving. It is in vain to supply words where ideas do not exist for which they are needed. And even in this what inaccuracies do we not have, what interpolations of English terms picked up from their companions? We might as well—as we do in too many cases—leave the child to be talked to by only an ignorant Irish girl, and then hope to hear her expressing herself in pure English. But meanwhile the child learns English so called, for she does this in spite of all prohibitions and orders not to use the useless, unclean thing. And what kind of English does she speak? It is unnecessary to answer the question, for we need not listen to the talk of the children around us, in our schools and in our families, to hear for ourselves.—Anna C. Brackett, in "Harper's Magazine for September.

HENRY WARD BEECHER.

How many men even the most popular and famous and beloved—could have their lives turned inside out, as it were, and the public not be astonished? In his article upon Daniel Webster, Mr. Parton was reproached for suggesting that he was sometimes flown with wine. Was that all that could be said of him? And had every thing been publicly blasoned as it was privately whispered, would he, who, upon the whole, was thought to be the greatest man of his time in America, have been held to be so great? What would happen if every thing were plainly told of Dr. Franklin, the good patriarchal uncle of his country, as Washington is the father? Is he great because we have not the violet's knowledge? Do we insist upon keeping the mountain remote in order that it may enchant us? How many biographies tell the truth, or show us the man as he was and as the biographer finds him to be? Or, again, the microscope detail of every moment, of every word, of every deed, of every look; still more the malevolent interpretation, the suspicion, the insinuation, the crafty perversion—how many lives could bear these and still seem to be not only spotless, but irreproachable? In general we know only the large, salient, obvious points and aspects of the best-known men, as they are called, and might well be amazed at the results if we saw them exposed, for instance, to the stripping and the searching scrutiny of a court of law.

Yet, as great and conspicious and long-extended hyprocrisy and imposture are very unusual—as it is now understood that Moammed, despite the histories for many a generation, was not an impostor nor Cromwell a hypocrite, and as Cagliostro was soon seen to be a knave—it is undoubtedly true that the dominent impression made by a man whose life is open to all men's ever, who speaks, writes, acts, in the very focus of public observation, and especially if he be a man of large, generous, expansive, and sympathetic nature, is the true impression of the man. Errors of judgment, lamentable weakness that had not been suspected, unanticipated credulities, when they are laid bare by the rigorous exposure of such a man's daily and hourly life, may amaze, may occasion regret, but they can not affect the great general impression which his personality has produced. If, indeed, a man who is indiscreet has been supposed to be of singularly sound judgement, if a man who is passionately impetuous has been thought to be especially cool and prudent, if one who is essentially a boy has been thought to be peculiarly a man the sudden revelation of the truth will startle and sadden those whom it undeceives. But if he be a genial, generous, impulsive man, full of genius, of an exhaustless imagination, of magnetic power, he is not the less so because his sagacity is proved at fault, and because he has had more trust than insight. Those who have always seen that the mountain was an Alp, a hill of our common earth, and not a pillar of the sky, will, when the storm passes over, see that it stands, as of old, clear and defined in the sunlight, mingled of green woods and coarse herbage, of shady dell and bold pasture, the winds of heaven still singing through its far-stretching foliage, the hues of heaven as as bright as ever in its mantling surface of flowers.—Editor's Easy Chair, in "Harper's Magazine" for September.

SIR ISAAC NEWTON'S IMITATOR.

Old Keyser found Cooly's boy standing in a very suspicious position under his best apple tree, with a stick in his hand and a certain bulgy appearance about his pocket. Having secured him firmly by the collar, Keyser shook him up a bit, and then asked him sternly what he was doing there.

'Ain't a-doin nothin,' said Cooley, 'I come over yer to study.'

'That's entirely too thin,' exclaimed Keyser.

'Yes, I did come over yer to study about Sir Isaac.'

'Sir Isaac! What in thunder do you mean, anyhow?'

'Why, Sir Isaac Newton. We had it in our lesson. He was in an orchard and seen apple fall, and that made him invent the traction of gravitation, and I come over yer to see if it was so.'

'It won't do sonny, said Keyser, 'You're too enthusiastic about Sir Isaac. And beside, what were you going to do with that stick? This yer stick? What was I goin' to do with this stick? Why, a boy gave me this stick to hold for him while he went on an errand for his aunt.'

'And where did the apple core come from there on the ground?'

'That apple core—that one lying there! The birds is awful on apples this season. I seen a blackbird drop that there, and I says to myself, 'them birds are just ruinin' Mr. Keyser's apples, and won't Mr. Keyser be awful mad when—'

'What makes your pocket bulge out in that way?'

'Mother made them pockets, and they never did set right. Oh, that beggim' place! Well, as I couldn't find out much about Sir Isaac here, I was takin' two or three apples home to see if I could discover somethin', and to ask father to help me——Mr. Keyser, what are you goin' to do? I'll never take another apple as long as I live—'pon my word I won't.'

Then Keyser flogged him, and Mr. Cooley's boy was knocked off on Sir Isaac Newton and natural philosophy, and is devoting himself to other branches of knowledge.

Just think of it! It costs one million two hundred and fifty thousand and eighty-nine dollars and ten cents to keep the women of this country in imported corsets for one year. What a waste. Footsoaps. Stay! its not a waste, it is one of their means of support.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VINEGAR BITTERS

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuge, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one spell can be so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any we have been able to make. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does cause it does always—it never fails through any fault—omission or [illegible]. We have thousands of certificates of these remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no [illegible] can result from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Dysentery and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Pulsation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continued taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and [illegible] effect on the digestive apparatus.

The superiority of these Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the factitious fruit flavors now in the market. They are not only true to their name, but are prepared from fruits of the best quality, and are so highly concentrated that a comparatively small quantity only need be used.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its eminent character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. See Frontispiece. In California, and other of Washington and Charleston Sts., N.Y. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Even after the tubercles have formed, and the lungs are breaking down, this remedy will relieve the severe paroxysms of coughing, and induce refreshing sleep. Its wonderful power over the disorders of the Throat and Lungs, and the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does it fast. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Rosin, or Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no case injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by druggists around the world.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors.

TRUST HIM NOT.

If a man should come beside the,
With a smooth and specious air,
And condone the little evils
With a voice all smooth and fair,
And with honeyed accent show thee
Things that knowest are below thee.
Though he wear a saintly garment,
Trust him not,

If a man with guile or flattery,
Would instil into thy heart
Thoughts of selfish action,
To obscure the nobler part,
Let thy judgment whisper to thee
He but seeketh to undo thee;
Though his praises be as nectar,
Trust him not,

If a man with hollow cant'ng
Vaunteth much his own endeavor,
How he weeps because the world is
Full as wicked now as ever—
By his own soul 'tis he judgeth,
And his narrow mind begrudgeth
Heaven's clemency to the many,
Trust him not.

If the tempter tell thee pleasant
Is the path that you may tread—
That the life we live is present,
With no future far ahead—
Tis, alas! the same old story,
Told by Eve in Eden's glory,
Trust him not.

Every evil, creed or faithless,
Hails the writhing of thy soul—
Flattering word—hidden quicksands,
May thy spirit shun all—
And when change—ever reaches,
Let him rail—what he preaches,
It is the lesson wise men teaches,
Trust him not.

In the mine the gem is hidden;
There are pearls beneath the sea,
And near a pretty flower
Blooms unnoticed on the lea,
Shun the vine, if vice invite the
Though its fragrance may deceive thee,
There are serpents that will bite thee,
Trust them not,

SAD STORY OF A RUINED LIFE.

BY MRS. JANE D. CHAPLIN.

Some half century ago, a boy, born with every advantage of wealth and position, entered one of our New England colleges. He was the only son of his mother, and she was a widow; and a large circle of relatives loved and were interested in him as "the only boy of the name." His boyhood had been a happy one, and his prospects in the future were very bright. His heart was true and his morals pure when he entered upon his studies.

He was soon urged to take "one jolly glass," but declined, assuring his friends that he had never tasted cider, wine, or liquor of any kind; and moreover that he had promised his mother not to do so.

The boy escaped this ordeal, and went home in triumph to write of his victory; and his mother rejoiced to his firm principle. But Satan is rarely vanquished in one battle; he urges on his emissaries to fresh conflicts, in hope of final victory, knowing that he who withstandeth one weapon may fall by another.

At the close of the year there were great rejoicings. The freshmen, glad to escape from the jeers of the others by becoming sophomores, held some wild festivities after the Commencement ball. Wine flowed freely, and the coarse jest and ribald song, that are born of wine, broke on the stillness of small hours in that rural town. Fathers of students living there went, one by one, for their sons, and took them home, until only those who had no one there responsible for them remained. They had vowed to make out the night at their rendezvous, and to sleep the next day away even if they should have to thrash the Professors, and bring them to terms.

Our poor young friend, fresh in his early beauty, had shrunk at first from even witnessing the wild merriment, and had attempted to return to his own room. But a storm, first of entreaties, then of threats, and finally scoffs poured upon him.

He withstood all, till a fellow who was leader of the class, cried out, "let the pretty boy go home and go to bed, as his mamma ordered him! Don't give him any wine, for the old lady wouldn't kiss his red lips if he smelt of wine or tobacco! Go home, little boy, and mind your ma."

Then came shouts of "rock-a-by, baby," and "by low, baby banting;" and a great muscular fellow, with more body than brains, caught him in his arms, and trotted him on his knee, and called for a bowl of pop!

This was more than his enraged spirit could endure, and rushing to the table he cried out, "see if I am afraid of my mother or any other woman!" Half a dozen half wild fellows flew toward him with brimming glasses, as if vieing with each other for the honor of ruining a fair soul!

His word of honor was soon broken, and his self-respect was gone. He could never write again to his mother, "I keep your words always in my heart and shall never deceive or disobey you." A cloud fell over his love for her, and the memory of her sweet face was a pain to him. He dared not confess his sin, therefore he acted out a falsehood, and kept her poor heart still trusting in him.

The pure gold once dimmed, the breath of sin soon fell on it unnoticed. On the next great occasion he drank again. He had learned to smoke, and his hat gradually settling itself on the side of his head. He soon called the Professors by nick-names, and set at naught their counsel. He had gained at the end of his second year the title of a "good fellow."

The senior year was closing, and this class was stepping into the highest place in college life out into the world. The mother and uncles of our young friend came from their distant home, full of love and pride in him, to be present and to bid him "Godspeed" in the future.

They had learned before this that he "was a little wild," but the idea that he had ever been drunk (we will not try a softer word) had never entered their minds.

The day was one of great pleasure to all, and the evening was a merry one for the young. They danced and sang, or walked through the grounds by moonlight, listening to the music of the band. Friends, long parted, met and enjoyed the gayeties together till a late hour; and it seemed as if all might have been satisfied. But it was not so. When the lights in the banquet hall and through the grounds had been extinguished, and the music had died away, the leaders of these new fledged men gathered all they could of their number for "one more good time." They smoked and drank, again and again, till the clock told that they were drawing on.

One young man who had gone far in sin, and who gloried in making others as wicked as himself, vowed when half wild with wine, that he meant to make "mamma baby," as he tauntingly called our poor young friend, "gloriously drunk, and then send him back to those green old folks at the hotel, to surprise them, to show them what college life was!"

And with the aid of others as wicked as he, and through the weakness of their victim, they accomplished their object. And more than that, they coaxed, threatened, and finally they forced glass after glass of mixed brandy and wine down the throat of this weak youth, long after he refused to drink more. They reeled off to their drunken slumbers, and left him to reach his room, up three long flights in the college building, as best he might, and wondering, as they looked after him how he ever could get there.

Before daybreak the people around the college buildings were roused from sleep by the most terrible shrieks, and by calls for help, in words of mingled prayer and cursing! It was scarcely a moment before a crowd gathered and rushed in the direction of the sounds. The moon had gone down and the sky was intensely dark with the black clouds of a coming storm. There were no signs of fire, and the one could not be seen who was rending the air with those piercing cries. At length some one chanced to look up, and there, on the leads of the four-storeyed building, was a man running about and throwing up his arms like a maniac. No one knew who he was, and none dared call him, lest one false step might bring him to the ground. No one was at first found bold enough to go up and lay hold of him. At length a brave and powerful young carpenter, who was used to climbing to, and keeping a footing a foothold or, dizzy heights, volunteered to go up and out through the scuttle, and induce the madman to descend.

Oh, the agony of every heart in the crowd during the few seconds that elapsed before the strong voice of the brave fellow was heard aloft, saying to the madman, "come here! there's some one wants you—quick." In an instant as if on wings, the figure disappeared from the leads; the great iron-bound scuttle fell with a bang that resounded through the silent night.

When sure that a fellow-being was saved from an awful death, the tongues of the watchers were loosed, and every one there drew a long breath, and asked, "who can it be?"

The men rushed into the building, and heard the cry, "let me into the air again! I'm on fire here! My brain is burning! Who'll bring a pistol and shoot me for the sake of mercy?"

Lights were brought, and there, struggling in the strong arms of the generous fellow who had gone to the rescue was that poor ruined son of a widowed mother!

And this was the end of her blessed dream of happiness with him on whom so many hopes had centered.

He was taken to her a raving maniac and four weeks she remained among strangers, nursing him through a brain fever, hoping against hope that he would yet be spared to her, and be the son she had pictured him in the future.

Sometimes a gleam of reason would light his handsome face for a moment, when he would throw his arms around his mother's neck and say, "I'll never leave you, mother; I'll stay close by your side, and then no one can harm me." But soon his mind would wander; and he would talk of the fire on his pillow and beg to be taken out into the cool air.

After a while he rallied, so far as to be taken home; but he was depressed in spirit, and fancied at all hours of day that the sun was setting, or that there was a thunder cloud overhead. His brain never recovered its healthy tone, its delicate tissues having been injured beyond recovery by that fever brought so cruelly on him. His was a ruined mind and a useless life. He was ever after a care and an anxiety to his mother, who mercifully outlived him a few months.

The man who had been foremost in his ruin became a politician, and when he saw that his habits were ruining his prospects for office and money-making, he was shrewd enough to give up wine by day, and drink only at night. He ripened into a keen, artful wire puller; went to the legislature of his State; and did, no one can tell how much mischief to his party and the people.

Can it be that God never speaks to him, and others like him, in the dead hour of night, asking, "Where is thy brother?" But the end of them is not yet.—Zion's Herald.

THE INNOCENT OLD LADY.

She lives down on Baker street, and she has a daughter about eighteen years old. The old lady retains all her simplicity and innocence, and she doesn't go two cents on style. The other evening when a "splendid catch" called to escort the daughter to the opera the mother wouldn't take the hint to keep still, and wouldn't help to carry out the daughter's idea that they had wealth. While helping her daughter to get ready she asked:

'Mary, are you going to wear the shoes with one heel off, or the pair with holes in em?'

Mary didn't seem to hear, and the mother inquired:

'Are you going to wear that dollar gold chain and that washed locket, or will you wear the diamond your father bought at the hardware store?'

Mary winked at her, and the young man blushed, but the old woman went on:

'Are you going to borrow Mrs. Brown's shawl, or will you wear mine?'

Mary bustled around the room, and the mother said:

'Be careful of your dress Mary, you know it's the only one you've got and you can't have another until the mortgage on this place is lifted.'

Mary remarked to her escort that it promised to be a beautiful evening, and as she buttoned her glove her mother asked;

'Those are Miss Hardy's gloves aint they? Shes been a good neighbor to us, and I didn't know how you'd manage to go anywhere if she didn't live near us.'

Mary was hurrying to get out of the room, when the mother raised her voice once more and asked:

'Did you run into Mrs. Jewett's and borrow her bracelet and fan? Yes, I see you did. Well now you look real stylish, and I hope you'll have a good time.'

Mary sits by her window in the pale moonlight and sighs for the splendid young man to come and beau her around some more, but he has not been seen up that way since that night. The old lady, too, says that he seemed like a nice young man, and she hopes that he hasn't been killed by the street cars.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 26, 1875

TO THE ELECTORS OF EAST PETERBOROUGH.

On Monday a convention will be held in Norwood to select a candidate to contest the Riding in the Reform interest, and that of the Mowat Government, and a gentleman will be selected that will merit your confidence. In the meantime make preparation for decided action. The apathy of a few last time lost the election, while the other side worked so unitedly that almost every vote of theirs was polled. Some, too, who then would not vote Dr. O'Sullivan, and yet had no personal feeling against Mr. Stratton, staid at home, and by that means, gave, as it were, a vote for one whom they did not respect, and whom they could not and would not support. These men elected their enemy by their apathy. This should not be the case again. The false idea that the vote is a favor granted to the candidate to enrich or elevate him, should be discarded. The candidate is a loser instead of a gainer. His time, peace, comfort, and freedom have to be sacrificed in the interest of the people and of those who elect him, and your vote not unfrequently is an injury to him and his prospects in life. It is the principles at stake that should be considered, and not the mere personal honors that you may fancy yourself bestowing. Do you wish the affairs of the country to get into the hands of men in whom you have no confidence? Are you willing to send men to represent you who are incapable of understanding your wants? Are you to sit and with indifference permit the faction to send a child who is incapable of understanding your interests, to represent you? If not, then it is not too much to ask you to spend a day or two in seeing after your own business, and in getting your neighbors to take action to get out the apathetic. You are new aware of Dr. O'Sullivan's incapacity and unfitness to represent you. You well remember how he courted your sympathies rather than address your intelligence. Troubled with indigestion, headache and brain disease, he sought your sympathies as the delicate child courts the sympathies of an indulgent parent. Under the influence of a spirit at once humiliating and calculated to fetter a man of riper judgment, even unfettered by promises and personal consideration, do you suppose him able to give that full and impartial attention to your business in Parliament that he should as your representative? And unless that he can prove to you that he has outgrown his weaknesses and childishness, as well as the thraldom under which he last appeared before you, you cannot feel that he deserves your support or that he would do you honor or be able to serve you if elected. You remember the childish twaddle you were compelled to listen to in the last contest instead of an intelligent discussion of the questions of the day. Do you wish his headaches, heartaches, and disordered imagination aired at Toronto? Or do you wish a gentleman to represent you who will be possessed of common sense to withhold the effect of his sedatives from the knowledge of those who are around him if he can not rise above them. In plain, you want a man to represent you, and one who has learned your wants and may be well enough to advocate your interests. Because a boy could once wield the birch does it follow that he can now legislate for others. Because the once young medicus was spoiled by newspaper puffs, does it follow that he is a skilled physician? And what has moulding pills, or mixing gargles, or tonics to do with moulding states or forming statutes?

Electors of East Peterborough demand, this time that the man who solicits your suffrages shall show himself worthy thereof by proving that he understands more than how to excite your pity.

The only claim Dr. O'Sullivan can have on you, to elect him, is that he is the creature of John Carnegie, at whose nod he sprang into political existence, and Mr. Carnegie took him up as a dernier resort because rejected himself. Are you, electors of East Peterborough, willing to take the second fiddle toy, that the rejected of West Peterborough may chose to foist on you? Are you satisfied to have the matters of the East Riding manipulated by Mr. John Carnegie, Timothy Cavanagh and a small clique who play second fiddle to them "for free drinks, &c.? men, who in 1871, hounded down the co-religionists of those whom some of them now fall down and worship to suit his own selfishness. We trust to find a grand rallying to the standard of reform at the approaching election, and with one determined effort let us teach the would-be dictator that the honest electors of the East Riding desire a man for their representative, on whose principles they can depend and his honesty in carrying them out to secure their support, and not be constantly dependent on the effect of hodgepodge effusions in which the spokesman tries to excite pity. Give him a mild nostrum and send him home to sleep off the effects of your toutes.

A BORN GENTLEMAN.

The editor of the Review is a gentleman, yes, and more than that, as any man of Emerald Isle would be likely to add. The last copy of that delectable sheet abounds with such phrases as false-hoods, liars, proved them liars, and vomit machine. This same gentleman has been engaged for months, nay years, in concocting and spreading the basest falsehoods against his opponents, especially against Mr. Cox, Mr. Dumble, and Mr Stratton, but now and then against every person who may dare stand in his way.

Dr. O'Sullivan's professional character has been attacked he says. Of this, this witness saith nought, as we do not pretend to believe what appears in that down street "smut box." No one has yet interfered with the Doctor's professional character, except as to his professions to support a new Orange Bill, which the Doctor or his confessor does not pretend to contradict, and if they did do so how many would believe them?

Mr. James Stratton is not afraid to meet Mr. John Carnegie anywhere, and defend himself against the base and unfounded assertions which the latter aided by the most treacherous and despicable of his followers may choose to make, and more than this, Mr. Stratton is not afraid to appeal to the electors of the East Riding in a trial as to which of the two they would choose for their representative. It is only when an appeal is made to one class of the electors, and them by false promises, the other class is induced to co-operate with them, that father John can make a show at all. Not the Doctor, but the gentleman who writes liars, false shoods, &c. A comparison of the course between the south end "Lardas" and its opponent is earnestly courted. From the day Dr. O'Sullivan became a candidate till this day not a word of personal abuse has ever appeared in the Peterborough EXAMINER. Notwithstanding that the Doctor has stopped aside to slander his opponent, as witness his tirades in Emily during his weak efforts for Mr. Hudspeth. But in this the Doctor and his God-father are adepts and indeed it is about all they can do—abuse the plaintiff's Counsel.

Then this saint, that would not arouse the religious passions of the electors, what does he do? Does he not refer to O'Donohoe, Boyle, & Co., with all the malignity that he can give vent to? And then tries to mix up County masters, for what purpose? O, Honest John has no religious bigotry, oh, no! Hon. est John remembers the "grave rat" yet, that animal that lives only on the rottenness and filth of church yards; and, he cannot forgive it. He still smarts under the lash of Mr. O'Donohoe. But his bile is only a manifestation of disordered digestion, and his venom of a heart full of envy and ill-will.

The "grave rat" too, is opposed to "rings," and in favour of equal rights. When did he become so affected? When did he become the champion of Justice? In his forcing the late Mr. Pearce out of the field to make way for Dr. O'Sullivan, what respect had he for the rights of Orangemen? Let him answer; and taking up Dr. O'Sullivan did he or does he respect Catholicism? It is true he did go on his knees twice to the clergy of that church, and it is true he did attempt to fasten a lie on one of them by denying that he had done so. Is this the creature that talks of "equal rights!"—the creature who goes a begging for support and maligns the gentleman from whom he sought it? The truth is, John is a poor Catholic and a worse Protestant. He would be either or neither; would beg the support of the clergy, and deny it to compass his object. And yet the same "grave rat" who delights in putrefaction assumes the airs of a saint, as a cloak to hide his approaches to those, whom in 1871 and 1872 he hesitated not to slander and villify.

POLITICAL MENDICANCY.

Poor Mr. Scott! he is to be pitied. He is going from door to door, from person to person, from office to office, with a solemn countenance, a downcast mien, and careworn look, begging, entreating, and beseeching them to give him one vote. The love of honor, (a dearly bought honor when at the sacrifice of his manhood,) has placed him in the position of a poor beggar pawing from house to house asking a vote. What a last for place and its emolument! What a desire for honor! What a craving for a seat in Parliament! O, how this poor soul longs for a realization of the vain dreams of years! Does he who used the creatures he did to ruin the character of his fellow for the mere love of office or honor, deserve to be elected. He may deserve pity, for even the poor, yes even the poverty stricken and the hungry do, but the man who attempts to raise himself on the evidence of such men as Mr. Scott used in the late trial deserves no respect, and must sooner or later find his level amongst his chosen associates. What a quartette Peterborough possesses, Carnegie, Scott, Drake, and Woods! Pity is largely aroused by his deplorable appearance, while, with hat in hand, and sad countenance, he is heard urging, won't you send me to Parliament this time? Oh won't you? He is also said to practise the art fibbing. He fails not to tell some that Mr. Cox will not be a candidate again, and then adds, oh dear, won't you give me your vote? Pity the sorrows, &c., and give me your vote? His mendicancy might arouse pity, but his misrepresentations deserve the condemnation of every honest man.

Electors don't be caught by his misrepresentations. Mr. Cox will be a candidate and will be elected.

YE HYPOCRITES.

Several of the most rabid of the Conservative papers are loud in their denunciation of certain Roman Catholics for going into South Victoria to assist Mr. Wood in the late contest. Do they forget that the great Grand Master of the Loyal Orange Association went into the same County to induce his Orange brethren to vote for Mr. Dorner? Yes, and spent some days among the brethren and nights in Lodges, endeavoring to persuade them to vote for a Roman Catholic. What was right for Mr. Mackenzie Bowel could not be very far wrong in those men who came to ask the Catholic electors to vote for Mr. Wood. We may suppose that Mr. Wood is not an Orangeman, but we may just as reasonably suppose that Mr. Dorner was not an Orangeman. Yet the Grand Master canvassed for him. Those are wicked enough to say that he did so on the Sunday previous to the election which was on a Monday, but be this latter case as it may, the Grand Master was there, and we are not sure that he did not follow the example of Mr. Grover and attend High Mass on that Sunday to prove his great liberality. Now if Mr. Mackenzie Bowel, Grand Master, could go to Omemee and Downieville, whether to make or not, who will say it was wrong for honest Catholics to go to the same villages and attend the services of their own church if convenient? What profound hypocrisy there must be in the Conservative ranks? Witness Carnegie in 1867 and 1874 and Grover in 1871, and Bowel in Emily?

NORTH VICTORIA.

The contested election trial in this riding was heard after the Judge left Peterborough. The seat has been declared void on very simple grounds. Mr. Cameron relied on seven particulars to unseat Mr. Smith and disqualify him. Six of these failed altogether. But the 7th that of a single treat by one McDougall, one of Mr. Smith's Agents, was held fatal.

It appears although no charge was made against Mr. McDougall in the particulars, and therefore, Mr. Smith had no notice of such a fact before the trial, that McDougall, on his way to vote at Somerville, stopped at Coboconk, some ten miles away from Somerville polling place, and as he says, on oath, having no idea that treating on polling-days was illegal unless within three miles of a polling place, he called on his way down at Simpson's tavern, and treated several per one who were in the bar. For this simple act of a friend Mr. Smith's election has been set aside, there being not the slightest evidence that McDougall thought that he could influence any one Mr. Smith's favor by such treating.

For this Mr. Smith was unseated. There can be no doubt that this was a pretty pure election when only one treat could be proved against the Reform candidate or his agents. Mr McRae was disqualified from claiming the seat on the grounds of corrupt practices.

HOW UNFAIR AND HOW FALSE.

The Cobourg Sentinel of last week contains the following item which we recommend to for the perusal of those who wish to remain in blissful ignorance of the truth.

"Mr. B. Devlin has been unseated for Montreal Centre, Mr. Smith for North Victoria and Mr. Cox for West Peterborough—all 'elevators'."

Now if it had said Mr. Devlin, liberal, has been unseated for Montreal Centre, and his opponent is disqualified from claiming the seat. Mr. Smith for North Victoria is unseated and Mr. McRae is disqualified from claiming the seat. Mr. Cox of West Peeerborough is unseated and Mr. Scott abandoned his claim to the seat, fearing disqualification: the readers of the Sentinel would have had both sides, and add to this Mr. T. White of Montreal could not claim the seat as bribery was proved against him through agents.

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

[From the Canadian Post.]

The indications are that in West Peterborough, and in the East as well the new elections rendered necessary by the decision of the courts, will be exceedingly bitter. Mr. Scott will, of course, run for the West Riding, and the Review has opened the campaign by reckless defamation of Mr. Cox's character. The vindictiveness and want of scruple of the Review editor in all things concerning politics—and pork—have become so notorious that he is a measure defeats his own purposes, except with the thoughtless or ignorant. With these classes the Review editor probably still exercises some influence; therefore there is promise of an embittered contest But it will be exceedingly difficult if not impossible to animate the respectable Conservatives of the West Riding with hatred politically of Mr. Cox; they know that his character is unimpeached despite the efforts of his opponents to blacken it; and they know that he comes out of the election trial stainless. As an active, capable and industrious he still possesses the confidence of the community, and especially of the Reform electors, and deserves it.

Mr. Cox was on Wednesday acquitted on four of the counts by which it was hoped to establish personal bribery; the fifth, in which Mr. F. C. Taylor, whose name was on the roll, voted as Mr. Cox's agent in Monaghan, was reserved till yesterday, and at the hour of going to press we had not learned the decision.

The Peterborough Review is determined to have a hand in bringing charges against Mr. Wood, and accuses him of having arranged the election "to take place while the farmers of Emily were busy with their fall wheat while the farmers of Mariposa were comparatively idle, owing to their growing no fall wheat, and their spring grain not being ready for the sickle." That the facts as to growing fall and spring wheat are exactly the reverse does not prevent the Review drawing thus heavily on its imagination. We might advise the Review editor to confine his fertile brain to pork speculations, and leave the fall and spring wheat operations of his neighbors alone.

Thus reasons our porcine friend the Review. "If Mr. Wood's majority of 300 in January dwindled down to 56 (?) in August, notwithstanding he had in the meantime become a member of the Ontario Cabinet, where is Mr. Geo. A. Cox's majority likely to be in September, when in the meantime his connection with the '$425 Fraud' has been exposed?" Mr Cox stands clear in the $425 fraud of everything except too much truthfulness in speople of Tory schemers who conceived and carried through the 'Fraud' that the Review with unparalleled malignity, is endeavouring to fasten solely upon Mr. Cox. As for the logic with which the Review seeks to inspire its friends in West Peterborough with hope and courage, it will be best answered by the electors at the proper time.

HASTINGS

(Correspondent of the Cumbleford Hearld.)

Quite a gloom was cast over this village last Friday morning, by the unexpected announcement of the sudden death of Mr. Alexander Brough, one of our quietest and most respected business men. Until within a few days before his death, he was around attending to his business, apparently hale and hearty. He was taken ill Sunday evening, but was not considered dangerously so until a few hours before his death which took place Thursday night. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon, and was conducted with Masonic honors. The procession, including among its numbers not only the village lodge, but also brethren from Norwood, Campbellford and Warkworth, was headed by the Norwood Brass band, and was considered the finest and most imposing ever seen in Hastings.

It is reported here that the C. P. & M. R. and Mining Company, has been compelled to make an assignment, that the business has gone into other hands and that the new Company intend building Smelting Works at the Ore beds. However true this report may be, one thing certain, that the Mining Company's steamer, the Isaac Butts made her last trip here for this season on Friday. The trains will also cease running from Cobourg to Harwood in a few days, but this may be owing to the shutting down of the Steam Mills at Harwood. All these circumstances combine to make business, which has been dull here all this season, particularly flat just now.

We learn that the Public School Inspectors present at the meeting of the Inspectors' section of the Ontario Teachers' Institute in Toronto last week unanimously nominated Mr. David Mills M. P. as their candidate for the position rendered vacant by the retirement of the Hon. S. C. Wood from the Council of Public Instruction. The able manner in which the latter gentleman was discharged his duties as representative of the Public Shool Inspectors was recognised by the passage of a unanimous vote of thanks. Mr. Mills was elected by acclamation, and certainly no more able representative, or one better qualified, could be found. Mr. Mills was once a teacher, and was for many years head superintendent and inspector.

FAIRS

PORT HOPE HARBOR.

(From the Guide.)

We are pleased to notice that the improvements that have been in progress on the east and west piers at the entrance of the harbor have been completed. The east pier is now extended about one hundred feet beyond the light house, and the west pier now extends over eighty feet further into the lake than the east. The cribs have been filled up to the planking with stone, over six thousand yards have been used on the extension. Six thousand feet of square timber has also been used. The whole work has been done in a most satisfactory manner by the contractor, C. W. Moberly, Esq., who also has completed the work three months in advance of the time specified in the contract. The whole work has been under the direction of W. Kingsford, Esq., Civil Engineer of the Public Works Department, Ottawa. Mr. Moberly is now engaged as a similar work at Gravenhurst. Mariners will please take notice that a range of light will be placed on the centre of the East pier, about one hundred and sixty feet from the light-house, on a stand twelve feet high.

It is admitted on all sides that we now have the best harbor on Lake Ontario, with a capacity sufficient to hold every vessel sailing on the lake, and also one of the best vessels to load or unload. Vessels have come to port and commenced to load at five o'clock, p. m., and have left the same night with a full load of lumber. For unloading, every facility is at hand. Capt Wright's hoisting engine can be taken to any point in a few minutes and set to work, saving the tedious and laborious method used in nearly all other ports, namely, horse power. The tug Albert Wright is on hand at all times to tow in or out of the harbor. Fifty vessels might load and unload at the same time. We are glad that the lumber is now beginning to move.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

2ND CLASS PROVINCIAL CERTIFICATES, 19TH JULY, 1875. TIME—THREE HOURS.

1. A straight lever ABC without weight the fulcrum being C, is in equilibrium, in a horizontal position, under the influence of two weights, namely, P acting at A, and W at B. If AC=3½ feet, and BC=4½ feet, and if the pressure on the fulcrum be 24 lbs.. find P and W.

2. Assuming the principle of Virtual Velocities, apply it to determine the mechanical efficiency $\left(\frac{W}{P}\right)$ of the Screw, the Power being supposed to act in a plane at right angles to the direction of the screw.

3. A weight W is kept at rest on an inclined plane by a power P acting parallel to the base. Does such a machine ever act at a mechanical disadvantage? If so, when? Illustrate by an example.

4. If a pupil should say, that, in the case of a body at rest on an inclined plane under the influence of a power P acting parallel to the plane, the weight of the body and the force P, being neither equal nor directly opposite, cannot possibly counterbalance one another; and should ask what force, additional to these, acts on the body so as to keep it at rest; what would you reply.

5. What is meant by the Resultant of a number of forces at a point?

Draw any lines AB, BC, CD; and let a particle at A be acted on by forces parallel to the lines AB, BC, CD, taken in order, and represented by them in magnitude. Prove (assuming the principle of the Parallelogram of Forces) that the resultant of these three forces as represented in direction and magnitude by AD.

6. ABC is an equilateral triangle, of which the side is one foot. A particle at A is acted on by a force represented in magnitude and direction by AB. Let the force be resolved into two forces, one in a direction parallel to BC, the other in a direction perpendicular to BC. Find the lengths of the lines representing these forces respectively.

7. A hollow cylinder, whose height is 6 feet, while the radius of the base is 1 foot, is filled with water. Find the pressure of the water on the interior of the vessel, first, when the vessel stands on its base on a horizontal floor, and secondly, when it lies on its side on a horizontal floor. (The weight of a cubic foot of water is 1,000 ounces; and the solid content of a cylinder is found by multiplying the area of the base by the height.)

8. The height of the parometric column being 30 inches, find the pressure of the atmosphere on an area of one square foot, the sp. gr. of mercury being 13 6, and the weight of a cubic foot of water (sp. gr. =1) 1,000 ounces.

*9. Describe the Air Pump.

*10. Describe the Syphon.

*11. Describe the Common Pump.

*In describing these instruments, the candidate should bring clearly out the principles involved in their constructions and use.

ARITHMETIC THIRD CLASS—TIME THREE HOURS.

1. Simplify,

$$\left\{\frac{\frac{3}{2}+\frac{5}{2}+\frac{7}{2}+\frac{11}{2}}{\frac{3}{4}-\frac{5}{8}}\times\frac{1}{34\frac{1}{2}}\right\}+\left\{\frac{7\frac{1}{2}}{6\frac{1}{2}}+\frac{11\frac{1}{2}-2\frac{5}{2}}{11\frac{1}{2}+2\frac{5}{2}}\times 10\frac{2}{13}-7\frac{1}{2}\right\}$$

2. A Wine Merchant pays $175 for a hogshead of wine, and bottles it off into an equal number of quart, pint, and half pint bottles: how many dozen of each has he, and at what must he sell it per dozen to gain three twentieths of his outlay?

3. What must be the face of a note so that when discounted at a bank for 4 months and 9 days, at 9 per cent., it will give $240?

4. A, B and C having equal shares of a ship, sell respectively one-third, one-quarter, and one-fifth of their shares to D. who dies and leaves his share equally among them: If B's and C's interest in the ship be worth $37,300, what is the value of A's share?

5. A Farmer has 500 bushels of wheat, he can sell it at once for $1.20 a bushel, by storing it for six months at a cost of $20 paid in advance, he can realise $1.30 a bushel, he adopts the former course; determine how much he has gained or lost by so doing.

6. Express the value of

.83 of 8s. + .05 of 2 guineas + 1.8 of 5s.

7. A Merchant bought a number of barrels of flour for $1,800, he used 20bls. and sold four-fifths of the remainder for $1568 which was $224 more than cost. How many barrels did he buy?

8. When gold is quoted at 133½, what is the gold value of a $10 greenback?

9. A piece of land whose length is 151yds. 1½ft., and breadth 35 yards. is to be exchanged for part of a strip of land of the same quality, whose breadth is 15yds. 2½ft. Find the length of the equivalent strip.

10. What is the duty on 4 hogsheads of sugar each weighing 1,200lbs., gross, at 2½ cents a pound, tare 14 per cent.

11. A Merchant in New York wishes to remit to London a bill of exchange for £293 1s., what is the cost of this bill when exchange is at 9¼ per cent premium?

The decree of the Privy Council in the Guidard case has been received The decision is that the body of the late Joshaph Guiberd is is entitled to burial in the Roman Catholic Cemetry, Montreal Several trials of the case have taken place before different tribunals but now that the decree of the Privy Council is to hand, it is probable the body will be interred without further difficulty.

COLONEL BAKER'S SENTENCE

In the British House of Commons, on the 11th inst., Mr. Jenkins, for Mr. Mundella, inquired of the Home Secretary as to the truth of the following paragraph, copied from a daily journal:—"Colonel Baxter was in the first instance placed in a different reception cell at Horsemonger-lane Gaol to the other prisoners, and throughout his term of punishment he will be kept separate from them. He is allowed to wear his own clothing, to buy his own food, to furnish his rooms—he has had two allcted to him—with what is reasonable, necessary and not extravagant; to have wine at his own cost not exceeding one pint, or malt liquor not exceeding one quart per day. He is not required to do any work, to clean his apartments, make his bed or perform any menial office, all these things being done for him by an officer of the prison. He may have any unobjectionable books or newspapers which he chooses. He may write or receive letters or papers, but these must in the first instance be examined or read by the Governor. Lastly, he may see his friends in his apartments between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m." If this statement was accurate, he wished to know who was responsible for maintaining the discipline of the prison, and whether the same regulations would apply to other criminals convicted of the same offence.

THE WEIRD STORY FROM ALBANY.

The Albany Argus tells this story: "One evening, a week or two since, a lady residing in one of the southern wards was returning to her home from a social gathering at a private house, near the hour of midnight. She was accompanied by a male relative who lived in the same house. As they were about to ascend the steps, both glanced upward toward the windows of the second story, and at one of them both saw with perfect distinctness a human face pressed against the pane. The features were not known to either, but presuming it to be a friend of their neighbor (as there was more than one family in the house) nothing strange was thought of it at the time. Before retiring but after both had bared their feet, the lady and her companion bethought themselves of some article to be procured from the lower part of the house, and, as its exact location was well known, they descended without a light. On returning, just as the gentleman placed his foot on the head of the stairs, he felt beneath it a yielding substance, the shape of which was so clearly defined that he exclaimed "Why aunty, I have stepped on somebody's thumb! At the same instant the lady, putting down her foot, responded: "I have stepped on the hand." No sound of retreating steps was heard, and such an examination as the darkness permitted failed to discover any human being near them. On procuring a light a moment later, both soon satisfied themselves that no creature of flesh and blood was in the immediate vicinity. Wondering and trembling at the contact with these mysterious the witnesses retired to their beds. In the morning a simple enquiry, which attracted no attention, elicited the fact there had been no no living person in the house the previous night other than the usual members of the family, and a critical comparison of the features of each one with the face she had seen, a sharp impression of which was fixed in her mind, convinced the lady that it was not that of any one of them. The most startling and mysterious of the phenomena remains to be told. As if to convince them that their imaginations had not been worked upon by any means to create the impression we have detailed, there appeared upon the bottom of the gentleman's foot the exact counterpart, imprinted in a color quite like blood red, the fac simile of the thumb he had felt beneath it, and upon the foot of the lady was as clearly discernable the likeness of the inside of a human hand. The parties are of an age and character to make their statements worthy of full credit, and the marks made upon their persons by the singular occurence were seen by several witnesses.

SUMMARY.

Mr. Fred McKenzie has been unseated in Montreal West, but not disqualified. The petitioner, Mr. Thos White, claimed the seat, but he did not get it, as corruption was proven against some of his agents. Each pays his own costs.

Hon. Adam Crooks, we believe, has signified his willingness to accept the nomination tendered him for South Oxford, and, of course, will be elected. This will still more seriously disconcert the Tory organs, for with McKellar and Crooks out of the way what will they do for subjects to grow eloquent over?

The contract for the enlargement of one of the sections of the Welland Canal awarded to Denison, Belden & Co., has been held over until enquiries can be made with regard to their alleged fraud in connection with contracts performed by them on the New York canals. The three members of the firm had been arrested at the instance of the State Attorney, but they were released on bail yesterday.

A young man named George Sisco met with a frightful accident on Tuesday evening at the barn of Mr. Morley, Gormley's Corner, Stouffville while feeding a threshing machine. His feet slipped, and his hand and arm were caught by the cylinder and drawn in completely up to the shoulder, the machine being stopped by the entangling mass of bones and tissue. The arm was amputated at the shoulder joint. Little hopes are entertained of his recovery. A few years ago he lost the other arm also in a threshing machine.—Uxbridge Guardian.

The number of votes polled by Mr. Wood in South Victoria on Tuesday week was 1,304, and in January last he polled 1,826. The falling off in his support was therefore just 22 votes. Mr. Cottingham polled 1,026, and Mr. Hudspeth 1,232, a difference of 202. The extra popularity and hard work of Mr. Hudspeth appeared to have brought out many Conservatives who would not vote against Mr. Wood unless strongly urged to do so. The Reform voters, with twenty two exceptions, stood in their places and did their duty manfully. Mr. Wood has not to complain of desertion by his former supporters. Where is the Conservative reaction?.—Uxbridge Guardian.

The election trial in Montreal Centre has occasioned considerable excitement in that city. Mr. Devlin, the respondent in the case, refused at first to be sworn. By order of Judge McKay he was committed to gaol for contempt of court in refusing to appear as a witness in the case. The gentleman however 'caved in,' and consented to give his evidence. Two threatening letters have been sent, one to the Judge and another to Mr. White, of the Montreal Gazette.—Addington Reporter.

We learn from the Napanee Express that the name of Mr. A. M. Deroche, M. P. P. has been mentioned in well-informed political circles in connection with the Speakership of the newly elected Ontario House. Mr. Deroche is well qualified for the position and we think the Ministry would be acting very wisely in nominating him. A moderate man in his political views, and personally popular with the members on both sides, he is eminently calculated to give satisfaction in the speaker's chair. We shall be pleased to chronicle the advancement of an able representative of what we may call the new school of politicians, in which liberal views, independence and culture take the place of the virulence narrow-mindedness and bigotry hitherto characteristic of political life. Mr. Deroche is a thorough Canadian in feeling, and, though young, has displayed a degree of tact and ability during his term of public life which more than compensates for the comparative shortness of his Parliamentary experience.—Toronto Naitonal.

VALUABLE SCHOLARSHIPS.—The announcement of the resumption of Lectures in Victoria University will be found in another column. We call special attention to the Scholarships open to Matriculants in Arts of the value of $71, $75, and $100, in money respectively. As the collegiate Institute will re-open next week, we have no doubt a goodly number of entrants will shape their course with a view to competition for these valuable scholarships. —The World.

REDUCTION OF WAGES.—We understand that the Messrs. Eathborn & Son have offered their employees either of two alternatives —to shut down the Mills or accept a reduction of $2 per month off each wages man. There is some complaining, but the offer of a reduction will probably be accepted This movement is owing to the great depression in the lumber trade, and is common over the whole country.—

JOHN LUDGATE,
Chairman of Prov. Com.

Ashburnham, Aug. 24, 1875.

LOCAL IT MS.

WARM SUMMER would require the scavenger carts a day or two.

FORESIGHT of late has become very common on the streets of trade.

MONTREAL.—The Conservatives have again nominated Mr. T. White to contest Montreal West.

PARTIES visiting Mount Julien Summer Hotel can be accomodated at reduced rates by applying to E. N. Gardner, Manager.

THE Peterborough Manufacturing Company advertise the sale of their reapers and mowers, &c. by auction. Read their advertisement.

POSTPONED.—The 57th Band will not play on the Green to-morrow evening, but have postponed it till the Friday following, September 3rd.

THE CHURCH Herald has changed proprietors. J. H. Spencer, L.S.D., having purchased it, and will publish it in future as the Dominion Churchman.

EX-ALDERMAN CLEMENTS.—Ex-Alderman Clements was arrested on the 14th inst., as mingled up in the affair leading to the death of the unfortunate girl, Jane Gilmour.

NEW MEASURE.—The Canada Gazette declares the enactment that the bushel as a Standard for grain measure is to cease and the cental of 100 lbs to be adopted. Twenty centals to be a ton.

ROCHESTER FRUIT STORE.—Bailey Bros. have on hand a splendid assortment of Fruit, which they intend to sell as cheap as can be had in Rochester or any other place. Give them a call.

MR. KENNEDY.—Mr. Kennedy the Scottish vocalist will sing in Canada during this winter, and we understand, intends visiting Peterborough, and will, no doubt, get a large house.

APSLEY.—We received a communication from Apsley this week, signed "A Traveller," but as it does not contain the real name of the writer, and is very personal, we must refuse to publish it.

THE BALCONIST.—Professor Donaldson has been heard from in the shape of a bottle found on the shore of Lake Michigan, which purports to have been dropped when they found themselves in danger.

SHADE TREES.—Our attention has been called to the fact that several young shade trees have been wantonly destroyed of late. If the parties guilty of this be presented to the police magistrate they may regret their conduct.

Mr. James Sheridan, piano tuner for Messrs. A. & S. Nordheimer, between Toronto and Kingston, will visit Peterborough regularly until further notice. All orders left at Mathias & Reid's Book store will be attended to promptly.

GONE UP.—Ann Brennan has gone to Jimbo for 6 months. She found her way to Ashburnham where Constable Craig got her in a wigwam and now she has rooms in the castle. Some more will follow if found on the East side of the river.

THE TURF.—The Goldsmith Maid was beaten by Lulu about three weeks ago. Lulu taking three out of four heats Since that the "Maid" has beaten her rival in three straight heats, thus asserting her claim as Queen of the Turf.

GREAT REDUCTIONS.—Messrs. Fairweather & Co. are offering their stock of Dry Goods, &c. at reduced prices to suit the times. The stock is well selected, and as people will require goods, they would do well to call while the goods are being sold cheap.

VOTERS' LISTS.—The Lakefield, Enniskmore, North Monaghan, South Monaghan, and Douro Voters' lists for 1875 have been certified by the Judge and will be used in the approaching elections. As the writs have not arrived, we cannot say anything about the other municipalities.

ROWDYISM.—The temporary bridge has been the resort of rowdies for a few nights The Chief Constable might now and then pay a visit to it. They do very little except make a noise, but that is sufficient to frighten ladies who may require to cross to either side after dark.

MULLIGAN GUARD CONCERT.—The MulliganGuards intend giving another concert in the Music Hall, Peterborough. As they have put in quite a term practising they expect to make this the concert of the season. For further particulars see large bills and programmes which will be issued in a few days.

PERSONAL.—R. A. Morrow, Esq., sails from New York on the 30th instant, for Europe. He intends remaining there for a year at least, and may visit Southern Europe, and perhaps Palestine. The best wishes of numerous friends accompany him and lady to the end, that they may have a pleasant trip, an enjoyable time and safe return.

TO TEACHERS.—We, this week, publish two of the papers used at the late examination of teachers for 2nd and 3rd class certificates. We will continue to do so until the papers shall all be published. We will also insert solutions if sent in in neat form; but no discussion of a personal nature will be permitted. The names of parties sending solution, not published if objected to.

PERSONAL.—W. Coulter, Esq, now of Blue Rapids, Kansas, formerly of Peterborough, is back to see his old friends, and looks well. He speaks in glowing terms of the West, and especially of the prosperity of the Canadians from these parts who have gone there They have the best wish of their friends here for their continued prosperity. He says the crops there this season are good, and the harvest was favorable.

MR. WM. HAMILTON, of the Fenelon Falls Foundry, has just completed a windmill, which he intends shall run his machinery, and which is undoubtedly the cheapest, if not the most reliable 'motor' he can obtain. As the foundry stands on the edge of Cameron Lake, it is exposed to the full sweep of the winds from several directions, and the first trial on Tuesday last was perfectly satisfactory. —Fenelon Falls Gazette.

It will be observed by the advertisment in our columns and from posters, that on Tuesday, 7th of September, (Fair Day), a number of valuable farms all within three miles of Peterborough, are to be sold by public auction at Morgan's Hotel. As Peterborough is bound to be a City, all lands in the neighbourhood will advance in value. The lands are good and well situated, and will, we are informed, be sold for whatever they will fetch as the sale is promptory.

WHAT ABOUT THE NEW BRIDGE?—It is never heard of now. Where is the material? There are only a few days till the time (3rd September) for its completion shall be upon us, and yet not a single bar of iron has arrived. Why is this? The temporary bridge has served a good purpose, but a better one is required before farmers begin to bring in their produce. Must they be kept waiting for hours for an opportunity to cross it? Gentlemen of the joint committee, stir up.

SHOULD we fail in our expectations of obtaining justice at the hands of our Reform friends—of which we have no fear—we, should regard it as a misfortune; yet we candidly admit that even a greater misfortune could befall us. It would be far more pernicious in its consequences to us as a class, and to the country in general, if by any chance the party represented by the Mail should again return to power; we shall feel it our duty, therefore, as far as in us lies to aid in preventing such a catastrophe —Irish Canadian.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.—The "grave rat" trading on the imaginary wit of some would-be wag, imagined he had struck a vein of waggerry, when he talked of a "amut machine." If we understand aright, such a machine separates the good from the bad, and serves the excellent purpose of securing a better quality of flour. Now that is just what the EXAMINER wishes to do. Yes, let us separate the clean from the unclean, the good from the bad, the smut from the grain and if we succeed in this, the "grave rat" will be with the smut.

THE "EMPIRE" FANNING MILL.—Messrs. J. A Delaney & Sons have commenced the manufacture of Fanning Mills in Peterborough, and are likely to meet with general success. Their mill is said to be one of the best as it has improvements highly spoken of by practical farmers. Mr. Delaney has purchased property and intends making this his permanent residence, and thus will be no bird of passage taking our money away to other places. Farmers would do well to examine his mills and if they are what they are said to be—patronize home manufacture by purchasing from them.

TURKEY—The Northern Provinces of Turkey bordering on Austria, have risen in rebellion against the Sultan, and already about 50,000 troops have been sent to quell the uprising. It is likely to be serious, and may end in the dismemberment of the Turkish power. It has long been a blot on the map of Europe and even of Asia. The present course may compel the introduction of a better system of government and of more liberal institutions and laws. It is strange how long Southern Europe has resisted the liberal and enlightened policy of their northern neighbours, But the end does come.

HOW RELIABLE!—The "grave rat" organ gave Mr. Wood's majority as 57, when in reality it was 76. Even the telegram that came to Him at the close of the poll gave the majority 74. The Mail next day gave it 75, but afterwards corrected it, making it 76; and all this before the "grave rat" organ was published, yet twice in the same issue it gives 57. True, this is just the figures inverted, but strange, indeed that they should be inverted twice in the same issue. And yet that truthful (?) organ never corrected them. And this is the information which he gives when it suits to withold the true figures.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The many friends of David Porter, Esq., of Paisley, County of Bruce, but formerly of Douro, will learn with regret that he met with an accident last week that has proved fatal. He was on a loft in the barn, putting away grain, when a board slipping or breaking Mr. Porter was precipitated about 14 feet, and by the fall received injuries to the spine that resulted in death the next day. Mr. Porter was a man of quiet unobtrusive demeanor, intelligent and respected. For many years he was a resident of Douro, where he was respected by all who knew him. He was about 75 years of age at the time of the sad accident.

DAVIS, THE ABORTIONIST.—He is again charged with procuring an abortion in the case of a Mrs Laing, of Hamilton. Laing and his wife had been separated for over two years. In May last he saw her when she was well, on the seventh of June she left for Davis's, who was her brother-in-law by his first wife, from who he is divorced, and the present Mrs Davis is cousins to his first wife and also to Mrs. Laing. The body was brought to Hamilton from Toronto on the 10th of June, and interred. It was exhumed on Tuesday, and examined, and death was pronounced to be caused by abortion at the house of Davis in Toronto. The scoundrel will be likely to get rope enough this time.

THE DEATH OF REV DR DAVIS

Of Regent's Park College, London, has cast a temporary gloom over the favored Institution. For the last twenty years he was associated with Dr. Angus in imparting instruction to the rising ministry of England, and was eminently qualified for his work. His scholarship was of high order, and his devotion to the propagation of the christian faith unquestioned, while in literary attainments and pursuits generally, he shone as a star of the first magnitude, his favorite study, it is said, was Hebrew On this account probably he was elected as one of the board appointed to revise the Old Testament Scriptures.

Dr. Davis was associated with Dr. Cramp in seeking to establish a Baptist College in Montreal. They were set out by the Baptists of England for that purpose; but their project did not succeed, and therefore he returned to England, but Dr. Cramp accepted a call to Acadia College.

Now his work on earth is accomplished, all who knew him feel that a great man has fallen in Israel. May another of precious faith be raised up to supply his place.

DEPARTURE.

John when you took the parting kiss
Did the tears rin fra yer ee'
Did you gie her some hope o' bliss
When you come back across the sea.

THE FLOWERS YOU TEYT.

How pleased I was when I went down,
My heart was filled with homely pride,
To greet in Peterbrough town
On flowers pued from the banks o' Clyde.
Twas not their beauty throwed the dart,
Far less their worth for that is small,
Their place of growth: fresh to my heart—
Home, flowers, and youth again recall.

THE VOYAGE.

Charles supplied the few details,
The pleasant trip enjoyed by you,
Soft, gentle breezes filled the sails,
Brave Mackobas Captain Crew
Had I beheld your starting eyes
Watching for that dear land once more.
Or felt your throbbing heart arise
As you stepped on Auld Scotia's shore,
No doubt your boyhood feelings rushed
With vivid force upon your soul,
All trace of care and sorrow hushed,
Enraptured joy o'erflowed the whole.
Once more you trod some pleasant spot,
Where oft in boyhood you did roam,
Again sit in the dear old cot,
An humble but once happy home,
Meet brothers almost now unknown,
More boys when last farewell was said,
In years and knowledge they have grown
In holy warriors' garbs arrayed.
In fancy I can see you stand
Just inside of that cottage door,
And ay your aged, and father's hand
Before he leaves this earthly shore.

MY WISH.

Lest mon but I maun stop ma rhyme
Lest you ma verses spurn,
I wish to you a happy time,
And pleasant safe return.
When wades through up to the knee,
Dinna forget to gather,
A mickle branch and bring to me
O' bonnie bloomin heather.

WILLIAM TELFORD SMITH.

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Roman, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness, It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swolled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Fawbes of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

SCOTCH WORDS.

BY ROBERT LEIGHTON.

They speak in riddles north beyond the Tweed;
Ilk plain pure English they can darkly read;
Yet when without the book they cease to speak
Their tongue seems half English and half Greek.

Their love-vows thefts: their hands, when closed are neives;
Their breath can cut ye nippy, but its shadow
Their armpits are their oxters; pains are fegs;
Their nose the nebbick; their teeth tushes are eegs;
Their hats are caddies, and their gowns footmart;
Good honest dandy queens, and bad ones Mumarts.
They think when they venture, sweet when they stumblach.

And when they give a sample it's a scantch
Speaking in spirit, and a long palaver
Is nothing but a blether or a haver
This noun they call the but, and that the ben;
And want they do not know they dinna ken.
On bees cold days they say the wind blaws nesh.
And when they wipe their nose they dicht their spleuchan;
And they have words that Johnson could not spell,
As ample to which source—anything ye like;
Wha's some, though purely English, and well known.

Have yet a Scottish meaning of their own:
To prig's to plead—best shown a thing to woo;
To cuff's to purchase, and a cough's a hoot;
To scout is to converse; the kirk the city;
And hairowers and to greet when children cry.
When lost, folks never ask the why they want—
They spier the gate; and when they yawn they gaunt.

Scotia with them is cleuk; a flame's a love;
Their curve is crous; cleuk sneuf, and hollow hous;
A piddie means a few, sensible is leg;
And a piece of crockeryware is called a pig.

Speaking of pigs—when Lady Dennoor
Was on her celebrated Scottish tour,
Unsought she made her quarters at the Crown;
The head inn of a well known country town.
The chambermaid, on lighting her to bed,
Before wishing wrong, carlined low, and said—

"This nicht is cauld, my leddy, wad ye please
To hae a pig i' the bed to warm your taes?"

"A pig in bed to toase! What's that you say?
You are impertinent—away, away!"

"Ma faqidient! no, mem—I meen nae harm,
But just the greyhound pig to keep ye warm."

"Insolent hussy, to confront me so!
This very instant shall your mistress know,
The hell—there's name, of course—g—, send her here."

"My mestress, mem, I dinna need to fear;
In south, it was herself that hired me speir.
Nae insult, mem: we thocht ye wad be glad;
On this cold nicht, to hae a pig i' the bed."

"Stay, girl; your words are strangely out of place,
And yet I see no insult in your face,
Is a gentleman in your country there, then,
For ladies to have pigs in bed wi' them?"

"Oh, quite a custom wi' the gentles, mem;
Wi' gentle ladies, ay, and gentle men;
And troth, M'argie, they would surely miss
Their hot pig on a cauldrife nicht like this."

"I've seen strange countries—but this surely beats
That rudest nation-school for a warming-pan.
Suppose, my girl, I should adopt your plan,
You would not put the pigs between the sheets?"

"Surely, my leddy, and nae ither where:
Please, mem, ye'll find it do the maist good there."

"Fie, fie! I would dirty them, and if I keep
In favor of that, you know, I shall not sleep."

"I'll sleep for better, mem. Tak' my advice;
The maist that we maist—the sheets are cauld as ice;
I'll fetch you' upo fine, warm, sonsy pig;
I'll sniff ye mae comfortable and trig.
Wi' sweetsome blankets, every kind o' hap,
And warmest ye to sleep as sound's a tap.
As sae the fyter' o' the sheets—dear me,
The pig's as clean outside as pig can be.
A word more, mem: maistly enough we either folk,
But, if ye like, I'll put it in a poke,

"Dear Hilo—that's your name, I think you said—
Do you yourself, now, take a pig to bed?"

"Eh! m, mem, pigs are only for the great,
When in on feather beds, and not my kin.
Poorhouse and pigs are no for puir Helen E.—
Me and my mither lassie lies on cauld."

"What's that—a cat! If I your arms can gather
You and the other lassie sleep together—
Two in a bed, with the cat between;
Then, I suppose, my girl, is what you mean?"

"Na, na, my leddy—but ye're jokin' noo—
We sleep thegither, that is very true—
But nestit between us: wi' our claes all off,
Except our sarks, we lie upon the cauff."

"Well, well, my girl! I am surprised to hear
That we of English habits live so near
Such barbarous customs. Kilie, you may go;
As for the pig, I thank you, but—no, no—
Ma, in I good night—excuse me if I laugh—
I'd rather be without both big and calf."

With the return of Lady Dennoor,
Who wrote a book about Per northern tour,
Wherein the facts are graphically told,
That Scottish gentlefolks, when nights are cold,
Take into bed bit pigs to make them warm;
While common folks who share their bed in halves—
Denied the comforts of a fire—
Can only warm their sheets with lean, cheap calves.

AN INTERESTING EPISODE IN WESLEY'S LIFE.

We published yesterday an extract from an extract by Bishop Bowen, of the M. E. Church, in which he describes the remarkable recovery of Bishop Simpson, from a dangerous illness, after earnest prayer had been offered in his behalf, and, as the speaker believed, in answer to prayer. It is a coincidence that the life of John Wesley was once saved under circumstances closely akin to those mentioned in regard to Bishop Simpson. The event created great interest at the time, and was thought by Mr. Wesley's friends to be wonderful if not supernatural. In June, 1775, just one hundred years ago, he was travelling through Ireland. He had felt unwell, but in spite of a burning fever kept at work for three days. On reaching the town of Lurgan he called upon a physician, who told him he needed rest. Wesley replied that he could not, as he had appointed to preach several places, and must preach as long as he could speak. He took some medicine, but was obliged to go to bed at the house of Mr. Grayer, of Derryoghey, a leading Methodist. We quote the sequel from Tyerman's Life and times of Wesley.

"His (Mr. Grayer's) daughter, afterward Mrs. Wolfenden, was now a converted girl, sixteen years of age, and, with her mother, was Wesley's nurse. Great anxiety was felt for Wesley's life and while a few selected friends were praying that, as in the case of Hezekiah, God would add his fifteen years, Mrs. Grayer suddenly rose from her knees, and cried, "The prayer is granted!" Marvelously enough, Wesley's recovery immediately commenced, and he survived from June, 1775 to March, 1791, a period of just fifteen years and a few months over. But even this was not all the wonder. Alexander Mather, at the time, was at Sheerness in Kent, where he read in the newspapers that Wesley was actually dead. Mather says he was not able to give credence to this, and before he went to preach he opened his Bible on the words, "Behold I will add to thy days fifteen years," and away he went to the chapel and began to pray that the promise made to Hezekiah might be fulfilled in the case of Wesley.

Many persons will think that Wesley would have recovered without the prayers. His biographer evidently leans to the opposite opinion. He says of his condition at the worst: "Strength, memory and mind entirely failed. For three days he lay more dead than alive. His tongue was black and swollen. He was violently convulsed. For some time his pulse was not discernable." It is added, that when hope was almost gone, Joseph Bradford, his travelling companion, came with a cup and said: "Sir, you must take this." Wesley writes: "I thought, I will if I can swallow, to please him, for it will do neither harm nor good. Immediately it set me vomiting, my heart began to beat and my pulse to play again, and from that hour the symptoms abated." A few days after he was able to set out for Dublin.

Both of these accounts of Wesley's convalescence occur in the same work. There is no inconsistency between them for both prayer and medicine were doubtless used in his behalf. It is not stated, however, whether Mrs. Grayer's feeling that her prayer had been answered was experienced subsequent to the administration of the dose by Bradford or before. In the one it would have been the result of an internal assurance and in the other it might have arisen from the observation of a change in the patients condition. The medicine must have been very powerful to have consumed so speedy and radical an improvement in the condition of so sick a man.

Altogether the case is a singular one, whether it is looked at from a religious or secular standpoint.

COMMERCIAL VALUE OF COURTESY.

In one of our large hotels a young man has a very large salary as room clerk. He has the faculty of stowing people away in all sorts of unexpectable places in his hotel, and making the guests feel happy about it. His politeness and good humor never run empty.

Stout, of the Shoe and Leather Bank, is celebrated for his financial success and for his inexhaustible good nature. He is never so busy but he has a kind word for the humblest. When they are rushing things at the bank, Mr. Stout always finds time to say, "Take a seat, I'll be at leisure in a moment." A man came into the bank the other day and opened an account. "I came here," said he, "not simply because I knew my money would safe with you, but because you are civil. I have been a depositor in ——'s Bank for many years. I knew him when he had no society to boast of and hardly money enough to pay for a dinner at a cheap restaurant. I laid my hat on the desk which I suppose I had no business to do. He waved his hand with an imperious air and said, take this hat off. I removed my hat, when he said, now I will hear what you have to say. I have nothing to say to you, I replied. I went to the book-keeper, ordered my account to be made up, took the bank's cheque for $42,000 and this I wish to deposit." Sauciness does not bear a high commercial value among the financial men of the city.—Boston Journal.

LIVINGSTONE'S EPITAPH.

A memorial tablet, on which is the following inscription, now marks the spot in Westminster Abbey where the body of Dr. Livingston is deposited:—"Brought by faithful hands over land and sea, here rests David Livingstone, Missionary, traveller, Philanthrophist, born March 19, 1813; died May 1, 1873, at Chitambo's Village, Ulala. For 30 years his life was spent in an unwearied effort to evangelize the native races, to explore the undiscovered secrets, to abolish the desolating slave trade of Central Africa, and where with his last words, he wrote:—"All I can add in my solitude is, may heaven's rich blessing come down on every one—American, English or Turk—who will help to heal this open sore of the world." On each side of the tablet are also the following inscription:—"Tantus amor veri, nihil est quod nescere malim, quam fluvii causas per mecula tanta, latentes;" and "Other sheep I have which are not of this fold; them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice."

TESTING MILK.

A system of testing milk, either for impurities or dilution, has been devised by a dairy-man in Alleghany county, of which we have the following description from a correspondent of the Country Gentleman:

It consists of a series of small cups arranged in a water bath or receptacle, so that the contents of the vats may be heated either by steam or water. As the milk comes to the factory, a given quantity is taken from each patron's can and heated in these cups until a temperature of about 90 degrees Fah. is reached. At this temperature it is found by practical experiment that the smell of garlic, putridity, fever or disease of the udder will each unmistakably manifest itself by developing the peculiar odor which characterizes each of these impurities. Whenever milk is found to be unsound, it may be rejected so as not to leaven the whole vat of good milk with which it comes in contact, and at the same time the cause of the impurities can be made the subject of investigation.

If the milk shows no signs of being unsound or in a bad condition, but is suspected of being skimmed or diluted with water, the sample in each cup is coagulated by adding rennet, the curd compressed to expel the whey, and the curd then weighed. By knowing the standard weight of the curd of a given quantity of milk, and comparing it with the sample tested, the variation shows the amount of water which has been added, or to what extent it has been skimmed, and the percentage may be deducted from such patron's milk.

Thus the difficulty heretofore encountered by adding sugar, salt, or any other ingredient, to increase the specific gravity of watered milk, or by adding water to skimmed milk (two points in which the lactometer entirely fails, and which could be detected only by a thorough chemical analysis)' is wholly obviated, and dishonest patrons cannot escape detection in their fraudulent practices. Experiments with the above tester, have revealed not only putridity, but milk that has been skimmed; other samples that have been watered, with sugar and annatto added.

PAY A FAIR PRICE.

The obligations of honesty in trade are usually thought of as having respect to the seller rather than the buyer of goods. But there is for the one buying also, if not exactly a duty to be honest, yet a duty towards honesty. He ought to be willing to pay a fair price for a good article. If he is not, he puts difficulties in the way of fair dealing, and tempts men to fraud. This sin is a common one among us. There is a disposition to buy cheaply at all events; and there is a failure with our people to respond readily to the efforts of manufacturers to furnish them with a really good article. The poor quality of goods offered in many lines of trade is due largely to this cause. It is customary to blame the manufacturers; but the customers of the goods may often be most in fault. It is within our knowledge that strenuous and persistent efforts to sell wares of a superior quality have failed, though the rate of profit was smaller than that upon a poorer article, and though the relative to the purchaser was much greater. The mistake made by the buyer as to his own interest in such a case we do not think of so much, if he will deal so hardly by himself. But the wrong that is done to the cause of good morals deserves to be thought of. Congregationalist, Boston.

It is singular that mineral waters are only beneficial to the rich. We never knew a physician to advise a poor man to go to any watering-place.

Give a boy a market basket of groceries to carry home and he will swing it across his spine, bend half way to the ground and groan with agony, but give him that weight of bare ball bats and he will skip along as merry as a potatoe bug in a tin-ware lot.

A subscriber writes to an editor in the West: "I don't want your paper any longer." To which the editor replies, "I would not make it any longer even if you did; its present length suits me."

CAUTION! Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all [illegible] with VINEGAR BITTERS. No [illegible] take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatisms, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the purposes of a Family Physic.

Perhaps [illegible] is so [illegible] by a [illegible] as [illegible] by [illegible] and [illegible] a [illegible] country, all classes, as [illegible] Pill. The above [illegible] is, that it is a [illegible] and [illegible] tonic remedy the [illegible] CURE. Those who [illegible] and [illegible] trial, know that it cures them; those who [illegible] and all know that when it does cure it does [illegible]—that it never fails through any fault or [illegible] its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures, [illegible] complaints, but such cases are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish [illegible]. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Being coating preserves them ever fresh and [illegible], pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any case.

They operate by their powerful influence upon the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, where they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper of the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various forms, Bilious Disorders, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the disorder or remove the obstructions which cause them.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Pain in the Back and Loins, they should be continued, as required, to change the disease and rouse the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

As occasional dose stimulates the stomach, bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite and invigorates the system. Hence it is often recommended where no serious derangement exists. One who feels miserably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better in consequence. An occasional dose prevents the accumulation of those slight obstructions which, if neglected, lead to serious disease.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything been so widely and so universally established upon the confidence of mankind, as this celebrated remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a series of years, and among most of the nations of the earth, its reputation has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its unbounded character and power to cure the various and dangerous affections of the throat and lungs, have given it a wide-spread influence among all classes, and it is known as a safe antidote for these fearful diseases. Throughout every section of our country, and in every quarter of the globe, wherever the fame of its virtues has reached, the announcement that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is for sale, is hailed with joy by those who have suffered from the severe and painful diseases of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed there are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, who will be benefited with this antidote for those diseases. Although settled Consumption is too often, still great numbers of cases where disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the use of Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its control over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to its influence, and many who could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we do not publish the certificates of them here, but rather assure the public that its qualities are maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Remittent Fever, Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and effectually. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bitters, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is powerless to injure any patient, however large or small the quantity taken. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected by it in all cases, and where other remedies had failed entirely. Unacclimated persons, either residents or travelling through miasmatic localities, will find protection by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, as an excellent remedy, producing many remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all the druggists around the world.

WANTED.

Wanted—a hand to hold my own
As down life's vale I stride:
Wanted an arm to lean upon
Forever by my side.

Wanted—a firm and steady foot,
With step secure and free,
To take its straight and onward pace
Over life's path with me.

Wanted—a form, erect and high,
A head above my own,
So must, that I might walk beneath
Its shadow o'er me thrown.

Wanted—an eye, within whose depths,
Mine own might look and see,
Promptings from a guileless heart,
Overflown with love for me.

Wanted—a lip, whose kindest smile
Would speak for me alone;
A voice whose richest melody
Would breathe affection's tone.

Wanted—a true religious soul,
To plead purposes given,
With whom mine own might pass along,
The road that leads to heaven.

ENGLISH NEWS BY CUNARD MAIL.

CARDINAL MANNING ON THE PEACE OF EUROPE.

(From the Telegraph, August 18.)

Yesterday a deputation consisting of the Maltese residents of London, in the name of the Catholics of Malta, waited upon his Eminence, Cardinal Manning, at Archbishop House, Francis-street, Westminster, to present an address of congratulation for "the honour and dignity conferred by the Holy Father in raising him to the College of Cardinals." The address, which was short concluded with these words:—"These are expressions of joy and goodwill which the sons of the Doctor of the Gentiles (St. Paul,) who inhabit the smallest of European islands, out of their devotion to See of St. Peter, and their loyalty to the British Crown, address to your Eminence."

Cardinal Manning in reply said—I thank you very much for this beautiful address which you have been so good as to present to me from Malta; I kindly receive it as an assurance of your affection and faith. Only the other day I received a similar communication from Canada through the Archbishop of Quebec; and they being a French race, and speaking the French language it was as grateful to me to receive that, as it now is to receive the one which you have presented to me. I am glad to be assured both by the Catholics of Canada and Malta who have spoken to me on the subject, that the British Government deals justly and fairly with the Catholic people of those countries. I am also glad to hear likewise of our other colonies and British dependencies who bear similar testimony; and I may say I have received a similar assurance from all our bishops who come from India and Australia. I wish well with all my heart to your ancient and Catholic island. In 1848 I had occasion to visit Malta. I travelled from Syracuse when I found Sicily at peace. The gendarmes were all over the country, and when I strayed away from our mules the authorities warned me not to go too far, as it was not safe. I remember when I went to Malta to spend two days, I saw the imposing fortifications, which then were very wonderful. I do not know if they are now of the same importance. I presume so, because the arts of peace which have been developed with such vigour in later years here and elsewhere, are now employed in the prospects of a future war, and have enabled us make cannon against which fortification can stand. Those are the blessings of the pacific age in which we live. I hope that the neighbouring island of Sicily may reign its tranquility, and become as peaceful as Malta now is, and that peace may pass over into Italy, and may spread throughout the whole peninsula, from the Adriatic to the Alps, because peace in Italy would give peace, I may say, in Europe. Yesterday I saw that a very distinguished person had quoted certain words of mine in a preface which he has just given to the world. They were taken from a speech of mine, delivered at a meeting of the League of St. Sebastian, where there were present a number of Postilicial Zouaves. They were words which dwelt upon the inevitable certainty of a terrible future war in Europe. I am no prophet; but I think none needs the gift of prophecy to perceive that the armament of seven millions of men at least, with a power of destruction which has never been equalled in the annals of warlike nations, all portend to a greater and bloodier conflict in Europe than we have hitherto witnessed. I think it is a shame and a scandal to the Christian world to see the misery and the scourge the sins of government have created and brought about by the apostles of revolution, who make their first and chief object to pull down the temporal power of the Vicar of Jesus Christ, and when they have accomplished that fact, I will venture to prophecy—and my prophecy is this: If the christian world we destroy, he will never again reign over it, but if the Christian world is to survive, the sense of justice will one day put him back again in his seat. But even that the Christian world will not be able to do without scourging itself by a European war which it has prepared for itself. My words were not a threat, but a lament, and those who quote my words against me as a firebrand that would set Europe in a conflagration, are among the chief apostles of the gospel of revolution, and the chief agents against the peace of Christian Governments. As a man of peace and pastor of the flock, I pray that the Christian nations of Europe may speedily disarm in every country, and may turn to the gospel of peace to the union of the Christian World. Such was the intention of my words at the meeting of the League of St. Sebastian, and I having seized the first opportunity of declaring to the English people that I have been, I hope not studiously, but manifestly misrepresented.

The deputation received the benediction and retired.

CANADA AND THE WORKING MAN.

PREMIER MACKENZIE TO THE WORKING MEN OF DUNDEE.

In his recent address to the working men of Dundee, Scotland, the Hon. A. MacKenzie, Premier of Canada; I duty be permitted to say that I have always held those political principles—which by some in this country may be considered peculiar—of the universal brotherhood of man, no matter in what rank of life he may have taken his origin. I have believed, and now believe in the extinction of all class legislation, that tends to promote any family of men or class in the country. In our great colonies, we find no fault with the political organization of the Mother Country or of any other country, we take our stand completely on the ground that every man is equal in the eye of the law, and has the same opportunity by exercising the talents with which God has blessed him, of rising in the world, in the confidence of his fellow citizens—one man quite as much as another. I can address this meeting believing I will find a response in their hearts to the opinions I utter—and I press upon them the absolute necessity as the very foundation of the success in life that they shall assume an erect and proud position, that they shall respect their own manhood, and they will soon compel all other people to respect them. It is quite true you have in this country those who are elevated above the rest by reason of rank and position conferred by the Sovereign's favor or by inheritance; but don't imagine that class distinctions are peculiar to this country. If you go to the United States of America, you will find there I venture to say, more class distinction created by wealth than you find in this country, created by titular distinction among those connected with landed property. It is a matter of moonshine to you or me what influence may separate the great body of the people from the few, whether the influence of the enormous wealth exists a peculiar social barrier which shuts out every one but a favored few, or whether it is a barrier erected by a long precess of law and the Sovereign's favor.

In either case you have in this country, as we have in Canada, and in all the colonies, and in the Republic of the United States, the most perfect field for the operation of your own intellects and powers; and it is the faults of the individual, and not of the political system, if he fails of some comfort in social existence. Speaking of Scotland, he said he believed that the interests of human liberty had been more prompted by this glorious little nationality than by those living on any other spot in God's earth. Almost every spot that one travelled over in this favoaite land was a spot that had been drenched with the martyr's or patriot's blood. Every place visited was alive with historiclore.

A GHOST STORY.

A GRIMSY WIDOWER HAUNTED BY HIS WIFE'S GHOST.

The Hamilton Spectator tells the following: The usually quiet village of Grimsby and is quiter neighborhood has been thrown into a state of the most intense excitement by the report that there was a haunted house on the mountain, and that the ghost had been seen, causing horses to run away and men to faint in their waggons. The greatest victim of the ghost is a widower, employed in the Grimbsy Fruit Canning Co., familiarly know as Old Kitchen. About a year ago his wife died, and ere she breathed her last she called her husband to her bedside and with her last breath warned him that if he ever had anything to do with another woman she would haunt him.—Kitchen promised most faithfully and kept his word till about a week ago when he and one Taylor drove out to Smithville to see a couple of young ladies. Half way between Smithville and Grimsby, on the clay road, just on the edge of the mountain, in an old brick church on the side of the road, and an equally old school immediately opposite. This church was owned by Mrs. K., whose body is burried in the graveyard attached. Mr Kitchen and Taylor had to pass this spot on their way home. When opposite the church alluded to the white robed form of a woman was seen to rise from the graveyard and float through the air towards them, Kitchen screamed out "my wife! my wife! save me," and at the same moment the horse took the bit in his teeth and ran down the mountain at a fearful space, the white form still floating above the occupants of the buggy. Taylor who is the most sensible man of the two, describes the sight as perfectly terrible. It looked like the corpse of a woman with the dead clothes on. The face was quite dead and expressionless, and the eyes were closed; one hand was extended toward Kitchen, almost touching him, and the other pointing towards Smithville. The body in moving made no sound. When they reached Grimsby the poor fellows were nearly exhausted from the effect of the fright. Many of the villagers believe the story.

Attempt to Kidnap Two Ladies.

ONE LADY JUMPS INTO THE RIVER.

Last Friday the members of the St. Jean Baptist Society, of Ogdensburg had a pic-nic party at the St. Lawrence Park, Brockville. In the afternoon two ladies were swinging in the grove, when one expressed a desire to have a boat ride. The conversation being overheard by Thomas Murphy, William Glosson, James Cronan and John Moffat, all of Brockville, one of the party remarked, "We have a boat on the beach, which is at your service." The lady, Maggie McHugh, answered, "We want to go alone." "All right," replied the man who had offered to lend the boat. Miss McHugh, accompanied by her friend, (whose name we have been unable to learn) proceeded to the beach and got into the boat, one of the men pushed it off, but the moment it floated two of the men jumped in. The ladies said "they wished to go alone," and made a request to have the boat landed. One of the men replied that they would row the boat for them, which they proceeded to do. In a few minutes they passed slowly around the point in front of the Park, when they immediately steered for the islands, rowing very rapidly. The ladies becoming alarmed, remonstrated and screamed for help. A youth, who was out in a small boat, went to their rescue, rowing up near the boat in which they were seated. One of the ladies jumped into his boat, when immediately the other boat, containing Miss McHugh, made off in the direction of the lighthouse, followed by a boat containing two men who had been left at the Park. Miss McHugh began screaming for help, when one of the roughs put his hand over her mouth. The boat containing the other lady returned to the Park as quickly as possible, the facts were made known, and half a dozen boats were at once in pursuit. In the meantime the boat containing Miss McHugh approached an island, when the heroic girl jumped into the river, where the water was about five feet in depth, remaining in this position until rescued by her friends. The two boats containing the roughs, proceeded towards the American shore, and, we are sorry to say, escaped. Affidavits were made last night, and the case placed in the hands of P. C. Adams.

The boldness of the attempt, made in broad daylight, and while hundreds of people were in the immediate vicinity, shows that the roughs of this town are prepared for the execution of any crime The recent case

Peterborough Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, SEPT. 2, 1875

THE CONTEST.

By this number of the EXAMINER our readers will learn that there is now a Candidate in the field in the East Riding, in the Reform interest. The Reform Convention at Norwood, by a very large vote selected James Hogan, jnar., Esq., to be their standard bearer. His address is issued, and he has advertised several meetings to explain his views to the electors. The duty of every Reformer is therefore plain, viz., to give him a hearty and earnest support.

Both candidates are Roman Catholics, and therefore in this respect come before the electors with equal claims, but holding very different views. There can be little hesitancy which deserves support. Mr. Hogan is a man who was born in the Riding, is well known to almost all the electors, is well versed in municipal matters, bears an excellent moral character, is obliging and courteous, possessed of good common sense, and has a numerous family connexion in the county. He hesitates not to declare himself in favor of the Mowat Government, and promises it his earnest support. He knows all the wants of the Riding, and will consistently advocate every measure in its interest. He is also undpledged to support anything that will not be in the interest of all the people. He has, therefore, no promises to violate. In the House he will deal justly with all classes as a matter of honor and principle.

LOOK AT THIS THEN AT THAT

The electors of West Peterborough will soon be again called upon to elect a man to represent them in the Parliament of Ontario. The action of one or two over zealous supporters of Mr. Cox having caused the avoidance of the seat. To all present appearances the gentlemen who will solicit the suffrages of the people will be the same as before, Mr. Cox and Mr. Scott, In their coming before us seeking re-election it is not too much to say that they court, or at least lay themselves open to a criticism of their past course, and a comparison of their claims on the people. They are both citizens known to the people about the same length of time, having come to Peterborough almost together. We have therefore, so far as time is considered the same standard. In pursing different callings, or professions, they have arrived perhaps at a different goal, to some extent. The result, however, is visible to all. Their usefulness as citizens can easily be determined by that result and the method of obtaining it. Now in every respect Mr. Cox has proved himself most worthy of confidence. No man in Peterborough has done more to build it up and beautify it. He has spent little less than $100,000 in buildings and property in it. The beautiful block he is erecting will be the handsomest in the town, indeed will compare favorably with any block in any of the cities of the Dominion. During his citizenship here not a single stain has been left on his character. As a private gentleman he is unassuming and gentlemanly. And as a public man, as Councillor and Mayor he showed himself a useful servant and with purpose enough to oppose anything that he considered contrary to the interest of the Town. He has employed more labor than any man in the Town and not a single unpleasantness between him and those men has ever obtained public notice. In fact he is a model man in public and private.

His opponent has occupied the position of Mayor, also, and that too for several years, and was even assisted into that position by his political opponents. But during the five or six years he occupied that position can any one point to a single question of importance brought before the council? Did he ever inaugdoce a single scheme to benefit the Town or community? or did he not rather pass the time for the sake of the emoluments, without much labor? Where are the results of his labors in the public interest? It is true that he did once and again made a public speech to dazzle his admirers and with a view to his own aggrandisment, but this is all that can be pointed to as remnants of the several years he enjoyed the civic dignity of chief magistrate. And we fear that if the cattle had passed judgment on his speeches there would have been as much to condemn as to praise.

Can any one point to a single act of Mr. Scott in Peterborough, which can be construed even into a public one, not moved by his love of self or selfishness shall we say. Timid when anything of importance was brought forward, backward when anything was to be done. His presence proved nothing and aided little. In fact he was a mere civic toy, more for ornament than advantage.

Then too, his connection with the patrage of giving Mr. Bertram's seat to Mr Clux ton cannot be palliated. As leader, so to speak, and as legal advisor, he must have exercised no ordinary influence in that act, and then proved himself capable of advising a gross injustice, which would indicate at least a political unscrupulousness that would not deter him from wrong doing in a crisis or temptation. That he would be a useful member of Parliament not one of his friends would assert, and judging from his past acts, no one can even assume it: for as we said before he has been more ornamental than useful.

One instance can be produced. He was a member of the Iron Bridge Committee from its inception. He acted on that Committee till it completed its work. He was solicitor for the County at the same time, and yet that fraud of $425 carried out before his eyes. If he did not know of it or detect, it speaks little for his business capacity or shrewdness: and if he knew of it and did not prevent it, then why should we assume him to be a fit person to go to represent us in Parliament. It makes little difference to the people which position he may choose. If one man could before his eyes and without his detecting it, carry out a fraud to the amount of five per cent on a very large transaction, what use was he, as a member or as a lawyer on that committee? And if he did detect it, and act then who will trust him with more importa nt concerns?

Then as to his political morality. During the last contest he did not hesitate to use taverns and tavern-keepers to further his election. Fancher, Laurin, Goyette, Phelan, Cavanagh, Jeffers, Brault, Croft, and others were all with him. In the south ward, it was found at the late trial some of these used spiritual influences to further his election. He drank and treated as he admitted himself. He used teams and did not hesitate to use other means which he thought would be successful. Does he then stand uncondemned, or pure before the electors? He dare not claim the seat for fear of disqualification. He dare not answer the simplest questions for fear of self-crimination, and he was not above appealing to the worst passions of the people to create if possible a disturbance in Ennismore. Does he, therefore, come before the people untainted. Nay, verily, but the very contrary.

Judging the two men by their actions, then the electors will be able to see that Mr. Cox deserves their support and earnest assistance on the ground of his excellent public and private character, his public spirit, his uprightness, and his success in business.

Mr. Scott hopes to win the sympathies of electors on account of his defeats, but his action in connection with Drake Woods and Powers, should and must counteract any sympathy for him. While the persecution and animosity to which Mr. Cox has been subjected, should cause a grand rally of his friends and must do much to increase his majority. Electors of West Peterborough, show that you cannot and will not support the quartette, Carnegie, Drake, Scott, and Wood, to do so would leave a stain on the judgment and common sense of the electors of our Riding.

THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

Goldwin Smith, the Globe and Dr. Ryerson, are again at cross swords. The Book depository is the imaginary cause, personal feeling the real one. The Depository may be no better managed than the Globe represents, still few will believe that the agitation to destroy it is in the interests of the people. The Book trade has its influences, and interests to subserve, and too often are they found at variance with the interests of the purchasers. Agitation ended in the introduction of what is known as the new series of School Books, but the cost fell on parents and guardians, and that, too, at rates about three fold what might have been if the old books had been revised and improved which could have been done at a trifling cost.

The present agitation is said to be over some mismanagement in the Depository. It would really be a an unusual thing if the Depository could exist for so many years and so little be brought against the management. Which must have been reasonably good indeed, or the public would have heard more of it before this. And on this account the doctor will have many friends who will say: is this all that you have to complain of? The doctor, however, is a politician. He was trained at a time when politics exercised a very considerable influence on Canadians. And he did not escape that influence. He has always manifested a desire to prick in to every little political bubble that came to the surface in Canadian affairs, and thus very unwisely laid himself open to be attacked and perhaps abused. If he had kept himself aloof from party rancour and bitterness, his department might have passed unnoticed, but unfortunately he did not, and even in his present letters the old spirit prevails. He must have a fling at the Globe party, and thus injure his cause. He has done good service in the cause of Common and High School education. The Canadian School system will remain a monument of his wisdom and perseverance in the furtherance of his object. And many who differ from him in political principles still respect him for the noble work which he has succeded in bringing to such a state of perfection, but regret that his interference in the political squables of almost every government since he accepted his present position cannot, and does not merit their approbation. Very many of them would be pleased to find him in his old age pensioned off to enjoy repose during the few remaining years of his life. Goldwin Smith is a chimerical, but able writer; as a political writer he is a failure. He has brought with him the vagaries that ruined his usefulness in England, and he is seeking to graft those whims into the politics of Canada. His work will be futile, and the fruit will be disappointment. The Canadian people are too loyal to listen to Mr. Smith's scheme of independence which they feel would necessiate separation from the empire. This they cannot and will not entertain for a moment, and the sooner he learns this and changes his course, the better for the party with which he he has allied himself. His superior attainments and his abilities as a writer will be barren of results until he prepares himself to use them in a way that may encompass some good purpose.

The Globe is very persistent in its opposition to the Education Book Depository, and in its endeavours to break it up, few chances are let slip of having a fling so to speak at the head of that department. In this the great Globe manifested a little human weakness. If the doctor is not now smelling the approval of the party in power, can they not pension him off, (he deserves it) and put a younger man in his place? But it cannot be look of fealty to a party, to say that the Globe was wrong in taking up too strongly the cause of the liquor traffic.

It is very strange, too, that the Globe and the Mail can unite to force into retirement, if possible, the caustic professor, Mr. Smith. The coalition cannot be in the interest of literature for Mr. Smith's current events and articles in the Nation are the most readable of our current literature. To force him into retirement and thus to rob the people of the pleasure of reading even his chimerical fancies, would be generally deplored. And that the Globe has joined hands with the Mail to that end causes no small disappointment in the minds of both conservatives and reformers—even the Chief Superintendent is to blame in his manner of reply to Mr. Smith in reference to his favorite Depositary, and the Board of Public Institution.

The Globe must use its great moral and political influence to restrain the monthly introduction of new school books into both the Public and High Schools. The Canadian people are heartily sick of the present system. Parents are almost perplexed about the expensive nuisance; and indeed, no party can deserve the confidence of the people long, who will not put an end by legal enactment to the continual changes being made in the books used in our Schools. The Chief Superintendent gets the blame of many changes, but we are inclined to think that some of them have been forced on him by newspaper and other pressure. But should we find that partyism or personal interests have anything to do with the continual changes in our school books then the people may, on their own interest, forget party in order to get rid of an evil which is entailing a yearly burden on them without any adequate return therefor.

The changes of school books in the last ten years has entailed an extra outlay of as much as the entire income of the Ontario Government for one year, and to what good purpose? The people of Canada cannot afford to have such important interests as the education of their children controlled by party, or personal considerations. And they must demand that the Board of Public Instruction take immediate action in getting rid of the continual changes which have been indulged in, or permitted, of late. Indeed we do not yet see any practical good the Board in its new form has accomplished in this respect; and, shall another year pass without bringing this matter to their notice? It does appear that partyism has taken the place of reason, or long ere thus the public would have been heard on this school book nuisance.

THE RAILWAY BONUS.

The by-law lately placed before the ratepayers of the town to grant $150,000 has been revised and very materially changed. The alterations are in favour of the town, and are considered satisfactory to its opponents, except, perhaps as to the amount. Councillor Hamilton expresses himself strongly opposed to granting more than $125,000.

The prevailing opinion is that the road is almost a necessity to Peterborough and the section through which it is to pass. It is also well known that it cannot and will not be constructed unless liberal bonuses are granted. The company and enterprise are substantially of Peterborough; and hence Peterborough is asked to grant a liberal bonus to show her deep interest in the enterprise. And the people are willing to grant a liberal bonus if by doing so they believe they can secure the road.

The great question now is: will a bonus of $150,000 from Peterborough secure it. It is well known that unless $1,000,000 of bonuses are voted by the Municipalities along the route of the proposed line the company cannot hope to be able to construct it, as otherwise they would not be able to sell bonds sufficient with the bonuses and government aid, to complete it. And as the enterprise is now a Peterborough one, the town is asked to come forward liberally to prove their earnestness and faith in final results.

The objections to the first by-law has been removed largely, guarantees are now put in the by law that will prevent the expenditure of the money or any portion of it until the company has completed so much work. For instance no debentures can be claimed until the road from Peterborough to the East of Belmont is perfectly graded and bridged including the bridge over the Otonabee, and then, only $60,000 can be asked for. The next $40,000 cannot be claimed until the road is graded and bridged from Peterborough to Carlton, and the last $50,000 will not be available till the road is completed and in running order from Toronto to Ottawa, and workshops capable of employing 200 workmen, erected at Peterborough. The interest question is settled to please the querulous. And now the matter is again placed before the ratepayers for their approval. All admit the desirability of obtaining the road. No better time for the working class could be selected. Labourers are plenty, but very little is being done just now. In fact, were it not for Mr. Cox and Mr. Bradburn at present, what would a great many who depend on their labour do.

The expenditure of $60,000 just now would afford employment to all who could avail themselves of it. It would put that much money in circulation just at a time when money is scarce, and would at the same time be hurrying the work towards completion. It is true it will add to the taxes of the town about 3 mills in the dollar, but the taxes have been yearly increasing of late for works of comparatively no value, and this increase would compel economy in other things, and would thus prevent expenditures of a foolish or doubtful nature. And would therefore save enough to compensate for the increase.

In the past we have stood in our own light in Railway matters. It is agreed that this road is the best for Peterborough that has ever yet been projected. The amount is large but the enterprise is large also. The wole sum will be paid back to the people for their labour and will not go out of the County or town, and by undertaking the work immediately much will be done to counteract present money stringency which is preventing many from carrying out other speculations, such as building, improving, &c. The time over which the debentures are extended, namely, 16, 18 and 20 years will tend to place a large portion of the taxes therefor on those who will be likely to reap the advantages and the increase of population and advancement of property will go materially to lessen the rate of taxation from time to time.

The Ratepayers will do well to fully weigh this matter. And on the 20th instant give an intelligent vote, if possible, for the railway.

BAD BIDDING.

A Reform Convention was held at Beckett's Hotel, Norwood, on Monday last. About 80 delegates from the different municipalities were present. Mr. Stratton was appointed Chairman and Mr. Roxburgh Secretary.

After the Chairman had briefly introduced the business for which the Convention had been called, he invited nominations when the following nominations were made.

Mr. Stratton, nominated by Mr. Choate of Dummer, seconded by Mr. Ingram of Otonabee. Mr. Stratton respectfully declined the nomination at the present time.

Mr. Roxburgh, nominated by Mr. A. R. Kidd, seconded by Mr. Jas. Dimmond.

Mr. Roxburgh also declined.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, nominated by Mr. Hastie, seconded by Mr. Jno. Millar.

Mr. Jas. Hogan, nominated by Mr. Jas. Millar, seconded by Mr. J. Blizard, Reeve and Deputy respectively of Otonabee.

Mr. John O'Donohoe, nominated by Mr. Dumble seconded by Mr. Deacon.

Mr. Thos. Blizard, nominated by Mr. Timothy Murphy, seconded by Mr. A. R. Kidd. Mr. Blizard declined the nomination.

Mr. Thos. Buck, nominated by Mr. Raddon, seconded by Mr. G. Elliott.

Mr. T. G. Choate, nominated by Mr. Alex. Calder, seconded by Mr. Robb Mr. Choate declined the nomination.

Mr. E. Ingram nominated by Mr. Drain, seconded by Mr. Choate, Mr. Ingram also declined.

Mr. O'Donohoe's name having been withdrawn. Mr. Dumble resigned in favor of Mr. Hogan. Thus leaving Mr. Hogan and Mr. Buck as the only candidates.

On a vote being taken Mr. Hogan had a majority. At this time a telegram was received from Mr. Buck who was at Kingston, declining the nomination. And Mr. Hogan was declared the nominee of the Convention.

A committee was named to wait on Mr. Hogan. They did so on Tuesday and he accepted the nomination, and is therefore, the candidate in the Reform interest in the East Riding, in this campaign.

At the close of the convention three cheers were given for the Queen, three for Hr. Hogan and three for the Chairman.

FATAL ACCIDENTS.

TWO MEN DROWNED WHILE IN [illegible]

On Saturday evening last a young man by the name of Alexander Anderson had been drowned while in bathing in what is known as the Saw Mill Race, Lakefield. While in swimming he took cramps and called to some of the other young men to help him out; they thought that he was only fooling and only one of them went to his assistance, but he not being a good swimmer could not bear him to shore, while trying to get him out he went down himself twice and for fear he might not get away from him he swam ashore and left him drowning. He was taken out of the water about three-quarters of an hour after by a Mr. Cochrane who dived for him.

The Coroner, Dr. Bell, summoned a Jury, and after hearing the evidence concerning the same they returned the following verdict:—

That the said Alexander Anderson, did on the 28th day of August, in the town aforesaid, come to his heath by being accidently drowned while bathing in the waters of the Otonabee River, at the place known as the saw mill race in the Village of Lakefield.

Also, on Sunday evening Mr. Edward Lytle while bathing in the Otonabee River above his own house. He and another had placed two boards across two saw logs, and got on with the intention of a sale, but were carried into an eddy, when the logs separated and let them both in. Owing to the rapidity of the current at the place no assertion could be rendered in time to save him, the other succeeded in reaching the shore with difficulty after making strenuous efforts to save his companion. The body has since been found and interred.

THAT PROMISE.

Dr. O'Sullivan held a meeting at Norwood on Saturday evening last. His Godfather was with him. Full particulars have not been received, hence we cannot say whether the Doctor's health is improving. He was somewhat excited and irate. His friends had given currancy to a slander, he said, viz., that he had promised to vote for an Orange Bill if elected. This he characterised as a slander, and then jumbling a hundred minor things together he declared them all slanders. We did not learn whether or not he promised to shoot the slanderers. But surely he will not shoot his own near and dear friends in the East who told the story, or rather the promise. To put an end to all this: if the Doctor will appoint a place to meet and promise to get such parson there as we [illegible], and to produce all letters, papers, &c., we will meet him, and face to face prove that his supporters told it all over the Riding, and led many Orangemen to believe that he (Dr. O'Sullivan) did make such promises. Not only so, but we promise to bring a gentleman face to face with the Doctor who heard him make the promise, or that gentleman will be compelled to acknowledge the slander.

AUSTRALIA.

The Murder of Com. Goodenough.

PUNISHMENT OF THE NATIVES.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 24.

It is just learned that Commodore Goodenough, commanding the British squadron in Australia, died on the 20th. He was wounded by a poisoned arrow in an attack on his flagship by the natives of Carlisle Bay. Every effort was made to counteract its effect. One of the seamen was also killed and three wounded by the savages.

LONDON, Aug. 14.

The Colonial Office has received the following details of the attack on Commodore Goodenough and a portion of the crew of the Pearl:—

The Commodore and party on the 12th inst. landed in Carlisle Bay to open an intercourse with the natives of Santa Cruz island, who attacked the Sandfly in the same same place last year. After remaining about an hour ashore, and making apparently satisfactory progress in the object of their mission, they were preparing to return to the ship, when, suddenly the natives, who were only a few yards off, shot at Commodore Goodenough, and the poisoned arrow penetrated his left side. The boat then put off under a fight of arrows. Seven on board were wounded, including Lieut. Hawker. Two of the wounded have since died from the effects of the poison. The others are improving. As soon as the boat returned the Pearl shelled and burnt the native village, and then returned to Nelson's Bay.

THE DOCTORS AND OUR CORNS

The doctors are going far to make themselves a laughing stock. In this matter corns are apt to flourish. They have just had a chiropodist in Brockville fined $10, and henceforth those who suffer from corns will have to cross to the other side. We hope the family will soon add to their other functions the getting rid of those painful little organic lumps from our toes. Why should they not go farther, and prevent anybody pairing his own corns or daring to prescribe for himself.

It is said that by prosecuting persons setting up to heal our fleshy ills without having a license, war is being carried on against abortionists. But "quacks" are held in company countenanced by regular practitioners. In a case some years ago in Montreal, and in the Brockville case of a few months ago, the abortionists were regular practioners. The way to war against the abortionist is to punish him condignly when you can catch him, and not to suspect those who may be harmless persons usefully employed. There is no connection between such a practice and paring corns; and to banish men who relieve us from misery and lameness which the medical man can't do on such an excuse is lame conduct indeed.—Globe.

NEARLY A TRAGEDY.

Last Friday morning four young men of Oshawa, who for convenience sake we will call Jack, Tom, Dick and Tim, wended their way to a well known Lacrosse ground in the corporation, bent on having a spree; a bottle of whiskey being the means provided. Stretched at ease under the branches of a spreading beech tree, they enjoyed the fiery fluid till Tom was drunk, and the others not sober. Tom began to feel bad. He remembered in a confused way that he had left a wife and child in England, and the thought was not consoling in his present state. He determined to end his life, and announced this determination to his companions, asking their assistance. They immediately agreed and discussed the modus operandi. Tom suggested that Jack go up town for a gun, and tell the person from whom it was to be borrowed that he wanted to shoot a dog. Jack said the man would answer him that the Chief Constable could do that. Then a rope was proposed, and Jack started off at once for a clothes line near by; but a broom-stick in the hands of a vigorous matron led him to change his mind, and he returned not knowing what to do. A thought struck him. He could twist a rope out of straw from a field of cut grain close at hand. The rope was made, a loop slipped around Tom's neck, the other end thrown over the limb of a tree, and all was ready. Then Tom proposed that each of the others should be hung also; and it was agreed that Jack would play Calcraft to Tom, Dick to Jack and Tim was to perform the same kind of office to Dick. But here arose a dilemma. Who was to hang Jim? Dick remarked that it would be too bad for them to stand there and see Jim commit suicide! But his scruples were overcome. Tom made his will—verbally. He desired Jack to act as his executor as well as executioner. Jack was charged before he was hung to pay Tom's board and whiskey bills at a hotel in town out of wages coming to him, and to send the balance, if any, to his daughter in England. Jack promised faithfully. The noose was again adjusted. Jack in solemn tones put the question, "Are you prepared to die?" Tom answered, "Yes, I am," and the board, on which it should have been stated Tom was placed, was kicked away. But here what was meant by all excepting Tom for a joke very nearly proved a tragedy. The rope held fast and the weight of Tom's body tightened the noose till he writhed in agony. At length the wriging motion unwound the twist in the straw, and poor Tom dropped to the ground. Even after this the poor fellow suggested a revolver as the surest means of putting an end to himself! There certainly is a ludicrous side to the above statement of facts, which were taken from the lips of an eye witness, but there is little room for laughter where the consequences so nearly approached the tragic. It is to be hoped that the young men have sobered off by this time, and that the experience of Friday last will lead them and others to stop their indulgence in that which makes such fools of otherwise sensible persons, and which in many a case, less fortunate than theirs, has resulted in fatal crime.

THE C. P. & M. RAILWAY AND MINING COMPANY.

The Hastings correspondent of the Campbellford Herald writes:—It is reported here that the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora Railway and Mining Co., has been compelled to make an assignment, that the business has gone into other hands, and that the new Company intend to build Smelting Works at the ore beds. However true this report may be, one thing is certain that the Mining Company's Steamer, the Isaac Butts, made her last trip here for the season on Friday. The trains will also cease running from Cobourg to Harwood in a few days, but this may be owing to the shutting down of the steam mills at Harwood."

Having noticed the above paragraph going the rounds of our exchanges, we have taken trouble to make the most searching enquiries possible, and find that the story is a fabrication manufactured out of the whole cloth, and with out the slightest foundation in fact. The Company are as solvent to-day as they ever were, and the assertion of smelting works about being established at Marmora is based perhaps upon the fact that a gentleman named Stovell has obtained liberty from the Company to make experiments in smelting iron at the mines with petroleum, and a competent English Engineer is accordingly making those experiments, using the Company's property at the he old smelting works in doing so. If these experiments prove successful, a Coy will be organised for the purpose of smelting iron at the mines at Blairton, but it will be entirely unconnected with the present company. Then, with regard to the steamer Isaac Butts making her last trip, the fact is this boat has not been running regularly at all this season. There was no ore brought up from the mines this season, for the simple reason that it could not be disposed of, and the boat was only run a few trips to bring up wood belonging to the company from the Narrows to Harwood. As to the stoppage of trains between Cobourg and Harwood, they will be run as long as they can find anything to do. True, one of the mills has shut down, and the other may shut down shortly, but as they have about 4,000,000 feet of lumber ready for shipment the railway will have plenty of freight for some time, provided the same can be disposed of in the American market. But as the lumber yards on the other side, where we have always found a market, are now over-stocked and cannot find room for half of what is offering, of course a suspension of shipments for the remainder of the season would appear reasonable.

The annual meeting of the Directors of the Company was held in their rooms here on Friday of last week, when W. Irvine Stanton Esq., was elected President, Isaac W. Butts, Esq., son of the late Isaac Butts, Vice-President, and Col. W. Chamblin, Secretary-Treasurer. In the course of a conversation which followed the enquiries of Mayor Sutherland as to the prospects of the company proceeding with the completion of the line to Peterborough, Mr. Barnhman frankly stated the position of the company at the present time. He said that although the company were as desirous of having the line completed to Peterborough as any of the citizens of Cobourg could possibly be, yet they must remember that the largest stockholders were directly interested in the iron trade, and as that trade was now as flat as it could be on the other side, money extremely tight, and general stringency in every branch of industry, they found it out of their power, just now to raise money to proceed with the work necessary to complete the connection: The company, however, were quite willing to make any reasonable sacrifice in their endeavors to fulfil their obligations to the people of Cobourg. He pointed, as a guarantee of their good faith, to the company having purchased the iron to complete the connection, which iron is now piled up in the company's yard ready for use. He showed how the company for the past eighteen months had been keeping a large staff of men at work at the mines taking out ore, during which time they could not sell a pound of it. They had now at the mines awaiting shipment no less than 17,000 tons, and the total value of that material on hand would foot up to between 150 and $160,000. He pledged his word that the company never had any other idea than that of fulfilling in an honorable manner their obligations to the people of Cobourg, and that as soon as times got better on the other side and that they could find a market for their ore, every dollar that they could realize by the sale of it would be expended in pushing forward the completion of the connecting link of the railway to Peterborough. At present it was impossible to proceed with the work, but it was thought as best of the company. He hoped that a change for the better would shortly take place and that the work would go forward to completion at an early pay.—Cobourg Sentinel.

On Monday evening after a Grand Trunk freight train had crossed the Belleil bridge over the Richelieu river the bridge was swung open for the passage of a vessel. Fortunately, however, had this been done before the coupling of one of the cars near the engine gave way, and seven cars loaded with wheat, corn, &c., came rushing back down the grade, and plunged one after the other into the river. The cars are of course badly damaged, and the grain will be destroyed. Up to about 9 o'clock this forenoon no efforts had been made to take the cars out of the river, and, of course, the passage of boats is for the time impeded. No one was injured. This spot will be remembered as the scene of the terrible accident some years ago, when an emigrant train fell through the open bridge causing a dreadful loss of life.

EVERY BROOM WHEN NEW SWEEPS CLEAN.

To the Editor of the Examiner

This, Mr. Editor, was my impression when I saw our water cart driving down from Mitchell's corner past the Huffman House. My mind got puzzled over this peformance, but after a little reflection, I came to the conclusion that, either the horse or the man got attracted by the smell of firewatar, but I suppose it was the horse, who is of a rather baulky disposition. Now, Mr. Editor, who is responsible that our business part of the town is left to the whims of one who was engaged for the well performance of watering our streets. No sane man would call that properly watering the streets, when when the cart is not seen for three or four days. Would such a thing be tolerated in Montreal, Toronto or any other town? If the stipulated price, is not sufficient, then let the sum be increased as to leave no room for complaint. As it is now the $400 are barely thrown away.

Yours,
PETERBOROUGH.

This meeting was called by the request of the Mayor to consider the Railway By-law.

The Mayor stated that he had called the Council together in consequence of an article which appeared in the Review newspaper of this day, on the proposed Railway By-law, in respect of the interest of the Debentures issued before they were required to be used. That this measure may be of very great importance to the Town and County, of which they were all aware. He observed that Messrs. Serious Accident.—On Friday last a son of Mr. William Davis fell from a load of hay and was caught on a fork beneath the prongs entering the abdomen and groin. Dr. Fair who was immediately sent for did all that surgical skill could suggest. The lad is doing well, considering the serious nature of his wounds.—Orillia Expositor.

Startling.—It is stated that one of the charges of undue influence which will be inserted in the proposed petition against Hon. S. C. Wood will be that he was instrumental in bringing on the election in North Victoria at a time when the farmers of one township were so busy with their fall wheat harvest that they, in a great measure, were prevented from taking part while the farmers in an adjoining township were advantaged, because, having no fall wheat and their spring grain not yet being ripe, they had far better facilities for working in the election. Doubtless this count will be the most annihilatory one in the indictment. Its moral force is something terrible to contemplate. We have not heard that the grounding of the steamer Algerian was owing to Mr. Wood's indirect hints in the election, but we would suggest it as an additional, but very comfortable charge on which to base the petition. How true it is that there is naught so wonderful as the unbridled Tory instinct for substantial feeds!—Hamilton Times. We may inform our western contemporary that the real charge will be by bringing on the election so soon Mr. Wood prevented a celebrated Peterborough park speculator doing his level best. The Portman did appear in Manjoram, but it was too early to buy, and he went home at night a wiser and a sadder man.

—ELECTRICITY—

THOMAS' ECLESIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

What they Say of It! A Few Facts for the People.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of its greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusaa, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. W. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

Prostration, resulting from the effects of the intense heat of the summer months, is the pre-disposing cause of so many of the diseases peculiar to hot weather. The stomach vacillating of the loss of vitality pervading the whole system is unable to control the digestion; the food passing undigested through the bowels, irritates the lining membrane, and Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, and when prevailing, Asiatic Cholera may be contracted. Attention to diet, moderate exercise bathing, and regular habits must be observed. To maintain the vital forces and prevent excited and exhaustion, Dr. Wheeler's

Treasurer's Sale of Lands for Arrears of Taxes

TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH } to wit:

WHEREAS, by virtue of a warrant issued by the Mayor of the Town of Peterborough, bearing date the 31st day of July, 1875, and to me directed, requiring and commanding me to levy upon the following Lots and Parcels of Lands in

THE TONE OF VOICE.

It is not so much what you say,
As the manner in which you say it;
It is not so much the language you use,
As the tone in which you convey it.

"Come here," I shrilly said,
And the baby cowered and wept.
"Come here," I cooed and he looked and smiled,
And straight to my lap he crept.

The words may be mild and fair,
But the tones may pierce like a dart;
The words may be soft as the summer air,
But the tones may be sharp as dart.

Few words but calm tones are heard,
And grow by sympathetic law,
But the tones leap forth from the inner self,
And reveal the state of the heart.

Whether you know it or not,
Whether you mean it or case,
Gentleness, kindness, love and hate,
Envy and anger are there.

Then wisely you quarrels avoid.
And in peace and love rejoice.
Keep angry not only out of your words,
But keep it out of your voice.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Pure soft water is the best of all blood purifiers. It dissolves almost every impurity that may find its way to the blood, and passes it off through the skin, lunus and kidneys, thus washing out the blood without any irritation in the system, and without those chemical changes and deposits, which are likely to arise from the action of drugs. Why, then, use doubtful, dangerous, and often injurious drugs for purifying the blood when pure, simple, safe pleasant, and far more effectual water may be had without money and without price?

A hot lemonade is one of the best remedies in the world for a cold. It acts promptly and effectively, and has no unpleasant after-effects. One lemon, properly squeezed, cut in slices, put in sugar and cover with a half-pint of boiling water. Drink just before going to bed; do not expose yourself on the following day. This remedy will ward off an attack of the chills and fever if used promptly.

Hanging a broom in the cellar way keeps it from becoming stiff and hard.

Replacing furniture as we sweep saves much disorder and confusion.

The fumes of a brimstone match will remove berry stains from a book or paper or engraving.

I CANNOT MAKE MY CHILDREN MIND.

What sorrowful confession is this? How many daily make it! Would any such be glad of a little help? They can have it, if they faithfully observe the following directions. If they have begun and long continued a wrong course, it is not promised that evil habits, on the part of themselves or their children, can be uprooted in a day,—but judicious, prayerful perseverance will certainly improve matters.

Now, anxious, troubled, mother, give good heed to what follows. Much more of importance could be said; but try this, just now; weigh it well and then practice, in good earnest.

Set it down that obedience must be secured, at all events—God commands it, and parents require it. If God has made it their duty, it is both reasonable and practicable. Never believe the contrary. Especially never acknowledge, in the presence of your little children, that you cannot govern them. Such an acknowledgement well nigh makes it impossible for you to ensure obedience.

Do not needlessly multiply commands. Let your rules and requirements have respect to the main things. Something it is best to overlook; but not bad tempers, lying, wilful disobedience, and the like.

In regard to these our rules should be simple, and clear and unalterable as the laws of the Medes and Persians. The Moral Law must be made to appear infinitely more important than our mere prudential regulations. Do not, usually give reasons for your requirements. The children are not entitled to know all your reasons. They could not appreciate some of these reasons if they were recited to them. They would cavil with your reasons and, in time refuse to obey, before disputing about their fitness. To allow them thus to argue the case with you would be destructive of good government as some of you know by experience. Show your children that the Word of God and not your will, or caprice, is your directory. Imitate the government of god, and make his pleasure, and not existing customs, your family law. Never threaten what you ought not to execute. Keep your word always. Take time,—make time,—for the due government of your children. Whatever else you must need neglect, do not neglect this. And, if you feel ignorant, and weak, pray to God, every day, for wisdom and strength, and put them to use when granted.—Mirror.

RULES FOR DAILY LIFE.

Do not express your opinion too freely and decidely when it differs from those around you, simply for the sake of saying 'I think' when no good will be done.

Try to give up your way in trifles as well as in more important matters, except where principle is involved.

Do not complain of little discomforts but bear them cheerfully.

Try to avoid making disagreeable remarks of any description, and make no unpleasant comparisons.

Do not perform disagreeable duties with a martyr-like air, but always cheerfully.

Bless those in the first circle of your different relations from which God has placed you, you would lead a better or happier life.

IMPROVING THE FARM.

I believe in farmers living well; no class better deserves the fat of the land. I believe in fine carriages, houses, and generous scale of personal expenses—not at the cost of the farm, but as the result of profitable investments made on the farm itself. It is possible for the farmer to live like an independent prince, but only by stimulating the farm to its utmost productiveness. High living with any other programme tends only to debt and poverty. But no farmer who is constantly making his land more productive can fail of securing a profitable result, provided he uses his money with any degree of discretion. There is no farm in Western New York where one hundred to one thousand dollars could be used in ways that would be perfectly certain to return twenty to fifty per cent. On many farms, it would be a job of underdraining; and in my experience, an underdrain will always return cost in four crops, and sometimes two. There is an average return in draining all land that needs it fully, thirty-three per cent. Manure can often be bought at rates which will pay one hundred per cent more in the first crop, and another hundred per cent in the increased value of the farm. Sometimes by hiring an extra hand at two hundred dollars, eight or nine hundred dollars more may be produced on the farm. It requires more thought and ability to keep capital in a farm properly employed than is given to any other kind of business, and yet there is no occupation wherein surplus capital can be used with greater profit and be entirely safe from loss. That farming pays is the testimony of hundreds of farmers who knew how to use their capital profitably, that it does not pay is the testimony of millions more who demonstrate their position more conclusively. Both are right—each according to the method he adopts.

In making farm improvements for profit, a rapid fall of judgement is required which may be the speediest return. An investment which is rapid in the first crop really costs nothing excepting the use of the money for a few months. In many cases an investment thus made will furnish capital for still further improvements, whereas, if made in something not bringing an immediate return, it will be only so much addition to the dead capital of the farm. It does not pay generally to make improvements which give only a moderate return for the investment, unless capital is to be had in unlimited quantity; a moderately profitable improvement shuts the door against others which would be far better. So long as a farmer is crambed by lack of capital, he must not only ask what will pay, but what will pay best and quickest. If a good fence prevents manuring or draining a field, its cost may be a clear waste of money, so far as present profit is concerned. In fact, one of the strongest arguments for soiling is that it unlocks capital in farming and allows it more profitable use. I was much impressed by an idea of one of your correspondents, that one farmer of his acquaintance enriched his farm and filled his barns, while his neighbors became poor, by clearing off the water and stones from his fields. In the end the farmer who devoted his skill and labor to enriching the soil and easily surpass all others in every style of improvement. The moral is to begin with those methods which pay best until you get capital to do everything which pays. After that it will be safe and pleasant to make a good many other improvements merely for appearances and without regard to pecuniary compensation.—The Country Gentleman.

FAIRLY CORNERED.

A writer in the Toronto Nation, supposed to be Mr. Goldwin Smith, has cornered the Mail in the most inimitable style. This is the style in which he does it: A few weeks ago the Nation challenged the leading party organs in Toronto to state the distinctive principles on which their parties were founded. The Mail took up the challenge in very bombastic style, and among other things asked how much worse "the McKellars and the Crookes" would be if there was not a Conservative party to watch them? The answer of the Nation is at once conclusive and crushing. How much worse would they be, asks the 'Canada First' organ, if the Mail speaks the truth? It is stated a hundred times that one of these gentleman swindled a charity, and that the other betrayed his trust as treasurer—to his own private advantage. Now if these statements are true, what the Nation wishes to know is, how much good the Conservative party has done by watching? There never was a better example of chickens coming to roost. The Mail in the grossest and most atrocious manner slandered both these gentlemen, and now it must retract the slander or confess the Conservative party serves no lawful purpose in the country. Either Messrs. McKellar and Crooks are not the kind of men which the Mail represents them to be, or the Mail's party is utterly useless. If the Tory organ would keep a little nearer the truth it would not get cornered on such an awkward dilemma.—Stratford Beacon.

Popular Arts.

In the entire conglomerate educational system of America there is no department in which so much time and money are absolutely thrown away as in what are called the ornamental arts. The teachers in this department fail entirely to comprehend the end towards which every lesson they give should drive. It is not for us to point out the remedies for their imperfections, and to demand that they shall either be remedied, or the costly farce be withdrawn from the boards.

Oratory is one of the most popular arts in America. The man who can speak well is always popular; and the operator holds the hearts of the people in his hand. Yet, what multitudes of young men are poured out upon the country, year after year, to get their living by public speach who cannot ate... read well! We have had something to say recently about the unreasonableness of the people concerning brilliant preachers; yet, after all, there is something to be said for the people. When a minister goes before an audience, it is reasonable to ask, and to expect that he shall be accomplished in the arts of expression—that he shall be a good writer, and a good speaker. It makes little difference that he knows more than his audience—it is better than his audience—has the true matter in him—if the art by which he conveys his thought is shabby. It ought not to be shabby, because it is not necessary that it should be. There are plenty of men who can train the voice. There are plenty of men who can so dereloy it as to interest the parts of ordinary men, not men, heart to go into the pulpit unaccomplished by the power to impress upon the people all of wisdom that he carries. The art of public speech has been shamefully neglected in all our higher training-schools. It has been held subordinate to everything else, when it is of prime importance.

"JEFFING."

They tell a pretty good story of one of those wild-eyed Lake Superior editors. He is a great hand to "jeff," and ween-ever he can make the nicks on a "quad" settle a question he prefers to do it in that way. He "jeffs" to see whether he shall pay his hands in cash or store orders; "jeffs" to decide whether he shall come out on a half sheet Christmas week, and "jeffs" to decide whether he shall go to the lodge or to weekly prayer meeting. It wasn't long ago that he attended a revival, more in the capacity of reporter than sinner, and, before going, drank something to make him feel good. When a call was made for sinners to come forward a church member stepped down the aisle and took the editor by the hand and entreated him to take a position on the anxious seat.

"Oh, I guess not," replied the editor.

"Come, we want to save you," continued the friend.

"Oh, I'm all right," was the reply.

"No one can be all right who is not a working Christian. Come, let us have your example.

The editor felt in his pocket, produced five "ten quads," and as he shook them in his hand he replied:

"I'll jeff you to see whether I go or stay!"

He did.—Detroit Free Press.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL

WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

[illegible] of the properties of [illegible]

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally needed as a cathartic, or what is [illegible] any family as a reliable, safe and [illegible] by whomsoever [illegible] used, in every country and [illegible] all climates, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a much more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them: those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as has this blood remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in the estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the Ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our space is required by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold everywhere.

Choice Poetry.

SATURDAY EVENING.

The week is past; the Sabbath dawn comes on: Rest—rest in peace—thy toil is done; And standing, as then standest, on the brink Of a new scene of being, manly think Of what is gone, is now, and soon shall be, As one that trembles in eternity. For such as this now closing week is past, So much advancing time will close my last, Soon as to-morrow shall the awful light Of the eternal morning hail my sight.

Spirit of God! on this week's verge I stand. Tracing the gilding brilliances of Thy hand. That hand which lends me gently, calmly still, Up life's dark, stormy, tiresome, thorny hill, Thou, Thou in every storm has sheltered me Beneath the wing of Thy benignity. A thousand graves my footsteps circumvent. And I exist. Thy mercy's monument; A thousand writhes upon the bed of pain, I live, a pleasure flows through every vein, Want o'er a thousand wretches waves wave wand. I, circled by ten thousand mercies, stand.

How can I praise thee, Father, how express My debt of reverence and thankfulness! A debt that no intelligence can count, While every moment swells the vast amount. For a week's duties thou hast given me strength And brought me to its peaceful close at length, And here my grateful bosom fain would raise A fresh memorial to Thy glorious praise.

OUR SUFFRENS WITH AGENTS.

BY JORIAH ALLEN'S WIFE.

We done pretty well this year; the crops came in first rate, and then Josiah had four or five head of cattle to turn off, and he proposed I should have a sewin' machine. Though we don't coo at each other as much as some do, my pardner Josiah, is attached to me with a firm and almost cast iron devotedness.

But says I to him:

'Josiah, I had rather Tirzah Ann would have a organ, because if she's ever goin' to learn to play now is the time. And I have got a couple of sewing machines that have run pretty well for upwards of —— well, it hain't no matter how many years, but quite a number anyway.'

But Josiah hung on to that machine, and Tirzah Ann seemed sat unto her organ, and finally Josiah ups and says he, 'I will get both on 'em.' And Tirzah and me thought we would let him have his head in the matter.

So it got out that we was goin' to buy a sewing machine and a organ.—Wall we made up our minds Friday, pretty late in the afternoon, I was a washin', when I heard a knock at the front door, and I wrung my hands out of the water and opened it.

A slick lookin' fellow stood there, and I invited him in and set him in a chair.

'I hear you are talkin' of buyin' a musical instrument for your daughter,' says he.

'No,' says I, 'we are goin' to buy a organ.'

'Wall,' says he, 'I want to advise you, not that I have any interest in it at all, only I don't want to see you imposed on. It fairly makes me mad to see a Methodist imposed upon. I lean towards that persuasion myself.—Organs are liable to fall to pieces at any minute. There hain't no dependence on 'em at all, the insides of 'em are liable to break out any minute. If you have any regard for your own welfare and safety, you will buy a piano. Not that I have any interest in advising you only my stern devotion to the cause of right. Pianos never wear out.'

'Where should we go to get one?' says I, for I didn't want Josiah to throw away his property.

'Wall,' says he, 'as it happens I guess I have got one out here in the waggon. I believe I threw one into the bottom of the waggon this mornin' as I was a comin' down here on business I'm glad now that I did, for it always makes me feel ugly to see a Methodist imposed on.'

But Josiah asked the price and said he wasn't goin' to pay out 400 dollars, for he wuzzent able. But the man asked if he was willin' to have it brought into the house a spell—we could do as we had a mind to about buyin' it: and of course, we couldn't refuse, so Josiah almost broke his back a liftin' it in.—And they sot it up in the parlor and after dinner the man went away.

I had just got back to my washin' again (I had put it away to get dinner) when I heard a knockin' again to the front door, and I pulled down my dress sleeves, and went and opened and there stood a tall feller, and, the kitchen being all chattered up, I opened the parlor door and asked him in there.—And the minute he ketched sight of that piano he just lifted up both hands, and says he:

'You aint got one of them things here?'

He looked so horrified that he scart me, and says I, in almost trembling tones:

'What is the matter with 'em?' and I added, in a cheerful tone, 'We hain't bought it.'

He looked more cheerful as I said it, and shoot em with it, and make em think you have drowed blood.'

'There ain't no best juice,' says I in a gloomy tone. 'And if there was, how could I take aim with my head as it is to day?'

'Wall, says Josiah, 'I have got to go anyway. You lock up the house and go to bed, and mebby you can keep 'em out.

I let down the curtains and locked the doors, and laid down. I heard knockin' to the door a good many times and a considerable moving and stampin' round the house, and I never stired until it was time for Josiah to come home and then I roused up to hang on the tea kettle. Wall, I just histed up a little corner of the window curtain, and I could just see a pair of shinin' boots in front of the parlor door. I went to the other window and there I could see the hull of him—it was the everlastin piano man. I went into the kitchen just as still as I could and heard a talkin' on the piazza. Peekin through a hole in the curtain I saw two of em; one a sewin machine man the other a organ: as they was friendly to each other, and not together.

As I stood there the organ man spoke up:

'They must be home pretty soon and I guess that piano feller will find that I can stick it out as long as he can,' says he.

'Yes,' says the other feller, 'and I guess that t'other feller will find that his can't tucker me out if he should stay here all night.'

Thinks I, mebby I can stik out the back door and fill the tea kettle, but I be hanged if one didn't sit there on the back stoop, looking down the road that led to Jonesville, as close as a cent would watch a rat-hole.

I went back to my room again cross out and depressed, and I wished that Josiah would come. I peeked out the window towards the barn, to see if I could see him and happening to cast my eyes down to the ground I see one of his boots sticking out a little ways from under the barn, then I see that he had got as far as the barn before he see em, and then he had hid. I knew there would be no getting him into the till the enemy had disappeared, but yet it was a satisfaction to know that my companion was so near me.

Wall, they never went away so Josiah could come out of his hiding place and I could get supper till sundown, and I had to get supper and Josiah had to milk after dark. And says Josiah, as we was eating supper after bedtime:

'Samantha, as for standing it much longer, I can't and won't. It's a runnin you down and I'm spilin my clothes a crawlin under the barn so much, to say nothing of fillin my mouth and hair with dirt, straw and feathers.'—He helped himself again to the cherry pie, and says with a gloomy expression onto his face: 'There has got to be a change.'

'How is there goin to be change?' says I.

I'll tell you,' says he in a whisper, for fear some one of them was prowlin round the house yet. 'We'll get up before light to-morrow mornin' and go to Jonesville and buy an organ right out.'

I fell in with the idea and we started for Jonesville the next morning. We got there just after the break of day, and bought it of a man at the breakfast table. Says Josiah to me afterward, as we were going down into the village:

'Let's keep dark about buyin' one, and see how many of the creeter will be a besettin' on us to-day.'

Says I, 'You must love to be haunted by 'em better than I do.'

Says he, 'I love to fool 'em.'

Says I, 'It is jest about such foolin as the little boy that let his father whip him through mistake, jest to fool his father.' But seein' that my companion looked disappointed, I told him it wasn't my way to tell everything I knew. I shouldn't say nothin' about havin' bought one.

So we kept still, and there was half a dozen fellers follerin' us round all the time almost, into stores and groceries and the manty makers. And they would stop on the sidewalk and argue with us about their organs and pianos.

One feller, a tall slim chap, he never let Josiah out of his sight a minute, and he followed him after he went for the horses, and walked by the side of the waggon clear down to the store, where I was, a arguin' all the way about his piano. Josiah had bought a number of things, and left 'em to the store, and when he got there, there stood another one, the organ man by the side of the things, just like a watch-dog. He knew Josiah would have to come to get 'em, and he could get the last word with him.

Amongst other things Josiah had bought a barrel of salt, and the piano feller that had stuck so tight to Josiah all day offered to help Josiah on with it And the organ man not going to be out done by the other, he offered too. They wasn't used to such kind of work, and it fell back on them once or twice and most squashed 'em; but they hipped to, and lifted again and finally got it on; but they were completely tuckered out.

And then Josiah got in thanked 'em for liftin' and the organ man a wipin' the sweat offen his face that had started out in his hard labor, said 'he should be down to-morrow morning;' and the piano man, a pantin' for breath told Josiah not to make up his mind till he came. He should be down that night if he got rested enough.

And then Josiah told 'em 'that he should be glad to see 'em down a visitin' any time; but he had just bought an organ.'

I don't know but what they would have laid hold of Josiah if they hadn't been so tuckered out; but as it was they was too beat out to look anything but sneakin,' And we drove off.

IS IT MURDER?

The Free Press of the 26th says: At an early hour this morning rumours were rife throughout the city that a man had attempted to commit suicide on York Street last night, by cutting his throat with a razor. So far as we can learn, the particulars of the case are as follows: Between eleven and twelve o'clock last night, a man named Edward Burns, about fifty years of age, rapped at Dr. Beaubien's residence, on York Street. On opening the door, a horrible sight presented itself. The man was completely covered with mud and blood, his throat was badly cut, and he was about as horrible a sight as a person could possibly be called to look upon. He was at once admitted, and the doctor did all he could for his relief. At an early hour this morning he was removed to the General Hospital, where Sergt. O'Keefe visited him later in the day. He appeared to be perfectly sober at this time, and no trace of liquor could be found upon him last night. In answer to enquiries from the Sergeant, he stated that he had been walking along York Street when he was attacked by three men, one of whom knocked him down, while another cut his throat with what appeared to him to be a razor. He was then thrown into the excavation for the main sewer. On getting out he started towards the house of Mr. Duff, on the southern side of York street, where a man was sitting at the door. As soon as he was observed, however, the man slammed the door in his face. He afterwards went up as far Dalhousie street, and crossed over to the residence of Dr. Beaubien, as we have already stated. Dr. Beaubien gives it as his opinion that Burns cannot live. His windpipe is severed.

HOT AND COLD.

The last number of the conservative organ here, is largely taken up with vituperation of the Catholic League, George Brown, the Globe and the Catholic demand for fair representation in parliament. About two columns and a half of its valuable space is occupied with the stale cry subject of how this was brought about. For over twenty years the Catholics in a body voted for the Conservative party. During that time Lower Canada could get all demanded, but Irish Catholics were left out in the cold. Dissatisfied they sought redress and selected East Peterboro as a place where they had a right to expect one of their number could be elected, in the very same way that John Carnegie selected John O'Sullivan to be a candidate, because it contains a large Catholic vote likely to be given to a Catholic, if nominated. As to the cry about Reformers not voting for a Reform Catholic, just read a letter from a Conservative Orangeman in the last Irish Canadian and judge of the principles of the two parties. The Review is now calling to his aid all the sectarianism and religious and national bitterness he can stir up. At one time it is wrong, criminal, unholy, for a Catholic to seek to attain a position of honor, and O'Donohoe, Merrick, Hughes and Stock, are branded as factionists, rebels, fenians. George Brown's letter in reply to those who addressed themselves to him, is invoked to show that Reformers were willing to do Catholics justice, and not place any obstacle in their way to receive the due acknowledgement of merit or ability. Will John Carnegie say this was wrong? Nay, he dare not, for that would be equivalent to saying that Catholics are unworthy of receiving his support or vote. Then if John can vote for and support a Catholic who will say that Reformers may not, when it pleases them. Is John Carnegie to be the Judge of how Reformers are to act in these matters? They do not respect his judgement sufficiently to be guided by it.

There is nothing to be gained by following the redomontade of the Review on this all engrossing Catholic—Protestant, re presentation question. John Carnegie did put Dr. O'Sullivan into the field in December last, solely because he was a Roman Catholic, and because he thought that thereby he could secure the Catholic vote. If the Reformers did that in 1871, John Carnegie is an apt scholar, he did it the first opportunity afterwards.

The Review then talks about ultra-protestantism and ultra-catholicism, as dangerous. Let him rid his own skirts of the former, and then get away from coveting the aid of the latter, and he will have removed the "beam" out of his own eye. If Protestant Reformers have sought Catholic support, they did it openly and honorably, and did not lie about it. If they have nominated Mr. Hogan it is because they who have done so, believe him a Reformer and a Catholic, and likely to be elected, instead of Dr. O'Sullivan. Is it not better to elect a Catholic reformer than a Catholic conservative? Now, John beat about the bush no longer, come right out and tell the truth for once, did you not select Dr. O'Sullivan for no other reason than his being a popular Catholic? You know you did, but then human nature will not let you acknowledge the truth, and if right for you to do this, is it wrong for Reformers to do so. Again, John, why did you not nominate a Roman Catholic before, during the twenty years of your alliance, was it because you loved them too dearly to place one of them in the way of temptation, or rather was it not because your supporters had avowed they would not vote for one of them? Let us have the whole matter, truth will bear telling.

WHAT WOULD PLEASE?

Mr. Hogan's candidature in the East Riding disconcerts the editor of the Review. It is passing strange that the Reformers should nominate a Roman Catholic. He wonders what the result will be, and awaits more light. That head has been in darkness, no one] who knows him, doubts.

A Reform convention last year, did not select Mr. Hogan, and a Conservative convention did not select Mr. Carnegie, notwithstanding that he had been in full accord with his party. It is not difficult to devise why. The Conservatives felt they could not elect him. The Conservatives forced the late Mr. Pearce out of the field and John Carnegie selected Dr. O'Sullivan to take his place. Why did he do so? We fancy the why and wherefore of Dr. O'Sullivan's candidature. It is enough to know that Dr. O'Sullivan is a candidate and Mr. Hogan is a candidate, both selected because the party nominating thinks each is the most likely man, to win, and as Mr. Carnegie believes that Mr. Hogan is a worthy opponent, he would do well to show his generosity and help to elect him. The Review has based that many Roman Catholics the Conservatives elected in the late contest. Mr. John O'Donoghoe's ghost is still haunting the sanctum of Mr. Carnegie. His dreams are not free from the dread of another castigation from that gentleman. John O'Donoghoe is a gentleman of undoubted ability. He is a representative Irish Catholic, his presence in any parliament would be a guarantee that they would not be neglected whereas, their rights were concerned. He is a good speaker with no common share of administration talent, and would be an honor to his country. These were and still are good reasons why he should be in the House. John Carnegie selected Dr. O'Sullivan, now what has he done to the House what would he have been there?

The Review's ideas of what constitutes political harmony are easily understood, namely, a blind adherence to the diction of John Carnegie. He cannot remember that he went to Emily to secure harmony in favour of Mr. Hudspeth, but did not succeed. Did Mr. Hogan go there? Then again did Mr. Hogan support Mr. Scott last January? Is he a Reformer? Does any one doubt it? If not, then why does the dear soul vex himself over Mr. Hogan's candidature? The Doctor has now a worthy "opponent," just because the Review dare not insult him. If he does he would not fail to class him as he did all his co-religionists in 1871, as a fenian.

THE APPLE.

The Review is anxious to throw in an apple of discord into the Reform ranks. He wants to know did Mr. Hogan support Dr. O'Sullivan in the late contest, what is it to him, it could only effect Mr. Stratton, and he does not and did not care who did or did not support him. He has no personal quarrel with Catholics for not supporting him. He never asked them to do so, and is not agrieved because they did not, and if Mr. Hogan did not support Mr. Stratton he did support Mr. Cox. The reason is well known and what has Mr. Carnegie to do with the reason or the fact either.

Why he opposes Dr. O'Sullivan is very evident. He is on the other side of politics. Will Mr. Carnegie answer two questions?

1st Whose aid did he seek on towards his own candidature, on Christmas day last?

2nd Why did he retire the next day?

The answer to those two questions will reveal these two facts, that John sought the Catholic vote before he brought out Dr. O'Sullivan, and when he found he could not get that vote he retired. Is it not a fact that you Mr. Carnegie did not select the Doctor till you were rejected by the Catholics and made a virtue of a necessity and got the Doctor to take Mr. Pearce's place? Even the Doctor would not support John Carnegie and John had to yield. It need not concern the Review to learn why Mr. Hogan now opposes the Doctor, as they are both in the field because popular Catholics. Mr. Carnegie is not in the field because he was discarded by Catholics and dare not appeal to the protestant electors without Catholic supporters.

THE APPROACHING CONTEST.

In a very short time the elections in these ridings will be on us, and we would therefore advise the friends of the present Reform Government not to allow their opponents to gain the advantage in this election. The desperation and determination which the Peterborough quartette Carnegie, Drake, Scott and Wood, have manifested in the last few weeks may assume a more reckless and dangerous form and hence the care that should actuate every friend of law and order, especially to avoid those men as dangerous and treacherous, and guard against associating with any of their allies.

Electors of West Peterboro,' you will be called on by the end of September at any rate to again return Mr. Cox as your representative. In the meantime allow not the enemy or serpent to deceive you. Mr. Scott is seeking by misrepresenting the position of his opponent, to obtain promises to elect him, make no promises, you last year elected Mr. Cox, and by no act of his own, has been unseated, abide your time, his opponent is tremulous and care worn, he has thrice suffered defeat. He had to abandon a claim to the seat to avoid being disqualified. His heart is set on being able to attach M. P. P. to his name, he did so for a few months by arousing the worst passion of his friends when filled with whiskey they broke up the poll-, he now hopes by leasing the promises of a few, and thus obtain by the most unfair means what he cannot obtain by an honorable cause. When he asks your support think of the quartette, Carnegie, Drake, Scott and Wood and avoid them as you would a leper. Mr. Cox has done nothing but what was honorable and straightforward. He did not slink behind any subterfuge of an attorney. He feared no investigation, and kept back no information. He is still a gentleman in whom the electors can place the greatest confidence, and we therefore request that they guard against committing themselves to another. Form not even a temporary alliance with the associates of Drake, Wood and Powers.

COME AND DENY IT, JOHNIE!

Mr. Carnegie is one of the apostles of "Sweetness and light" who are fond of imputing motives and using such words as "false and untrue" to those who are unable to view this world and its affairs through the same pair of coloured spectacles which he uses. He found himself, however, in a sad plight at Smith's Hotel, Indian River, on Tuesday night, 7th inst. where he went to Mr. Hogan's meeting as one of the Doctor's champions. He was there branded as a liar, the instance of his lying was given, and Mr. John was invited to stand forward and deny it, silent he sat, saying nothing, but looking unutterable things. Symyathizing with the poor man and anxious to help him, his good friend, Mr. Thomas Buck, of Otonabee, walked across the room and putting his kind hand on his shoulder said to him "Come and deny it, Johnnie, Stand up like a man and deny it," but Johnnie's knees were weak, his backbone was out of joint, his manhood, although appealed to had forsaken him, and he sat a spectacle for men to weep for, and angels to mourn over.

WHINING STILL.

The Doctor complains that Mr. Dumble and Mr. Stratton has put him to a great deal of cost. Why does he not tell the truth, and say Timothy Cavanagh caused him to be unseated? It was Whiskey and Free Dinners that caused him so much trouble and expense. The Doctor is still seeking sympathy. He has nothing to whine about and courts sympathy. He was justly unseated, and why does he not like a man bear the result

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE EAST AND WEST RIDINGS OF THE COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

A new election being at hand, I take the liberty of again addressing you. The law which has made this election necessary is the work of the Reform party, and we rejoice at its existence. We want purity of elections and we are willing to take the consequences of any violations by ourselves of its provisions. We seek nothing but justice and right and these we may reasonably hope now to obtain. It was surely time to have the political atmosphere purified and the people saved from further degradation.

Political matters are precisely in the same position that they occupied at the time of the last election. No new issues have arisen, and the contest will be purely and exclusively a contest between the two political parties. The tories place it entirely on this ground. They come out squarely and ask your votes in opposition to the Mowat Government. They openly ask you to turn out the present liberal government and to place them in power, and you may expect that every effort will be made to induce you to believe that the tory party, with all their bluster and schemings, are the hope and salvation of the country. They ask you to believe that the leopard has changed its spots, that they have ceased to rule with an iron hand, that the salvation of the country is their first and only desire and that the people are no longer to be treated by them as "hewers of wood and drawers of water." They will tell you that they want not patronage, not the offices in the gift of the Government, but only the public welfare and happiness, and that for this end they are laboring to bring about a change.

Let us look a little into their motives and action, for these are the tests by which to judge them. In order to do this fairly let us go back a little in the history of our country, let us examine the antecedents of this would be immaculate party and then see how far they are entitled to our confidence and gratitude. This is the more necessary because many of the present electors are unacquainted with the past history of the tory party in Canada. The generation which is now passing away could tell of the hardships and the wrongs which they have endured at the hands of this party in times past, and it would be well if those who are now taking their place would seek their council and be guided by their experience and their wisdom. History is the only true teacher and guide of nations and people, and those who neglect its lessons are wilfully blind and will not see the light.

The generation which is now passing away could tell of their hardships and sufferings in times past. They could tell how the country was ruled by a tory conject, who denied the people their simplest rights. They could tell of their struggles to ameliorate their condition and to remove the unjust laws which oppressed them. How hard and how long they labored in order to open up a way through which their children might by means of education and equal rights have a fair field to rise socially and politically and to secure those advantages which their fathers were not permitted to enjoy. It took many years of effort, and of hardships and persecution to accomplish this, but success finally they succeeded. They fought inch by inch and at last they conquered. They obtained responsible government. They secured municipal institutions, those great schools which have taught the people the blessings and the benefit of self government. They secured a just and enlightened system of popular education. They made every man equal before the law. Religious liberty was guaranteed. State churchism was abolished, and now it can fairly be said that poverty is no longer a crime and labor no longer a disgrace.

It is necessary that these things be now remembered and understood. That the people of the present day give heed to the lessons and the warnings which are so plain and so easy to learn, and while it is so important to hear in mind. And they must not imagine that because they enjoy their present rights and privileges there is no need of watchfulness or alarm. To become indifferent and careless now would be throwing open the doors of the citadel and inviting their enemies to enter and take possession. No people ever preserved their liberty who neglected or neglected to guard and protect it, and the first step of the enemy is to lead them into quietude, and to induce them to believe that they are safe. And this is precisely what the tories are doing today. They are preaching just what they did after confederation, that there is nothing which should create or keep alive party feeling, and that, at all events in the Ontario Legislature there should be no politics, that the parliament of this province is but a larger kind of municipal representation where all classes may work together in harmony and for one common object. That is exactly what they said after confederation, and they hope to succeed now, as they succeeded then, in inducing reformers to believe them, and in this way to destroy the reform party. And could they succeed reformers would again be made to feel how greatly they had been deceived, and they would find themselves proscribed and persecuted as they were before, and the tory party, after they had thus got into power, would boldly tell them that they were now masters of the situation, and that they would again rule for their own party interests as they did after the elections following confederation. Reformers therefore need not, mislead themselves with the idea that toryism is different now from what it ever was, because if they do, they will deserve to be deceived. Party lines are even more strongly defended to-day than they have been for a long time past, and the watchword of the tory party is "oppose and destroy the Mowat Government," or in other words, "turn out reformers and place us in power." And this is the simple issue which the people have now got to decide, that is, whether the Government of Ontario, and that of the Dominion as well, is to be carried on by tories or reformers. The party that rules Ontario will surely rule the Dominion, and therefore the contest has a much wider object than mere ascendancy in this our Province. The Dominion Legislature is made up of representatives from the several provinces, and therefore is to control, the one is to rule the other. Let reformers then, and not they alone, but the whole people understand their position and their duties, and if they desire to preserve the honor and credit of the country and save it from a repetition of those disgraceful transactions which brought such a scandal upon our young Dominion, and such wide-spread ruin upon the leaders of the conservatives, and which caused the people of both political parties to drive them from power, they must take care to uphold the present government both at Toronto and at Ottawa, which are doing so much for the welfare and prosperity of the country. Every effort will be made, every stratagem practiced, and all kinds of deception will be resorted to, by the party now in opposition for the purpose of misleading the people, and where all other means fail they will excite religious prejudices and animosities in order to influence even reformers, setting Protestant against Catholic and Catholic against Protestant. In one place they flatter catholics and denounce orangeism, and in another they cry down with popery. In a riding where catholic votes are numerous they support a catholic, and in another were they are few they raise the protestant cry, and denounce reformers because they do not persecute popery. As in South Victoria lately, where they abused the Hon. Mr. Mowat because he ate at the same table with a Catholic. In Lower Canada they join hands and go exultingly to the polls with ultramontanes and jesuits and uphold such scandals as land swaps and corruption in every department of the public service, while in Ontario, as a general rule, they pursue the opposite course, and seek to hound down the member for South Victoria because he was said to have sent one of his children to a catholic school. I only mention these things to show how reckless and inconsistent they are. They even try to make some people believe that the present failure of crops and hard times are the result of reform government. In effect they blame reformers, because we have too much rain, and because people will not pay higher prices for lumber and grain. They calculate largely upon the effect of such appeals to men's prejudices and selfishness. They know how easy it is to work upon the passions, and how many are led away by accusations which have no foundation or truth, for human nature is easily excited, and when excited it is easily directed to the injury of those upon whom their leaders are working. An insinuation, or an accusation, however unreasonable or improbable, oftentimes work the most serious and disastrous effects, just as a single spark of fire will produce a great conflagration, and, as in France for instance, a great revolution has been produced by bad men even in a single day; but when the people discover the error it is too late to stay the danger. Wherefore, I ask you, fellow electors, not to be deceived, not to allow your minds to be diverted from facts patent to you all, not to surrender your common sense and your judgement to the control of scheming and designing politicians, who would se you for their own selfish purposes, for they would ride upon the whirlwind rather than not ride at all.

You in the East Riding have before you as candidates Dr. O'Sullivan and Mr. Hogan—both well known to you. Dr. O'Sullivan comes before you a declared and uncompromising tory, and pledged under all circumstances to oppose the present government. Mr. Hogan is a reformer. He is a man of the people, and he will support the people's government. Born and brought up among you, supporting himself by his own labor,—knowing the wants and feelings of those he seeks to represent: all his sympathies centering in the riding where he has spent his whole life. You ought to have no difficulty in selecting and supporting him as your representative. To very many of you he is an old acquaintance and friend, who will be always at your service, and ready at all times to listen to your wants and to help you in obtaining redress, and it ought to be a pleasure and a satisfaction to you to vote for him, and to render him all the assistance in your power. I don't wish to say one angle word against Dr. O'Sullivan, but admitting him to be all that can be desired, still I hold that your feelings and your sympathies should go with your old companion and friend, Mr. Hogan.

REFORMER.

EXCURSION.

The Thursday Excursions to Stony Lake and Mt. Julien, which have been arranged by the Midland Railway and the owners of the steamer Chippewa, have been a very great boon to all the towns on the line of road. We had the pleasure on Thursday last, in company with a few friends, of enjoying this delightful trip. The train, under the management of Conductor Boundy, left the station at 6:30 a.m, At Millbrook quite a large addition was made to our party, among whom we noticed the Rev. Mr. Mitchell and ladies, Mr. Needler and family. At Peterborough another addition was made. The local editor of the Review, Mr. Elliott, with his sister and another lady, "who will, no doubt before long be a nearer relative still," was among the party. By-the-way, this is just the trip for those indulging in the tender passion, the romantic scenery and the delightful sail, both tend to foster that kind of thing. We expect the Review will have an exquisite article on that subject next week. We arrived at Lakefield, the terminus of the Peterborough branch of the Midland, at 9:30, which, by the way, is a very thriving, incorporated village. They are in advance of Port Hope in some respects, in having a Civic Holiday yesterday, (Friday, 27th.) (We are not permitted to enjoy such a luxury.) The steamer Chippewa was lying at her dock, waiting for the arrival of the train. Our party was soon on board, the lines thrown off, and our little steamer, under the careful pilotage of Capt. Secret, made her way up the "Kuchewahnuck," five miles, through millions of saw-logs to Clear Lake. A lock is here placed, and a rise of six or seven feet is made. The scenery along the shore is very fine. There is here extensive duck feeding grounds, and we noticed quite a number of fine black ducks fly over the steamer, they are still very wild. Five or six miles more brought us to Henderson's Narrows, the entrance to Stoney Lake. Here the scenery changes entirely. The lake is full of islands, or rather large rocks, of granite formation, jutting out of the water, reminding one very forcibly of the Thousand Islands in the St. Lawrence. From the top of Mount Julien we counted some sixty of these islands of rock, but covered with enough earth for the growth of trees and shrubbery of all kinds. Many of these delightful islands were dotted with the camps of parties who were out for a week or two furnishing. On one island there was a colony of thirty-six persons, among whom we met Dr. L. D. Walter, of Rochester, N. Y. He informs us he has enjoyed this camping out trip for several years past, and says it is infinitely better than Saratoga or any other of the thousand and one fashionable watering places. There is an abundance of the finest of fish, including maskinonge, salmon trout, black bass, white fish, etc. At Julien's Landing there is a first-class hotel, under the management of Mr. Gardiner, where board of the best kind can be procured at a very reasonable rate. This is the most pleasant time of the season, as there are no mosquitoes or black flies. Parties leaving Port Hope by the regular train on Mondays, Wednesdays or Saturdays will arrive at the hotel the same evening, without the least inconvenience as to the handling of baggage &c., and every facility will be afforded by Capt. Secret to those parties wishing to land at any of the islands with their camp furniture, &c. Parties going deer hunting have every facility afforded them and are landed at the nearest point to the hunting grounds. In conclusion, we believe if this route was properly before the public, it would become one of the most popular, and next year would see hundreds at Stoney Lake where there are tens this year. We are indebted for much of this information to the gentlemanly captain of the Chippewa.—Guide.

IMPORTANT TO FRUIT GROWERS

HOW TO TREAT OLD ORCHARDS AND YOUNG TREES LATELY PLANTED OUT.

The writer having had an experience of nearly half a century in fruit raising in Western New York, and having been identified exclusively with the nursery business for the last 25 years at Rochester, thinking that a few suggestions might be of value to the farmers, amateurs and fruit growers in this neighborhood, sends us the following rules which may be of advantage if put in practice.

Old orchards should be highly manured and all the ground should be stirred by plowing each and every year No ground is rich enough to grow two crops at a time. If you have your bearing orchard sown with rye, wheat, oats or grass you will fail to have a full crop of fruit and what you do have will be small and inferior. The more manure the more bushels and the larger and fairer the fruit will be.

Pruning should be done in June. Old dead wood should not be left upon the trees, and no sprouts should be allowed to grow about the trunk of the trees. Only one trunk should be allowed to grow. I would recommend every farmer who has an orchard to buy a grub hoe the first time he goes to town, it is indispensable to keep grass roots, weeds and sprouts from growing about the trees. Young trees should be invariably kept cultivated in a hoed crop such as potatoes, corn, beans and turnips and not heavily manured while growing, or until they come into bearing, as doing so would force an unnatural growth and hence they would be likely to freeze out and die. Order no Baldwins, Greenings, Rox Russets, 20 ounce Pippins, Holland Pippens, Fall Pippins, Fall Gennetings, King of Tompkins County, Esopus Spetzenbergs Swaas Golden Sweets, Sweet Bough and Early Harvest, as these varieties sooner or later will freeze out and die in this locality. They are too tender. The best upland upon the farm should be selected for the orchard. Hardwood timbered upland is the most natural and best for orchards.

Young trees planted in rye, wheat, oats or grass should as soon as they are put out be heavily mulched with coarse straw manure 4 or 5 inches deep around the trunks of the trees, and as soon as the crops is removed, put in the plough and stir the whole ground and loosen the earth about the trees, this will ensure a good fall growth. In planting young trees put them down 2 or 3 inches deeper than they originally stood in the nursery. If the soil is a dry sandy loam, puddle the trees by putting a pail of water in each hole while the tree is in. Be careful to straighten all the roots out naturally, and if a light soil, tread the dirt as hard as possible after the roots are covered all the way up, leaving the ground hollow about the roots of the trees so that the water may not run off when it rains. Never pour water upon the top of the ground about the roots of the trees, as it will injure them and it never gets to the roots. If a tree stands green and does not come out in leaf take the dirt away down to the roots, be careful not to disturb the tree or the roots, and pour on a pail of hot soap-suds directly upon the roots, or in absence of this a pail of soft water, or creek water will do, and then replace the earth; repeat every three days until the tree comes out in leaf. I would recommend in conclusion to plant your orchard thirty feet apart each way, which will require 48 trees to the acre, all the ground can stand when they are fully grown. Order none but hardy varieties.

I am, yours, &c.,

All the members present.

The Warden read his address and on motion a special committee was appointed to consider it.

WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

GENTLEMEN.—In compliance with a requisition from the majority of the members of the council I directed our Clerk to summon us here to-day for the purpose of passing a by-law granting aid by way of bonus to the Huron and Ottawa Railway.

You will probably find it advisable in the first instance to appoint a committee to prepare and submit to you such a by-law as will guarantee that the County money shall not be expended unless the success of the Railway in assured, you can then fill in the blanks in the By-law with the sum of money you intend to give.

The extended time for the completion of the Iron Bridge over the Otonabee River has nearly expired, and the Iron is not yet on the ground.

Mr. John Boyd, the representative of the Bridge company assures me that the material is now on the way here, having been shipped prior to the 28th ult.

The chairman of the joint committee will, I understand, report to you proceedings up to the present time.

The contract for repairing the Bridge over the Little Bob, has been let at a very reasonable figure. Mr. Sanderson, who represented you in this matter has prepared a report and will submit it for your approval.

Mud Lake floating bridge is being replanked as fast as possible and the work is being executed in a most substantial and satisfactory manner, and will probably be completed by the beginning of next week [Signed.]

R. E. BIRDSALL, Warden.

LINDSAY.

(From the Warder.)

LONGEVITY.—We are informed by Mr. Lang, of Ops, that his brother-in-law, Mr. John Armstrong, of Ashburnham, P. O. goose which was twenty-four years old last spring, and is still as lively as any young one of the feathered tribe, and looks as though it would live for a good many more years. This is a good age, but the strangest thing is that during two years of his life it was completely blind, but it can again see as well as ever it did. This fowl has become a great pet and receives every care.

ACCIDENT.—While threshing on Monday afternoon last at Mr. Lang's, Ops, a young man named Thomas Graham had his right hand badly cut and bruised by being caught in the machine. It appears that Mr. Graham was feeding loose barley into the machine, when his hand caught in. The flesh was badly torn from the fingers, but fortunately no bones were broken.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—On Saturday evening last a woman named Mrs. Lane, residing in the South Ward, attempted to commit suicide by throwing herself into the river at Hennessy's landing. Fortunately she was seen jump into the river and was rescued just in time. Domestic affliction is said to be the case of her taking this rash step.

ROBBERY.—The Office of the Canadian Express Co'y. was entered by some person or persons on Tuesday night, who made away with what money they could find. Fortunately there was only a small amount in the cash box. There were several cheques and some American money, which for some reason, the thieves did not take. Nearly every drawer in the Office was tampered with, which appears to show that though they possessed a general idea of the office, they did not know exactly the position of the cash drawer. Mr. Taylor's private drawer, which contained about $100, was left unopened. It is hoped that the guilty parties will be found out and brought to justice.

LITTLE BOB BRIDGE.—On Tuesday last the tenders for the construction of the new bridge over "Little Bob" were opened at Bolcaygeon, and Mr. Thomas Archer, of Fenelon Fall-, triumphed over "local talent" and secured the contract for the sum of $695, there being three other tenders The bridge which is to be of the ordinary kind on cribs built of logs, will be 198 feet in length, and will reach from the shore nearest the village to the swing constructed some time ago by Mr. Boyd. It is the intention of Mr. Archer to prepare all timbers at Green & Ellis's mill and take them down to Bolcaygeon on scows, on which he will bring back such of the materials of the old bridge as may prove worth carrying away. The job is to be completed by the 1st of November, and, from what we have seen and heard of Mr. Archer's work, we feel safe in predicting that it will give satisfaction to the authorities.

KILLED BY A HORSE.—We regret to learn that a son of John Connolly, Esq., ex-Reeve of Ops, received such injury from being kicked by a horse on Monday last that he died on Tuesday. It appears that the deceased, who was in his fifteenth year, was driving a horse which had been engaged tramping barley in a barn, and in raising his arm as if to strike the horse the animal kicked him in the lower part of the bowels. At the time he did not think it was serious, but when his father came in he perceived he looked pale, and asked him what was the matter, when he replied he was sick. He then was told to go and lie down. He shortly afterwards began to throw off, and medical aid proved unavailing to save his life. Deceased was a very promising youth, and the afflicted family have sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

HARVEY.

PIC-NIC.—There will be a Union Pic-nic of No. 4 Sabbath Schools, Buckhorn, Sandy Lake Mission and Lakehurst, on the shore of Sandy Lake Harvey, on Tuesday the 14th of September, to commence at 2 o'clock p. m.

The crops here have been very good in a general thing there being but few com-

SOME PROVISIONS OF THE INSOLVENT ACT.

The new Insolvent Act is now in force, and with the dates passing over as we hear there may be only too many occasions for carrying its provisions into effect. Some of these ought to be well understood by all traders whether large or small, and we propose calling attention to them from time to time as opportunity offers. At present we will notice the provisions as to what shall constitute insolvency, and those respecting composition and discharge. The latter has always been the most difficult point in insolvency legislation, and though a beginning has been made in the way of imposing restrictions on the easy discharges which have of late been so common, we doubt if even yet the law is stringent enough. Time however will tell.

Turning to the Act we find that a Debtor shall be deemed insolvent

1. If he has shown a statement of his affairs with liabilities more than assets, or has called a meeting of his creditors for the purpose of compounding with them.

Or if he absconds or is about to abscond, or conceals himself to avoid legal process.

Or if he secretes his effects, or is about to do so.

Or if he removes any of his property, or assigns it, or disposes of it with a view to defeat or delay any of his creditors.

Or, if with the same intent, he allows Judgment to be of time and seizure of his effects to take place.

Or if he has been imprisoned for debt for more than thirty days

Or if he refuses to appear to answer summons or other orders of the Court.

Or if he makes a conveyance of his stock without satisfying the claims of creditors

Or if he permits an execution to remain unsatisfied till within four days of the day of sale, or fifteen days after seizure.

Any one of these circumstances is held to bring a person within the operation of this Insolvent Act.

In addition to this there is the following stringent clause, which we commend to the attention of careless debtors:

"If a Debtor ceases to meet his liabilities generally as they become due, any one or more of his creditors for unsecured claims of not less than $100 each, and amounting in the aggregate to five hundred dollars, may make a demand requiring him to make an assignment."

If insolvency were what it ought to be, a thing to be dreaded, the above clause would agree me powerfully to make men careful how they incurred liabilities, and how they managed their finances. There is an amount of looseness on the part of some men in these respects, which is little less than fraudulent. To make insolvency an easy refuge for the reckless, the idle, or the incompetent trader, is to divert legislation from its true object. And unless the granting of a discharge is fenced round by conditions that are not very easily complied with, the certain tendency of insolvency legislation is in this direction. The present act is an improvement on the old one in this respect. The principal clauses of the Act in relation to composition and discharge are the following:

A majority in number, and three-fourths in value of creditors is necessary as before, but any creditor dissenting has the right to appeal on a statement of his case, and the reasons for refusing. The Judge has then power to refuse confirmation. No man can obtain a discharge unless his estate pays at least 33½ cents on the dollar. A very necessary provision is this, but we would have been glad to see the minimum 50 per cent. If a trader cannot conduct his business so as to pay one-half of what he owes, he has shown himself incompetent to conduct it.

No man is to obtain a discharge unless he has kept proper books of account. This is a provision we are particularly glad to see. One-half our failures arise from negligence in this respect, and any man who has been carrying on trade without proper books, has only demonstrated that his industry had better be exercised as servant rather than as master for himself. Other provisions of the act we will notice hereafter.—Monetary Times

A merchant who does not advertise can no more succeed in drawing custom, than can a young lady, without a bustle and a few pounds of false hair, succeed in drawing beaus.

DECEASE.—The popularity of the Disraeli administration is visibly declining in England The same decline which made Sir John unpopular with the electors of Canada have been admired, with precisely similar results in the old country. We refer to a strong desire exhibited to retain power at the sacrifice of principle. The most important measures are magnified, and in some cases abandoned to pander to the whims and prejudices of electors who are known to have political influence This being manifest, pressure is brought to bear from the most unloo

FIRE.—On Thursday morning last the town met with another heavy loss by the destruction by fire of the Brodie, Paisley & Co. Woolen Mills, on Dixon's Race. The fire commenced about 5.30, A.M., and by the time the engine got to work the heat was so intense that a person could scarcely stand near it. Mr. Robertson, a member of the fire company, fell from a ladder and was hurt about the head, but is, we are glad to say, getting better. Everything about the premises, including the office, with the exception of a few bales of cloth, were totally destroyed. There was about 40 hands thrown out of employment, and as work is very scarce now it will be a great loss to them. The building, which belonged to the Dickson Estate, was insured in the Phœnix for $3,000. On the machinery, in the North British, $4,000, in the Imperial, $2,500, in the Western, $4,000. Mr. Beal as Chairman of the Finance Committee, read over the following report:

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Your Committee have examined the following accounts and recommend their payment:

M. C. Hill's account $21, this account is composed of charges of $4 for each night the Music Hall has been used by the town for public meetings, according to the terms of the lease to Mr. Hill, the town have the right to use the Hall at any time for public purposes, paying the lessee for attendance, light and fire. We find that this is a matter of charging the amount up to this time not been fixed upon between the town and the lessee of the hall. But your Committee consider that under the conditions $3 would cover the expenses, and would recommend that the account be paid with the deduction of $1 from each charge, $17

Account of Aaron Comstock, for coffin for late F. H. Knapp, ordered by Council at the time of Mr. Knapp's death, $10.

With regard to the communication of D. O. Hatton, on behalf of the Peterborough Manufacturing Company, asking for the payment of the $425 rebate of old Iron Bridge. Your Committee cannot recommend the Council to comply with the request, this recommendation is based upon the advice of the Town Solicitor.

With regard to the request of the Auburn Woollen Company. Your Committee cannot recommend the granting of the first part of the request, viz:—that the Town release the Company from taxation for a term of 10 years. With reference to the second part of the request of said Company, asking to be released from the conditions of the By-law, granting bonus to the Auburn Woollen Mills. Your Committee having taken the advice of the Town Solicitor, and cannot recommend the Council to accord without submitting another By-law to the ratepayers asking permission to do so.

Your Committee recommend the payment of G. D. Edward's account, $65.16

With reference to the communication of the town clerk, asking for the appointment of an assistant. Your Committee cannot recommend compliance with the request at present.

All of which, is respectfully submitted.

W. BEAL,
Chairman.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Thornton, that the petition of E. Romaine, asking for a Bonus in accordance with provisions already made for the granting of bonuses be referred to a special Committee, composed of Messrs. Beal, Cook, McDonald, Helm and the mover.—Carried.

Mr. Beal said that the clerk had shown him that $4,726 31 had been already paid out of the $5,000 allowed for Streets and Bridges, and that there would be some more accounts to be paid and this week's pay-list, and that it will place the Treasurer in an awkward position, and that the Council should make some arrangement for the disposal of the same.

Mr. Cahill said that there had been an approbation made to build a plank sidewalk on Dalhousie street, and that it has not been done yet, he therefore would like the Council to allow an experiment of making a gravel sidewalk, and that if it succeeded it would save the town the loss of thousands of dollars.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Cook, that in consequence of the absence of J. R. Benson, Esq., from the meeting of this Council for over three months, his seat be therefore declared vacant, and that the Clerk be authorised to issue notices for a new election. Carried

THOMAS' ECLESIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN COLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it, I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

Prostration, resulting from the effects of the intense heat of the summer months, is the pre-disposing cause of so many of the diseases peculiar to hot weather. The stomach sarsaking of the loss of vitality pervading the whole system is unable to complete digestion; the food passing undeceived through the bowels, irritates the lining membrane, and Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, and wides prevailing, Asiatic Cholera may be excited. Attention to diet, moderate exercise bathing, and regular habits must be observed. To maintain the vital forces and prevent sattude and exhaustion, Dr. Whe eler's

(Near Mr. Toole's Factory.)

This is to certify that I have seen Messrs. J. A. Delaney & Sons' "EMPIRE." I have one of the same mills which I have thoroughly tested, and have no hesitation in recommending it to Farmers as the best Fanning Mill for separating or cleaning grain either for seed, market, or mall, (of which I have any knowledge), and believe grain cleaned with this Mill will bring a higher price in market than that done by any other mills now in use. The Separating Valve supplies a want long felt by Farmers, and is a most desirable improvement, and with the additional arrangement for Grass Seed, it is decidedly ahead of any other mill known to me. TO THE ELECTORS

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN:—

Having received the unamous nomination, of a very large and influential Reform Convention, held at Norwood on the 30th instant, to be the Candidate in the approaching election for a member to serve in the Local Legislature of Ontario: I beg to announce my acceptance of that nomination, and that I will use all due diligence and just means to ensure success in the Contest.

Being convinced that the Mowat administration have honestly and fairly Conducted the affairs of the Province, if elected I will support them in all measures calculated to benefit the province, and in furtherance of just laws for all classes of our citizens.

I will be a consistent advocate of a fair and generous outlay for all works of general advantage to the people, but especially for leading roads to the newer portions of our Province: and, with respect to local interests, will endeavour to be the representative of the whole Riding, not of any particular portion of it. Being a native of the Riding its interests will be mine, and for its progress I cannot fail to labor earnestly.

I trust that before the day of Election I shall have an opportunity of meeting the electors of the Riding, when I shall be able to give my views more fully on the political question of the day.

I have the honor to be,

OLD COAT, GOOD BYE.

Old coat, for some three or four seasons
We've been jolly comrades, but now
We part, old companion, forever;
To fate, and the fashions, I vow.
Your'd look well enough at a dinner,
I'd wear you with pride at a ball,
But I'm dreading to-night for a wedding,
My own and you'd not do at all.

You've too many wine stains about you,
You're a, sta' too much with e'ers;
When the gas lights shone full on your collar,
It glitters with mystical stars;
That wouldn't look well at a wedding
They'd seem inappropriate there.
Nell doesn't use diamond powder,
She tells me it ruins the hair.

You've been out on Cousin's pleasa
Too late, when the evenings were damp,
When the moonbeams were silvering on rest
And the lights were all out in the camp.
You've rested on highly-oiled stairways,
Too often, where sweet eyes were bright,
And somebody's half-drun not Nellie's,
Flowed round you in rivers of white.

There's a reprehensible looseness about you;
Should I wear you to-night, I bet ere,
As I came with my bride from the altar,
You'd laugh in your wicked ole sleeve,
When you felt there the tremulous pressure
Of her hand on its delicate glove,
That is telling me shyly, but proudly,
Her trust it as deep as her love.

So go to your grave in your wardrobe,
And furnish a feast for the moth.
Nell's glove shall betray in sweet secrets
For you pay, more innocent cloth
'Tis time to put on your successor
It's made in a fashion that's new;
Old coat, I'm afraid it will never Get as ea'sly on me as on you!

—Scribner's Monthly.

RUNNING A NEWSPAPER.

By some unaccountable misapprehension of facts, says the Memphis Avalanche, there is a large class of people in the world who think it costs little or nothing to run a newspaper; and if they buy a copy from the newsboy, when too far from the office to come and beg one, they are regular patrons and entitled to unlimited favours. Men call every day at newspaper offices to get a copy of the paper for nothing, who would never dream of begging a pocket handkerchief from a drygoods store, or a piece of candy from a confectioner, even upon the plea of old acquaintance, having bought something in the course of time. But this is a small drain compared with the free advertising a newspaper is expected to do. Some men who have paid two dollars at an early period of life for an advertisement worth four or five dollars appear to think they are stockholders in the establishment for eternity. They demand the publication of all marriage and funeral notices obituaries and family episodes, for the next forty years gratis. Speak of pay and they grow indignant. "Don't I patronize your paper?" "Yes; but you receive the worth of your money for what you pay." "But," says the patron, "it will not cost you anything to put this in;" which is just as ridiculous as to ask a man to grind your axe on his grindstone, and graciously tell him it wont cost him a cent. It takes money to run a newspaper as well as any other business; no paper will succeed financially that carries a dead-head system. Any mention of the people's affairs that they are anxious to see in print is worth paying for, and when printed is generally worth as much as any other investment of the same amount.

The newspaper business is very exacting on all connected with it, and the pay is comparatively small: the proprietors risk more money for smaller profits, and the editors and reporters and printers work harder and cheaper than the same number of men in any profession requiring the given amount of intelligence, training and drudgery. The life has its charms and pleasant associations, scarcely known to the outside world; but it has its earnest work and anxieties and hours of exhaustion which also are unknown to those who think the business all fun. The idea that newspaperdom is a charmed circle, where the favored members live a life of ease and free from care, and go to the circus at night on a free ticket and to the Springs on a free pass in the summer, is an idea which we desire to explode practically and theoretically. Business is business, and the journal that succeeds is the one that is run on a square business footing, the same as banking or building bridges, keeping a hotel or running a livery stable.

DAVIS, THE ABORTIONIST.

HIS CAREER A BLACK RECORD.

An American exchange furnishes us with the following particulars of Arthur Paul Davis' early life, and his career while in the United States: His career is a continued tale of robbery, perjury and murder, and although his most damnable deeds have been committed outside of our city, yet he has figured quite extensively in our midst, and the story of his hellish crimes will be of no little local interest.

HIS EARLY CAREER.

About twenty years ago Davis resided in Rochester. He was not a very good citizen, however, and was at length obliged to flee from the city on account of a house-breaking enterprise in which he had engaged. He went South from the Flour City, but the world did not use him very well, and he soon went to Hamilton, Canada, and set up in the quack medicine business with his father, who had also assumed the honorable title of doctor. Everything went on smoothly for a while, when young Davis fell out with his father, accusing the old gentleman with various crimes and making things unpleasant generally. From Hamilton he went to Toronto where his career was worse than ever. He turned an occasional penny by assisting criminals and bounty-jumpers to avoid the law, and we believe once jumped the handsome little sum of $2,000 himself. Not satisfied with this moderate prosperity, he went into the murder business, not only gaining quite an abortion practice, but implicating himself in a daring attempt to take the life of a book store clerk and rob the safe. He and a pal named Gustaf went to the store and wished to look at some medical works. The clerk was alone at the time, and Davis, being somewhat acquainted with him, engaged in conversation, and went out for some ale. He soon came back with the liquid, but, fortunately for the clerk, he drank but very little from his glass, for the tempting beverage had been poisoned with that deadliest of compounds, prussic acid. He had taken enough, however, so that when he went down cellar, almost immediately, he fell senseless at the foot of the steps. The clerk, had, luckily, taken the precaution to lock the safe before leaving the store, and Davis and Gustaf found that their rash deed had been done in vain. Gustaf went to New York and Davis turned Queen's evidence, as he is said to be always ready to do, and managed to get his pal ticketed to Kingston for fifteen years, while he himself, through his shrewd counsel, Alexander McNabb, now the excellent police magistrate of Toronto, obtained his freedom and once more commenced his hellish business.

A VICTIM OF HIS PERJURY.

About ten or eleven years ago Davis and two notorious villians, known as Bristol Pill and Billy Hall, attempted a burglary in Galt, Ont. By turning Queen's evidence, and perjuring himself without limit, however, he managed to implicate a Toronto policeman in the affair, and get himself clear. The policeman was, of course discharged, although entirely innocent of the charges against him, and is now doing business in this city. Soon after this he was engaged as a detective spy, but he did more harm than good, and he was unceremoniously dismissed.

GOES TO ROCHESTER.

Canada at length became too hot to hold him, and he went once more to Rochester and set up in the abortion and general quackdoctor business, under the name of Dr. Paul Davis. He remained in this city until about a year ago, when he became implicated in an obscene literature and two abortion cases, and was obliged to make himself scarce between two days. He came to Buffalo in the night, and begged admission to the house of a physician of this city with whom he was acquainted. The Buffalo physician was not an admirer of "doctors" of Davis' stamp, and was unwilling to have anything to do with him. "For God's sake, don't give me away," pleaded Davis, and the doctor finally consented to let him remain in his house for a short time. He stayed in this place of concealment for three or four days, when he escaped to Canada. The same physician has also done Davis valuable favors before. But oh, ingratitude! To reward the man who probably saved him from years of disagreeable reflection in State Prison, he poisoned his domestic happiness and endeavoured to ruin his professional good name. He sent a girl to this physician for the alleged purpose of obtaining an abortion, but the girl confessed her purpose and also the fact that she was not in a condition where an abortion was necessary or desirable.

IN TORONTO ONCE MORE.

From Buffalo Davis went to Toronto and once more set up in his monstrous business. While in Rochester he had discarded his legal wife and taken up with another woman, who came to Toronto and has since been living with him, and, it is said, rendered him important assistance in his "chosen profession."

BLUE LAWS OF CANADA.

CORN PARING AND SURGERY.—A CUTTING DECISION.

Yesterday Dr. Rice, a well-known Chiropodist, was arrested and brought before the Police Magistrate and fined $10 and costs for not being a registered practitioner.

We regard the proceeding as an outrage upon common sense, and deserving the condemnation of every citizen of the town. The Doctor did not claim to practice medicine, he in no wise interfered with the regular medical profession. Having devoted a number of years to the treatment of corns and bunions, he has won a reputation in the United States second to no specialist in the business.

On previous occasions he has visited Canada, and has in his possession letters of recommendation from many eminent Canadians including members of the medical profession.

That we have a law upon our Statute book which prevents a skilful operator from paring a corn, unless he has been registered by a Medical Council, would seem the height of absurdity. Yet such is the fact.

We have no desire to throw the medical profession open to charlatans, and thus endanger the lives of people who may consult them for the treatment of diseases, acute or chronic, but when corn paring is held to be infringing upon the ligitimate duties of the surgeon and cutting a toe nail is elevated to the dignity of an amputation, it is high time for the Legislature to amend the cast iron blue law and terminate the rediculous farce.

That Dr. Rice thoroughly understood his business, there is not a shadow of a doubt. Our citizens who obtained relief from his hands, pronounce his operations most skilful, and after the infliction of the fine (which was promptly paid) several sufferers from pedal diseases, accompanied the Doctor to Morristown, N. Y., there to obtain the relief which was denied them in this great and glorious Dominion.—Recorder.

COMEDY TURNED TO TRAGEDY.

SIGNOR VIANNI SHOOTS HIMSELF WHILE REUTING.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.— The pilots of Hell Gate and Long Island Sound gave a clambake at City Island yesterday to Congressmen and other distinguished persons residing during the summer on the Sound. Among the company was Signor Vianni, said to be of the suit of Count Corti, the Italian Minister. After the clambake, and when the company had thoroughly enjoyed themselves, making speeches and singing songs, Dr. Doremas announced that Signor Vianni would give a recitation in imitation to Ristori. Mr. Vianni took his position in the centre of the group; his voice was clear and well controlled, his gesticulation was highly dramatic, and his limbs seemed to quiver with passion, while the expression of his face was startling. He finished with the exclamation in Italian, "God, who judges all, will judge this." He then took a pistol from the outer pocket of his coat, and placing it to his temple, fired. He fell partly on his face and perfectly motionless. The spectators exclaimed "wonderful" and applause commenced, when Doremas rushed forward, exclaiming, "Great God, gentlemen, he is killed." Many at first thought this a part of the entertainment, but on lifting the body the horrible truth became manifest. Dr. Ellis at once probed the wound and pronounced the case hopeless. The sufferer lived but half an hour, but never spoke. No cause is assigned for the terrible act.

THE "CANADIAN NEWS."

The last issue of this journal contains the following: "The Mail is published in Toronto as the Englishman in London Both papers live on their ill manners and trade on the vices of the filth and offscourings of the people, and glory in confiding this shameful confession to the world. The Mail is said to represent the Tory party in Canada, although we believe it to be generally repudiated by its leading members. There are traditions in Toronto that the editor of the Mail, when he first arrived in Canada, was an English gentleman. It would seem, however, that the practice of the sublime profession of making razors not to shave, but to sell, or writing not to instruct or edify, or wisely charm the people, but to pander, not for glory, but for pelf, to their lowest passions, has changed the nature of this gentleman to its very opposite."

Near Knoxville, the other night, a young girl, who was unexpectedly interviewed by the family as she was about eloping with the object of her virgin affections, knocked the old man down, laid out two brothers with a cistern pole, kicked the hired man in the stomach, and got away with her lover, and, "made the rifle" We wish that heaven had sent us such a woman as that.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL

D. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

VINEGAR BITTERS

OVER ONE THOUSAND proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

For all the purposes of a Family Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but effectual purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cases are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa a single dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and Consumption.

Physicians never believe in the value of a medicine, however highly they may speak of it, upon the confidence of testimonials, but rely entirely upon the experience of their own observation of its effects in their practice. Having for a series of years had ample opportunity to test the virtues of this preparation, we have the satisfaction of knowing that it has risen higher and higher in public estimation, as it has become better known. Its intrinsic character and power to cure the most dangerous affections of the lungs and throat, have commended it to the confidence of the most reliable protector against disease. Where adapted to milder forms of complaint, it will be found pleasant to take, and at the same time the most speedy and effectual remedy that can be given for its special purpose. Many of the most dangerous affections of the throat and lungs, which are sometimes considered incurable, might be prevented if the first symptoms of disease were arrested with this antidote. Although settled consumption, when the tubercles are formed and the process of softening has been established, cannot be cured by any medicine, still great relief and many cases entirely cured, even in this last stage of disease, by the use of this remedy. Neglected colds, which are the most obstinate of human ailments, yield promptly to the influence of Cherry Pectoral. Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, and every other affection of the throat, lungs, and chest, are speedily cured by its use. Singers and Public Speakers will find it the best protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved, and frequently cured by it.

Bronchitis is mollified by the use of Cherry Pectoral.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates we have in its favor, but assure the public that its reputation is fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

Choice Poetry.

"IF WE KNEW."

If we knew the trees and branches
Waiting for us down the road;
If our lips could taste the sweetness,
If our heart could feel the load;
Would we waste to-day in wishing
For a time that ne'er can be?
Would we rush in such impatience
For our ships to come from sea?

If we knew the baby fingers
Pressed against the window pane
Would be cold and still to-morrow—
Never trouble us, or ache;
Would the bright eyes of our darling
Catch the frost upon her brow?
Would the print of rosy fingers
Vex us even as they do now?

Ah, those little ice-cold fingers
How they point our memory back
To the lonely words and actions
Strewn along our backward track!
How those little hands remind us,
As in snowy grave they lie,
Not to scatter thorns, but roses,
For our passing by and by!

Strange we never prize the music
Till the sweet-voiced bird has flown;
Strange that we should slight the violet
Till the lovely flowers are gone;
Strange that summer skies and sunshine
Never seem one-half so fair
As when winter's snowy pinions
Shake their white down in the air!

Lips from which the seal of silence
None but God can roll away
Never blossomed in such beauty
As adorns the mouth to-day;
And sweet words that freight our memory
With their beautiful perfume
Come to us in sweetest accents
Through the portals of the tomb.

Let us gather up the sunbeams
Lying all along our path;
Let us keep the wheat and roses,
Casting out the thorns and chaff;
Let us find our rest and comfort
In the blessings of to-day,
With a patient hand removing
All the griefs from out our way.

A TEST OF LOVE.

Mrs. Clarke had been reading the Beecher Tilton scandal until her faith in man had dwindled down to a fine point; she had a poor opinion of them. She had noticed that her hitherto loving sponse had for the past two weeks, been down-hearted. She thought that perhaps he, too, had been led from the paths of virtue by the deluding voice of some bewitching siren, and that his love for her was growing cold. But how to find out if such was the case. Josephus did not show any signs of producing a statement or of confessing his guilt to mutual friend.

Her brow corrugated, and her hands clenched as she brooded over her imaginary wrongs, and she determined to put the fidelity of her husband to the test. But how to do it, that was the question. "Aha! I have it," said she, triumphantly, "I'll drown myself, that is, figuratively."

Clark was a farmer in good circumstances, and being younger than his wife, and good looking, it kept her in a state of perpetual jealousy.

Mrs. C. proceeded to put her plan into execution. Just behind the house was a deep well that had not been used for some time, and it had been covered over with boards to keep the cattle from falling into it.

She removed the covering, and placing her bonnet and shawl near the brink, she crawled under a gooseberry bush to await developments. The weather was cold, and she was nearly frozen before she saw her husband and hired man coming from the barn where they had been working.

Clark passed the well without noticing the clothing, but the hired man saw them and cried out. "Mercy on us, Mr. Clark! Your wife has thrown herself into the well!"

Mrs. C. expected that her husband would tear his hair and rush to the edge of the well, and after calling her all the endearing names he could think of, descend into its watery depths in search of her corpse.

But he did nothing of the kind. He calmly took a fresh chew of tobacco, and then approaching the well looked quietly into it.

"I guess the old girl has suicided," he said, without any emotion worth speaking of. "Jake, put them boards back; I wouldn't have that brindle heifer get in there for fifty dollars. After dinner we'll hoist the old girl out."

"Hadn't I better get some of the neighbors here first?" suggested the frightened man.

"After dinner will do, Jake. Business before pleasure is my motto. I'm awful hungry."

Jake covered up the well, and the men went into the house, leaving the old lady howling with rage.

"I'll old girl him! I'll suicided him! Take more pains over that pesky heifer than with me!' I'll—I'll—"

Words failed her; they were inadequate to express her feelings.

After dinner Clark sent the hired man after some of the neighbors, and while he was waiting he seated himself on a log in front of his loving wife, and whistled "Old Hundred" all through without missing a note.

The neighbors arrived, and were full of sympathy for the husband, and Josephus bore his honors meekly.

Various plans were canvassed for raising the body, but owing to the depth of the well they could not decide upon the right one.

"I'll tell you the best way, friends," said Clark, pathetically. "She is gone, and will never come back to this world of woe and trouble; so I think we had better let the body remain, and fill up the well. It will save a power of trouble and expense."

This proposition was agreed to by the neighbors as being feasible, and the work of filling it up commenced, Joseph throwing in all the large stones and blocks of wood he could lay hands on.

"There," said he, "I guess that'll do," after they had thrown a couple of cart-loads of miscellaneous rubbish into the well. "Jake can fill up the rest on odd spells and rainy days. We'll have the funeral sermon preached as soon as we get done hauling wood."

Near by the side of Josephus stood a woman of about thirty summers or winters, and she had been regarding the solemn scene with a mixture of pleasure and sorrow intermingled; and when the rest of the neighbors took their departure, she lingered behind to comfort the aching heart of the bereaved widower.

"It is a great pity to be cut down in the prime of life, like the flower at noontide," said she, very mournfully.

"Yes," said he, shifting the quid from one side of his mouth to the other, "but Betty was getting along in years, and we must be resigned."

"Just so, Mr. Clark, resignation is a consoling balm, as it were, to fill the void of the troubled breast, and I am a thought that your wife was fine-look such a good looking woman as you."

Did you really?" asked Clark, with sudden interest.

"To be sure I did; I always took an interest in your welfare."

Clark was lost in meditation for some time.

"Miss Perkins," said he, suddenly, "can you make good butter?"

"Oh, Mr. Clark," she answered, "you touch me on a tender point, for if I do say it myself, I won't turn my back on any woman in the country making good butter."

"Good Cook," he asked.

"First rate," she replied.

"Understand housekeeping?"

"None better," she answered.

"Then I'll tell you what I have been thinking about," said he, picking up another large stone and throwing it into the well, "suppose you and I get married?"

"Now, really, Mr. Clark, you are so sudden and take me by surprise; but my heart bleeds for you in your bereavement, and—and I consent. Take me, I am yours."

The fond couple embraced, taking a kiss to ratify the bargain.

Mrs. Clark, under the gooseberry bush, was boiling with rage, but she restrained herself for a few minutes.

"I say," said Clark, after they had regained their composure, "won't Betty's clothes fit you?"

"Of course they will, and it will be a great saving."

"And I will take that new cloak of her's and make me an overcoat—a new one like the city folks wear," said Clark

"Oh! you dear creature!" replied she.

"Sweet angel of my soul!" said he.

Then something lit upon Clark's back and he did not know at first whether it was a wild cat, a streak of lightning, or the devil, but he found out directly.

His charmer cast one glance at the apparition and scooted.

Clark has just got round again. He says it was the worst case of inflamatory sickness he ever had. But he is the meekest husband to be found, and the wall is filled up.

A WIDOW OUTWITTED.

Breach-of-promise cases in Morenci, Mich., are at a discount now. A little domestic affair has just come to light in that festive burgh which is rather amusing. A rich old widower, not particularly remarkable for brilliancy, but who, in this case, seems to have displayed an unusual amount of sagacity, and an ancient widow are the heroes. It seems that the rich old party has been in the habit of visiting the ancient widow, but some time ago dropped her, and, still possessing friendship paid his respects to another widow lady. He was taken sick, and the first widow made a habit of calling in to see him every evening. On these occasions she more than once broadly hinted that, if he didn't marry her, she would bring an action against him for breach of promise. The old man was unmarried; she knew he had money, and although he had never promised to marry her, he knew she would swear to it. At last, a happy thought dawned upon his mind. She was in the habit of calling on him at dark, and the old gentleman was not particularly partial to light, for he was afraid of kerosene lamps, and candles are expensive. He arranged with several friendly married ladies—married ladies, mind you!—to sit in his room when the shades of evening fell, and await the widow's coming. She came. They talked the affair over, while the married ladies breathed softly and held their tongues with both hands. "You know I never promised to marry you," whimpered the old man. She admitted that he did not, but told him he must or she would sue him for damages. Them the old man thought he would light a lamp, and the widow's eyes were astonished at seeing, sitting next the wall, three married dames, whose veracity was unimpeachable. As the light dawned upon her mind, she suddenly bethought her of the bread she had left baking in the oven at home, and she went out the back door, climbed over the fence and sat down and wept, while the old man smiled more audibly than he had before in years.—Exchange.

California Farm Life.

There are few cosy, comfortable, middle-class homes. The house is either a magnificent country residence, or a mean, unpainted, redwood shanty,—though neither can be occupied by a man immensely wealthy. Everything seems put there, advantitious; nothing grew out of the soil. There are no ancient trees, no shrubberies, no grass. Instead of homely farmer messes, you eat urbane fare of beefsteak and hot biscuit made with Boston yeast powder. You hope for pumpkin pie, and you can get a can of Baltimore oysters. There are Oregon apples. Cincinnati hams, and stewed prunes from Germany. A man may be worth $100,000 and have no milk to whiten his coffee. The cow runs on the range, and comes home when she lists. A boy may be dispatched for her on his tough little shaggy c

PETERBOROUGH, SEPT. 16, 1875

EAST RIDING.

The nominations took place on Tuesday at Norwood, in the drill shed—Col. Haultain, Returning officer.

After reading the writ the Returning officer called on the electors present to make nominations of fit and proper persons to represent the Riding in the Local Legislature.

After a little waiting,—

Dr. O' Sullivan was nominated by W. W. Armstrong, and seconded by Mr. John Moloney, of Douro.

James Hogan, Jr., was nominated by Mr. James Millar of Otonabee, and seconded by Mr. Hugh Drain, of Norwood.

Wm. Sargent was nominated by Mr. Henry Ferguson, of Dummer, and seconded by Mr. Thos. Howson, of Norwood.

John Burnham, was nominated by Mr. Carnegie, and seconded by Mr. C. O'Reilly.

Jas. Stratton was nominated by Mr. Robt. Wilson, of Norwood, and seconded by Mr. M. Knox, of Asphodel.

W. H Scott was nominated by Mr. R. E. Birdsall, seconded by Mr. T. Smith.

D. W. Dumble was nominated by Mr. W. Learmonth, and seconded by Mr. T. Shea.

Mr. Carnegie was nominated by Mr. John Burnham, seconded by Mr. D. Wigmore.

John Bertram was nominated by Mr. W. E. Roxburgh and seconded by Mr. D. Paget.

D. Haggart was nominated by F. Birdsall, seconded by Mr. Jas. Hays.

P. M. Grover was nominated by Mr J. P. Brown, seconded by Mr. Wm. Glynn.

A poll was demanded for Mr. Hogan, Doctor O'Sullivan, and Mr, Sargent.

The candidates then chose their colors.

Mr. Hogan—Red.

Dr. O'Sullivan—Blue.

Mr. Sargent—Orange.

The Returning officer the asked the meeting to appoint a chairman, as his business compelled him to retire.

On motion of Mr. Millar, seconded by Mr. Carnegie, Mr, W. H. Stephenson of Norwood, was appointed chairman, who filled the position ably and fairly during the whole speeches. The electors were very orderly throughout. It was arranged that each candidate proper, should have one hour, and that the other candidates should be limited to half an hour each, and to speak in the order of their nomination.

Dr. O'Sullivan, according to the above arrangements, spoke first, and occupied 35 minutes of his time in his pitiful wail of how he has been treated and in defence of the treating of his agent, T. Cavanagh. Ho acted the spoiled child fully out. Complaining about everything, and saying nothing in particular. The remainder of his time was occupied in a rehash of the stale charges against the government. He characterised the reports in reference to his orange promises and some other things as slanders and denied them.

Mr. Hogan followed. He denied being a conservative, and promised, as in his address, that if elected he would support the Mowat Government, as he believed they were managing the affairs of the province satisfactorily. He then referred to the measures they had passed and the settlement of the Municipal Loan fund which had given universal satisfaction to all but chronic grumblers.

Mr. Sargent next addressed the Electors declaring himself independent in politics as he had always been, and saying that he had always voted for the best man, irrespective of party. He made some excellent hits at Mr. Carnegie's "sugar coated" pill, Dr. O'Sullivan, and that Mr. Hogan as the pill of the other side, but said the people would not swallow either, not even dissolved in alcohol. He then dwelt on each paragraph of his address, and declared himself ready to stand or fall by those principles, and that if elected he would give the Government a fair support on all good measures.

Mr. Burnham followed, resigning in favor of Dr. O'Sullivan. He referred to broken promises of the Reform party and to the waste of public money, and other old stories of the Conservative party and advised his old friends to support Dr. O'Sullivan, for the party's sake.

Mr. Stratton followed Mr. Burnham. He thanked the electors for the warm support they had given him in the late contest, and for the large protestant vote accorded to him, and he assured the electors that he was satisfied with the verdict. He felt no disappointment because of some withholding their votes, nor yet at the Catholics going unanimously against him. He expected that from Dr. O'Sullivan's becoming a candidate, and he then did not feel aggrieved at them: they had a right to vote as they please. He satisfied the meeting that Dr. O'Sullivan, or his friends had made the promise to support an Orange Bill. He gave Mr. R. J. VanIngen as his authority for saying that the Dr. had promised to support it. And Mr. John Bain as having received the promise from the Dr's. own lips in John Bell's private room, and that Mr. D. Haggart did the dirty work in helping to propagate it. Mr. Haggart here in a very excited manner cried, "it was false," but he cooled down and waited his turn after a little advice. Mr. John Pettegrew, an Orange man also declared that Conservative orangemen told him that they had the promise from the Doctor's own lips, and that, in fact, it was circulated freely by Doctor O'Sullivan's party, to catch orange votes. Mr Stratton then said that if the Doctor's friends slandered him, they should settle the matter between themselves. He also characterised the Dr.'s complainings as childish and foolish, and advised him like a man to bear the results of the canvass and of his own acts and cease whining for sympathy. He regretted that Mr. Sargent was not on the Reform side as there were many good things in his address that he would like to assist him in carrying it out; for instance prohibition, as it was a grievous wrong to sell it, drink it, or give it to persons to drink, but he could not support Mr. Sargent as he was on the wrong ticket, and he (Mr. Stratton) felt himself bound to support the nomination of the Convention, and therefore retired in his favor.

Mr. Scott followed, our readers have heard all he said many a time, we need not repeat it.

Mr. Dumble followed Mr. Scott, and showed the fallacy of his reasoning and defended the candidature of Mr. Hogan, as a reformer.

Mr. Carnegie spoke after Mr. Dumble, and as our readers have heard all the stuff about central prisons, Mimico farms, Proton outrages, &c., &c., they need not be annoyed again with it. The only new thing was the reading of a letter from Father Lynch to prove that Mr. Hogan had been a party to bringing out Dr. O'Sullivan in the Conservative interest.

THE STATUS OF POLITICAL PARTIES.

The present time is perhaps a fit one for drawing comparison between political parties in Ontario. The agitation of the last few years has been calculated to produce a spirit of enquiry in the minds of the people, and when it is honest, and unbiassed, it must result in favor of the reform party in and out of the House of Parliament.

The opposition has been, and is conducted by men largely without principles, without character, and void of ability. Their conduct has been marked by the most factious opposition to even the best measures introduced into the House, or proposed for the correction of abuses, or to correct unwise Legislation. They spend the time of the house in debating the most petty questions of detail, or in endeavouring to produce a sensation over a picture in the private room of some member of the Government, although the selection of one of their own immaculates. Actuated in all they did by the most sordid motives, a love of office, of slander, and by the most wicked devices, they did nothing but cavil at canoe couches, little Mrs., or the progress of the central prison, which their own incompetency had placed in the hands of incompetent contractors, or in uttering slanders against some helpless lady, who had no one to defend her. And all this by the party of gentlemen, who claimed to represent the intelligence, and education and refinement of Canada, but whose own ideas never soared above a proton outrage, or some wantonness which a disordered taste fancied in a picture. The statute books of Ontario cannot be shown to contain a single act emanating from the opposition, or containing one valuable suggestion from a member thereof. Their inability to grapple with the leading questions of the day, were but too visible in the childish discussions they engaged in, or their foolish attempt to obstruct legislation: yet this party seeks to attain to power, while not a man among them is capable of conducting the business of the country a single week. On the other hand, the reform goverenment has succeeded in passing some of the most useful measures. The Municipal Loan Fund question, that John Sandfield and all his followers dare not deal with, has been settled in the most equitable, and satisfactory manner. This bone of contention (because interested municipalities sought more than their due) was held over the electors with a view to bringing pressure on the people in favor of particular candidates. The Railroad Grant was also held dangling before the eyes of the avaricious, to the same end. They are now fairly settled and justice done to all concerned. In the death struggles of the conservative party millions were promised without regard to locality or utility, if popular favor could be secured. In this way the whole of the $1,500,000 were filtered away to two or three roads never expected to be built, or if built to be of any general advantage to the province, as witness the Grand Junction and other projects. Those foolish promises necessitated a larger appropriation, than was anticipated. That reckless and foolish waste of public funds was stopped by compelling all orders in Council to be submitted to parliament before becoming law, and justice was done to other municipalities by providing for and aiding other useful roads that might yet be projected.

An injustice in the matter of marriage licenses was removed by more equitable Legislation, and the mechanic was protected from the fraudulent devices of designing men who not unfrequently used their labor to build great mansions for a wife and family, while the hard earned wage was held back or could not be collected.

Larger grants were provided for works of general utility, for Education, and for inducing immigrants to settle amongst us. In fact, the many useful acts that have been added to the Legislation of the country, attest their industry, their wisdom, and their desire to legislate for the people, and not for a family compact, or for favored partisans.

The election laws too have been so amended that the corruption that disgraced the country in the past, must soon be over come. The extravagant expenditure of money to secure retention of power, had sapped the foundation of the morality of the electors. So lavish and general, and open had their corruption become, that the whole people became tainted with the leprosy of this immoral principle. The conservative party refused to put checks on the abuses prevailing, and they called to their aid the hungry camp followers, assisted by Sir Hugh Allen's money bags, to entail this curse on the country. Fortunately, they failed, but not until the whole land became disgraced, and the people defiled.

Thanks to the reform party, all this is being done away with, and although not as easily as all could wish, yet it is receding before the increased light, and love of honor and honesty promoted by reform principle under wise rulers. Can the people of Canada go back to that state which prevailed during conservative rule? are they willing to undo the work of years and to reinaugurate the infamous disregard of truth, honor, and justice, that prevailed during the days of family compacts, coalitions, and railway rings? surely not: and if not, then let them not forget that the best way to prevent a return of these things, is to vote against a return of conservatives to power. The indifference of excellent men, has often permitted bad men to obtain to power and influence in order that they might use that power for evil. We ask our readers to consider these things, and we are sure due consideration will incline them to support the present reform government, as by doing so they will be preventing the return of the cormorants that fed on the flesh of the public, wasted their means and disregarded their wants. Let us retain honest men when we have them: and the surest way to this end is to support the candidate who will support an honest government. Do not, by staying at home, give one vote to a man who is incapable of understanding your wants, unfit to attend to your business, and who will be a tool of such men as John Carnegie, use John Drake, and Wood, and serve W. H. Scott.

BEYOND HIS DEPTH.

The critic of the Review in endeavouring, last week, to make himself, ridiculous imagined he had found a mare's nest in the EXAMINER, but on his attempt at robbing it, only proved his incompetency for the task undertaken. The poor scribbler has yet to learn the meaning of the commonest words in the language, he pretends to use, but miserably abuses. He is great on italics, but does not know how or where to use them. Now we dare assert that not a single rule of grammar was violated in the item referred to; and further that not a single word was improperly used, except that the printer made the word "assistance" read assertion, and sail, sale mere typographical errors.

For the amusement of the Review critic, we have selected the following "illigant" sentences from one single number, the last number, of his own sheet, (and the number in which his criticism? appears,) in every one of which he violates some well established rule of Syntax, or common sense. These are only a few from many that could be selected from every number of the Rest s.

No. 1 "The clerk read the minutes of last meeting which were confirmed." "Meeting which were confirmed," but then this is from the Review.

No. 2. "The Legislative school grant which should have been received over a month ago has not yet came to hand." "Has not came &c.;" Give the rule, most learned critic.

No. 3. "A state of things which will exist no longer, as it has been decided by the Board to ask the town to supply what money is required. They, as the law now is, have no alternative but compliance."

Now, most learned critic, if the money is required, will this state of things exist no longer? what about the future, unless the money required be supplied from time to time?

No. 4. Then, learned critic, for what does the pronoun they stand? for board, or for town? If for board then you have written nonsense; if for town what about the Syntax again, what does he mean the personal pronoun "they" to represent? He evidently meant it to take the place of the word "town", then give the rule for a plural pronoun taking the place of a singular noun. John, you are a critic.

No. 5. "The 57th Band as newly organized played on the Court House park on Friday night last." For punctuation beat that, you, who can do so.

No. 6. "By careful and continuous practice they will in a very short time take a front place among Canadian Bands" what about about your points and pronouns again? The band played—they will take &c. How chaste the style, most learned critic.

No. 6 is from John's own pen, this critic is not a toper, with more brandy in his stomach than common sense in his pate. Here it is :—

"His bravery 'oused out &c.' The learned critic's ignorance 'oused' out in this sentence, but nature never intended the editor to be a critic. Next time, John, write 'oozed', you will find it in any of the dictionaries; but, John, where did you get 'oused'?

No. 7. Is also from John's own pen. Here it is :—"To prevent the recurrance" profoundly learned critic.

No. 8. "Applications for relief of the following parties was made."

Applications was made.

No. 9. Under your "local news" read the second item and say who was so seriously injured. They boy or his father? John, your item says the father.

No. 10. "There is plenty of wheat and other grain held by the farmers, but the prosperity which enables them to hold it." Hold what? The wheat and other grain; your pronoun again. Why does the critic not get a copy of Lennie, or employ some school boy to correct his blunders

No. 11. In another item we find the elegant phraze. "Any claim for originality," should the critic not have written, claim to? But in this his ignorance of grammar "oused" out.

No. 12. "The September Fair Day, Tuesday last, was numerously attended." Dear critic, was it the fair or the day which was so numerously attended? In our simplicity we thought people attended the fair as they had the day at home. But John attends the fair day, and has the fair at home, perhaps. This is only his ignorance and impudence "ousing" out: but before we get through with the critic it will flow freely.

THE GUIBORD CASE.

The city of Montreal has been greatly excited over is now celebrated case. Guibord, when living, was a member of the Institute Canadien. This institution had books in the library, that were not allowed to be read by Roman Catholics. Bishop Bourget, demanded that the books be removed, or that Roman Catholics cease to be members of the Institute. The managers of the Institute, Roman Catholics, refused to remove the books from the library, and Guibord continued to be a member. In the course of time, Guibord died (1869), and his wife sought burial for his remains according to the rites of the Roman Catholic Church; but this was refused; nor would she be permitted to inter the body in the consecrated portion of the cemetery. Mr. Doutre applied for a mandamus to compel the Cure to allow the dead body to be interred. The church opposed this, but Mr. Doutre carried it from the highest court in Quebec to the Privy Council, where he received an order commanding the cure to allow Guibord's remains to be interred, and also awarding that the Cure pay all costs, amounting to about $5,000.

Last week, Mr. Doutre and others proceeded to have the Queen's order carried out, but were forced to desist by a mob, who had taken possession of the cemetery and gateway, and who with stones and bludgeons, forced the funeral cortege to retire. The coffin had to be taken again to the vault in the protestant burying ground, until steps should be taken to have Her Majesty's decision respected.

This is a fair contest between civil and ecclesiastical power—in the Dominion, and it remains to be seen, which shall be the stronger. It is very evident that the clergy are in sympathy with the people, or rather the people with the clergy, as no steps have been taken to prevent the course of the mob. The French press also takes the side of the church and warns those who seek to carry out the decision of the highest tribunal in the Empire, that if blood be shed, they will be responsible for it. The law, however, should be enforced at any cost, no power can be permitted to exist in the Land that will set itself up against the law; for then indeed would the safeguards and liberties of the people be at the mercy of a person or of a system, not in harmony with the interest of the people, and perhaps subversive of the liberties and rights that have cost the blood of thousands, and immense sacrifice of comfort, friends and property to secure.

The following letter from Bishop Bourget evinces a strong determination to assert and maintain the power of the Church at the risk of violated law, and consequent civil disorder :—

BISHOP'S PALACE, Montreal,
September 8th, 1875.

SIR—As there have been disturbances some days since at the Catholic Cemetry of Cote des Neiges, I consider it a fitting opportunity of informing you of the following facts :—

1st. Measures had been taken that, if the body they were attempting to bury in the aforesaid cemetry, had been so interred in defiance of the laws of the Church, the place where it lay should be immediately interdicted and looked up henceforth as a cursed spot to be held in execration. For the Bishop considers himself in duty bound above all others to see that the mortal remains of the faithful children of the Church rest together in peace, overshadowed by the Redeemer's Cross till the last day when calling all men back to life, He will judge them with the full pageantry of His might, and render to every one according to his deeds.

It, therefore, fresh efforts are made to introduce the aforesaid body into the consecrated precinte, I request all Catholics to remain quiet, like true children of the Church and loyal subject to Her Majesty the Queen.

I exhort them, at the same time, to unite their prayers with mine, with those of the clergy, of the religious houses, and of every pious family to obtain from the Father of all Mercies that these events turn to the advantage of religion.

2nd As far as circumstances allowed, I had sought the protection of the municipal authority that all in its power might be done to prevent demonstrations of violence which, however just the intention of promoting them, are always very much to be deplored.

3rd. I have to return thanks to Providence that the meeting on this occasion was little more than a mere popular protest in favor of the reverence due to the dead who have slept in the Lord and subject to the sacred laws of His Church.

4th. I deem it time to invite every one to sign petitions to the Queen begging of Her Majesty to enjoin that the rights possessed by the Catholics of this large city, not to be molested in the exercise of their Holy Faith, be respected by all those whom Providence has called to share her royal authority.

I remain Mr. Editor,
Very truly your obd't serv't,
† IG BISHOP OF MONTREAL.

A watch has to be kept on the coffin containing Guibord's body, lest it should be carried off and destroyed.

The trifling matter of where the body may rest to the resurrection appears of small concern to protestants, and of little concern it need be, when the dead in Christ shall rise, and when corruption shall put on incorruption, the matter of where the body rested will not be taken into account, and where it not that Mr. Doutre considers this more as a matter of right than of spiritual consequences. Guibord's body would have long ere this been committed to the dust whence it came. It is now a contest of a power against the state so to speak, and for the safety of the people, the state should compel respect, although the matter may appear of little importance.

A THREE ANGLED DUEL.

There are now three candidates in the East Riding :—Mr. Jas. Hogan, reform; Dr. O'Sullivan, conservative; and Mr. Sargent, independent, and it remains to be seen which will receive the largest amount of public favor.

Mr. Hogan is an avowed supporter of the Mowat government, and if elected will carry out his promises to the letter in that respect. The matter of his opposition to the last reform candidate should not be allowed to interfere with giving him a cordial support; at most, it is a personal matter, and Mr. Carnegie's hawked letter to show that Mr. Hogan was friendly to Dr. O'Sullivan has nothing to do with reformers. Let Mr. Hogan and Mr. Stratton settle that affair, our desire is to support the man who will support the wise Legislation of the present government.

Mr. Sargent is a gentlemgn of excellent character. Wherever he is known he is respected. He is honest and honorable, and no doubt, as an independent, will, if elected, do as he promises in his address to the people. He has been independent in this support of parties heretofore. and would, no doubt, give a fair support to the government, as long as their principles and his did not come into contact. He appeals to the electors on the prohibition question, homestead exemption, the Orange Bill, and aid to colleges. He is on that galled jade, the high Protestant horse, (his opponent's being both Catholics) and it will remain to be seen whether the Protestant or extreme Orange party will vote for an independent Orangeman or a conservative Roman Catholic. Let him beware of depending too much on doubtful friends.

Dr. O'Sullivan is the conservative candidate. He rants about extravagance, and whistles about economy, but his economy will always be in keeping with his conduct in the small pox case; if he can put $800 in his own pocket, you will hear him say; farewell economy. He is innocent of politics, and a great many other things. He is the sugar-coated pill of a clique, consisting of John Carnegie, and W. H. Scott, W. H. Scott and John Carnegie. He is weak enough to be used, and childish enough to be toyed with; never possessed of a sound mind, or independent will, if elected he may make a voting machine to be laughed at, or stump orator to abuse the EXAMINER, and the grits. He is great on charity, and his charitable profession. Just let his patrons says so. He is eloquent on his qualification as a school teacher and medicine man, but never succeeded in becoming a fiddler until Mr. Carnegie took him in hand, and now he is improving. This is the step he has gun rid of as politics, and then, as if under the influence of one of Mr. Carnegie's opinion he dozes off into supreme self complacency. Can he be reelected? If he can, then indeed will men begin to think away from politics for fear of being forced to mingle with them or mix up with the nonentities brought forward as party leaders.

These three men are now before the electors of the east riding of this county, on the first two Mr. Hogan and Mr. Sargent, you have men, you can rely on the one as a Catholic reformer, and the other as an out and out Orangeman, both free from dictation, both honest politicians, from a Catholic and Protestant stand point. We say vote for the reformer; but if your conscientious scruples forbid you, then support Mr. Sargent, but think well before you vote for the creature of a faction, or the helpless victim of a clique.

The Dr. thinks nothing of the little crime of treating and free dinners at Apsley, and the treating at Indian River. They are small things in his eyes; but crime is crime, and let who may be guilty, punish him.

Mr. Stratton would not, dare not, defend the treating of his friends or declare crime a small thing. Let it be denounced and abandoned. What must we think of the man or of the principles of the man who can stand up and try to condone the violation of law, and of moral principles, for the sake of a seat in the house of parliament? What might the people of East Peterboro expect from him? On the 24th instant let the verdict of East Peterboro be in favor of good government, and wise laws, and to leave Dr. O'Sullivan at home to follow the practice of his charitable profession, in which he can charge $20 a visit and pocket the money for the sake of the poor, and on principles of economy.

ARE THOSE HANDS CLEAN?

Dr. O'Sullivan is going about the East Riding declaring his innocency of the treating by Cavanagh and free dinners, and that he has been unseated through the actions of his opponents.

As to his clean hands in the treating matter, he was in the tavern when Cavanagh treated. He took Cavanagh with him for a purpose. He used him as an agent, and let us hear what Judge Draper says in the decision :—

"THERE WERE OBVIOUS MISGIVINGS ON THE RESPONDENT'S PART and I think still greater ON THE PART OF CARNEGIE, but I think THEY RESOLVED TO INCUR THE RISK, and without any formal appointment, THE RESPONDENT AVAILED HIMSELF OF HIS (Cavanagh's) SERVICES, and therefore the election (the Respondent) became responsible for his acts."

Is the Doctor free from the blame? Was he not held a party to corrupt practices, treating and giving free dinners.

The Dr. and Mr Carnegie appear very anxious to shift the blame on Mr. Boyd, but the Judge did not. Moreover, Mr. Boyd assures us that that he is prepared to prove that he saw the Dr. treating, and being treated in Mullen's tavern during the last election, and now feels astonished as he (Mr. B.) had kept silence on the matter, that he should be so assailed by the Dr. and his friends Mr. Boyd never was Mr. Stratton's agent, and further Mr. Boyd was not asked to go to Burleigh by Mr. Stratton, notwithstanding no one wishes to make less of the set of treating on this account. But it is mean—contemptibly mean, to try to saddle all the blame on Mr. Boyd when Cavanagh commenced the treating, and in the face of the fact that Mr. Boyd, declares that he saw the Dr. both drink and treat his friends in Mullen's as above referred to. The Dr. would do well to allow this question to drop.

WHERE IS THE DOCTOR?

Mr. Carnegie's newspaper is taken up with defending himself against the attacks of Mr. Hogan and his friends. What makes Mr. C. the great man? Because the Dr. in John's eyes is nothing. He took him up to be his creature, and because he was innocent of politics and everything else. Oh, yes, and because John could not secure the Catholic vote for himself. But the Doctor is never heard of. Oh no, they never mention him. His name is never heard. John want to keep the non-entity out of sight so that he (Mr. C.) may appear to be somebody. It is true that the Coeservative Candidate for the East Riding is not fit to come to the foreground unless under aegis of assistants; but it is cruel to drop his name from the leading articles of the Review. Is John ashamed of his God Child already.

LOOK OUT.—Timothy Cavanagh has been through a portion of the East Riding again; is he following his old practice of going to see his friends?

THE HON. A. CROOKS was elected in South Oxford, on Friday last, by the handsome majority of 303.

STORMS.—A severe storm passed over Lake Erie, on Friday last, which caused immense damage to shipping, and a great loss of life. Not less than 75 vessels have been wrecked.

BANK OF COMMERCE.—The Bank of Commerce, Montreal, was lately relieved of $50,000 by the assistant teller, T. W. Nicholls, a young man of about 22 or 23 years of age. He and his father, a Montreal defaulting broker have left for the United States. The way of the transgressor is hard, and the sins of young Nicholls will soon find him out.

THE CONSURG SENTINEL is very much exercised about East Peterborough, and in its wailings over departed plunder, it assails our humble selves as having changed our political views. Supposing this to have been the case, was it not right? Do not wise men change their minds sometimes, but fools never. It is, no doubt, because the Sentinel now comes under this last category, that he runs on in the old Conservative rut of misrepresentation, and defaming his neighbors' characters. If we had ever been Conservatives we would have long since been ashamed of the company, and doubly ashamed of being in company with the traitor to principle and to protestantism, that scribbles for the Sentinel.

LINES

TO THE ELECTORS OF EAST PETERBORO'.

Come forward on the Polling day,
And vote for Mr. HOGAN;
Let not our foes triumph and say,
Reformers are aye laggin.

Electioneering times are on,
The men are chosen who's to run,
Reformer one—Tory tother—
Men they're unlike one another.
Who'd wish to have a tory in?
Go give your vote if you incline,
But remember from the action
You will have no good reflection;
For what they've been they'll be again
Had they the power to rule and reign.
If to you what they are is mystery,
Go coely and hunt up their history,
Then you will see, and no more doubt;
But try your best to keep them out.
Seek too, the history of reform,
That's past through many a tory storm;
See what reformer's they have stood
Seeking the country's general good—
Then party spirits let alone.
Searched for yourselves, the truth you'll own,
With tory's you've been too long jogieg—
Come now vote for Mr. HOGAN.

REAPING MACHINE TRIAL.

DEAR SIR,—A friendly test of the "Champion" and "Meadow Lark" Machines, conducted by Mr. Hall, as agent for the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Co., and Archibald Campbell, for the Phoenix Foundry, London, Ont., came off on Mr. James Miller's farm Aug. 17th. My agent, Mr. Campbell, left with the Peterborough Review an imbased report, which they agreed to publish, but instead of publishing said report, they published the enclosed one, and sent it to me, alleging that said enclosed matter was in Type at the time Mr. Campbell gave in his report, but of this they said nothing to Mr. Campbell, and I question its veracity—as from the reading of the Review's report, wherein they bring Mr. Miller prominently before the public, to strengthen their cause as it were," and the results being so different from what I expected to see in the Review, that, at the request of my agent Mr. Campbell, I wrote to Mr. Miller for a true statement of facts, and the result is, the letter I now inclose to you, therefore, it you will kindly publish in your paper the report of the Review of 17th ult., and follow it with Mr Miller's letter as denial.

JOHN ELLIOTT.

London Sept., 7th, 1875.

P. S.—I might remark that the Review did not publish the report left by Campbell, and I contend that what they did publish represents nothing.—COM.

OTONABEE.

(From the Peterborough Review.)

REAPING MACHINE TRIAL.—A grand Reaping Machine trial was held on the farm of James Miller, Esq., Reeve of Otonabee, on the 17th of August, in which the following machines took part, viz:—The Meadow Lark, manufactured by John Elliot, of London, Ont., specially got up for the purpose, and the "Champion" manufactured by the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Co., Oshawa, Ont. Mr. Archie Campbell, a professor for the purpose from Elliott, running the Meadow Lark, and our townsman of Keene, Wm. Hall, represented the Champion. Mr. Campbell had been cutting nearly all forenoon, and had all advantages that could be given him, he chose the ground and place; Mr. Hall met him at about 2 p. m. They then cut in oats about 10 rounds of a 10 acre lot, the Meadow Lark cloked six times, and the Champion only twice, and one of these was a mole of clay that caught in the guards, in lying green oats the Champion manufacturer refused to follow the Meadow Lark on account of having to cut his stubble in the lying oats, and they then changed places and let Mr. Hall have two cuts together, he then showed the crowd present that the Champion could not only do as good work, but a good deal better both in standing and lying and lodged grain. After partaking of the good things Mr. Miller had provided for all present, they then went into a piece of lying and lodged barley, they then followed one another, but the Champion man refused again to follow him on account of having to cut some he missed. They then cut 2 rounds each, and the Champion machine carried the day in it, satisfactory to all present. The Meadow Lark did not cut it as clear and choked four times on the two rounds, and the Champion did not choke at all. The Champion is a very strong, well-built machine, the cutting apparatus is the very best I have ever seen, and the lightest draft machine for the cut. I know the machines used in the match has cut two seasons, and over nearly 600 acres of ground, and seems to be as good as new. I would say to those in need of a machine, from all accounts that can be seen and heard of matches, buy a Champion from Hall, for he is a square, honorable man to deal with.—COM.

LETTER FROM MR. MILLER.

To John Elliott, Esq., Phœnix Foundry, Loodon, Ont.

DEAR SIR.—In answer to yours of the 30th of August, asking me to send a true statement of the match between the Meadow Lark and Champion Reaping Machines. The report in the Peterborough Review, of August 27th is not exactly according to facts, the true statement is as follows: A. Campbell, agent for the Meadow Lark and W. J. Hall, merchant, of Keene, who is agent for the Champion, manufactured by the Joseph Hall Company, of Oshawa, had some bantering about the merits of their respective machines. It was arranged to have a friendly match on my farm, on the 17th August. Accordingly A. Campbell came about 11 o'clock a.m., and commenced cutting in a ten acre field of oats, part of which was badly lodged. The Meadow Lark done excellent work. About 2 p. m. W. Hall made his appearance with the Champion Machine. They both went to work in good earnest and done their work so well that it was very difficult to decide which was best. After cutting several rounds in the oat field, they retired to a barley field which was very hard to cut, being badly lodged. There were no judges appointed, but it was agreed to leave it to the decision of those present, of which there was a goodly number of farmers, which use machines, and as both machines done work so well it was decided that they were equal. It was agreed by all that the Meadow Lark was a beautiful compact machine, which done excellent work, and of a very light draught. But we had no way of testing the draught of either. With regard to what the Review says, about the Meadow Lark choking is not correct. Any time that it choked was owing to a stone or root getting into the knives.

I remain, your obedient servant,
JAMES MILLER,
Reeve of Otonabee.

TO THE FREE AND Independent Electors
OF THE
EAST RIDING
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—

Being solicited by a large number of the electors to become a candidate for your suffrages in the present election to represent you in the Local Legislature of Ontario. I beg to say that I accept the invitation as an Independent man. If you can place confidence in me and return me as your representative, I pledge you my honor that I will vote for all measures that I think are for the good of the Province, whether coming from the Government or opposition.

I will vote for a general Act of Incorporation for the Loyal Orange Association for the Province.

I will vote for an endowment of the different denominational Colleges, to get a fair share of the Educational Fund, which they were deprived of by the late John Sanfield McDonald government.

I will vote for a Prohibitory Liquor Law, or any other measure that will have for its object the suppression of intoxicating liquors.

I will vote for a Homestead Exemption Law.

I will vote for a Free Grant to all emigrating to our back woods, and that they shall become the bona fide owners of all timbers growing thereon.

I will vote for aid to any company building a railroad running east and west through this County.

I will vote that the Municipal Assessment be taken in the month of June when the Assessor can arrive at a fair valuation of the property to be assessed.

I will vote for a sliding scale in the present statute labor clause in the municipal acts.

I will also take a general interest in making and repairing the roads leading to our back country.

I am opposed to the wholesale system adopted by the present government in the sale of our valuable timbers, as I consider these timbers will contribute largely to the revenue of the Province if properly managed.

And as the Council of Public Instruction have appointed Archbishop Lynch of the Church of Rome, and Professor Goldwin Smith, to revise the books on history taught in our Public Schools, with instructions to expunge from these books such passages as are offensive to Roman Catholics, I will vote all just means to resist and vote against any alteration being made in them, or any parts extracted therefrom.

Gentlemen, if you place me at the head of the poll, I will resign my seat in the House before I will barter the above principles; and as it is not in my power to make a general canvass of this [illegible] I will request [illegible] in the [illegible] of [illegible] and I [illegible]

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—A lumberman named Patrick Hickey, but better known as Pat. Delaney, attempted to cut his throat, on Sunday last and succeeded in making 4 or 5 huge gashes with a razor, before being observed. He and several others at present were on a Drive of Mr. Haslitte, saw logs, they were camping at Sawers old mills, near Lakefield, Hickey had been drinking for some time and had taking or was about taking the delirium tremens in this state on Sunday morning he asked a razor from a companion who was shaving himself with the expressed object of shaving himself also, but instead before being detected left several cuts on each side of his neck but did not succeed in cutting the artery. Dr. Bell, of Lakefield was sent for and attended to the wounds. They are not considered fatal if the man can receive proper care until free from the delerium. How long will whiskey be allowed to ruin man and christian men look on with apparent indifference. The action of christians in this matter is disgrace to them and does great injury to their characters and cause.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Council met in Special Session on Monday evening, to take into consideration a petition from Messrs. Paisley & Slingsby in reference to getting a loan of $10,000 from the town to replace the machinery in the Woollen Mills lately destroyed by fire.

After some discussion on the petition, it was moved by Mr. Beal, seconded by Mr. Hamilton, that the Council request Messrs. Paisley & Slingsby to get a requisition from the rate-payers to this Council, asking that a by-law be submitted to them for granting a bonus to aid in the reconstruction of their Woollen Mills, and stating on what terms they are willing to pay back the Bonus to the corporation.

The Council adjourned to Tuesday night, but on Tuesday night there was no quorum.

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since that time have had no attack of it, I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

ALL HAVE GOT THEIR WORK TO DO.

Why these murmurs and repining,
Who can other what is done?
See the farmers brightly shining,
Therefore glad set to be work.
Grieving! is not best a folly.
Assuredly it is a sin.
When why see a glaring error
We offended a returns begin;
We a hearted all be up and stirring,
With determination true;
Young and old men, rich and poor men,
All have got their work to do.

Thought we can, on looking round us,
Man in wickedness is prone,
Through the storms of vice around us,
Virtue's paths but surely knows,
Well we know that in our nature
Is a spark of life divine;
We must from the soul from theuldrum,
If we wish that spark to shine
We must all be up and stirring,
With determination true;
Young and old men, rich and poor men,
All have got their work to do.

Life is but a scene of labor.
Every one's his task assigned,
We must each assist our neighbor
When we can him lay behind;
We must strive by education
Man's condition to improve,
And lend men of every nation
In a bond of mutual love.
All must then be up and stirring,
With determination true;
Young men, old men, rich men, poor men,
To have all your work to do.

Princely Munificence of the Great Mogul of India.

SIDE ARMS OF PRICELESS VALUE—ELEPHANTS COVERED WITH GOLD AND JEWELS—STREETS CARPETED WITH SILKS AND VELVET.

[From the Pall Mall Gazette.]

Nothing but ridicule could have attended any attempt on the part of the Prince of Wales to rival the Mahommedan rulers of India in ostentation and magnificence. In the matter of presents alone his utmost munificence would have been surpassed by a single act of favor displayed by one of the former sovereigns of Hindostan. For instance, Jehan Gheer bestowed upon his son, when setting out to take command of the army in the Deccan, "a sword the scabbard of which was of gold set with stones valued at 100,000 rupees (£10,000), a dagger at £4,000, an elephant and two horses, all their furniture of gold, set with stones," and a state carriage built in imitation of one sent out to the Emperor by King James I. On his birthday Jehan Gheer was so richly adorned with jewels that Sir Thomas Roe protests that in all his life he "never saw such inestimable wealth together." "The time," he continues, "was spent in bringing his greatest elephants before; some of which, being lord elephants, had their chains, bells, and furniture of gold and silver, with many gilt banners and flags carried about them, and eight or ten elephants waiting on each of them, clothed in gold, silk, and silver. In this manner about twelve companies passed by, most richly adorned, the first having all the plates on his head and breast of wonderful bulk and beauty. They all bowed down before the King, making their reverence very handsomely."

On one occasion when the king honored his Minister with his company at dinner, the road was covered for a whole mile with silks and velvets sewed together, and the cost of the banquet was estimated at £60,000. On his birthday Jehan Gheer was weighed against seven kind of commodities, such as rupees, jewels, cloth of gold, silks, calicoes, spices, honey, and butter, which were afterward distributed among the poor. "The scales were of beaten gold, set with small stones, rubies, and turquoises; they hung by chains of gold, and for more surety there were silk ropes. The beam was covered with plates of gold. The great lords on the nation sat about the throne on rich carpet's expecting the King's coming out. At length he appeared, covered with diamonds, rubies, and pearls. He had several strings of them about his neck, arms, wrists and turban, and two or three rings on every finger. His sword, buckler, and throne were also covered with precious stones. Among the rest I saw rubies as big as walnuts, and pearls of a prodigious magnitude He got into one of the scales, sitting on his legs like a tailor."

After all, the royal gifts, were not in general very costly. When the weighing was over, basins of silver almonds, nuts, and other fruits were placed before the King, who threw them about in handfuls, while his nobles scrambled for them. Observing that Sir Thomas Roe would not stoop to such meanness. Jehan Gheer took up a basin that was nearly full and poured it into his cloak. The courtiers, however, "had the meanness, to thrust in their hands so greedily" that the worthy knight had some trouble to rescue these proofs of the royal favor from their rapacity. He had been told beforehand that the King would scatter fruits moulded in massive gold, but to his disgust he discovered that they consisted of very thin silver, a thousand of thousand of them barely weighing 20lbs. Nevertheless, "I saved he says, "the value of ten or twelve crowns, and these would have filled a large dish. I keep them to show the vanity of these people. I do not believe that the King that day threw away much above the value of £100."

Bernsir, indeed' says that, although India was an abyss that swallowed up the gold and silver of other lands, he did not regard the Mogul as being extraordinarily rich. Shah Jehan, for example, after exercising commendable thrift for the space of forty years, left only six millions in the treasury, without taking into account, however, the precious stones, of which he confesses there was a great store. The value of the throne alone he reckoned at three millions sterling, being covered with spoils of Patans and Rajpoots, and the voluntary offerings of tributary princes, governors, and nobles.

At times the munifice of the Delhi Emperors savored of reckless extravagance. A signer, having delighted the Royal ears, was presented with his weight in silver coin, amounting to 6,300 rupees, and with an elephant to carry his treasure to his house. The famous Noormehal, having shot four tigers with a matchlock from the back of an elephant, was presented by the enamored Jehan Gheer with a pair of emerald bracelets, valued at $10,000, while a thousand rupees was distributed in charity. The Great Akbar surpassed both his predecessors and successors in personal wealth. According to Ferishta, that illustrious potentate numbered among his possesions coined silver computed at a hundred millions of rupees; choice rubies, one maund, or 80 lbs. weight; common rubies and other precious stones, ten maunds. uncoined gold, seventy maunds; uncoined silver, 160 maunds; copper pice, fifty billions (four pice equals 1½d.); elephants above 5,000; horses 12,000; deer 5,000; hunting leopards, over 900; and hawks, 500. It is recorded, probably with considerable exaggeration, that Akbar's treasury contained ninety millions sterling in silver coin and gems of price, and that on one occasion he filled a tank near Futtehpur Sikri with nine crores of rupees, equivalent to £9,000,000, which were afterwards distributed among the needy.

PARENTS.

The old relations of father and son have utterly changed within living memory. It is not that there is less affection or less reverence in the boys of a family, but there is a great diminution of the formal obedience which used to be expected from them. A wise father nowadays sees that he must leave his sons a good deal to themselves, that their thoughts are not likely to be his thoughts, nor their ways his ways. He is content if he sees that this growing independence leaves the deeper ties of love and tenderness untouched. But no change of this sort can be detected as yet between daughters and mothers. The old traditions of rigorous dependence are carefully preserved. No matter what the age of the daughters may be, an English mother still calls them "the girls." She transplants the discipline of the nursery to the croquet ground and ballroom. She expects them to repeat the conversation they have had with their partners. She insists on reading the letters they receive and dictates the answers they send. She assumes complete control over their time, reading, opinions, religion, and friendships.

A BOYS TERRIBLE DEATH.

DRAGGED THREE MILES ON A ROUGH ROAD BY A YOKE OF OXEN.

On Monday afternoon, Alvah Sloper, a farmer in the town of Orwell, Oswego county, N. Y., sent his son William, aged 15, to the lot for a yoke of oxen, which had been hitched to a stump by a log chain, telling him to go to a neighbor's on another road for a pair of trucks. The boy started off with the oxen, and was not seen again until about half past nine that evening, when three men found the oxen on a by road dragging his lifeless body with the log chain hooked around his neck. All his clothes had been stripped off, except his shoes and the wristbands of his shirt; his neck was broken, his skull crushed, and his body frightfully bruised and broken. The trail, being followed back, was seen to begin at a point not over ten rods from the stump to which the oxen were hitched when he went for them, and it was ascertained that he had been dragged more than three miles over rough and stony roads, through fields and over a wood lot where the timber had recently been cut. His hat and shreds of his coat, vest, and trouses were found at various points along the road. The affair aroused the intensest excitement in the neighborhood, and first it was believed that the chain could not have got around young Sloper's neck accidentally, and that he must have been murdered. A Coroner was called, and the jury, after a thorough investigation, returned the verdict that "the boy came to his death by having a chain hitched around his neck and being dragged by a yoke of oxen for a mile or more over a rough and stony road, by which he sustained injuries about the head and neck that caused his death. How the chain became hitched is to us unknown, but we incline to the belief that it was an accident."

A KENTUCKY BRIDAL TOUR.

There came one day to a little inland town in Kentucky a young rural couple who had just been bound by the "silken bonds." Their destination was the depot, and the bridegroom was evidently quit impatient for fear the train should arrive before he could reach the office. Buying one ticket, they stood upon the platform until the train had stopped. When they entered, they entered, the bridegroom found the bride a seat, kissed her most affectionately, bade her "good-bye," and, going out, seated himself on a box commenced whistling most vigorously. He watched the train out of sight, regret depicted on his face, when a bystander, thinking the whole proceeding rather strange, resolved to interview him. Approaching him carelessly, and chawing a straw to keep up his courage, he said:

"Been gettin' married lately?"

"Yes," said he; "me and Sallie got spliced this mornin'."

"Was that her you put on the train?"

"Yes," with a sigh.

"A likely-lookin' gal," said our questioner. "Anybody sick that she had to go away?"

"No;" but here he grew confidential. "You see, me and Sallie had heard that every body, when they got married, took a bridal tour. So I told Sallie that I hadn't money enough for both of us to go, but she shouldn't be knocked out of her'n. So I just brought her down here, bought her ticket, and sent her on a visit to some of her folks, and thought I might get some work harvestin' till she got back."

That afternoon found him busily at work, and when in a day or two after Sallie came back he welcomed her cordially and affectionately, and hand in hand they started down the dusty road to their new home and duties.—Louisville Home Journal.

DO NOT LAUGH.—Do not laugh at that drunken man reeling through the street. However ludicrous the sight may be, just pause and think. He is going home to some tender heart that will throb with intense agony; some doting mother perhaps who will grieve over the downfall of him who was once her sinless boy, or, it may be a fond wife whose heart will almost burst with grief as the views the destruction of her idol; or may be a loving sister who will shed bitter tears over the degradation of her brother, shorn of his manliness and self-respect. Rather drop a tear in silent sympathy with those hearts so keenly sensitive and tender, yet so proud and loyal that they cannot accept sympathy tendered them either in world look or act, although it might fall upon their crushed and wounded hearts as refreshingly as the summer dew upon the withering plant. As your eye follows the inebriate's uncertain footsteps, record a solemn vow in heaven, that while your life endures, you will do all that within you lies to further the cause of temperance and to make it a crime to sell or drink intoxicants.

VINEGAR BITTERS

D. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

THOUSANDS proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

IN FAVOUR OF

J. A. DELANEY & SONS'

"Empire" Fanning Mill,

WHICH THEY ARE NOW BUILDING.

AT THEIR SHOP, ON AYLMER STREET, PETERBORO'.

(Near Mr. Tone's Factory.)

This is to certify that I have seen Messrs. J. A. Delaney & Sons' "Empire." I have one of the same mills which I have thoroughly tested, and have no hesitation in recommending it to Farmers as the best Fanning Mill for separating or cleaning grain either for seed, market, or mill, (of which I have any knowledge), and believe grain cleaned with their Mill will bring a higher price in market than that done by any other mills now in use. The Empire Valve supplies a want long felt by Farmers, and is a most desirable improvement, and with the additional arrangement for Grass Seed, it is decidedly ahead of any other mill known to me.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any thing been so widely and securely upon the confidence of mankind, as has this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as are sometime subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c. All indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and never fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is no matter how many patients, the number and importance of its cures in the most districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold round the world.

EAST RIDING.

Mr. Hogan's canvass proceeds favorably. The old staunch Reformers are still true to their established principles, and will be found in their places on the 8th instant, and polling their vote for the Reform candidate and in favor of the present Reform Government. The attempt to take Reform votes by asserting that a wing of the Reform party is disaffected and therefore brought out Mr. Sargent, has failed to divert a single Reformer from his principles.

No one wishes to say a word against Mr. Sargent. He is a respectable Conservative, believed to be independent enough to carry out every promise he makes. But he is not in sympathy with the Government, although if elected, not at all likely to be factious.

If Mr. Sargent had come out boldly in the Reform interest, owing to his temperance principles and honesty of character, no one would have more readily aided to elect him to ensure the passage of a Prohibitory Liquor Law than the writer. There are other reasons why he would support him, that need not now be mentioned. But his position, opposed to the Government Candidate, forbids us just now even wishing him good speed.

To all our friends, we say: be not remiss in your duty, be not led away by any false cry. The Government deserve the warmest support of the people of Ontario, and we again ask the Reformers of East Peterborough to give that support willingly, and the election is sure.

WEST RIDING PROTEST.

This matter is at last set at rest. All the scheming and persecution has come to nought. Mr. Cox comes out of the affair, clean and free from blame in any way. Mr. Scott, therefore may make up his mind to be again defeated, and thus be forced into the position his own acts deserve, forgetfulness.

It was also sought to injure Mr. Taylor, a young man of unblemished character, upright, almost to a fault, and as much above his persecutors as the sun is higher than the earth. A young man who would not, knowingly, be guilty of an illegal or wrong act, for any reward, or under any influence; but in this they failed also.

It is much to be regretted that in a canvass, honest men are almost forced to meet with the low characters, that not unfrequently are found round the suburbs of towns and cities. In the course of their canvass, they often feel the contagion of the presence of whiskey blasts, whose god is this grog, and who are ready, for a treat, or a few treats, to ruin the character and the future of the most honorable and honest men; and the worst feature of this state of things, is that there is no real protection against them. Mr. Scott may feel happy in such associations, but in his attempt to affect his opponent by evidence the court rejected, he has proved the innocence of Mr. Cox, while the readiness with which he, Mr. Scott, would use very doubtful evidence has been too manifest.

It is a pleasant duty to record, this week, the signal failure of the whole plans and schemes of the arch trickster and his associates. Mr. Cox stands acquitted on every personal charge, and conscientiously with head erect, and character unsullied, can appeal to the Electors to replace him, whence the indiscreetness of a friend, or rather the plans of an enemy removed him. Goyette never was a supporter of Mr. Cox, and as Cardinelle was out of the country, it was impossible for Mr. Cox to show that what Goyette and others said was not correct; as it is, and was believed that some one opposed to Mr. Cox had, under pretence of being his supporter, committed those acts that executed him.

Be that as it may, Mr. Cox is completely cleared from all personal charges. Nothing illegal could be proved against him. He is again a candidate and it is not too much to ask his friends to set their shoulders to the wheel, and in the approaching election increase his majority to an extent that will teach Mr. Scott that his course in this trial does not meet with the approval of the Electors of West Peterborough.

CONSERVATIVE FAIR DEALING.

In last week's Review there appeared an announcement that Dr. O'Sullivan would hold a meeting in Ashburnham, on Saturday evening, and Mr. Hogan and his friends, especially Mr. Bertram, were invited. Mr. Hogan and several of his friends, and Mr. Bertram amongst them appeared at the meeting. The Doctor in his usual plaintive tone appealed to the meeting against the treatment of Mr. Hogan and his friends, but especially against the treatment of the EXAMINER which the Doctor considers a little severe. He made all sorts of charges about being misrepresented and slandered; but afford us no opportunity to repel his assertions, which are the concoctions of his own disordered brain.

Contrary to the usual course at Mr. Hogan's meetings, when Mr. Scott and Mr. Carnegie are allowed unlimited time: at the Ashburnham meeting it was sought to tie down Mr. Hogan and Mr. Bertram, to an hour between them, and also to compel Mr. Bertram to follow the Doctor. Now when it is remembered that the Doctor says nothing because he has nothing to say, discusses no question, only raises a stale charge of political personal persecution, and ends with crying extravagance, every one will understand the position Mr. Bertram was forced to take. And when it is remembered that he was largely confined to what subjects were introduced during that evening.

Mr. Carnegie refused to come forward and just state the questions to be discussed, and he refused even five minutes of reply to what he should say. He, like the learned Doctor, launched out into vituperation against Mr. Stratton, who was taking no part in the debate, and would not be allowed to take part. He continued this sort of thing till a few minutes before 12 o'clock, or almost till the dawn of the Sabbath, and when reminded of the lateness of the hour, remarked, if any one was afraid of breaking the Sabbath, he could go home.

This is the sort of fair dealing and free discussion, Mr. Carnegie permits, when he has the opportunity to shut out discussion.

How different the course of Mr. Hogan and his friends! At Allandale Mr. Scott spoke one hour and thirty eight minutes, and was not limited, At Keene Mr. Carnegie spoke until exhausted, without limit of time, and yet when a special invitation is extended to attend one of the Doctor's meetings, a limit is set both as to time and speakers, and still they are the heroes of free discussion. The Doctor complains that Mr. Hogan or his friends do not meet him at his meetings. If they were to receive such treatment at all the meetings as was accorded to them at Ashburnham, and they could expect no better where Mr. Carnegie would be present, Mr. Hogan acts wisely in leaving them to themselves. To meet the Doctor alone and have to reply to his wind-gun discharges would be a waste of time.

At the Ashburnham meeting, Mr. Bertram made a brilliant speech. In a few words he showed the folly of the Doctor's complainings, and referred to the childish manner in which he always wailed about the EXAMINER. He then took up the questions of the day, and one by one disposed of them, proving that the government, in all its acts, had kept faith with the people, maintained the principles advocated while in opposition, and carried out all the promises made by the leader of the party. In a masterly manner, he showed that Mr. Crooks statement of the accounts were correct, and that over four millions and a half of dollars were now in the treasury or invested in good securities. He exposed the sham opposition, by exposing their course in the House, and when in power; and ended in a very able defence of Mr. Crooks' sale of the debentures, on which the opposition harped so much. Mr. Carnegie occupied the rest of the night, till nearly Sunday, in his old tale, which the electors have heard again and again during last winter.

Vote for the Reform Candidate and thus strengthen the hands of the Mowat Government.

THE ORANGE PROMISE.

Dr. O'Sullivan and his friends are trying to relieve themselves of the odium of attached to the Doctor for having made a promise to some of the Orangemen of East Peterboro, that he would, if elected, support an Orange Bill. Mr. A. J. VanIngen, and other friends of the Doctor, gave currency to this report, but now, as the Doctor denies having made such promise, rather than convict the Doctor they are willing to assume the responsibility of having given currency to what the Doctor styles a slander. But his own friends are the slanderers, as the following note will show. Notwithstanding that Mr. VanIngen stated at Keene that he had not reported so.

In order to set this matter right we addressed the following note to Mr. J. B. McWilliams and obtained the accompanying letters which will show Mr. VanIngen in his true light, and establish his want of veracity in regard to his own conduct to relieve the Doctor.

PETERBORO, Sept. 18, 1875.

J. B. MCWILLIAMS, Esq.,

Dear Sir—A matter of personal veracity has arisen between Mr. A. J. VanIngen and myself in reference to a promise of Dr. O'Sullivan to support an Orange Bill if elected, will you please favor by stating what you heard Mr. VanIngen say in regard to this promise.

I am, yours &c.,

J. STRATTON.

REPLY.

PETERBORO, Sept. 21, 1875.

DEAR SIR.—In answer to your note in reference to the promise of Dr. O'Sullivan to support an Orange Bill, if elected. I state distinctly that I heard Mr. A. J. VanIngen say that the reason he supported Dr. O'Sullivan against you was, that Dr. O'Sullivan had promised him to support the Orange Bill, and that you would not, and as he now attempts to deny the statement to you, I can prove that he not only made the statement to myself but to several other persons. I beg also to enclose this letter from Mr. Record, which you will please publish. He (Mr. R.) was a supporter of Dr. O'Sullivan at last election, and his testimony therefore cannot be gain-sayed.

Yours &c.,

J. B. MCWILLIAMS.

PETERBOROUGH, 21st Sept., 1875

RICE RECORD, Esq.,

Dear Sir,—Will you please inform me if you supported Dr. O'Sullivan in the last election, if so, for what reason. and also, if you ever heard Mr. A. J. VanIngen state that Dr. O'Sullivan had promised him to support the Orange Bill.

Yours truly.

J. B. MCWILLIAMS.

PETERBORO, Sept. 21, 1875.

DEAR SIR.—In reply to your letter of to-day I would state that I supported Dr. O'Sullivan at the last election. My reasons for doing so was that I was informed that he had promised to support the Orange Bill. I say distinctly that I heard Mr. A J VanIngen state that Dr. O'Sullivan had promised him to support the Orange Bill and gave that as his reason for voting for Dr. O'Sullivan in preference to Mr. Stratton,

Yours truly,

RICE RECORD.

To J. B. McWilliams, Esq.

WHAT NEW CRIME IS THIS? OR IS IT A NEW DISEASE?

Doctors are, in their own sphere, invulnerable except by one of the same learned profession; hence, because we have not a medical diploma, except one from Dr. O'Sullivan, and we candidly admit its worthlessness, we will not attempt discussing medical issues or terms. We may, however, be permitted to ask a question or two. The learned Doctor and former pedagogue charges, our poor selves with something, and we do not know what is, and for fear it might be something contagious, caught from the Doctor in the campaign, and fancying it might be some brain disease, or the result of some opiate, or refer to using pistols, we have felt some alarm—and now to ease our mind, beg to ask, what is it? what is it?

At Norwood, and at Ashburnham, he accused us of ALLIENATING his friends. What does he mean? Is it a disease? are measles the remedy? Can it be cured? Must we be tied to his friends, or his associates for some purpose? We consulted all the medical works we could, but didn't find it: we enquired of other medical men, but they shook their heads, and we are still in ignorance. Allineating! what does it mean? What is it? We do hope that it does not mean pistols for two, we don't want whiskey or free dinners, and we don't admire small pox. Will the learned Doctor, who "taught school well," but fiddled poorly, relieve our anxiety, and explain himself. He says he finished his education at Victoria College, but we are perfectly certain that this new term is not in the vocabulary used at the College.

Vote for the Reform Candidate and send to Parliament a man who will support good measures.

ELECTORS OF WEST PETERBOROUGH.

Mr. Cox is again soliciting your suffrages. His address will appear next week; but it does not require you to wait till his address is published before you move. In the last contest he was honestly and honorably elected, at least as honestly as it is, perhaps, possible for an election to be, until the gangrene of the old sores is completely removed. Be not unmindful of your earnest action in January, and of the persecution he has been called upon to endure. It is all vanity, to talk about there being no protest, if the East has not been protested. Did not Mr. Scott write his circulars the very next day after his own Election, to find if any thing could be cooked up against Mr. Cox. Did not the Review say in next issue, that there would be a protest? Did Mr. H. H. Smith carry the protest in his pocket several days before the people of the East made up their mind to put in one? Did not the Review dare us to do so, are a single letter of the protest was written or the intention formed to have one? These are facts, not to be contradicted, and should convince all that the West would be protested at any cost. Indeed, before Mr. Cox's candidature was announced, we were told that a protest would follow the election, if he should be elected; just as we were told in the case of Mr. Wood of South Victoria, long before the Election.

All these things indicate the desperate game, Messrs. Scott and Carnegie are playing, and should stir up Reformers to action that must end in success. Let Mr. Cox be elected by a larger majority than has ever been given to any candidate in the county.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS, vs. PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

At present there is considerable discussion in reference to godless education and the number of Roman Catholic children at the same time attending the godless Public Schools; and from this it is sought to be established, that Roman Catholic parents prefer the Public Schools because in them, a better education is imparted than is, generally, imparted in Separate Schools.

The large number of Roman Catholic children at the Public Schools is held as a positive proof that the parents sending their children to them prefer them.

It should be borne in mind, that very many schools classed as Public Schools, are, to all intents and purposes, Separate Schools. The children are children of Roman Catholic parents, the teacher is a Roman Catholic, the school is largely controlled by a Roman Catholic clergyman, and therefore, the teaching will not be at variance with the teaching and doctrines of the clergyman. Such a school, and there are many of them in Ontario, is for all Catholic purposes, a Separate School, but as there are no Protestants in the neighborhood to interfere with the management, there is no need to have such schools classed as Separate. The number of Roman Catholic children reported attending Public Schools is made up largely of children from these schools, hence the idea that Separate Schools are not sustained willingly by Catholics, cannot be fairly drawn from the attendance reported at Public Schools as is evident they consider those schools Catholic Schools.

Yet there is no just reason for contradicting the assertion, that Roman Catholics prefer the Public Schools, either from a sense of their superiority, or of their cheapness compared with Separate Schools, the latter being the chief reason. For Separate Schools, where there is a mixed population, must necessarily be more costly than a Public School would be, or else be inferior, because of employing an inferior teacher, not being strong enough to pay a good teacher sufficient salary to induce him to remain with them.

The assertion, that because there has been no Catholic Normal School hitherto, Roman Catholic Teachers could not obtain an education to qualify them for the profession, equal to the Protestant teachers, is childish in the extreme. The Normal School has never been characterized as teaching religious tenets of any sect or denomination. There never has been a word about meddling with the faith of any one attending it. Then, what was to hinder those obtaining as good an education as their Protestant fellow teachers, i.e., supposing they have not, which need not be admitted. It is not true however, that Roman Catholic teachers as a class, are inferior to Protestant teachers of the same class or grade. The Board of Examiners have sought to make no distinction in granting certificates. The only favor shown, (if favor it may be termed) was that perhaps they granted permits to Roman Catholics to supply a sufficient number of them to go amongst their own people, thinking that by so encouraging them, they could train a sufficient number of Roman Catholic teachers to supply the demand in sections where Catholics prevailed.

It is also not true that a school taught by a Catholic teacher is more morally conducted than one taught by a Protestant teacher, unless it be accepted that teaching Dogmas is teaching moral principles. The principles of doing justly, loving mercy, walking humbly before God, are violated too often by both Protestants and Catholics, but it is not often true that a Protestant teacher is less anxious to promote those principles than a Catholic teacher is.

It is difficult to divine the object of invoking discussion on this subject, but not a few see in it, the beginning of an attack on our Common School system: but these attacks will be resented by a united Canadian people.

THE ROMAN CATHOLICS OF ONTARIO.

The Roman Catholics of Ontario complain that they are ostracised on account of their religion, but it would appear that in Lower Canada they are no better off as the following item from a correspondent of the Toronto Tribune, Catholic, testifies. It is from a letter in reference to the Guibord case:—

BLOOD WILL FLOW.

The Irish element in Montreal would seem to be neutral in the quarrel. Of late they have not been well treated by the ecclesiastical power here and some of their Societies received notice on St. Jean Baptiste Day that they would not be allowed to march in the procession. Bishop Bourget wrote a letter yesterday to the Sun and Gazette, signifying that after all the difficulty might be amicably settled by withdrawing consecration from the grave designed for Guibord and where the body of deceased wife rests. There has been a batch appointed in the Catholic city of Montreal lately, but strange to say not one Catholic name is on the list. Horrah for Blake and Mackenzie and the Liberal Government and the liberals throughout the world, Amen. The Irish Catholics are in a bad fix in Canada. If the Province of Quebec where the government is mostly Catholic, an Irishman has about as much chance of getting an office as he has in Dublin, and on the faith of a Christian that is very little, which in Ontario the couplet written on the gates of Bandon would equally apply.

OF OFFICIAL ARSONERS

This case is said to be wholly Catholic. Guibord was a Roman Catholic Frenchman. The Bishop is the same, and Mr. Doutre is said also to be a Catholic, and a Frenchman. Protestants should be still and await results. If Irish Catholics are neutral in their quarrel, why should Protestants interfere? The Institute Canadien has fought the battle hitherto and the members thereof will fight it to the end. The Montreal Witness gives a similar case that happened in San Domingo, which ended in the burial of the body in that case,

CONSISTENCY.

The Hon. Mr. Crooks was elected for South Oxford last week, by a majority of 267. When the news reached Toronto, his friends formed a torch light procession and marched to his residence to congratulate him. He addressed them briefly, being prevented by a mob which stood opposite his house, yelling and making hideous noises. So infatuated were they that they would not even join in three cheers for Her Majesty. They were, doubtless, drunk—but that is a poor excuse for Conservatives who prate about loyalty. It is a disgrace to any party to interfere with free speech, or peaceable processions calculated to injure no one; but what shall this disrespect to Her Majesty be termed? When will the people of Canada learn to shun the leaders who have brought about this state of things, and when will they learn to respect the rights of even their bitterest enemies? But when men so far forget their own self respect as to gather in mobs to prevent an opponent addressing his own supporters, there is little hope for them, until they cast of the leaders who smile at their thus degrading themselves for the paltry object of gratifying their ill-feeling to men whose only crime is that they seek to promote good government and just legislation.

POSTAGE FREE.

Next week will commence the prepayment of postage by the publisher, as provided by Law. After this issue therefore the EXAMINER will go free of postage to all our subscribers everywhere. This will entail considerable additional costs on us, for which we will receive no additional advantages, except the good will of our patrons, or the addition of subscribers enough to counter balance the outlay. We would therefore ask our friends to do what they can for us, a very little effort would add to our list materially, and would add also to the usefulness of the EXAMINER. Our principles are well known, and from those principles there will be no deviation. In religious matters we are anxious that all men should enjoy entire freedom, and we will gladly publish any news of interest to our readers of all denominations, whether holding our views or not, either religious or political. On the subject of temperance, we have taken a decided stand, and will continue, in that way till the evil is removed from the land.

We have endeavored to make the EXAMINER worthy of a place in every family and this will be our constant aim in the future.

To this end we ask all who have a wish for our welfare to do what they can to encourage our efforts; send what items of intelligence you think of interest; try and add a few more subscribers to our list from your localities individually, and thus aid in continuing the work we have undertaken in the interest of the people, but which cannot be successfully done without aid from those who would encourage our labor.

Vote for Mr. Hogan and by so doing show your desire to support the present Government in their efforts to govern the Province on principles of justice and economy, as far as consistent with progress.

WHISKEY AND THE CENTRAL SHOW.

From all we can learn, the Committee of Management of the approaching Central Exhibition have determined to rent liquor stalls in the show grounds. They say only for the sale of beer, but under the name of beer, what is to hinder the sale of a mixture of beer and whiskey, brandy, or alcohol? The friends of good order, appeal to the Committee to desist from the course, even if they have the power. Is it wise to introduce this fearful and terrible curse into the show grounds? Is it christian? will the people permit it, we surely expected better things from Mr. Carnegie, who ought to know better. The names of the other members of the Committee we do not know.

Have they the power? We do not believe they have, and we are glad to learn that Mr. Beavis is determined to test their power, if they attempt to admit whiskey booths:

The 19th section of the Tavern and Shop License Act, contains the following:

Provided always that it shall not be lawful for the Council of any Township, Town, or Incorporated Village, or the Commissioners of Police in any city, to grant any certificate for a License or any certificate whatever, whereby any person can obtain or procure any License, for the sale of spirituous, fermented or intoxicating liquors, on the days of the Exhibition of the Agricultural Association of Ontario, or of any County, Electoral Division or Township Agricultural Society Exhibition, either on the grounds of such Society or within the distance of three hundred yards from such grounds.

The sending of the last clause of the last section of the Agricultural and Arts Act, will convince any one, that the whole Law is formed to prevent and prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors on or near the show grounds.

The officers of any such Association or Society may, by their Rules and Regulations, prohibit and prevent all kinds of gambling, theatrical shows, or mountebank performances, exhibitions or shows, as also regulate or prevent the hucksteering or trafficking in intoxicating drinks, fruits, wares, and merchandize, within 300 yards from the Exhibition grounds, and any person who may after due notice of such rules and regulations, violate the same, shall be liable to be removed by the officers, policemen or constables of said Association or Society, and be subject to the penalties prescribed by the next preceding section (viz., a fine of $20) or thirty days in jail.

This Act was passed in 1868, and is known as the Agriculture and Arts Act.

The License Law nowhere provides for the sale of Liquors outside of a tavern or shop. The certificate for a License must state a certain tavern, inn, house or place public entertainment or shop.

The Municipal authorities cannot grant a License to sell fermented or intoxicating liquors on any Agricultural Show grounds, or within three hundred yards thereof, and it is simply nonsense, to say that a Committee of an Agricultural Society, has power to do what the Municipal Council has not power to do.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Lord Dufferin sails for Quebec, on Friday, October 1st.

DOMINION Parliament will meet on the twenty-second of October.

THE IDA, from Toronto, was the winner at the Belleville Regatta on Monday.

PRINCE EDWARD County carried the Dunkin Act last week by a majority of 613.

THE Toronto Sun has suspended publication on account of the financial strengency.

MR. MCKELLAR has been sworn in as Sheriff of Wentworth by the County Judge.

THE MERCHANTS BANK, Montreal, is embarressed and aid sought from other Banks. It is supposed the Molson's bank will aid it.

The By-law presented to the people of Picton, on Saturday last, to have a Prohibitory Liquor Law, was carried by a majority of 613.

MR. MCGOWAN (Opposition) and Mr. Garbett (Ministerial) were nominated on Monday as the candidates in the election of a member to the Ontario Assembly for West Wellington, the election takes place on Monday next.

CARELESSNESS in keeping fire arms. On Monday, at Berlin, Ont., a little lad, son of Mr. Knell, jeweller, was shot by the discharge of a pistol which the child had found in a drawer. He was holding it and hearing a noise threw it down, which caused the discharge thereof, the ball passing through the heart killed him instantly.

ENGLISH MARKETS.—The Mark Lane Express says:—The last gathering of the harvest in the south of England has been well secured. The usual consequence has ensued, and a reduction in the price of wheat has been universal, say from one to two shillings per quarter.

A STORM.—Texas has been visited by a severe storm in which several lives were lost. Government works have been destroyed, dwellings along the shore are damaged. It is estimated that $2,000,000 will not meet the loss.

PUGILISTIC.—Col. Cubett, a member of the Bowmanville Board of School Trustees, threw an inkstand at the head of Mr. Climie, another member of the Board. The gallant Col. was fined $5 and costs for the cowardly act. He must have been non compos mentis, when he forgot himself.

SOUTH VICTORIA.—We forgot to state last week, that the Hon. S. C. Wood is to be persecuted with a contest. Not satisfied with what they have already suffered in the way of defeat, they court the expenses of a protest and trial.

THE GLOBE AND TEACHERS' CERTIFICATES.—The Globe is agitated over the manner of granting teachers' certificates, especially first and second class certificates. Boards of Examiners everywhere will be pleased when the honors of the labors of examination shall be conferred on the High School Inspectors. The man who would seek to prevent this happy idea being realized, should be compelled to do all the work of Examination himself, for the sum of $2 a day—and pay his way, perhaps to and from the County Town, where the Examinations are held, besides paying his bill while there. The Globe need not feel alarmed. County Boards will bear with pleasure, the proposed change.

BIGAMY.—A man named Norman Adna Bates, was tried at Oshawa, on Wednesday for Bigamy, and sent up for trial. Bates was born near Newtonville, in the Township of Clarke—removed from that place to Mitchell, where he married a Miss Kealer—not succeeding in business, he left that place and proceeded to the United States, but returned to Ottawa, where he married another wife. He left her there and going to Oshawa, commenced business as a dealer in musical instruments and sewing machines, under the name of G. A. Wilson. He was soon identified and brought before a Magistrate, and now awaits his trial for a crime which deserves to be severely dealt with.

THE CURSE.—A gentleman in Toronto, named Burke, was murdered by "roughs" on Tuesday evening, 14th inst. He was quietly passing along, when seeing three men beat a third person he went to assist the latter, but was knocked down and received such injuries in the head from kicks, that he died next day. Irvine, who kicked him, was sober enough to know what he was doing; the other two were drunk. It was brought about in this way:—The three drunken fellows were passing along the street, when meeting a lady and gentleman, two of the three caught hands and commenced jostling against the person in company with the lady, a young man, named O'Neil, came up just then and remonstrated with the rowdies for their conduct, when they attacked him. He seeing the state of affairs advised the gentleman to take the lady away. The three fellows then went at beating O'Neil, Mr. Burke going homeward now the row, and went to assist the young man O'Neil, put unfortunately lost his life through those drunken ruffians. Is it not strange that this evil is allowed to curse our land so long.

The bridge across the Nanaimo River at Nepburgh is stated to be in a very dangerous condition.

MONTREAL.

THE GUIBORD CASE.—A POLICE CONSTABLE FIRED AT.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17.—About nine o'clock last evening Constable Walker was entering the Cemetery arena on his way to join the guards at the vaults. The night was pitchy dark, and when in the closest part of the avenue he was fired on from bushes, and the shot whistled passed his ears. He replied with two shots from a revolver, and being fired at again, he ran and escaped injury. A perfect feeling of insecurity has taken possession of the people lying in the suburbs. A new writ of mandamus in the Guibord case was applied for to-day. The date of burial is not yet made public.

An action is being taken against the proprietors of the Nouveau Monde for failing to register themselves. The damage claimed are $90,000, or $20 a day for 3 years' violation of the law.

At a protection meeting held last night it was resolved to ask all the employers and workingmen in the western part of the city to form a committee to act with parties at the east end.

NAPANEE.

ALLEGED RAPE.—On last Friday, Henry Hunt, Peter Hunt, and George Kinklay, of Earnestown, were charged by Mrs. O'Rourke, a woman six months' married, and of a fair appearance, with the serious crime of rape A hearing before Charles. Jamer, Esq., J. P., developed the following alleged facts. On Wednesday evening last, about sundown, the prisoners went to the house of O'Rourke, ostensibly in search of a set of stolen harness, and while held by the other two, Henry Hunt outraged the person of complainant. The story of the woman was substantiated by her husband, who avers being attracted to the house by her cries. The prisoners assert, and with some appearance of the truth, that it is a clear case of blackmail. From the evidence taken, there was no other way for the magistrate, than to send up the parties for trial at the assizes, where a more thorough investigation than a magistrate's court admits of, will no doubt reveal the truth of the matter. If the accused are innocent, exemplary punishment should be visited upon the complainant; if guilty, justice demand that the extreme penalty of the law should be inflicted. Such crimes are too frequent to be lightly passed over.—Napanee Beaver.

POISONED.—While Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, with their Father-in-law and Brother-in-law, were out camping on Jacks Lake: Mrs. Sharp, went out for to gather mushroons and in mistake picked toad stools, of which the party all partook, the effect of which Mrs. Sharp died on Friday Sept. 9th. The rest of the party are recovering.

On Thursday afternoon last while Mr. P. Hunter, and another gentleman were out driving, and passing the residence of Mr. Strickland, the horse took fright and and threw Mr. Hunter out, injuring his head very badly. From the effects of which he died on Friday. His remains were enterred on Sunday, and were followed by a very large cortage.—COM.

FALL RACES.—The Cobourg turf Club announce their Fall Meeting on the Driving Park for Tuesday, 5th October next, when the best racing sport that ever took place in that town may be expected. There will be four races, the first a hurdle race, a mile and a half, over six hurdles 3 ft. 6 in., $50 The second race, a grand steeple chase, over three miles of fair hunting country, open to all horses, $100 to first, and $25 to second; the third, a Province race, mile and a quarter dash, $100 to first horse, and $25 to second; the fourth will be an open race, mile heats, $100 to first horse, and $25 to second. These races are to be governed by the rules of the Dominion Turf Club, and all entrances must be made with the Secretary on or before Saturday the 2nd October. The stewards are—Col. Boulton, Col. Chambliss, Col. Smart, and H. Covert, E. S. Winans, Wm. Jakes, Chas. Gifford, Asa. A. Burnham, and H. B. Cruso, Esquires, We anticipate the best day's sport ever had in Cobourg.

MAN DROWNED AT RICE LAKE.—On Thursday the 2nd inst, a man named William Hogg, who resided we believe at the Indian saw mills in Alnwick, was drowned near Gore's Landing It appears the unfortunate man was the worse of liquor and was going towards home in a row boat, but the boat capsized a short distance from the shore a little east of Gore's Landing and he was drowned. He leaves a wife and family, some of the children being grown up. An inquest was held upon the body at Harwood, and a verdict returned in accordance with the facts.—Sentinel.

THE HURON & QUEBEC RAILWAY.—Peterboro' and Lindsay are wisely alive to the vast importance that Mr. Fowler's line would be to them, and are prepared to back it up with handsome bonuses. They would be, indeed, blind to their best interests if they were to treat this grand scheme of a great internal trunk line, with cold neglect or listless indifference; for its construction would not only double the value of every man's property, but it would so equalize prices that produce would bring as much along the line of the road as if they sold in any of the frontier towns, and the merchants would get their goods at greatly reduced rates.—Cobourg Sentinel.

I will vote for a general Act of Incorporation for the Loyal Orange Association for the Province.

I will vote for an endowment of the different denominational Colleges, to get a fair share of the Educational Fund, which they were deprived of by the late John Sanfield McDonald government.

I will vote for a Prohibitory Liquor Law, or any other measure that will have for its object the suppression of intoxicating liquors.

I will vote for a Homestead Exemption Law.

I will vote for a Free Grant to all emigrating to our back woods, and that they shall become the bona fide owners of all timbers growing thereon.

I will vote for aid to any company building a railroad running east and west through this County.

I will vote that the Municipal Assessment be taken in the month of June when the Assessor can arrive at a fair valuation of the property to be assessed.

I will vote for a sliding scale in the present statute labor clause in the municipal act.

I will also take a general interest in making and repairing the roads leading to our back country.

I am opposed to the wholesale system adopted by the present government in the sale of our valuable timbers, as I consider these timbers will contribute largely to the revenue of the Province if properly managed.

And as the Council of Public Instruction have appointed Archbishop Lynch of the Church of Rome, and Professor Goldwin Smith, to revise the books on history taught in our Public Schools, with instructions to expunge from these books such passages as are offensive to Roman Catholics, I will use all just means to resist and vote against any alteration being made in them, or any parts extracted therefrom.

Mr. James Sheridan, piano tuner for Messrs, A. & S. Nordheimer, between Toronto and Kingston, will visit Peterborough regularly until further notice. All orders left at Mathias & Reid's Book store will be attended to promptly.

FURS.—Mr. Lech advertises a choice selection of best furs, which he intends exhibiting at the central show. This will afford a splendid opportunity to examine and compare, when parties fancying any article can call on Mr. Lock afterwards and secure.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION will open here on the 29th inst. Ample arrangements are being made for the accommodation and safe keeping of everything entered for Exhibition. The show, it is anticipated, will be a grand success. To this end all who can should add a mite.

NEW FALL GOODS.—W. G. Thompson has been opening out his large stock of fallgoods during the past week, which consists of fancy dress goods, wincays, linen collar, cuffs, silk ties, &c., as he offers better value than ever, parties in want of anything in his lines should give him a call.

NIGHT WATCHMAN.—The Council put on two night watchmen last week ; but they had to send Mr. Beavis and the chief constable to watch them, and once or twice to look for them. They found them drunk and earning their money easily in one of the taverns. Glorious watchmen. They have been dismissed.

BOSTON PHILHARMONIC CLUB.—This company which claims to have the greatest combination of a Solo talent on the continent of of America, will give one of their entertainments in the Music Hall, on Friday evening, October 1st, assisted by Madam Anna Granger Dow. The press all over the Dominion speaks very highly of this company, and no doubt they will have a crowded house here.

TEMPERANCE—What are the friends of Temperance doing towards getting rid of the evil in town ? Do they intend doing anything and what ? Could not the Dunkin Bill be carried in the Town and County ? The idea that the people are not prepared for it, is not well founded. But machinery for appointing a legal officer by the Government to see that it is carried out is a defect in the law. Yet something should be done at once, as every day some unfortunate creature is suffering through the evil

THE NEW BRIDGE—The material is now here, out nothing is being done to get it put into its place. There is a great necessity for it at once, and we trust that the committee will not neglect keeping the Company up to the mark. The Bridge will be very much needed during the Central Show, the great nuisance of waiting for an opportunity to pass has become almost intolerable ; but what will it be, when crowds of farmers are coming to see the show and admire the articles. At the present time the temporary bridge is well worn, and does seem to be a pity to expend any money on it ; as a week or two would get the new one in passing condition.

SAD BREAK UP OF A WEDDING PARTY.

(From the Stratford Beacon.)

On Tuesday, in the east end of Stratford, a young couple were united in the bonds of matrimony, and full of jovial hilarity took their wedding trip to St. Mary's with a party of their friends. On their return home the brother-in-law of the bride, a carpenter, named James McPhee, left the festive scene to take back the buggy he had hired to the livery stable. He failed to return, but apparently he was not missed from the joyous throng, for fun and frolic went on apace. Jokes were cracked and songs were sung till about eight o'clock in the evening, when the rooms were cleared for dancing. With boisterous merriment they tripped the light fantastic toe, until a stranger rushed suddenly into the room enquiring anxiously for the bride's sister. The dance was stopped, and with strange forebodings, the lady in question made herself known to the messenger, who, with culpable indelicacy, blurted out "Mrs' your husband is killed." With a shriek that appalled the ears of the listeners, she sank fainting on the floor, the wildest consternation reigned among the merrymakers and ere the poor woman had well recovered from her swoom, the ominous herald was so exceed by the bloody mutilated body of him who left only two hours before. The scene of festivity was thus suddenly changed into a house of mourning, and on the same day that one sister became a bride the other was made a widow.

An inquest was held on Wednesday morning, at O'Brien's tavern, before Dr. Hyde, coroner, when it was elicited that the deceased was temperate in his habits, and only on rare occasions, such as the present, became the worse for liquor. Mr. John Scott testified that when deceased returned the buggy to his stable he was under the influence of drink, but was not intoxicated. After deceased had left the stables he went to various saloons and obtained drink. He then made his way to the railway track, and, as frequently occurs to drunken men, walked on the track away from his home instead of towards it, and becoming tired sat down on the rails, near the driving park, and in all probability fell asleep The evening train to Goderich then came along, and the engineer noticed an object on the track, sitting on the track, sitting on the rail with his legs inside, and his head bent forward. It being in the dusk of the evening and the body being in a recumbent position, the driver at first thought the object a dog. Directly he discerned it to be a man he whistled loudly, the brakes were applied but all in vain, the body never stirred, and the engine passed over it, severing one leg completely from the body, and the other remaining attached only by a few sinews. After the truck wheels passed over it the body fell backwards into the culvert close by. The train was stopped, the mangled body placed upon the cars, and the train returned with its sad load to Stratford. The jury, under the foremanship of Mr. Cornell, returned a verdict of accidental death while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and exonerated the driver, fireman, and conductor of the train from all blame.

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

(To the Editor of the Globe.)

SIR,—From an article appearing in to-day's Mail many electors in East Peterborough have received the heretofore unheard-of information that Mr. Sargent, the independent candidate in the present contest, is a Reformer, or Grit, as the writer in the Mail styles the party. Mr. Sargent, Sir, never was a Grit or Reformer. He has been allied with the Conservative party for many years. He voted the straight Conservative ticket for Grover and Read, in two successive elections. He also voted the Conservative ticket in East Northumberland ever since Confederation. In 1874 he was a warm supporter of the late P. Pearce, a leader of a conservative convention, at which John Carnegie was the moving and controlling spirit. Mr. Sargent is therefore, a Conservative and a prominent one. In view of these facts, is it not refreshing to find the Mail styling one of its former supporters a Grit! It is evident that there is a diversion in the Conservative camp. The Sargent wing of that party (the Conservative) is dissatisfied with the course pursued by Mr. John Carnegie and a few wire-pullers from the town of Peterborough, and they will not accept Dr. O'Sullivan as an honest and liberal Conservative. They are opposed to a catholic candidate and consequently have left the Carnegie wing and set up for themselves. Mr. Sargent is also depending on Conservatives for his election, and at two meetings declared his principles openly and fairly. Reformers, therefore, are some what surprised to find him set down by the Mail as a Grit or connected with the Reform party in any way. The extreme Orange party, always conservative, strongly support Mr. Sargent, and thus add another proof of Mr. Sargents party prochvities. Reformers in East Peterborough, therefore, need not be deceived in supporting Mr. Sargent as a Reformer. He is a Conservative, but an honest one, and one who deserves better treatment from the hands of his former friends. He will, perhaps, receive a few reform votes on account of his temperance principles, and because he is believed to be an upright gentleman not likely to support a faction. He is not, however, likely to alienate any large number, as the lines are pretty well drawn, Mr. Hogan being the popular candidate.

Yours, &c.,
PETERBORO' REFORMER.

MARMORA.

SMELTING AT MARMORA.—A gentleman who visited Marmora on Friday and Saturday, informs us that on Friday the experiment of smelting iron ore with petrolium was tried on a small scale, but unsuccessfully, the bottom of the cupola being burst out by the too great heat. On Saturday the experiment is said to have succeeded admirably. A quantity of iron was smelted and a portion of it taken to the blacksmith's shop, where, after two heats, it was got to work satisfactorily. The process is said to be a secret which is jealously guarded by its possessors, who claim that by its use iron can be raised and smelted for $3.50 per ton. We are informed that they are so well satisfied with the result of Saturday's experiment, that they intend repairing the old works and proceeding on a large scale.—Intelligencer

FIRE.—About 4 o'clock on Friday morning last the saw mill owned by Mr. James Chalmers was totally consumed by fire and everything in it. Insured in the Canada Farmers Mutual, for $4,000. —COM.

PRINCE EDWARD.

The Dunkin Act was adopted in the County of Prince Edward last week by a majority of over 600, and an effort will be made to enforce prohibition of the retail liquor traffic in that section of the country. While that county is perhaps one of the most favorably situated in the Province for the carrying out of a prohibitory law, we have not much faith in the success of the measure in such a small section. In order to give Prohibition a fair trial, the whole Province should be included, and the law enforced by government officials. Where it is left for one neighbor to maintain the oversight over another, and prosecute for violations the law will never be satisfactorily carried out. A small portion of the amount now wasted in the country through the liquor traffic would be ample for the employment of officials to prosecute offenders against a Provincial or Dominion measure. The Prohibition of the traffic in strong drink, even at a very large outlay, would be money saved to the country, in addition to the great moral and social elevation of the people throughout the length and breadth of the land.—Beaver.

The burnt district of Millbrook is being rapidly built up again, but all the structures are of wood, scantling frame. The post office is still in a very uncomfortable room in the Town hall.

The bell for the new Methodist Church at Fort Hope will weigh upwards of fourteen hundred pounds. The Baptists of the same town also talk of placing a bell in the tower of their neat stone church.

THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced :—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all.?—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used ; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Peacy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness, It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

SOLITUDE'S CHARMS.

BY ROSA.

From childhood's earliest hour I loved
In solitude retreats to roam,
I'r nature's sylvan stillness moved,
Free from the world's false froth and foam,

Nature has many a changeful voice,
Now sad and sweet, now glad and strong.
One moment, make my heart rejoice,
Next, fill me with mournful song

In the sadly-moaning wind
Breaking through the rustling trees.
A spirit compact, solely I find,
Wafted upon each gentle breeze.

By the deeply rolling thunder,
Foretold by gleaming lightning flash,
All my soul is filled with wonder,
Impressed by such resounding crash.

And when the lightning's is o'er,
And from the sky is swept the pall;
When universe voice has ceased to roar,
The thought comes, "God is Lord of all."

In the gently rippling brooklet,
In the sunshine's gleeful playing,
In the overhanging sunset,
In rich hues the West arraying.

There's a voice that speaks of beauty.
Born of the creator's soul,
To hear its words- a happy duty!
Which guides me to a heavenly goal.

Canada at the American Centennial Exhibition.

(From the Monetary Times, August 20th.)

So far as the United States is concerned, there are no special reasons why the people of Canada should take part in the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition. To hold such an exhibition of the productions of all nations, whilst at the same time they continue their policy of commercial exclusion, is a curious inconsistency on the part of our neighbors, which merited the caustic reference of John Bright in his letter of a few months ago. Such gatherings have at their foundation Free Trade ideas, and what use is it for other nations to send samples of their productions to Philadelphia next year, if the United States is bent on excluding them on all other occasions by prohibiting tariffs? So far as encouraging trade with that country itself is concerned, there would be little object gained in exhibiting at all, for whilst the Government is willing to let it's people see, what articles they could purchase better and cheaper from other nations, they take care by their commercial policy to prevent them from buying them whenever it can possibly be done.

Looked at from this particular stand point, we are not surprised to learn that some English manufacturers have declined to send articles to the Centennial Exhibition next year, and that some Canadians feel very much in the same way. There is, however, another side to the question, more particularly in regard to Canada, and one which, in our opinion, every intelligent, patriotic citizen must see renders it imperative in the interests of this Dominion, that the very best display of our national resources should be made.

Whether we take part in the gathering at Philadelphia or not, it will take place, and the nations which have promised to take part in it, the magnificent buildings erected, and the excellence of the arrangements generally, all indicate that it will be one of the grandest displays of the kind which the world has ever seen. Millions of the most active and intelligent of Europe, the West Indies, South America, and the more distant parts of the globe will be present, and tens of millions will read in their own homes in every nook and valley of civilization the story of the exhibition. What would be the effect upon the growing interests of Canada if, situated alongside of the United States, and boasting as we do of the great resources and future of our country, or made a shabby display? The effects would be most disastrous, Our course would give a deadly blow to the increasing favor with which the Dominion is now being regarded in Europe and throughout the world, from which we would be fortunate if we recovered in one or two decades.

If we put in no appearance at Philadelphia at all, it would be alleged in every paper in the United States, and in very many other parts of the world, that Canada did not exhibit because afraid of the contrast between her productions and those of the Republic. The story would be revived with greater force than ever, that Canada is a cold, ice-bound, hyperborean region and we know from past experience how difficult it is to eradicate that absurdity from the European mind, when once it finds a lodgement. The millions who attend at Philadelphia would be irresistibly led to the conclusion that if we could have made a good display we would certainly have done it, and that our failing to do so was prima facie evidence that the Dominion was of very little account, either as regards resources or enterprise. It would afterwards be thrown up to our emigration agents at every turn—in short, a score of ways might be mentioned in which it could and would be used to the injury of the Dominion for many years thereafter.

To take part in the Centennial and make a poor appearance, would be still a more fatal mistake. We know that the United States is sparing no efforts to make a grand display; for Canada to appear paltry and shabby by its side, would be to inflict an almost irreparable blow upon our prosperity. We look upon the occasion consequently as of the greatest possible moment to this country; we shall have much at stake at Philadelphia next year, and we trust our Federal and Provincial Governments, and the Commissioners and Advisory Boards who have been appointed, will be found equal to the importance of the occasion. We are pleased to observe that active, energetic men have been appointed, irrespective of political leanings, and certainly their position will be not sinecure. Canada has so much at stake in the matter that they cannot but aid them in making the Canadian display at Philadelphia such as will redound to the honor and credit of our common country.

The Dominion Government took a vote of $100,000 last Session to aid in securing a good representation of our resources. We are not in a position to say whether or not this amount will be sufficient to meet the necessities of the case; but this we do unhesitatingly assert, that Canada had better spend half a million of dollars to make a creditable display of the products of our fields, forests, mines, fisheries and manufactories, than go to Philadelphia next year, and cut a figure which will disgrace and libel the country.

If the United States had not started this Centennial Exhibition we should have been just as well pleased, considering the high tariff which they impose on all our productions crossing the lines, but having entered upon the undertaking, this country cannot afford, in its own interests, to be unrepresented at Philadelphia, and still less to make an unworthy display. Under these circumstances, our united energies as a people should be bent to show the world what a magnificent country Canada really is. And we can do it. We have got the necessary resources. When we think of the rich and varied productions of our fair fields and fertile valleys, of our rich mines and unequalled forests, of the wealth of our fisheries, and of the excellency of many classes of our manufactured goods, we feel confident it is possible for us to make the Canadian department at Philadelphia one of the most attractive in the exhibition. If sufficient energy is shown by those in charge of the arrangements, the display may be made such as will reflect the highest credit upon the Dominion, advertise its great resources to the whole civilized world, and open up new avenues of trade and prosperity. These are objects worth striving for, and the people will certainly not look with favor on those who hinder them from being attained.

Our success, it should be remembered, will not rest either with Governments, Commissioners, or Advisory Boards. It depends mainly on the people as a whole. All classes, therefore, should interest themselves in it: the farmer, the manufacturer, the lumberman, and merchant, and all others who can exhibit anything which will reflect credit upon themselves and their country. We believe this spirit is being very generally manifested as the time for exhibition draws nearer, and we hope every effort on the part of those placed in charge of the arrangements they will be heartily seconded by the public at large. If this be done as energetically and successfully as it ought to be, and have every confidence that after the American Centennial Exhibition is over, the world will have a higher opinion of the Dominion of Canada than it ever previously entertained.

DON'T GIVE UP BUT TRY.

A gentleman travelling in the northern port of Ireland, heard the voices of children and stopped to listen.

Finding the sound came from a small building used as a school house, he drew near: as the door was open, he went in and listened to the words the boys were spelling.

One little fellow stood apart looking very sad.

Why does that boy stand there? asked the gentleman.

Oh, he is good for nothing! replied the teacher. There's nothing in him, I can make nothing of him. He is the most stupid boy in the school.

The gentleman was surprised at his answer. He saw teacher was to stern and rough that younger and more timid were nearly crushed. After a few words to them placing his hands on the noble brow of the little fellow who stood apart he said:

One of these days you may be a fine scholar; but don't give up, try, my boy, try.

The boy's soul was roused. His sleep ing mind awoke. A new purpose was formed. From that hour he became anxious to excel. And he did become a fine scholor, and the author of a well known commentary on the Bible; a great and good man beloved and honored. It was Mr. Adam Clarke.

The secret of his success is worth knowing: -Don't give up; but try, my boy, try.

CAPTAIN WEBB.

Captain Webb's brilliant feat, altogether unique in history, is the chief topic of conversation. This young man—I had almost written young hero—the mate of a merchant vessel, who received his early instruction in seamanship in the Conway training ship at Liverpool, has succeeded in his gallant attempt to swim across the Channel from Dover to Calais. In the face of such a splendid feat as this, bravely attempted and successfully accomplished, the athletic powers of Meandel and Lord Byron in crossing the Hellespont, the one for love and the other for pleasure, and the paddling doings of the American Captain Boyton recently over the same ground, or rather water, are quite put out of court. At most we may estimate that Leander and Bryon swam some six miles under no great difficulties. And Captain Boyton when he the other day made his way over from England France had the assistance of the "life saving" dress he is in Europe for the purpose of getting up companies to sell. The brave Webb to the water without any other propellers than his own stout limbs; and altogether unassisted, swam the Channel from shore to shore in about 22 hours. It is computed that, owing to the tides Captain Webb must have swam in that time no less than 32 miles. He left the Admiralty Pier at Dover at 12:56 p. m. on Tuesday, and landed at Calais at 10:45 a. m, on Wednesday, tired with his exertions but in good health and spirits. Since his great feat, everybody has written to congraduate him, and the Captain complains of this, for, as he says himself, "the swiming I can manage, but letter writing is out of my line altogether." He is at Dover, and holds a leave all day long almost, and if he ventures out every man he meets wants to grasp his brown hand and congratulate him upon his success in having left every other swiming feat recorded in history far in the rear. He won only two bets, amounting to £70 and laid "just for the sake of having something on" over the result. At a dinner given to him at the Yacht Club at Dover yesterday, in returning thanks for the toast of his health Capt. Webb said:—

"Mr. Mayor, Ladies and gentleman,—I have to thank you kindly for your cordial reception you have given me to-day, and to assure you that I hope I have deserved it in one way, for I did my swiming affair in an honest English way (loud cheers), and had a very hard task towards the last the sea was rather rough and I got nearly blinded by the spray, but I am glad I was able to finish my task by walking to shore on Calais sands. (Cheers.) I thank you for the reception you have given me to-day (Cheers.)"

A national testimony will be presented to this gallant young seaman, and he well deserves this substantial recognition of his merits at the hands of the greatest seagoing people in the world.—Toronto Globe's London correspondent.

USEFUL HINTS.

Castor oil is an excellent thing to soften leather.

Benzine and common clay will clean marble.

If you are buying carpets for durability choose small figures.

If your flat irons are rough rub them with fine salt, and it will make them smooth.

Wood ashes and common salt made compact with water, will stop the cracks of a stove, and prevent smoke from escaping.

The clean a browned procelain kettle, boil peeled potatoes in it. The procelain will be rendered nearly as white as when new.

A strong solution of carbolic acid and water, poured into holes, kills all the ants it touches, and the survivors immediately take themselves off.

A small piece of paper or linen, moistened with spirits of turpentine and put into a bureau or wardrobe for a single day, two or three times, is said to be sufficient preservation against moths.

To ascertain whether a bed is damp or not, after the bed is warmed, put a glass globe in between the sheets, and if the bed be damp, in a few minutes drops of wet will appear on the inside of the glass.

Iron in the Blood.—When the blood is supplied with its iron element, we feel vigorous and full of animation. It is an insufficiency of this vitiel element that makes us feel weak and low-spirited; in such cases, the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) can supply this deficiency, and its use will invigorat us wonderfully.

Moths in Carpets.—Moths will work in carpets in rooms that are kept warm in the winter as well as in the summer. A sure method of removing the pests is to pour strong alum water on the floor to the distance of half a yard around the edges before laying the carpets. Then once or twice during the season sprinkle dry salt over the carpet before sweeping. Insects do not like salt, and sufficient adheres to the carpet to prevent their alighting upon it.

A Bronze of "Stonewall" Jackson has arrived from England, and is to be erected in Richmond.

The State Republican platform in New York is to be "hard money," and no separate school system.

A seventy-five thousand dollar fire has taken place at Arnprior, a steam saw-mill having been burned down.

Rates for cable telegrams will it is stated by a London despatch, be reduced to one shilling sterling per word after the 15th of this month.

VINEGAR BITTERS

TEETOTALLERS PRAISE IT. PURELY VEGETABLE. FREE FROM ALCOHOL. DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

VINEGAR BITTERS

GRATEFUL THOUSANDS proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In those, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

(Near Mr. Toole's Factory.)

This is to certify that I have seen Messrs. J. A. Delaney & Sons' "Empire." I have one of the same mills which I have thoroughly tested, and have no hesitation in recommending it to Farmers as the best Fanning Mill for separating or cleaning grain either for seed, market, or mill, (of which I have any knowledge), and believe grain cleaned with this Mill will bring a higher price in market than that done by any other mills now in use. The Separating Valve supplies a want long felt by Farmers, and is a most desirable improvement, and with the additional arrangement for Grass Seed, it is decidedly ahead of any other mill known to me.

THOMPSON & SUN,

PHOTOGRAPHERS,

We have just started in our new and beautiful Studio. The public will find although Thompson has been switched off the track that he is once more on the main line with a full head of steam. The name of the first locomotive is "Enterprise." Thompson has started brimful of enthusiasm to make this establishment with all that belongs to this beautiful art second to nothing on this Continent.

OUR INSTRUMENTS

Are made by J. H. Dahlmeyer, London, England, the Gold Medal maker of the world. We have no fear of the cultivated taste of Peterborough and the surrounding country when they see an establishment like this grow up in their midst but that the general exclamation will be, "Well done Thompson!"

PHOTOGRAPHS

Will be taken in the very latest style and very finely retouched Old pictures nicely copied and enlarged. Ambrotypes, Perotypes, Locket and Ring Pictures taken as they should be. A good Ambrotype is a beautiful picture, quickly taken, soon finished, you see what you get, pay your money and get the change, and all parties are pleased. We have made arrangements with a

FIRST CLASS COLORIST

To have Portraits finished in Oil, Indian Ink, Water Colors, &c., from Miniature to Life Size. Full satisfaction guaranteed or no charge.

WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO?

We are going to furnish Frames of every description, Square and Oval Gold, Gilt, Rose and Gilt, Walnut &c., of the latest design and pattern that Toronto, Rochester and New York can furnish. Parties requiring large lots of Frames will do well to give us a call. We will be able to beat do anything we have ever done in British Plate Mirrors in Gold, Gilt or Walnut Frames. The public will find that they will get the very best goods at the lowest price. Our motto will be to buy for Cash and sell for ditto.

N.B.—Be sure and get on the right track. Entrance on George street, directly between A. Cox's boot and shoe store and S. Hyman's fur store, 2 doors north of our old stand.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is more universally required by everybody for a cathartic, as almost any body at some season of the year. It is the best and safest purgative in every country, and among all classes, as this mild but efficient, purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continually taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and invigorating effect on the digestive apparatus.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything been so widely and unanimously spoken of by the people, as this remedy for pulmonary complaints. During a long series of years, and among most of the diseased men it has ever been our lot to know, it has uniformly shown the same character and power over those terrible affections of the lungs and throat, that have made them the most fatal and painful to mankind. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most speedy and effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as and are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases, after the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the lungs and throat, that the most obstinate of these yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, then the Cherry Pectoral they submit and recover.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

We generally are ill ourselves, or have friends who are, and we need not publish the certificates of thousands, or do more than assure the public that it continues to be maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and [illegible] fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no case leaves an injurious effect. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified in the unbounded agreements we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaint, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all the world.

HIDDEN SORROW.

Oh! many a sorrow's hidden,
And many a worry heart,
And many a smile is hidden,
When tears would rather start.

And many a word is spoken
That comes but light and gay,
While hearts within are broken,
With griefs they may not say.

There's many a secret weeping,
And many a hollow smile,
And many a wail of keeping
Of sorrows all the while.

Full oft a laugh conceideth
A sigh, with merry show;
And oft a bosom feeleth
A sadness none may know.

And often velvet covers
The heart with grief oppressed
And wintry wind discovers
Through rags a happier breast.

In mercy 'tis denied us
To view our brother's woe;
And mercy bids us
We neither see nor know.

SILAS HIVING BEES.

HOW HE EXPECTED TO DO IT, AND HOW HE DIDN'T.

The old gentleman's name is Silas, and that of his eldest son is George his wife's name is Matilda, and his three good looking daughter's are named Hattie, Alice and Flora; there is a little Silas, too, and an older boy, whose name is too queer too mention.

The bees had alighted in a great bunch, as large as a half bushel measure, on the limb of a peach tree in the yard. You all know how it is done. A table is placed under the overhanging limb, spread with a clean white cloth, and the hive placed thereon.

Then one of the boys, one that is good for nothing else, is sent into the tree with a saw to sever the limbs; the limb comes down slowly and easily, and the old gent below, dressed in a great coat, buckskin gloves, cowhide boots, and a bedquilt tied around his neck and face, slyly manipulated a twig from the tree, and in two minutes has safely coaxed every bee to enter the hive, during all of which time Matilda and Hattie and Alice and Flora pound the bottoms out of just four tin pans, little Silas does his prettiest yelling, while the boy with the queer name is just old enough and sharp enough to slip behind the house and wait for the thing to come to a point. That is the way it ought to have gone off, but that isn't the way it did. Silas, the elder, was very comfortably bundled up for so warm a day, and he had his suit well arranged, only he forgot to tie strings around the bottoms of his pant legs.

The bees had settled on the limb of a peach tree, and Silas, when his table and white cloth and hive were already commanded:

"Now, George, grab that old rusty saw and climb; I guess you can cut that small limb off easy enough."

George was just home from a six months term at school, and he felt a great tenderness for his father and would have gone through a patch of thistles barefoot to please the old gent and yet he had a particular dread for "business end" of a bee, and particularly of such a crowd of them. But he obeyed, and began to fiddle away cautiously upon the particular limb. One little bunch of bees dropped off and were caged; another and another small bunch dropped, and the prospect seemed good, when suddenly an old honey-maker, who had been in the business before, soared upward. George shut up one eye quick, gave one terrific surge on the old rusty saw, and got out of that tree at one jump, his anxious mothercaught one glimpse of him as he flew around the corner of the barn, twenty rods away.

But poor old Silas! The bees came down, and he thought the bunch was as big as hay stack now. They did not go into the hive, but they went through his overcoat and bedquilt as if they had been only mosquito bars, and they climed up the inside of his pant legs, and the old gent danced as he had never danced before; and he slapped his legs, as he had never allowed any one else to slap them, and his voice towered high above the clatter of tin pans, and the shrieks of little Silas as he yelled:

"Throw water on me! Throw water on me! Soak me! Wet me down!"

Silas, the elder, rolled three or four times over in the grass, and sprang up shouting, "Slap me! slap me! Can't you slap me?" in the midst of which little Silas crept up behind his infuriated papa and dealt him a lively one with a shingle; but poor little Silas landed the next second against the milk-house, for his pa took him and his shingle for a thousand bees, and gently brushed them off.

O, the agony of that three minutes' jig! He appealed to his wife.

"Matilda, for heaven's sake, bring me another pair of pants, won't you?"

But these things don't last always, any more than other happiness, and after a few minutes the old gent came limping out of the cellar with the pants that Matilda brought him, feeling much easier, but certainly much fatigued, just as George back from the barn. and the boy with the queer name slipped around the corner of the house. Both boys were very anxious to know how matters stood and asked.

"Did you get 'em hived, pa?"

But the old man was too mad to answer or even look at his boys. He turned to little Silas. and said:

"Little one, you meant all right, and I'm right sorry I cuffed you so hard."

Then to his wife, "Matilda, to you I owe everything. Accept my heartfelt gratitude. We'll take no more stock in bees. I've made up my mind, and it's settled. May our gay and peaceful never be so stirred up again. Seems to me I never had so much life crowded into a few short minutes before. Run after the cows, now boys; be off, for it's late.—Toledo Blade.

"THE CAMPAIGN."

BY M. QUAD.

I think the campaign has opened. I am no politician myself, but I think so because a drunken man ran against me last night, and yelled:

"Rah for Thompson!"

And he had scarcely straightened out of sight when another intoxicated individual came running toward the corner and hoarsely inquired:

"Where's the reptile that called our candidate a horse thief?"

Later in the evening several gentlemen halted in front of our house and thus addressed me as I slumbered:

"Come down here, you old gray-headed heathen, and give us money to buy powder!"

I didn't go down, and these unhinged and carried off my gate and broke down two shade-trees.

As I said at the start, I don't keep myself posted on politics, but I am convinced that the campaign has opened; this is the way, if I remember rightly, that all campaigns have been opened for the last fifteen years.

This morning while I was selecting a roast at the butcher's a man with red eyes and wicked face came up, slapped me on the back, and as he twisted around so as to give me the full force of his tanyard breath he remarked:

"Gimme yer hand—less holler for Johnson!"

He seized my hand and shook me round and continued:

"I kin lick any human being who says a word agin Johnson!"

"Who's Johnson?" I asked, for I really did not remember of hearing or reading of him.

"Who's Johnson?" he echoed, gazing at me in astonishment and indignation, "why, he's lived in your own ward for ten years!"

"I never met him."

"Never did! Why he keeps the biggest and best saloon in the ward!"

"Ah!"

He looked at me for a moment in a puzzled way, not understanding what "ah!" meant, and then he pulled off his coat and exclaimed:

"See here, maybe you are going to cut Johnson and vote for Spicer?"

"Maybe I am."

"You are, eh?" he yelled, "You are going to cut Johnson off the reg'lar ticket and vote for that long-haired Spicer?"

A policeman took the man away just as he was preparing to demonstrate the freedom of the ballot box, and I got my roast and went into the grocery. Old Mr. Lovejoy and old Mr. Arnold happened in at the same time. I knew that they differed in politics but also knew that both were good men, and had been friends for twenty years.

"Going to be a hot campaign, I guess," remarked Mr. Arnold, as he hunted for a match to light his pipe.

"Oh, I dunno," replied Mr. Lovejoy, "I think we'll scoop von high and dry without much effort."

"You will, eh? I'll wager that you are the sickest-looking man in the country before snow flies."

"Guess not," said Mr. Lovejoy in a nettled tone; "the people are tired of being robbed and plundered and burdened and roasted at the stake, as it were, and they are rising in their might to hurl the villainous party from power."

"What party do you refer to, sir?" demanded Mr. Arnold.

"Yours, sir," replied Mr. Lovejoy.

"Then, sir, you are a dotard and a liar!" shouted Mr. Arnold.

"And I'll knock you down!" cried Mr. Lovejoy; and they struck and kicked, and fell over a barrel, and were separated only to vow eternal enmity.

From now until the campaign is over I shall see such things every day. As I come up home men will demand money of me to drink the health of this or that candidate, men will seize me and rush me into a saloon, and oblige me to swallow some villanous drink to show that I favor their candidate; men will throw brick bats at me if I come up a back street to avoid them. If I ride on a street car I shall hear men abuse and malign every candidate on my party ticket; if I ride in the omnibus I shall hear men relate villanous lies about every candidate on the other ticket.

The chances are that my butcher and grocer and tailor will fall out with me because I refuse to hurrah for their candidates, or because I can't see that Mr. Saunders is a liar, hypocrite, horse-thief, burglar, jail-breaker, while Morton has to wear an overcoat to hide his angelic wings.

During the day I shall hear all these things down town, and when I come home to rest, and just as I am enjoying my first nap, some one will ring my bell and want to know if I am on this or that ward or city committee. In less than half an hour some one voting the other ticket will heave a rock against the door from across the street to remind me of the error of my ways. At midnight parties will come along and hurrah for some one, and at daylight the man who has been "laying wires" all night will wink at me as he goes along home. If I take any part in this campaign I must fold tickets and lay plans on Sundays, remain up the most of every night, drink with every man who asks me, treat every loafer encountered, lie about

THE RESULT.

Most of our readers by this time, have learned the result of the campaign, namely the re-election of Dr. O'Sullivan by a very large majority. This was expected most people who are acquainted with the sympathy likely to be aroused in favor of a defeated candidate, but the majority is somewhat larger than anticipated, by even the most sanguine friends of the Doctor.

The figures are as follows; from the official report.

	Hogan	O'Sullivan	Sargent	Rej
Ashburnham No. 1	15	68	4	1
do No. 2	15	34	4	2
Asphodel 1	19	87	22	1

Total	365	722	340	30
Majority for O'Sullivan over Hogan				357
Majority for O'Sullivan over Sargent				380
Majority over them both				17

This will be sounded over the country as a great and glorious victory —Conservative re-action—the days of the Mowat Government numbered — and many other such wild expressions of joyous frenzy, but, a close consideration of the figures and facts, will tend to a subsidence of such exulting manifestations.

The vote in January last was :

	O'Sullivan	Stratton	Rej B.
Ashburnham No. 1	52	22	1
do 2	41	32	0
Asphodel 1	77	37	8

Majority for O'Sullivan, 62 ; with 47 spoiled ballots,

By comparing figures it will be seen that the Doctor polled less votes, viz.

	decrease	increase
Ashburnham,	1

Belmont	11
Burleigh	1
Douro	0	8
Dummer	11
Otonabee		4
Total	47	12

or a decrease of 35 votes.

This falling off, too, took place where conservatives are believed to be in the preponderance, as for instance Asphodel and Belmont.

There is another feature in this vote worth looking at. All the Catholic electors voted for the Doctor. A careful analysis of the vote proves that in Ashburnham Mr. Hogan only poled one Catholic vote, as nearly as can be computed ; in Otonabee, not one ; in Asphodel, perhaps not two ; in Burleigh one ; in Dummer, not one ; in Belmont 2 ; in Douro about 35, in all about 40 votes. All who voted for him less, about 40, must have been protestant reformers. That is 365 less 40, or 325 protestant voted for Mr. Hogan.

The Doctor got all the Catholic vote in the Riding as may be proved by the closeness of the vote polled in Divisions where that class of electors abound : namely in Douro 165 ; in Dummer 23 ; in Burleigh over 20 ; in Otonabee 125, at least ; in Asphodel 130 ; Ashburnham 23 ; Belmont 2 ; making a total of Catholic votes polled for the Doctor of 490 at least. Leaving 722 less 490, or 232 protestants who voted for him; and these figures will be found correct.

A great noise will be made about conservative reaction on account of this vote, but it will be based upon uncertain foundation. The Doctor has now polled 35 votes less than he polled in January. The greater part of Mr. Sargent's vote consists of disaffected conservatives, who are just as likely to remain independent or vote for a Reform Candidate, as they are to return to the conservative ranks. A large number of reformers did not vote this time, they felt agrieved on account of the course Mr. Hogan was believed to have pursued in opposing Mr. Stratton, and they could not vote for Mr. Sargent as they knew his conservative leaning; those men are still good and true, and will be found in their places in another contest. And many, very many, Conservatives, such as those who brought out Mr. Sargent, never will fall into line under Carnegie, O'Sullivan, & Co., we have this from many of the best conservatives in East Peterboro, so that there is no great cause for rejoicing yet. A contest next year when the Doctor resigns for Mr. Carnegie, will tell the tale.

A lesson of great importance may be learned from this contest : viz. that the electors will go just so far and no farther, and leaders would do well to remember it. It is felt that both parties in the West are foisting candidates on the East Riding, and the East is determined to resist it.

The hue and cry will next be raised that reform protestants are bigots ; they will not vote for Catholics Let all such remember that Mr. Hogan received 323 protestant votes, while Doctor O'Sullivan only received 232. Let them look at this : The Doctor polled 230 protestant votes. Mr. Hogan polled 323. Had the Catholic vote divided, Mr. Hogan would have had 365+245—or 610 votes, while the Doctor would have had only 477, leaving Mr. Hogan a majority of 133. Hence, Mr. Hogan may blame his own co-religionists for his defeat, not protestant reformers.

MR. SARGENT'S CANDIDATURE

The three angled duel in the east is now over, and not, we trust, without its lessons. The friends of Mr. Sargent who forced or induced him to take the field must now see the folly of the part they acted. He was brought out by Conservatives who could not and would not vote for Mr. Stratton, because a Grit, although an Orangeman; and yet those Conservatives would not and did not vote for a Catholic. By their action, they have shown their own weakness, while they have aided in electing the very man they would not support in the January election.

Mr. Sargent is a gentleman whom we respect, and believe to be honest and honorable, but he should have had more discretion than allow himself to be a candidate under the most hopeless circumstances. It was not our part, as a reformer, to interfere with the action of discontented conservatives in bringing him out; nor was it our part, when he was out, to abuse him; but it was our duty, and we discharged it, to advise him to avoid the evil and danger of defeat which stared him in the face. When men are committed is not the time to seek their assistance and votes. Our enemies, regardless of truth, are seeking to circulate the idea that the Editor of the EXAMINER secretly connived at his candidature. Now, we feel certain that Mr. Sargent will not hesitate to declare the falseness of such a report; on the contrary, we did our best to prevent it. It is now evident to Mr. Sargent and his friends that our remarks in the first issue after the nomination, were correct. We do not wish to add a word that would be likely to increase the annoyance of a defeat; but more consideration in future may retrieve the loss sustained through want of good advice in time. Mr. Sargent succeeded in adding a few reform votes to his conservative following, not enough to elect Mr. Hogan, but enough to show his weakness, and to show Mr. Sargent also, that while we could not support him, we could afford to give him good advice.

SCRATCH MY BACK AND I'LL SCRATCH YOURS.

Mr. McQuade, of Omemee, spent a day or two in East Peterborough and vicinity, assisting Dr. O'Sullivan, what little he could. It was little he could do, except to revile the grits in secret; yes, and belie them. At Mr. Sargent's meeting in Ashburnham he was present, and did his little work even against Mr. Sargent, with a fling at the grits. He verily believed that the grits raised all the reports about Dr. O'Sullivan's Orange promise. This was cruel on Vanlugen, of Keene, cruel to call him a grit, as he first gave currency to the Doctor's promise. Well, the grits don't want Van amongst them. They went good and true men, who are prepared to stand or fall by principles of truth and honor.

Mr. McQuade did a little down East ward. He whispered the password into the ears of a few of the faithful. It is not said that he gave the Doctor the password, but he took him close to his bosom, patted his pretty head, spoke words of cheer, and perhaps had a toast for his Queen and country. It is true Mr. McQuade made no speeches, that is, of any great length, but then a word to weak-kneed brethren would be an equivalent for the Doctor's abuse of the EXAMINER round Downyville. It is not said that Mr. McQuade promised to elect his new convert to be next master of some Omemee Lodge. He is on probation for a while yet, Mr. McQuade being his sponsor.

Mr. McQuade had a slender young man with him who now and then spoke up in the confusion caused by the Doctor's friends. It was difficult to understand whether said young man spoke English or not. It is said down here, that he should speak that word fluently. Be this as it may, if the Conservative cause in Omemee hangs on the efforts of Mr. McQuade and his side-de-camp, it hangs on a slender thread indeed. Mr. McQuade's genial face is welcome at any time, except on St. Patrick's day, but politics is out of his line. He should leave that to the Doctor and other adepts The slender, sickly, pale-faced young man, he should leave at home, till he learns that common sense is a necessary commodity in a person, who comes from a distance to assist a candidate.

AN ELECTION "DODGER."

During the East Riding campaign a fly sheet was put in circulation largely by conservatives, although we will not say they got it up, as we are not able to fix its paternity. It was not calculated to do any good to the reform party, and hence we can safely affirm, was not used by them. All attempts to import into present campaigns the dead issues of nearly a century ago, should be discountenanced. While the doings of men and parties in our time are fit subjects for criticism. This sheet signed "King William" was freely circulated by H. H. Smith, and other liberal conservatives, and used to bias Roman Catholics against reformers, as they represented it as the work of reformers. A good square honest contest, is all right, even if defeated ; but all this misrepresentation of opponents should be done away with. A temporary advantage secured by such means generally recoils on the propagaters. There is evil enough in the present, to combat, without going back a century for it. The falsehood too in reference to Mr. Sargent's Candidature may have served present purposes, but in a year may tell a different tale; we say in a year, for we have good authority for stating that there is a secret understanding that the Doctor is to resign after the first Session, and that Mr. Carnegie is to try his fortune in the East. A year soon slips around and then we shall see.

"The best laid plans of men and mice,
Gang aft agee,"

So might these. Who can tell what a year may bring forth. Since writing the above we have been assured that the fly-sheet was the work of a Conservative.

HURON & QUEBEC RAILWAY.

The By-law granting a bonus of $150,000 to the Huron and Quebec Railway, was voted for on Tuesday, and carried without the name of opposition.

THE VOTE STOOD.

Ward No. 1	57	5

Majority for By-law 197

It will thus be seen that the greatest unanimity prevailed in reference to the by-law. Peterborough wants the road, and has offered a liberal bonus to secure it. It is true this vote does not ensure the road, but it does prove that Peterborough will not be a stumbling block in the way of its progress. Mr. Fowler has labored long and earnestly to the end that Peterborough might have better railway communication, and this vote will encourage renewed efforts on his part.

The County by-law will be submitted on the 26th of October, when the people of the county will have an opportunity of saying what they will do. We do not fear the verdict. The Huron and Quebec Railway would be the very road to build up this county, as well as the town. The prosperity of the one is closely linked with the other, so closely that one cannot be benefited without benefiting the other. Some people think the county bonus is too large, but they should remember what advantages they have received from railroads built by the town in part, to which the county gave not a cent. The fact too that the burden, if any, will fall on those who are to come after us, who will have to pay the greater part of the money, as they too will reap the profits, should induce a favorable vote.

STREET ROWS IN TORONTO ON SUNDAY.

Roman Catholics on Sunday performed a showy procession through the streets of Toronto, which they called a pilgrimage from church to church, performing at each what is known as stations among them. This was a harmless enough way of spending the Sabbath, and certainly was preferable to loitering round street corners or frequenting taverns. Crowds of persons were on the streets to witness the grand parade. Some unlucky old vixens took it into their heads to throw some missils at an inoffensive looker on. This aroused the ire of the parties and they determined on a row and collecting others made several efforts to break up the procession, which would have been accomplished, had not the police been present in force and prevented it. The police received some contusions in the skirmish, and no doubt others have been hurt but no lives lost. All those faction fights tend to embitter the passions and lead to renewed brawls and rowdyism, and this may be the result of the Toronto affair unless active measures be taken by those in authority.

THE EXHIBITION.

Yesterday was very wet and was rather adverse to the success of the show. The number of entries is large, 2,737 we understand. The number of entries in Dairy produce, grain and roots surpasses our expectations. There are numerous entries in horses, cattle and sheep. Cabinetware is well represented, and home manufactures generally. Of ladies work and fine arts there is an infinite variety. Fruit and vegetables are also very well represented We will give full details in next issue.

THAT PROMISE.

We have received another letter from a gentleman whose veracity will not be doubted by any one, and it places Mr. A. J. Vanlugen in a very unenviable plight. We expect a few more which we will publish in due time. We will show the creature in his true light before long.

BROCKVILLE.—About one o'clock on Saturday, a man named James Dana, of Ogdensburg, aged about sixty-five years, shot himself in the head, the ball entering the right temple and passing across the upper portion of the brain about five inches, where it is imbedded. The man is still alive but no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

A MAN by the name of James Dana of Ogensburg shot himself in the head on Saturday last, in Brockville, the ball entering the right temple, and passing along the upper portion of the brain about five inches where it is imbedded. The man is still, alive but no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

In the second class yacht race, the "Ocean-Wave," of Brighton, took the first prise, and the third prize was also won by a Canadian Boat, the "Stranger." The Canadian Yatchs, bore off the main bows in both classes. Canadians have reason to be satisfied with their representatives who were present.

LAST WORD.—Dr. Ryerson and Goldwin Smith are playing a little game known among children as last word, each one is determining to have the last word. It is about time that men occupying their positions, should set an example of moderation in their abuse of each other. If their personalities please them, they do not receive the approbation of the people generally. They must be a little childish in their old age, and certainly have a fondness for appearing in print. Calling names is a mild term for the way the two pitch in.

LYNCH LAW.—Ohio has been the scene of one of those out bursts of passion which ends in Lynch Law. A man named Schell and his wife and a young woman, went in Company to gather berries. The man and girl were separated for a time, when he returned stating that he had killed the girl. Search was made and the body found, and evident marks of a violent struggle before death. His wife has given evidence that she and her husband had laid a plot to seduce the girl, and for the purpose had gone to the wood. Schell was taken and a bloody knife found in his possession. So intense was the popular feeling of the neighborhood, that the people gathered in large crowds, took him from the jail and hanged him instantly. It is certainly stern justice but can hardly be considered the right way to punish crime, as it is hinted, that the woman may be the murderer, and that jealousy was the cause.

TORONTO is fast becoming notorious as the seat of rowdyism and murder. It is but a few weeks since the case of Jeannie Gilmour occurred. Last week, Mr. Burke, an unoffending citizen was murdered by drunken rowdies. On Sabbath last, the city was thrown into confusion over street fights, and rows about a Catholic procession, and again on Monday night, a young man while on his way home, is met by two rowdies and stabbed, it is supposed fatally. Is the chief city of Ontario to become a den of wild beasts, or a nest of serpents ? The authorities should take more active measures to protect the lives of the citizens, or people will avoid the city as invested with murderers and ruffians. It is true that cities are the general resorts of the off-scourings of the country and Toronto, but this must not prevent proper steps being taken to watch such characters,

Mr. Mowat, in his speech at the inauguration of the new Normal School at Ottawa on Wednesday, said it was extremely likely that the office of Minister of Education would be created, and that Hon. Mr. Crooks would be its first occupant. Rev. Dr. Ryerson, returning to the matter, concluded his speech by saying that "for two years past he had urged by conversations and letters that Mr. Crooks should undertake the duty of looking after the education of the Province. Scholar, Canadian, and philanthropist as he was, he believed there was no one in Upper Canada available for the position who was so well adapted to accomplish the work of education as the present Provincial Treasurer. He wished him God speed, and hoped the country would sustain him in his work."

TREATING THE WRONG DISEASE.

Many times women call upon their family physicians, one with dyspepsia, another with trouble of the heart, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and to their easy-going and indifferent doctors, separate and distinct diseases. Assuming them to be such, he prescribes his pills and potions ; when, in reality, all these symptoms are caused by some uterine disorder. While they are thus only able perhaps to palliate the disease for a time, they are ignorant of the cause, and encourage their practice until large bills are made, when the suffering patients are no better in the end, but probably worse for the delay in treatment, and complications made, and which a proper medicine, directed to the cause, would have entirely removed, thereby instituting health and comfort instead of prolonged misery. From Miss Lorinda E. St. Clair, Shade, Athens Co., O., Oct. 14th, 1872 : "Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.—Your Favorite Prescription is working almost like a miracle on me I am better already than I have been for two years." From Ella A. Shafer, Zanesville, Ind., Aug. 3. 1872 : "Dr. Pierce.—I received the medicine you sent me, and began using it immediately. As a result of the treatment, I feel better than I have for three years." From Mrs. John K. Hamlin, Odell, Ill., Mar. 19, 1872 : "Dr. Pierce,—The Favorite Prescription has done me good, which I am very thankful for." Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sold by Druggists.

Petitions have been circulated in Winnipeg asking the council to refuse to renew any saloon licenses next year.

The council of the united townships of Springfield and Cranbrook has passed a by law imposing a heavy fine and imprisonment on any one found shooting or hunting in that municipality on Sundays. Sunday sportsmen must go in some other direction now.

The Winnipeg Standard of the 11th says:—Cordwood was cheaper than ever before in the city, two large lots having been sold that week at $2.75 and $3 per cord, delivered on the river bank. Wild plums sold on the streets at 12 to 15 cents per quart; cranberries, high bush, at 10 cents per quart; apples, small, 5 cents each; oranges 10 to 20 cents each; lemons 12 to 20 cents; cocoa nuts 20 to 30 cents. Green apples sold in the shops at 50 cents a dozen.

Wm. Dease, jr., was some time ago fined and committed to prison by Mr. F. T. Bradley, of West Lynn, for giving liquor to Indians. Dease thought his punishment too severe, and appealed against it. A lengthy argument was held before Chief Justice Wood, when all the facts of the case were reviewed; and the result was that the conviction was sustained. The law is very severe on this class of offenders and there is an evident disposition on the part of the authorities to give them the benefit yet they fall short of giving the full penalty in any case, which is a fine of $500 and two years imprisonment, and imprisonment until the fine and costs are paid.

OTONABEE.

The members of the Balsam Grove Independent Order of Good Templars, gave a Fruit Social in the Bethel Church, Otonabee, on Thursday evening last. The evening being fine, there was a large attendance, there being about 200 people present to witness and take part in the first social of the kind in Otonabee Addresses were delivered by Mr. E. E. Parrott Agent of the Grand Lodge of I. O. of G. T. Revs. J. P. Rose, Bible Christian Minister, Peterborough, and Mr. Joseph Paul, of Smith, in which they dwell on the evils of intemperance, and the necessity of a Prohibitory Liquor Law. Mr. D. D. Gallelly was present, and rendered some of his Scottish songs in his usual good style. Dawson Kennedy, Esq., occupied the chair in a very able manner. Everything passed off well, and all seemed satisfied with the entertainment.

BOWMANVILLE.

DEAD BODY FOUND.—Bowmanville, Sept. 25.—Coroner Christie held an inquest today on the body of a man found in the lake near Port Darlington by the steamer East. The following is a description of the remains as given by the constable at the inquest :—Five feet eight in height, dressed in regatta suit, small check pants, blue guernsey jacket, inner shirt flannel, with small check woolen cravat, blue stockings, gaiter boots with large nails, hair apparently red, clean shaved, at least no whiskers. There was in the pockets 1 $5 bill, two sovereigns, two trunk keys, a two bladed black-handled knife, and a small clasped pocketbook, and some small currency. There is no clue to indentification here.

A BURIAL DIFFICULTY REMEDIED

A correspondent suggests that Guibord be buried in a similar manner to that of an old man who died some time ago under the following circumstances :—

A French-Canadian old man lived with a Protestant family about 50 miles distant from Montreal. He was addicted to frequent spells of drunkenness which ended in delirium tremens, and finally in death, by being found with a rope round his neck suspended from a beam of wood in an outhouse. The cause of his death was kept very quiet, but it leaked out, and became known to the priest, who was asked to give him a christian burial. He having refused to allow him into consecrated ground, was informed that the remains would be interred in the Protestant Cemetery in the same neighborhood. The priest had no objection, but the friends of the old man had, and insisted that the remains of the unfortunate inebriate should be placed in the consecrated ground. To avoid further trouble about the matter the priest agreed to allow the remains to be carried over the fence, but not through the gate leading to the holy ground. To this all parties agreed, and thus ended the difficulty.

In proof of the foregoing facts, the names of the parties concerned are furnished, but not for publication. It is remarkable that a custom prevailed in Scotland, and may do so yet in some country parts, that when suicides were to be buried they were taken into the burying ground over the wall, not being allowed to be taken through the gates—a remnant probably of the ancient superstitions that tenaciously kept hold of the people long after they had ceased to be connected with the Church of Rome.—Montreal Witness.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

On Monday last a water spout at St. Ohian, France, destroyed fifty houses. Nine, corpses are recovered but sixty persons are missing.

In the terrible storm of Thursday night last the steam barge Mendota foundered off Point Betsy, Lake Michigan, and thirteen out of twenty of her passengers and crew were lost.

Last Monday two freight trains collided on the Grand Trunk line at New Hamburg. A car load of cattle was killed, several cars burned, the engineer killed and the fireman fatally injured. Negligence on the part of the engineer was the cause.

There were 516 applicants for a situation in Chicago in which the remuneration was promised was $6 per week. Among those who applied were clergymen, journalists, lawyers and book-keepers ; The moral is that the professions are over-crowded.

The statistics of 1870 show that Russia produced 460,000,000 bushels of wheat, France 286,800,000, and the United States the same, Russia exported one-eighth of her grain ; the United States one-fourth and France none. The United States grows also an enormous amount of corn, which the others do not. Another candidate for cereal honors comes forward, South Australia this year announcing that it has 300,000 tons of surplus wheat. 43,000 tons of which have already been exported, while the remainder is ready for shipment.

DROWNED.—A patch containing four young men capsized in the Bay, at Toronto on Sunday, 19th Sept., resulting in the four being drowned. Edward Bloomfield, 23, English ; Thomas Bate, 34, Irish, cabinet-makers ; Jas. Cooper, 31, salesman in Mr. Brownlee's dry goods store ; Otto Marx, 24, German, marble polisher. None of them had relatives in this country.

A MODEL LECTURER.

Toronto is the seat of some half-dozen colleges, and the Normal School is also situated there. In that noble pile Dr. Sangster once taught, and under its shade does the Council of Public Instruction still hold their meetings. What they do when they meet, Dr. Ryerson has undertaken to inform the world. The Toronto journals never tire telling us that Toronto is the capital of the leading province, and that Parliament and the Law Courts meet there, &c., &c. It ought also to be mentioned that Grip is published in Toronto. On the whole it is a great city, and "Square Toes" is its mayor. Quacks abound there, too, and are patronized by the "first families" we are told. One would think that a city so highly favored as Toronto would not need any public lecturers, and yet two courses are already arranged for the coming winter. And who do our readers suppose is to give the opening lecture in the Mechanics' Institute course? None other than Theodore Tilton! The managers of the Institute seem to have been afraid that Theodore might have an early engagement in Chicago or some other select city, and wishing to have him as soon as possible after the trial, he is engaged for an evening early next month. It would never do to allow the great scandal to cool down before he came. If people forgot about his Windsor expedition and his intercourse with "Vickey" they might not go to the lecture. What a noble example Toronto is setting to the rest of the Provinces! How proud we ought all to feel about the high moral tone of our "capital." What an elevating influence it must have on the youth and beauty of the city to gaze at Theodore's locks which Bessie Turner used to curl, and listen to the voice that was wont to charm the Woodhill! There is just one more step in degredation which the committee of the Mechanics' Institute can take—invite "Vickey" herself. She lectures.—Stratford Beacon.

Mr. Doutre and the Guibord Case.

Mr. Joseph Doutre, advocate for the friends of Guibord, has written an able letter in reply to Archbishop Lynch. He shows that, as a matter of fact, Guibord was never excommunicated according to the laws of the Church. Then "the Catholic members (if it is a controversy between Catholics) of the Institute Canadian never claimed the right to read disapproved book. They claimed the right of being members of a literary society which might have condemned books in its library." As Mr Doutre says, if they were wrong, no Catholic could become a member of Parliament, because the library of Parliament contains books condemned at Rome. Mr. Doutre further shows that since its opening, half a dozen members of the Institute Canadien have been buried with ecclesiastical honors—one of them a Free Mason—a fact which makes a strong presumption in favor of the friends of Guibord, and against those who without just cause have sought to cover his dust with unmerited obloquy. There can be only one answer to the broader questions lying at the base of the embroglio—whether any denomination in this country can be allowed to put civil law under its feet, and whether it is possible in this day and country for ecclesiastics to coerce the laity into, or out of, the perusal of this book.—London Advertiser.

The Toronto correspondent of yesterday's London Free Press gives the following as by far the more probable of the contemplated changes : The following judicial changes are given on reliable authority : Chief Justice Richards and Mr. Justice Strong go to the Supreme Court; Chief Justice Hagarty takes the former's place and Mr. Thomas Moss the latter's; and Mr. R. A. Harrison takes the Chief Justiceship of the Common Pleas. It is also said that Chief Justice Draper is to retire, and that Chancellor Sprague is to have his place; that Sir J. B. Blake is to be made Chancellor, and Mr. Maclennan, Vice-Chancellor. Mr. Christopher Robinson's name is also mentioned in connection with new appointments.

The petition against the return of Sir John A. Macdonald was on Friday dismissed from the record of the court in which it was entered, subject to revival in another court. The ground upon which Sir John's counsel moved was an informality in the title of the petition, which should have read "In the Queen's Bench," instead of "In the Election Court," which no longer exists. The Judges held the title was bad, but extended to the petitioner the privilege to make it good. Thus the fact the petition stands and may be heard on its merits at Kingston in due time Singular to say, the petitioner is a veteran Tory.

CARD.

To the Editor of the Peterborough Examiner.

SIR—will you allow me space in your paper to return thanks to the free and Independent Electors of the East Riding of the County of Peterboro.

GENTLEMEN—I take this opportunity to return my best and sincere thanks for the liberal support you gave me in the present election. I had only nine days to solicit your support, and no gentlemen in a three year on my behalf, I had no agents or scrutineers, at any of the polling places. I left the work to your selves and I feel thankful for the support I received under the circumstances. It was a purely independent Protestant vote, and gentlemen, should you think my services of any value to you at any future period, I prove denote prolonging my days, you will find me at your services. I remain Gentlemen, your obedient Servant.

WM. SARGENT.

P. S.—The fly sheet which caused so much excitement, I neither wrote nor do I know who the writer is, but I think the author went back a little too far to be called modern history. W. S

TO THE ELECTORS
OF THE
West Riding
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH

GENTLEMEN :

On the 18th of January last, I was elected as your Representative to the Provincial Legislature. That election has been set aside in consequence of treating on polling day by persons over whom I had no control, and entirely without my knowledge or consent, I have therefore again to appeal to you for a renewed expression of your confidence.

The seat having been declared vacant some two months ago, it is but right, that I should explain to you that I have been prevented from soliciting your suffrages at an earlier day, in consequence of a most determined effort on the part of my opponents to personally disqualify me. In this they have signally failed. The full Court of Error and Appeal unanimously decided in my favor, and the question as to whether I shall be your representative or not, is again referred to the Electors of West Peterborough. I ask no higher or better tribunal, and will be fully satisfied to accept your verdict.

My confidence in the Mowat administration remains quite the same as when I last solicited your support, and so long as they continue to evince the same prudence and economy in the management of our finances, and to adopt the same liberal and progressive policy in aid of our Railways, and other public improvements, that have characterized them in the past, I shall, if re-elected give them my cordial support.

Hoping before polling day to have the pleasure of personally visiting many of the Electors of the Riding, and bespeaking your very best efforts to again place me, by an increased majority, in the position so fairly won on the 18th of January last,

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
GEO. A. COX.

LOCAL ITEMS.

THE BRIDGE.—They are at work now, putting up the new Iron Bridge, it will be completed in about a week.

THE WEST RIDING.—It is expected that the election in the West Riding will come off soon, but we cannot say when, as we believe the writs have not been received yet.

THE TOWN COUNCIL.—The usual final efforts to obtain special favors from the Council, before their decease, was made on Monday evening. These attacks will be renewed again Let useful work be done and unnecessary work delayed.

$100 PRIZE.—All purchasers of Super Phosphate [illegible] Beerin[illegible] & Co., who int[illegible]o $100 prize wh[illegible] the best acre of Sw[illegible] the County of Peterbo[illegible] send their name and add[illegible] than Saturday the 9th of October, to John Carnegie, Esq., Sec. Agricultural Society, Co. Peterborough.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday afternoon while two children of Mr. F. E. Burnham's were crossing the street in front of the Commercial House, on their way home, a team came along at a rather fast rate, and knocked one of the children down, but fortunately did not injure it very much. It might have been a serious affair. There is a law concerning slow driving, but it is not much respected.

FIRE.—In last week's EXAMINER the burning of Mr. Chalmer's saw mill at Young's P[illegible], was recorded, without particular[illegible] appears that on the day previously there had been a large crowd around the place at a pic-nic. Some of these remained all night and were pretty jolly. About two o'clock in the morning some of them are said to have been in the mill lying round, but left for the purpose of getting on a "drunk" shortly after. The whole was on fire, from a match or something of that sort, it is thought. The loss is considerable, as it is said that $6,000 to $7,000 would hardly replace it. Mr. Chalmers had several orders to fill and had logs on hand for that purpose, he comes to double loss, as he cannot now complete them.

CHURCH OPENING.—The opening Services in connection with the Union Church, 7th concession of Douro, on the Boundary Line to Indian River, will take place on Sabbath, 10th October. The Rev. C. Carroll will preach at 10:30 a. m., and Rev. J. M. Rogers at 2:30 p. m. A collection will be taken up after each sermon, in aid of the building fund. A Social will be held on Monday, tea being served at 2 p.m. After tea addresses will be delivered by several Reverend gentlemen and others, who are expected to be present. Tickets 25 cts.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.—The Anniversary Services in connection with the Bible Christian Church, Peterboro, were held on Sunday last. The Rev. J. P. Rice conducted the morning service, and Mrs. Gordon that of the evening. The evening was very dark and wet, and therefore there was not such a large turn out as there otherwise would have been. Refreshments will be served to-day from 12 to 6 p m., admission 25 cents. As the proceeds are to be applied towards liquidating the church debt, friends and others should patronize them.

NIGHT WATCHMEN complain that in our last issue we did them an injustice, and state that our information was incorrect. All that we can say in the matter is that our informant told us, and we believed him. We would very unwillingly do them an injustice, and for their own sakes, hope the information was not correct. Out of this arises another little affair, which may be worth noting, viz: that they, while on duty, told the license Inspector of the existence of open taverns until 4 o'clock on several mornings, and that his answer was, "it is Election times." Is it true that our license inspector is willing to wink at violations of the law, during elections. If he is we had better know it and then we will be prepared for it. They also inform us that they told him of four young men coming out of a tavern on Sunday evening drunk, and that of this he took no notice It is strange that our license inspector is ready to overlook those things. Would his answer be in this case "it is election times." surely the election excitements are no excuse for dereliction of duty on his part, any more than on the part of night watchmen.

THE BAND COMPETITION.

To the Editor of the Peterboro Examiner.

SIR,—You will confer a favor by allowing me through the columns of your paper to draw the attention of the President and other officers of the Peterboro Central Exhibition to a matter that I as well as a great many others consider to be a great injustice if allowed, viz:—

Three bands are entered for the prize, one of them I know to be regularly organised, as they are all members of the Peterboro Fire Brigade and were formed into a Band by the Brigade; another is belonging to Lindsay, and is, I believe, regularly organised, and are the Lindsay men and likewise are the Volunteer Band of the 45th Battalion; the third Band is composed of the best musical talent to be found in this part of the country, some of them are members of the 46th Band, Port Hope, and are professionals, being paid for their services every time they come here to play, and without whom this Band cannot turn out to play, (as the recent Regatta fully demonstrated) Gentlemen, is it fair play, to allow this combination, who have entered themselves under the title of the Peterboro Philharmonic Band, (and are got together for the sole purpose of carrying off the Prize from legitimate Bands) to compete? If so, will you let a man having a good carriage horse in this town, go to Port Hope and hire or borrow a mate for him. then allow him to show them as a carriage team? There can be no objections to any regularly organized Band entering even now, if you choose, but we do object, to have a combination of paid players, from other towns, entering as a Peterboro Band, a fair field and no favor is all that is required by yours,

FAIR PLAY.

Peterboro, Sept. 28, 1875.

Masked Burglars in Aurora.

THREE OF THEM ENTER A FARMER'S HOUSE AND TAKE $5,000.

At about one o'clock on Monday Mr Samuel Witton's house, 3rd conc., Whitchurch, was entered by three men in disguise and robbed of $5,000, $1 000 of which was in silver, the balance in gold. They entered Mr. Witton's bedroom, and when he attempted to get up one of them presented a revolver at his head, ordering him to lay still and they would not injure him; the second guarded the staircase to prevent his two sons from coming, while the third proceeded into an adjoining room and got the money. No clue.—Uxbridge Guardian.

—ELECTRICITY—

THOMAS' ECLESIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes. "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

COMFORT.

Why so sorrowful, darling
Why so sorrowful Pray?
You are looking out for the clouds, dear,
And mending the storm half way.
What—... of fretting
Over the worries of life?
Haven't you got your babies?
And haven't you got your wife?

I am a stately salesman;
The babies do nothing but squall:
And it gives you trouble to feed, dear,
Bread and butter for all.
But what would you do without me?
Where would you like to roam,
If you hadn't your wife and babies,
To or other you have at home?

Don't we divide your sorrows?
Don't we double your joys?
What would you do with your money
Without the girls and boys?
I know that they tear their dresses,
And wear hole in their shoes;
I know we have had a panic,
And business has got the blues.

It's horrid to be a merchant,
And worse to be a clerk.
It was mean for the house to fail, dear,
And throw you out of work,
But times have always been hard, dear,
Since ever the world began;
And didn't you always grovel, dear,
Like every business man.

We've plenty to eat, my darling.
And clothes enough to wear;
They'll last till you get to work, dear,
And what more need we care?
Let us have done with worry,
And drive sad thoughts away;
There's no such thing as to-morrow—
When it comes it will be to-day.

Let me smooth out your forehead,
And kiss away that frown;
You know you have the prettiest babies
And the merriest wife in town.
Panics don't last for ever;
They end in a little while;
Plush up your courage, darling,
And take life with a smile.

THE ONTARIO FINANCES.

STATEMENT OF THE TREASURER AFTER CLOSE OF SESSION.

On Thursday of last week, Hon. Mr. Crooks, Treasurer of Ontario, made his financial statement, of which the following is a synopsis. It will be seen that the surplus is even larger than we anticipated the amount being no less than $5,766,-352 :—

Hon. Mr. Crooks, in commencing his budget speech, said he proposed to set forth a statement from various departments, by which Honorable gentlemen could understand the financial condition of the Province. This duty gave him the more pleasure as the Province had a very large balance to its credit, notwithstanding the large drain made upon the surplus by railway grants and disbursements to municipalities under the Municipal Loan Fund Act. The statement was based upon the departmental returns up to September 30th The assets were—Dominion 6 per cent. bonds, purchased June 5, 1868, $500,000; Dominion 6 per cent. stock, purchased Oct. 28, 1868, $330,000; Dominion stock, purchased March 2, 1869, $705,471; Dominion stock 5 per cent debentures, purchased January 19, 1871, $1,192,333; making a total of $2,747,805. In addition to this there was invested in deposit, at the rate of five per cent., a gross total of $1,593,348. This amount was distributed among ten banks, all the banks of the Province thus participating in an advantage derived from handling this surplus. There was also a balance of cash accounts to the credit of the Province of $185,670; municipal five per cent. debentures for drainage purchased up to January 1, 1874, $53,949; ditto up to 30th September, 1874, $35,499, making a total of $89,448; rent charges in municipalities for drainage works under Act 33, Vic., Cap. 2, completed, $77,287; uncompleted, $82,626; and under Act 36, Vic., Cap. 38, $50,370, making a total of $190,284; also municipal loan fund debt, at five per cent. sterling debentures, value, at 30th September, 1874, with balance of new debt, not including in debentures, $1,530,481; same on Niagara, $14,205; arrears of old debt for payment due in 1873, $39,121, making a total of $1,583,868. To this was to be added the special fund with the Dominion of Canada, consisting of the following items: Upper Canada Grammar School Fund, $312,769; Upper Canada Building Fund, $1,472,391; the Common School fund being for five-ninths of $1,645,644, $914,246, making a Province of Ontario and Quebec had to be settled, but as the other two funds no question could be raised. If the proportion laid down by arbitration of the amount to be paid by the Dominion be considered, the Province was entitled to five ninths of the whole Common School Fund or the sum of $914,246. In the financial statement of Mr. E. B. Wood, in 1869, '70 and '71, he calculated his surplus upon the basis of taking credit for these funds. The item of the proportion of the value of the library amounted to $105,541. He also took as an asset the increased market value of the Dominion securities. There was a value of $850,000; stock, $72,250; debentures of Canada, in excess of amount charged for purchase $70,541; debentures of Canada five per cent. $1,197,333; £400,000 sterling, at seven and a half premium, $2,092,668. This would give the assets which Ontario could realize, amounting to $9,462,486. The next question to be considered was the liabilities of the Province, which were calculated to the 30th of Sept.; there was a railway fund, balance unpaid, $1,100,572; railway subsidy fund, balance unpaid on hall yearly payments inclusive, to 30th of June, 1874, $514,500. There was also a surplus distributions, payments, namely, amount under revised schedules, $3,115,733; paid to September 30th, 1874, $724,673; still payable, $2,391,960, or a total liability of $3,605,133, showing a surplus of $5,756,352. Against this there may be other claims in future which have to be considered before we can rest content Among these there was the Common School Fund, say four-ninths to Quebec of $914,246, or the sum of $406,331. There were amounts to be paid semi-annually on account of the Railway subsidy fund of $1,750,000; payments to Counties under Jail Inspection Act, the sum not exceeding $60,000 in value of debentures, drainage debentures, balance to invest, $110,551; drainage works, balance to extend on security of municipal rent charges, $143,-795; or a total under this head of $254,-347. There was now a larger cash balance than in September 1871. On the 31st of December, 1873, the amount invested was $4,448,483; cash balance, $277,948; or a total of $4,726,431. On the 30th of Sept., 1874, the amount invested was $4,341,153, and cash balance, $185,670, or a total of $4,526,832, or a difference of $715,858. Mr. Crooks then went into a statement of the comparative receipts and expenditures in the different years from 1868 to 1874, tending to show an improvement in the accounts in favor the present Government, of the sum of $42,023 over that expended. There is still a portion of the year to be provided for, but except a saving of $200,-000 for the whole year, so that all that can be relied upon as under that application is the amount named. In the estimates for 1875 the total amount asked for the current expenditure is $17,808,594, and as compared with last year shows a slight difference. The comparison shows that half a million less is asked for than in 1874; the difference being chiefly upon the capital account. On that account for this year the new appropriations are :—On public work-, $14,830; on public buildings $24,500, or a total of a little less than $40-000. Then as to what can be relied upon as the income for 1875 :—There is interest on investments, say $3,000,000 at 5 per cent., $150,000; drainage debentures, $95,-000, at 5 per cent. $4,752; rent charges $6,872; total $161,623; Crown Land Department, $752,000; casual revenue, $15,-000; licenses, $200,000; Algoma taxes, $3,000; law stamps, $80,000; education, $51,100; public institutions, $30,000; Municipal Loan Fund, arrearges of old debt $30,000, making the sum of $1,184,722. To this must be added sums of money due from the Dominion, viz., subsidy by population 1861, $1,116,872; allowance for Government, $60,000; interest on trust funds, $83,258; interest for five months on common school fund, $48,438, making the probable receipts for 1875 amount to the sum of $2,578,291. The expenditure will probably be $2,200,000, leaving an excess of $300,000. It is believed that the sum would be further increased, as there was a revival of the lumber trade, and the Crown Land revenue will show an increase over what was estimated. The expenditure on Public Works and Buildings has been $2,445,256; and to this may be added for the current year, $466,000, making a total of $2,905,256. The excess of expenditure for 1873 over 1871 is for public buildings, $176,783; for education, $186,-847; asylum maintenance, $51,698; immigration, $129,466; colonization roads, $60,541; municipal fund, $45,881; total $601,206—showing a difference between the two years of $643,345. At the end of the year 1873 there was a surplus $5,525,-859; of that $4,394,534 had been invested There are special payments of $372,786 for railway funds in 1872 and $425,642 in 1873, the drainage debentures, $53,997, or a total of $852,377; leaving a cash balance of $277,948 on the 1st of January, 1874. There was no prospect of the tax-gatherer in the present generation. He held that the Government had acted wisely in their expenditures, and that while railway grants and municipal loan payments had been a heavy drain on the Treasury, they were wise ones He read a statement that the banking capital list of September was $1,619,725; there were 2,445 miles of railway completed in the Province. There were under construction 672 miles. Total cost of the railways completed since 1st July 1867, $26,292,709, which represented 1,100 miles of railway. The estimated expenditure of 1874 was $2,049,572, and the estimate of the amount required to complete railways now in course of construction would be $9,993,-621. He concluded by saying that the prosperity of the Province had been material, and the views of the Governor-General were true that, in every respect, in regard to institutions, in regard to those laws which had reference to the preservation to life and property, whose tendency was towards civilization and the general culture of the country, as well as the development of its national and material resources, Canada has for its future the greatest and most brilliant auguries. He concluded by saying that if the Government had not the confidence of the people if they had been willing, they had the power to put them ous office. Hon. Mr. Crooks sat down amid applause, after speaking for two hours and five minutes.

OUR ANCIENT POTTERIES.

While somewhat civilized, these ancient Hochelagians had not reached that stage when time, in a rigorous climate, could be spared from the struggle for existence, for the exercise of higher art; therefore, their manufactures were confined almost entirely to a few varieties of stone and bone instruments, and the clay pot, then the sole culinary utensil. The latter seem generally to have been moulded after the natural pattern, the gourd, which it superceeded * * In size, although varying considerably, the usual form stood about a foot in height, narrowing slightly at the neck, which was surmounted by a broad rim; the mouth measuring about five inches across. This rim, which varied in width from two to four inches, was always more or less highly ornamented, receiving greater attention in that direction than all other parts of the vessel. A perfect specimen may be seen in the Natural History Society's Museum, resting, almost hidden, on an upper shelf beside a Roman pot, which it closely resembles.

The material from which they were moulded, the Leda clay, underlying the Saxicava sand so extensively distributed over the Island of Montreal and surrounding district, is the same as that from which the bulk of our bricks and flower-pots are made, the latter much resembling the ancient vessels as regards appearance and finish. But the Indians, instead of mixing with the clay, the sand found so convenient, used pounded stone, thus rendering their vessels stronger and more durable, although from their coarseness not capable of receiving such a high finish. Almost any stone lying at hand was pressed or rather pounded into this service, some specimens containing small lumps of diorite and black crystals of pyroxene from the Mountain, white quartz and shining scales of mica from boulders, and even blunt fragments of our Montreal limestone.

When the clay was sufficiently knead- [illegible] was ready to be moulded, the process being almost the same as that poetically described by the Prophet Jeremiah, save that, as their inventions were not so far advanced, the potter's wheel was unknown to them. In its place they had a rounded stick, upon which the almost shapeless mass of clay was caused rapid'y to revolve, guided by a cunning hand, until it was made to assume the desired form. This process required some dexterity, and only after repeated failures and a long apprenticeship, so to speak, could the worker acquire the art of forming vessels symmetrically. The only other instrument necessary to the completion of these vessels was a pointed bone. So, after they had been placed for a few days on their mouths to dry, sheltered by skins from the dew and rain, when the pointed bone a series of lines, longitudinal, perpendicular or tranverse were drawn on the still soft clay, while rows of circles were impressed with the other end of the marker which was formed for that purpose. This was occasionally supplemented by impressions made by the point of the finger, showing even the marks left by the nails. Little did this ancient American dame think, when pursuing her ordinary avocation by impressing her finger on a piece of clay, it would become a fossil of her nation, and that in after years it would be studied by antiquaries of this nineteenth century, and the shape of her delicate finger be criticised by the daughters of the pale faces, now dwelling in the tents of Shem.

This ornamentation, consisting entirely of lines, circles and finger marks, seemed to tax the higher ingenuity of those ancient artists, who vied with each other in the beauty and novelty of design displayed on the rims of their respective pots; and it is surprising how varied are the patterns to be found among those broken fragments, hardly any two being exactly alike.

The next stage in the manufacture was that of baking,—one requiring great care: for the fire had to be properly regulated, and yet many a goodly vessel perished when receiving this finishing touch. A large oven was dug in the sand, the slightly hardened pots carefully placed therein, and fire laid over them, which was kept burning until they were brought to requisite hardness. The thrifty wives anxiously watched the process, lest the product of their skilled labor, when almost complete, should be rendered useless, and require a commencement anew. We have also specimens showing that the indolent and less skilful fashioned, with little effort, vessels in wicker baskets of the proper shape. The wicker being consumed in the flame while the vessel was being baked, left them perfect, although unsightly and without ornament.

Their fire places were slight depressions in the sand built up with a few stones. Over this the pot was suspended with a cord of sinews or hide. Instead of handles like ours on the outside, where the cord would be in constant danger of burning, when pot, dinner and all would be destroyed; they had their handles on the inside where the suspending cord was safe from the devouring flame. These handles were always more highly ornamented even than the rim, having usually a rude representation of the human figure, almost the only attempt they seem to have made at higher art. Here in this one point they seem to resemble Gothic architecture, their ornamentation being always subservient to some definite purpose.—From the New "Dominion Monthly" for October.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE — PERFECTLY FREE FROM ALCOHOL

R. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

Upwards of Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberand, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In those, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins: cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

IN FAVOUR OF

J. A. DELANEY & SONS'

"Empire" Fanning Mill,

WHICH THEY ARE NOW BUILDING

AT THEIR SHOP, ON AYLMER STREET, PETERBORO'.

(Near Mr. Toole's Factory.)

This is to certify that I have seen Messrs. J. A. Delaney & Sons' "Empire." I have one of the same mills which I have thoroughly tested, and have no hesitation in recommending it to Farmers as the best Fanning Mill for separating or cleaning grain either for seed, market, or mill, (of which I have any knowledge), and believe grain cleaned with this Mill will bring a higher price in market than that done by any other mills near to me. The Separating Valve supplies a want long felt by Farmers, and is a most desirable improvement, and with the additional arrangement for Grass Seed, it is decidedly ahead of any other mill known to me.

August 20th, 1875 (Signed) JOSHUA SMITHSON, Lot 15, Concession 12, Otonabee.

I have much pleasure in endorsing Mr. Smithson's statement in regard to Messrs. Delaney & Sons' Fanning Mill. (Signed) JOSEPH REDMOND,

We have one of the above-named Fanning Mills, and fully endorse the above statement of Mr. Smithson's.

Messrs. DELANEY AND SONS'.—Gentlemen, I have much pleasure in endorsing Mr. Smithson's statement in regard to your Mill. (signed) HENRY COLLINS,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor is every one willing to take it. We have, therefore, endeavored to adopted into one, as every moment, ascertained all diseases, as the most efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reasons, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cases are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him decidedly better, from their cleansing and [illegible] effect on the digestive apparatus.

Burnett's Extracts

The superiority of these Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the factitious fruit flavors now in the market. They are not only true to their name, but are prepared from fruits in such a concentrated form that a comparatively small quantity only need be used.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so wide a confidence upon the confidence of mankind, as has Cherry Pectoral as a remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the diseases of men it has more than maintained its original reputation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to control the various affections of the lungs and throat, have caused it to be known as a reliable protector against them. When adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for whooping-cough, croup, and the distressing affection of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote of fatigue.

Although settled Consumption is not to be cured, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely relieved, and the patient restored to sound health, by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the elements of the lung disease, that the most obstinate of them yield to it, when nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral their subtle and destructive.

Rangers and Public Speakers find in it protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often entirely cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we do not publish certificates of them here, but content ourselves with the assurance the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does it fully. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, or Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous drug, it is everywhere, if in reality it is known, a perfect cure. Its ague and fever cures of its cases in the sparcest records, are literally beyond account, and to be had without a parallel in the history of American medicines. Our pride is excited by the many testimonials we receive of the radical cures it effects in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had well failed. Pamphlets containing the certificates of cures in your locality, with directions for the treatment of the disease, are furnished gratis by agents. Be persuaded to try the AGUE CURE to-day.

For Liver Complaints, arising from Derangement of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into a healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders, and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing, in many cases, speedy and permanent cures, where other remedies had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all the world.

FIRST ANNUAL CENTRAL EXHIBITION

HELD AT PETERBOROUGH.

The Central Exhibition held last week was a fair success. The grounds were well prepared. Sheds for animals of the various classes were well arranged. And a central place for exhibition of horses—was fenced off, so that the crowds could be kept at a respectful distance. The needs of the sheds were not as comfortable as could have been desired. Visitors were not able to see the articles exhibited owing to lack of space, but we cannot see how the Committee could have done any better.

Wednesday was very unfavorable, rain spoiling the comfort of intending exhibitors, and perhaps, preventing some from filing their appearance. Several refreshment sheds were inside the grounds, and we are glad to be able to say that not a word has reached us of the sale, or use of intoxicating drinks having taken place during the show day—and reasonable good order prevailed in all the departments.

The Ladies Department was well patronised, and their excellent taste and beautiful work added very materially to the success of the Exhibition. The number of entries was very large, being nearly 500. And in the great excellence of skill and handiwork we fear to form any opinion, and prefer to allow the judges to decide between the competitors.

Mr. Workman showed some very nice portraits in oil, one of a lady in Ashburnham, was universally admired as an admirable life likeness. He had also a beauty in a storm, the beauty was well conceived, but the snow tail lost its effect in the too great regularity of the feathery particles, which were more mathematical than natural in there attempt to cover the pretty figure.

There were also several amateur performances of very fair design.

IN PHOTOGRAPHS

Messrs. Sproule and Little, were the only exhibitors, and we believe, it would be difficult to excel their work, either as to excellence of pictures or style of finish. Peterboro can boat of the best artists in this line, at least outside of the large cities, and perhaps, equal to some of the celebrities.

IN THE FURNITURE LINE.

Messrs. Tanner, Clegg, and Donnelly & McWilliams, exhibited some very nice articles, the carving and upholstering were very fine, and the whole would have done credit to the best manufacturers in the province.

IN IRON.

Mr. Wm. Hamilton, of Peterboro, had some very fine work in his line. A Lafelle water wheel, a large screw, some nice castings for school desks and seats, and other work neatly finished. Mr Helm had also a variety of work in his line that did credit to him.

IN POTTERY.

Mr. Westcott and Messrs. Baker & Davy showed excellent work, and Mr. Romaine exhibited White Bricks and Tiles from his new establishment.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, SEWING MACHINES, &c.

Were largely represented. Mr. Wm. Stevenson showing pianos and organs made to be of excellent quality, and nice style.

Mr. Brooks showed some very finely finished organs, made by the Uxbridge Company.

Mr. Trennum also exhibited Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines.

Messrs. Shortly & Hazlehurst had various machines.

And Mr. W. A. King also exhibited Sewing Machines.

Mr. S. Russell, exhibited a Knitting Machine by Frank & Pope, which did nice work in Knitting.

FURS.

Mr. Lech had a large case of home-made furs of Canada Mink, Russian Lamb, Persian Lamb, Southsea Seal, Martin, and Robe, and Fancy Robes, altogether very fine and not to be surpassed in the Dominion.

LEATHER.

Mr. Walter Paterson & Son, showed Leather of various kinds and of very fine quality.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Mr. Wm. McCullagh showed a case of fine work that could not be surpassed in the Dominion, and it is doubtful if they could be equaled. His work was all made to order, and hence the real merit could the more easily be distinguished.

IN HARNESS.

Messrs. Shortley & Hazlehurst, showed very nice harness and of good workmanship. There were other exhibitors whose names we did not learn.

IN AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Mr. P. Hamilton was the principal exhibitor. He showed some of the best ploughs, cultivators, mowers, reapers, rakes, grain drills, straw cutters, &c. W. Graham, of Otonabee, also exhibited various agricultural implements of merit. Mr. J. A. Delaney & Son, one of his fanning mills. Mr. T. Carr and Mr. Owens showed some superior pumps.

Mr. P. Hamilton exhibited a threshing machine. Mowry & Forsyth, of Ashburnham also had one, and the Joseph Hall Works, Oshawa.

Mr. D. A. Campbell, of London, Ont., intended exhibiting his Reaper, the Meadow Lark, but owing to a mishap on the railroad, was not able to reach Peterboro till Friday morning—too late to compete.

BUGGIES, &c.

Mr. T. Fitzgerald showed some fancy Phaetons nicely finished. Messrs. McDonnell & Ovell, and Mr. T. Mosher some nice buggies. McDonnell & Ovell and Mr. J. Culver superior waggons.

Several Washing Machines were exhibited, each claiming some superiority. Mr. Redden, of Norwood, showed a very neat and convenient Machine, wringer and wash-tub, manufactured by Morrison Bros & Company, Hamilton, which is considered an excellent substitute for hand labor. Mr. Redden will gladly accommodate all who require one.

FARM PRODUCE.

Grain and roots were largely represented.

FRUIT.

The show in this department was considered equal to the Provincial Exhibition. Mr. James Campbell exhibited a choice selection of the best varieties of apples pears &c. R H Ramsay, of Cobourg, had some excellent varieties. S. Brown, John Calvert, J. E. Fowler, George Edwards, John Maguire, A. R. Kidd, N. Choate and Mr. T. Blezard all exhibited some fine varieties. Messrs. J. Stevenson, Jas Best, John Knowlson, and Joseph Dixon exhibited grapes of good quality.

HORSES.

The show of horses was very superior, both as to draught, carriage and saddle, some of them not easily equalled in any part of Canada.

CATTLE.

The number in the different classes was not large, and yet the cattle department was not inferior. Mr. Harrison of Hope showed a very fine Durham Bull, and Cow and Calf, admired by every one. Mr. Currie, of Douro, and Mr. Joseph Redmond of Otonabee, and Wm. Redmond, of Cavan, showed good animals in the same class.

IN AFTERNOON,

J. Ford, Hope, and John Lightfoot South Monaghan, were the exhibitors. Mr Read, of Bobcaygeon also showed an Ayrshire Bull.

GRADES.

Mr. McWilliams, H. Nesbitt, and Jas. Campbell had superior animals.

SHEEP.

This class was fairly represented, but not equal to what might be expected.

PIGS.

In this class the number of entries could not be large as there were very few animals on the ground.

POULTRY.

In this department there was a very fair show, Mr. John McClelland showed very superior Brahmas; Mr. Kempt some Plymouth Rock; Mr. J. Bellwood, Dorkings and Geese; Mr. R. Walton and Mr. Tyler Hoadane; Mr. O'Brien, Game Fowls; Mr. Simpson of Port Hope, a beautiful variety of rare pigeons, admired by all who saw them.

IN GRAIN ROOTS AND DAIRY PRODUCE

The articles exhibited were very superior. The prize list will tell who were considered the most fortunate exhibitors.

Large crowds of people visited the grounds, there was no liquor near it, and all was peace and quietness. Mr. Joseph Walton, President, was untiring in his endeavors to have all go off pleasantly, and we congratulate him on the success of this first Central Show at Peterboro.

PETERBOROUGH, OCT. 7, 1875.

THE CONTEST.

The west riding election is again attracting attention, and the battle fought with the same weapons, on the same grounds, will be watched with no trifling interest. The great questions in the eyes of the opposition have melted down to the character of the leaders of their parties, and their economy or extravagance respectively. There is no principle at stake; it is merely a matter of name, and to induce them to think that a reform government could do any good thing is next to an impossibility. To reason with them is useless, and to convince them impossible.

There is, however, a class of people whose minds are open to conviction, but who are under the influence of untoward circumstances, or too ready to accept the specious arguments of wily knaves whose only object is to deceive the unwary, so that the deception may tend to his own aggrandisement. To the end that this deception may be effectual they take the course proposed by Mr. Scott to Dr. O'Sullivan in December, and shout millions and extravagance. That they understand the financial state of the Province there are grave reasons for doubting. If they do, then they are dishonest in the extreme, for they misrepresent the true state of our finances, and by so doing deceive the unwary and confiding.

"When the Reform Government took office, in December, 1871, the financial position exhibited a surplus in invested funds of $3,827,979, which was chargeable with $1,500,000, the amount of the Railway Aid Fund, and with the large sum of $764,694, representing unexpended appropriations, of which $348,991 were for public works and buildings. Amongst these were the Agricultural College and Central Prison. The institutions thus undertaken by Mr. Sanfield McDonald's Government to complete. Out of the appropriation for Public Works and Buildings for the year 1871, nearly $350,000 were not expended till the year 1873. The entire cost of constructing and finishing the Central Prison, with workshops and other appliances, and with accommodation for 336 prisoners, amounts to the sum of $426,000, of which nearly $300,000 was required to finish the prison upon the basis of Elliott's contract, entered into by the former Government, with accommodation for 84 prisoners less than can now be received, and no work-shops, machinery or appliances required for the special industry of railway car building had been estimated for.

Taking their own figures therefore, they will stand thus:

On hand in 1871	$3,637,979
DUE
For Railway Aid	1,500,000
Other appropriations by John Sandfield's Government not expended yet	764,694
Total, ...	2,264,694
Leaving only, on hand,	$1,373,285

They had also entailed on there successor's, an additional railway outlay of $400,000, which if taken away also —— would leave only .873,285.

The above outlays were all necessitated by the promises of John Sandfield previous to the election of 1871.

The blundering in the original contract by John Sandfield, about the central prison, cost an additional outlay of $150,000, and the additions by the Mowat Government cost about $126,000. The first accommodations were for about 250 prisoners and cost $300,000. The accommodations are now for 336 prisoners additional cost at an of about $126,000.

John Sandfield intended to build 3 central prisons, which would have cost according to his original estimates $900,000.

By the adoption of the present plan of increasing the accommodation, the Mowat Government has saved over $500,000. This will be evident by taking the cost of the present buildings less the additional cost incurred by the present Government.

The Sandfield McDonald Government left the settlement of the Municipal Loan Fund debt untouched. They feared to touch it. The Mowat Government settled the difficulty, and by their settlement handed over to the people already $1,361,000, and have to give the people yet $1,750,000,

It will therefore appear that instead of wasting the funds of the Province they have been paying away largely for the erection of public buildings, originated by the Sandfield government.

The opposition charges the government with taking the control into their own hands and getting the work done by private parties.

The original contractor, Mr. Elliott, had failed to carry out his part of the agreement, and the government were in danger of heavy damages on account of an agreement to have it ready for occupation at a certain time. They had to take the work into their own hands, but in doing so acted under a clause of the contract made by John Sandfield McDonald. This is the clause:

"That if by the report of the architect it should appear that the rate of progress was not such as to ensure the completion of the works within the time prescribed, the Commissioner was authorised to take the work out of the hands of the contractor, and to relet the same to any other contractor without its being previously advertised, or to proceed with the completion of the works at the expense of Elliott."

"Part of the work was done by Messrs. Dickey, Neil & Co., iron-founders, at the same rates as they are doing the like for others, and after tenders from other parties had been considered. That firm did work under Mr. Sandfield McDonald's Government as well as the present Government, without advertising for tenders. The work done in that way under the former Government amounting to $23,937, and this sum included an item of wrought-iron bars, 68,540 lbs., which by agreement with the then Commissioner they furnished at eight cents per lb., or $8 per 100 lbs., while it cost them only $1.96 per 100 lbs. They had only to lay down these bars on the premises, while they were "fixed" by other contractors."

It will thus be seen that the Sandfield McDonald Government had paid Dickey Neil & Company prices far in advance of anything paid by the present Government.

There is a wonderful fence too around the Parliament buildings, which cost $1.43 per foot. Now, any one understanding the cost of a substantial fence, in Toronto, when labour is high, and material dear, will at once see that this was not an extravagant price for a good fence.

The Assets of the Province are:

Total Assets of the Provinces, are	$9,462,486 02
Total Liabilities	4,074,910 14
Leaving a Surplus of ...	$5,387,575 88

In addition to the Liabilities named, the Province has pledged itself to the payment of $100,000 per annum for the 17½ years yet unexpired of the "Railway Subsidy Fund." The income derived from investments alone will largely exceed that sum, whilst $1,187,250, of 5 per cent. investments would suffice to meet and extinguish it.

If that sum were deducted the net surplus would be $4,230,000.

TORONTO SABBATH RIOTS.

As was intimated in our last issue, Toronto has been the scene of the most disgraceful riots, induced by a Catholic procession or pilgrimage that was being performed from Catholic church to Catholic church in the City. This pilgrimage was instituted by His Holiness, and was being observed with zeal and religious fervor, by at least a portion of that community of Christians.

Part of the pilgrimage had been performed in summer and passed off unmolested. The whole was to be completed this time, and the meeting of the clergy in provincial council in Toronto was supposed to be an opportune time for performing the duties enjoined on the people. On Sunday week there was a partial appeal to stones and other missiles, to prevent a continuance of the pilgrimage, but nothing of a very serious nature occurred. As it was known that the Roman Catholic clergy and laity intended to complete their duties on the next Sunday, an appeal was made to the Archbishop to desist last serious consequences and loss of many lives should be the sacrifice to their zeal and religion. The Bishop, however, remained firm and demanded as a right that his people should be protected from violence in the discharge of their religious duties. Meetings were held by protestants and resolutions passed deprecating the course pursued by the bishop, but at the same time urging on all protestant citizens to maintain peace and observe the laws of their country. It appears, however, that no entreaties would have the desired effect, and in consequence the Mayor and Judge Duggan telegraphed to Ottawa for military aid if required, so as to be prepared for the worst. The Lieut. Governor General's body guard was in consequence called out, the Markham light infantry and some companies of volunteers. The whole police force was armed and the fullest preparations made to ensure the protection of the processionists, and to maintain law and order; but all appears to have been of no avail as the accounts of the riots testify.

This very foolish course of those opposed to the procession, cannot be too severely censured. The processionists had neither crosses, banners, nor emblems. They exhibited nothing offensive to any person, and as protestants claim the right to worship in whatever form or manner they choose, as lovers of freedom and liberty of conscience, they should be bold to maintain that liberty even for Catholics. It is this liberty that distinguishes protestant from Catholic countries and to secure which caused the loss of so much life and property in the past. Protestants are alive to the position of those who differ from the powers that be, in Spain, Italy, France, Mexico, &c., and they condemn, and contemn the spirit that prevents those of their faith worshipping God except in concealed places or in garrets: and even there at the peril of their lives. But they should not be blind to their own narrow mindedness, when in Toronto, in a protestant country and under enlightened Protestant Laws, they seek to set aside those laws, endanger the freedom of the subject, which they so much condemn, and seek to prevent the free and conscientious exercise of religious worship, even although, the rites are pagan superstitions or idolatrous.

It is true that the Bishop should have been more mindful of the lives of his people, and rather than place them in imminent danger, should have desisted from his purpose for a season until wiser counsels had prevailed. Nor can the argument that he had a legal right to march in procession relieve him from the blame of risking loss of life for the gratification of asserting his right to go from place to place as he chose. But suppose the Bishop did wrong, that cannot relieve Protestants from the duty of forbearance or from showing to the world that Protestantism is ready to accord to every man the rights and privileges it claims, for those who profess freedom from the influence of Catholicism. We should be ready to accord to every subject every privilege we claim, and if we are not ready to grant to Roman Catholics certain privileges, we cannot blame them much, if they deny our fellow Protestants in other lands those privileges which we, as Protestants are not ready to grant to Catholics amongst us in Ontario.

Wise men cannot but regret the occurrence of this last exhibition of intolerance which was displayed on Sunday in Toronto, and while regretting it, cannot but see that it is the result of influences at work in other lands—influences which will ere long be more largely felt in Canada, and to prevent which the greatest wisdom must be directed. It may be considered a sign of the times that are approaching, when bigotry, intolerant zeal, fanaticism, and hatred will take the place of moderation and charitableness: when perhaps the spirit which actuated both parties in Toronto on Sunday, will take the place of enlightened liberal principles, and then may be expected even greater troubles.

In these riots all men must see that protestantism is a mere name of little value unless tempered by the spirit of truth and meekness; and that there may be zeal not calculated to promote good will among men. And every true protestant and true orangeman, must feel themselves disgraced by these acts of rowdies, whose conduct proves them to possess spirits as hostile to liberty as was the spirit of the Inquisition.

THE COUNTY BY-LAW.

The following figures have been sent us for publication, which tend to show the advantages to some extent of a road eastward and westward.

The wheat raised in the county in 1871, 360,478 bushels, add for 1875 one-fifth to this, would make the wheat crop of 1875 432,254 bushels.

Two cents saved on freight on this quantity would be $8,651.48 or nearly enough to pay the interest on the bonus without taking into consideration the saving on all other produce, and on goods imported.

The population in 1871, 30,473, in 1875 say 36,000. At 25 cents a head on this is $9,000, or enough to pay the whole interest.

There are 381,619 acres in the county, at 2½ cents would give $9,565 or enough to pay the interest on the bonus.

The increase on the price of wheat, and barley would not be less than 5 to 10 cents per bushel, which on wheat as shown would be nearly $43,257 and including the barley would be over that sum.

Then there is butter, cheese, beef, pork, mutton, eggs, on all of which there would be increased advantages.

TORONTO SABBATH RIOTS.

(From the Globe, Oct 4th 1875.)

As it was expected that yesterday a proceedings would be attended with trouble, the police authorities made special arrangements in order, if possible, to prevent a breach of the peace. The Archbishop of Toronto was communicated with, the route of the procession ascertained and his Grace informed that the pilgrims would be protected at all hazards. The archbishop, not wishing to give the police more trouble than was necessary, allowed the three parishes to visit privately their respective Churches and unite at St. Michael's Cathedral; and the processional visit to St. Patrick's Church was dispensed with. The united procession, therefore, had simply to proceed from St. Michael's Cathedral to St. Mary's Church.

The police authorities, on their part, had not been idle. Permission from Ottawa having been obtained, the 10th Royals and Queen's Own regiments were ordered to muster at the Old Fort at nine o'clock yesterday morning, and a similar order was given to Col. Dennison's troop of cavalry known as the Governor-General's body guard. A telegram was despatched at 6 o'clock, last night to Markham, and by eight o'clock in the morning the Markham troop of cavalry were in the city. The whole of these forces combined were placed under the command of Lieut.-Col. Durie, D.A.G., his assistant being Brigade Major Denison. The police forces were ordered out almost en masse, Major Draper, the Chief Constable, taking the command in person.

At noon yesterday the volunteer forces mentioned above received orders to proceed to the city, and to draw up at the corner of King and Church-streets, there to await instructions. Their arrival created, as may be imagined, some sensation, and they certainly presented a very creditable appearance.

At half past two o'clock a section of the Roman Catholic pilgrims assembled St. Paul's Church, Power street, and, having formed in procession, marched up to St. Michael's Cathedral by way of Queen street. They were headed by a double file of policemen, seven or eight deep, and a similar guard was placed in the centre and brought up the rear of the procession. The road to the Cathedral on both sides was crowded with spectators of both sexes. No molestation or insult of any kind was offered to the pilgrims, but it was remarked as significant that as each side street was passed, a group of boys and young men emerged therefrom, and followed the procession. It might here be mentioned that the pilgrims included a large number of women. They however, carried no banners, flags or regalia of any kind, and marched along in the most quiet and inoffensive manner.

THE RIOT.

For more than an hour before the arrival of the procession at St. Michael's Cathedral a vast crowd numbering at least 5,000 people had collected on Shuter Bond, and Queen streets, the majority of whom, however, were of the respectable class, and were attracted to the spot out of mere curiosity. There was, nevertheless, a very large proportion of the rowdy element to be seen, who, judging from the tenor of their remark, were bent on mischief. Many of them assumed an air of bravado, and openly boasted that the procession should not be permitted to go its way unmolested. Nothing, however, of a serious nature occurred at that stage, the pilgrims were permitted to enter the cathedral without hindrance, and it was hoped that the day would pass by without any breach of the peace being committed. Within the cathedral the usual prayers on such occasions were offered up, and in the meantime the entire police force, under the command of the Chief Constable, was drawn up at the entrances to the cathedral, and their presence it was thought would be sufficient to preserve order.

About half past three o'clock the procession left the cathedral, and, headed by a squad of police in charge of Sergeant-Major Cummins, moved along Shuter street to Church street, amid the yells and hootings of the mob. Just as the police and foremost ranks of the procession reached the corner of Church and Queen streets, a perfect volley of stones came upon them from Queen street. A halt was here made, and the missiles ceasing thicker and faster, the police charged upon the rioters, who were soon driven off. This was repeated several times before the procession made any further progress. One shot was fired by one of the rioters, the report of which created much consternation among the hundreds of spectators who were assembled on the Metropolitan Church Grounds. No one was apparently struck by the bullets, and the perpetrator of the outrage was discovered and arrested by the Chief Constable himself. Up to this time no one had been seriously injured, though nearly every one of the police had been struck with stones. The assailed party, some of whom had also been wounded, had so far refrained from retaliating.

The rioting having temporarily ceased, the procession moved down Church street and along Adelaide. At the corner of Bay street another disturbance occurred. The police again charged on the rioters, chasing them along Adelaide street, and up Bay in the direction of Queen. One man, supposed to belong to the attacking party, was shot in the back of the neck, causing a severe wound, from which blood flowed freely. Police-Constable Montgomery was also struck on the chin with a stone, inflicting an ugly cut, which bled profusely. Sergeant Williams received a severe blow from a stone on the nose. Constables Barrows and Coleman received a severe wounds on the knee joints, and constable McKay had his ankle badly bruised. Constable Combes was struck on the face with a stone and severely hurt. The Rev. Dr. Chisholm, of Kingston, who was in the procession, was struck with a stone on the arms and badly bruised. Police Constable 48 detected a fellow in the procession just as he was in the act of throwing a stone with a catapult. To quote his own words, "he took the dangerous weapon from the scoundrel, and knocked him down with his baton for using it." After some further skirmishing the procession made another move. At the corner of Simcoe street the police were again assaulted with a volley of stones, which for a moment seemed to stagger them. It was only for a moment, however. They again charged on the young ruffians, who fled like cowards, as they were. Several shots were fired at this stage by parties in the crowd, but no one was known to be hurt. At the corner of John street a few more stones were thrown, which, however, did not impede the progress of the procession.

On the route along Adelaide street and while near the corner of Spadina avenue, the mob again began throwing stones at the pilgrims. Some of the latter retaliated by also throwing stones, and one of the processionists fire off a revolver. This acted as a spur for both parties, and stone-throwing went on for a few moments with redoubled vigour. It was stopped, however, by the police making another charge upon the mob, after which the procession moved on in comparative order to Bathurst st. Here the real row of the day took place, just as the procession halted in front of St. Mary's Church. To understand the position of affairs at this juncture it should be remembered that as the procession was moving along Adelaide street West, the mob proceeded parallel with it along Richmond and Queen streets, while the volunteers were moving along on King street south of the procession. Upon the pilgrims halting the women went inside the Church, and no sooner had this taken place than a volley of stones was thrown by the rioters, who had assembled on the corner of Richmond street in considerable numbers. The police made a bold charge in the face of a perfect shower of stones, almost simultaneous with which the firing of revolvers. This was kept up at intervals throughout the row, the shooting of small arms being at times so rapid as to resemble in sound the noise produced by the ignition of a bunch of fire crackers. There were certainly not less than thirty or forty shots fired here, and according to the statements of the police, whoever that though they drew their revolvers they did not fire a single shot, them were all fired from arms carried by the processionists and those attacking them. Whether it was that the excitement of the parties prevented them from taking deliberate aim, or whether they fired merely to frighten and not to injure, is not known, but the fact that so few as could be ascertained at a late hour no one was wounded by the discharge of firearms, would seem to favor one or the other of these suppositions. It was very fortunate that such was the case, for the proximity of the parties was such that had the large number of shots fired been deliberately aimed, the consequence would have been very serious indeed. P. C. Riddell while chasing the rioters was struck in the abdomen by a stone, and seriously wounded. He lay insensible on the sidewalk for several minutes, and as soon as the temporary cessation of the fight would allow it, he was carried into a house on Bathurst street and attended by a medical man. He was unable to be removed to his residence last night. Just as the riot had reached its height here the police drove the mob up the road, and then formed a line across Bathurst street, on the north side of Little Rich mond street. At this time—a quarter to five o'clock—three young men, in a buggy, turned down on to Bathurst street from Queen street. They halted midway between Queen and Richmond streets, and one of them standing up in the buggy said:—"Protestants!—in the olden time they used to form eight deep. Do so now and follow me; I'll take the responsibility." A number then formed behind the buggy, which started down Bathurst street until it was stopped by the line of police. The crowd from behind pushed the buggy through the line and tried to force the police from their position. The latter at once used their batons and clubbed a number of the rioters, who soon dispersed without disorganizing the police. The latter immediately reformed and maintained their line. The conduct of the police at this time was highly creditable to them, and the fact that they did not draw their revolvers was certainly not owing to a lack of provocation. Only few minutes before this, one of their number had been knocked senseless by a stone, and many of them received bad wounds from missiles. The battle between the police and the rioters was kept up for some time, the former, as on every occasion during the procession, doing their duty bravely—the latter taking to their heels whenever a charge was made upon them, and returning to throw stones at the procession, the police forming in line again. It should be remarked here that leading men in the procession did their utmost, even in some cases going so far as to use physical force to keep their friends in the line of march and prevent them from retaliating even when "forbearance had ceased to be a virtue." The majority of the processionists themselves seconded these attempts of their leaders to restrain the more fractious and excitable members of their party. During the row at this place several members of the police force, and many of the crowd, were injured more or less seriously by the stones thrown. John Port, a painter, who is in the employ of Mr. McCausland, was knocked down and his head and chest trampled upon, as he says, by some of the processionists. He was removed insensible, but upon being taken to a doctor's office it was found that, though cut and bruised, his wounds were not of serious character, and last night about ten he was able to walk round. After the fight had gone on in the manner described for some time, the police, as has been mentioned, formed in a line across Bathurst street, at some distance from the church, keeping the rioters in check, though with considerable difficulty and not without occasional skirmishing. The main body of the rioters evidently expected at this time that the procession would return by the same route as they came, namely, along Adelaide street. But instead of doing so the St. Patrick's congregation dispersed—their part in the ceremony being completed—and the other two congregations, St. Basil's and St. Paul's, quietly reformed in procession on Front street, along which they marched to St. Paul's.

Nothing occurred to the processionists on their way back. The congregation belonging to St. Basil's broke off at the corner of Yonge and Front Streets, and the remainder of the processionists proceeded to St. Paul's Church, Power street. A large number of people assembled outside of St. Michael's Cathedral awaiting the return of the procession; but in this way were disappointed, for those belonging to St. Paul's Church, after having ended their pilgrimage, dispersed to their several homes.

INCIDENTS.

Shortly after the departure of the procession from St. Mary's Church, a number of the rioters made an attack on the edifice, intending to smash the windows and do other damage. They were resisted by a small detachment of police under command of Sergeant Ward. The rioters in revenge at being baulked in their design then took to stoning the police. Several of the men were hurt, and to make matters worse some Young Irishmen who thought they were called upon to retaliate, began to throw stones, so that the police placed between two fires were in danger of being routed. Sergeant Ward saw that if his men were routed a free fight of so serious a nature would occur between the opposing parties that the services of the volunteers would have to be called into requisition. Both himself and his men were exhausted by the tremendous efforts they had made and were unable to fight longer. At a signal from him the police drew their revolvers, and presented them at the crowd. The sergeant then addressed them, and told the mob that if they did not at once disperse, they must take the consequences. The rioters hesitated for a moment, but the determined aspect of the policemen, and the row of levelled tubes decided them, and they slunk away, leaving the sergeant master of the situation.

The police had scarcely begun to recover from the exhausting excitement of the last conflict when they were called upon to quell another row. It appears that a number of rowdies disappointed at not being able to break up the procession proceeded to the corner of Queen and William streets, and made an attack upon the tavern of Owen Cosgrove, for no other reason except that he is a Catholic. In a minutes every window in the place was smashed, and the next step might have been to sack it, but for the appearance of the police, who were soon engaged in a hot fight. The mob were repeatedly driven back, and as repeatedly returned to the charge with stones and other missiles. The result was for a long time doubtful, but ultimately the police received re-inforcements and achieved the victory. It is probable that a second attack might have been made upon the place, but at this juncture His Worship the Mayor drove up to the spot, and advised the crowd to disperse.

A clever arrest was made by Sergeant Williams. At the conflict on Bathurst street, one fellow deliberately threw a stone and struck him in the face. The officer saw his assailant, and late in the afternoon, when the mob was sacking Cosgroves place, he recognized the same fellow in the act of throwing stone-again. He immediately reached him with his baton, and having secured him, lodged him in No. 3 Station.

The Mayor, accompanied by Mr. J. H. Cameron, followed the military in an open carriage throughout the whole of the tedious march from Church street to Bathurst-street and back.

ADDRESS.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE BAND PRIZE AND THAT CHALLENGE.

To the Editor of the Peterboro Examiner.

SIR,—It is nearly always the case that the beaten party at any game or show feels dissatisfied, and it appears that Bands are not an exception to the rule, that is, if the amount of paper, ink and time wasted in placarding the fences with their challenge go for anything. Now, Sir, it is but natural that a beaten party should show a certain amount of chagrin, but if I understand the situation, it was not gentlemanly to rush into print with a challenge to their opponents, and also through their organ to try to traduce the character of the Judges, who acted for their opponents; a gentleman whom they can never hope to equal either in music or integrity. Certainly it was very galling to this aristocratic kid gloved combination, to be beaten (after a more than fair trial) by a lot of workingmen, whose leader puts on no more airs than he can carry out, but still that is hardly provocation enough to warrant gentlemen in acting rudely.

Now Sir, those gentlemen (save the mark) must have thought, that the Fireman's Band were extremely verdant, that is, if they expected them to accept their challenge, which I don't think they did. Is it likely the Firemen's Band would accept a challenge, and submit to be judged by men of their opponents choosing altogether, especially when those men were here under the auspices of the Philharmonic Society, by whom they were guaranteed a certain amount for their visit, it is not likely. But Sir, if those men mean business, and not buncome and are prepared to play with Peterboro players, and be judged on their merits by Military Band masters, (not one of their own members who wants to please the public instead of judging music), they can call at the Stewart House, where the proprietor will accommodate them by putting up $100 as an instalment on any amount they may feel disposed to compete for.

FIREMAN.

Peterboro, Oct. 4, 1875.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—I have seen a letter in the Peterborough Review, of 24th September, in reference to a trial of the Meadow Lark and Champion Reaping Machines. I beg to state the whole letter is a fabrication. As to his challenge, I would simply advise him to keep his money till the time comes round again, and then I will be prepared to take him up. In the meantime he may require it. I may add that I have the names of several farmers in Otonabee, who were present at the reaping match on Mr. Millar's farm, every one of whom testify to the truthfulness of the particulars in my letter to you of the 16th of September. The names of such gentlemen as Jas. Millar, Esq., Sr., Jas. Millar, Jr, Thos. Nelson, Duncan McIntyre, Peter McFarlane, Donald McFarlane and Duncan A. McFarlane, will be sufficient in corroboration of what I say, against the word of Mr. Wm. J. Hall.

I am yours, &c.,

A. D. CAMPBELL,

Agent for the Meadow Lark Reaper, made by John Elliott, London, Ont.

London, Oct. 1st, 1875.

Dear sir.—Will you do me a favor by publishing the enclosed note from Mr. Philp's, which I find necessary, owing to false reports having gained currency.

Peterboro, Oct. 5th, 1875.

Port Hope, Oct. 4th, 1875.

To F. Hammerschmit, Esq.

Dear sir.—I have been informed that I had congratulated members of the Fireman as to their success in the late contest, and also fully endorsed Mr. Rackett's Judgment. It is true I did congratulate members of the Firemen, upon the improvement they had made and expressed my surprise at their proficiency, but I never for one moment endorsed Mr. Rackett's judgment, nor did I say one word that they could so construe. This I can prove if necessary.

Yours truly,

W. PHILPS,

Band master 46 Batt. Band.

Its completeness will be seen in what it will do, operating as it does on the only true principle, viz.: Ironing as a proper finish for all starched fabrics. This is the only fluting machine that has ever been presented that will properly iron flutes and make them correspond in finish with the body of the article being fluted. It will flute any depth of ruffle from one quarter of an inch to three feet or more, it will flute Alpaca or worsted flute. It will form one or more flutes around bed-shams, table-covers, window curtains etc., any distance desired from the edge, and with its CRIMPING attachment it will crimp beautifully all classes of children's wear and impart the same lustre and finish as it does the fluting. There is no machine made that is adapted for this class of work like this, nor is there anything that will approach it for simplicity, perfect performance and ease of operation. The Smoothing Iron having an OVAL face prevents the blistering of linen, and the Heel of the Iron being round for GLOSSING the principle being the same as used in all first-class Laundries for GLOSSING SHIRT BOSOMS, CUFFS, COLLARS, &c.

MILLSTOCK SHOW is being held to-day and to-morrow.

MCDONALD & ELDER'S Millinery Show Rooms will open on the 13th inst.

HARVEY.—The Agricultural Show of the Township of Harvey will be held on the 14th inst.

THE NEW BRIDGE.—The New Iron Bridge is progressing favorably, it will be ready for travel in a few days. It is about a foot lower than the old one.

DIED IN THE JAIL.—On Wednesday an Indian woman, named Harriet Clements, died in the jail. She has been in confinement since 1867. An inquest was held according to law.

ASHBURNHAM.—The School Trustees of Ashburnham have let the contract of erecting a new Brick School House to Mr. Wm Wand, contract over $3,600 The building to be completed next summer.

THE CENTRAL SHOW The sum of $2,186 was collected from visitors at the gates. At 25cts each this would show that 10,920 persons must have entered. And this does not include exhibitors and dead-heads.

THE TOWN COUNCIL are at work on Hunter and Water Streets, it is needless to tell them that they are spoiling the former street unless they make a conveyance for the water to the main drain or to the river.

ANOTHER WARD SCHOOL.—The School Board has appointed a Committee to select a site for a school house in the north part of the town, and it is the intention of the Board to let the contract this fall so as to have the building finished early next summer.

GENTS' FURNISHING HOUSE.—Thompson Bros. have a large and well selected stock of Tweeds of fashionable patterns, which they offer to sell cheap. Their stock of Furnishings is very complete. They have also a first class cutter. Give them a call.

A MISTAKE SOMEWHERE.—In passing the new bridge to day, we noticed that it is a foot lower than the old one was, and too low for the streets in their present form. A second mistake is being made in forming pieces for pools of water on the stone abutments, This should be remedied at once, or frost will soon do its work.

THE GRAND JUNCTION RAILROAD.—The Iron of the Grand Junction Railway has been sold to Mr. Beckford, of Toronto, hence good-bye Grand Junction. A few years ago—this town was nearly mulcted in $60,000 for this Railway. But the effort was fruitless, owing to the determination of Messrs. Dumble, Burnham, and Stratton. Had the money been voted, where would it now be? Lost.

THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.—Mr. P. Millar, one of our Collegiate Institute boys, has carried off double honors at the University Examinations senior matriculation. He took double honors in mathematics, and in general proficiency stood equal with a boy from the Paris High School. There were seven applicants for senior matriculation, only two of whom took honors, and one of the two is from our Collegiate Institute. No so bad for Peterborough. It reflects credit on Mr. Millar also.

INDIAN DROWNED NEAR KEENE.—About a week ago, an Indian had been drinking freely in some of the taverns in Keene, and when he left the village to go down the river in his canoe, was said to be pretty drunk. He did not go far till he upset or fell out and was drowned. The body was recovered and an inquest held by Doctor McRae, when a verdict according to the above was rendered. It is said that the Chief is about to enter an action against the parties concerned for selling the liquor.

The committee after taking advice in the matter of paying a claim of Mr. Hands for salary during the holidays, recommended payment.

A report from the Inspector was read and received.

PETERBORO, Oct. 5th, 1875.

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of School Trustees.

GENTLEMEN.—It affords me much pleasure to be able to report in favorable terms of the present state of the Public Schools in the Town. During my visits, previous to the summer holidays, I found a healthy spirit of emulation to prevail with, perhaps very few exceptions. The success of the candidates for promotion was very gratifying, and affords proof of the status of the School; and as all who passed at the examination here, were admitted by the Central Board at Toronto, we may fairly conclude that no desire was manifested to force any into the High School department.

I have visited the School since the holidays, and find reasonably good order prevailing and fair progress.

The state of Miss Macready's room requires your careful attention. It is badly ventilated, rendering it unhealthy and unsafe for pupils of tender years; and its vicinity to the main entrances of the upper part of the building must be a source of annoyance to pupils and teacher. The Janitor informs me that the walls of this room, and also of Miss Perry's room, are damp every morning, and require to be heated a long time before it is removed. Both rooms are insufficiently lighted and are unfit for school rooms for children of any age, and must be injurious to health and comfort.

I found the smaller children writing on slates, ruled by themselves with all kinds of pencils, and in their efforts to renew mistakes their work assumes an appearance that must discourage. This could be remedied by having their slates ruled on one side with a hard instrument, leaving a light mark that would not easily be defaced, yet would not injure the slate for other purposes, and would prevent the blurred appearance of their work which always discourages the efforts of even children.

On motion of Mr. A Smith, seconded by Mr. Robertson, the report was referred to a Committee consisting of Messrs. Stevenson, Edwards, Smith, Rutherford and McClelland to report at next meeting also to ascertain from Dr. Ryerson the cause of the Government Grant being $30 less than last year.

On motion of Mr. J. M. Smith, seconded by Mr. McClelland, the Property Committee were instructed to select a site for a school house in the northern portion of the town and report at next meting of the Board

The following report from the Principal was read and received:

To the Board of Trustees of the Peterboro Collegiate Institute and Public Schools, Gentlemen:

(c) The improvement in some of the Forms during the year is considerable.

(d) The Auburn School has improved greatly under Mr. Wood's management.

(e) Your attention is hereby directed to the fact that for three successive years our Institute has sent up to the University of Toronto, pupils who have distinguished themselves by obtaining Honors and Scholarships at the Examinations for the first year and those for Senior Matriculation—one out of three that were granted at that time.

In 1874, Wm. H. Hunt was awarded the General Proficiency Scholarship at Senior Matriculation—one out of two obtained that year.

This year Peter Miller carried off not only the Mathematical Scholarship, but also a General Proficiency Scholarship—two out of four awarded to candidates at Senior Matriculation.

I mention these facts, in order that you may understand that the Teachers in the Collegiate Institute are not only competent to do their work, but are also faithful in the discharge of their duties.

J. BYRON DIXON.
Head Master.

The Secretary was directed to write to the Department, asking for copies of plans approved of by the department for Ward Schools, and also to Cobourg, for plans of a new Ward School erected in that Town.

The Board adjourned, subject to be called together if the Committee on selecting a site should recommend a Special Meeting.

FENELON FALLS.

On Saturday evening, the 18th inst., a frightful accident happened to Mr. Samuel Clark, an elderly farmer who resides about a mile from this village, but who at the time was working alone upon a piece of land which he owns some four miles from his house. As he was climbing over a fence with a hoe in his hand, the top rail rolled, and he fell forward upon the handle of the hoe, which entered the body near the groin and was forced upwards a distance of fully fifteen inches. After pulling out the hoe, he walked and crawled nearly half a mile to the house of Mr. Hetherington, who took him home in his wagon, and Dr. Bryson was at once sent for. It was first thought that death was inevitable, and on Sunday he made his will; but it is now hoped that his bowels are uninjured—the hoe handle having, it is believed, passed between them and the wall of the abdomen—and to-day (Friday) the doctor reports that Mr. Clark's recovery is neither impossible nor improbable.—Gazette.

THOMAS' ECCLESIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgement of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it, I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Karl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until tried it Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man." A. Mayhew, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundred bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Mayhew of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

WOOLY HORSES.—Wooly horses are not rare as many suppose, not such great curiosities either, there are many to be found in various parts of the country, but we doubt if they will ever prove as valuable to their owners as the one exhibited by Barnum ; we imagine their owners would consider them more valuable without the wool, for this rough and wooly state of the hair indicates that the horse is not in a healthy condition—probably hide-bound or suffering from some disease which occasions this unnatural appearance ; in such cases use "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," it purifies the blood, corrects the appetite, removes all obstructions from the lungs and liver, and gives to the coat a sleek and shining appearance. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

So much has been said in public prints about the value of Phosphates as fertilizers, and as nerve and brain food to supply the waste of tissues, resulting from mental physical exertion, that they have become universally recognized as the most important nutritive agents known to science. They are natures restoratives, whether it be worn out soil, or the constitution run dow with wasting chronic diseases, depend fug upon indigestion and imperfect assimilation of food, their action being to perfect cell-growth and the formation of healthy tissues. Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya is not only elegant and reliable, but extraordinary in its effect in energizing and vitalizing all the organs of the body.

WAR AND COMMERCE.—It is urged by some that English trade has gained largely by the Franco German war, and that she has been serving both belligerents to the great advantage of her commercial interest; but official statements prove that such has not been the case. But it is true that the sales of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer" are rapidly increasing, and gaining the confidence of the public, for curing coughs, colds, rheumatism, neuralgia, summer complaint, &c. For sale by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cents per bottle.

H. C. Caswell, Oshkosh, Wisconsin, February, 1875, in a letter, says : Fellows' Hypophosphites is doing good work here, and we have already disposed of a large quantity. It stands the test, and every day people express their praise of its virtues. Our physicians are prescribing it, and we have good accounts from Michigan and Illinois.

Burnett's Cocoaine for the hair has stood the test of time and competition. It has established a reputation for purity and efficiency in every quarter of the world. For twenty years it has been a favourite with the people and a leader with the trade. The name "Cocoaine" has become a valuable property. We have established our sole right to its use in several suits at law, thus protecting the public and ourselves from imposition.

INFLAMATION OF THE LUNGS.—Clifton, N. B., February 17th 1873., Sir : In behalf of my family, I wish to acknowledge a debt of gratitude I owe Mr. James I. Fellows. My daughter had been ill with inflamation of the lungs, had raised large quantities of blood and purulent matter attended with every system of consumption. After obtaining the attendance of two eminent physicians, who afforded her no relief, she was persuaded to try Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Upon taking two bottles we had every reason to believe she would be cured. Her physician was surprised to find her improvement so rapid, and advised her to continue its use, which she did until her complete recovery. Two years have elapsed, during which time she has neither taken nor required any medicine, enjoying good health and urges all who are afflicted with any lung or chest trouble to use the Hypophosphites without fail.

My wife, also having been in bad health for some time, and having had typhoid fever in December last, which left her much prostrated, was advised by the physicians to use this remedy to build her up. Before taking half a bottle she found herself much benefitted, and still continues to use it. I believe, under Kind Providence, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring both my wife and daughter, and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use, for although it is widely used, I think its value is not appreciated.

Yours truly, JOSEPH A. EVANS.

VINEGAR BITTERS

UNLIKE THOSE BASE proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores ; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins ; cleanse it when it is foul ; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

IN FAVOUR OF

J. A. DELANEY & SONS'

"Empire" Fanning Mill,

WHICH THEY ARE NOW BUILDING

AT THEIR SHOP, ON AYLMER STREET, PETERBORO',

(Near Mr. Toole's Factory.)

This is to certify that I have used Messrs. J. A. Delaney & Sons' "Empire" I have one of the same mills which I have thoroughly tested, and have no hesitation on recommending it to Farmers as the best Fanning Mill for separating or cleaning grain either for seed, market, or mill, (of which I have any knowledge), and now to use. The Separating Plates supplied a wheat long felt by Farmers, and is a most desirable improvement, and with the additional arrangement for Green Seed, it is decidedly ahead of any other mill known to me.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them : those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always — that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compositions. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates ; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by any person. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action — remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure :—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels himself unwell, will often find a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as has the World-renowned remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among nearly all of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to subdue the most dangerous forms of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with the antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, but content ourselves than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure all such ailments. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the worst districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicines. Our

WE CAN MAKE HOME HAPPY.

Though we may not change the cottage
For a mansion tall and grand,
Or exchange the little grass-plot
For a boundless stretch of land;
Yet there's something brighter, dearer
Than the wealth we'd thus command.

Though we have no means to purchase
Costly pictures rich and rare;
Though we have no silken hangings
For the walls so cold and bare—
We hang them o'er with garlands,
For flowers bloom everywhere.

We can always make home cheerful,
If the right course we begin;
We can make its inmates happy,
And their truest blessings win
It will make the small room brighter,
It will let the sunshine in.

We can gather round the fireside
When the evening hours are long;
We can blend our hearts and voices
In a happy social song;
We can guide some erring brother,
Lead him from the path of wrong.

We can fill our homes with music,
And with sunshine brimming o'er,
If against the dark intruders
We will firmly close the door;
Yet, should evil shadows enter,
We must love each other more.

There are treasures for the lowly,
Which the grandee fail to find;
There's a train of sweet affection
Binding friends of kindred mind—
We may reap the choicest blessings
From the poorest lot assigned.

ROMAN CATHOLIC COUNCIL IN TORONTO.

ARCHBISHOP'S LYNCH'S ADDRESS, OCTOBER, 1875.

After mass, His Grace the Archbishop ascended the pulpit and spoke as follows:—The Fathers of the First Council of Toronto wish to address you through me and to lay before you some views, some exortations, by which you may perform your duties with greater fervour and zeal for your own souls' sake and for that of your children. During the last few days that we were assembled in the Holy Ghost directed by His Divine Spirit, we offered many fervent prayers to God, especially during the holy sacrifice of the Mass, that he would fill us with His divine spirit more and more in order that we might fulfil our sacred duties towards the flock confided to our care. In the first place we wish to define who we are and what we represent. We represent the Holy Catholic Church in this Province, and we are the Bishops legally and divinely appointed by the Spirit of God, and through the head of the Church, our holy father the Pope, to labor in this portion of the vineyard of our Lord. This Church of God is the Kingdom of Christ on earth. "Behold I am with you all days to the consummation of the world." Jesus Christ is, then, the head of the Church, invisible, and sitting upon the right hand of His eternal Father, but yet the High Priest always interceeding for us and operating in us by His divine graces upon the world. He is the vine, we are the branches. It is He that gives life and grace through the Sacrament to His Church. St. Augustine well has said, "When Paul baptises, Christ baptises; when Peter baptises, Christ baptises; when Judas baptises, Christ baptises." It is Christ that operates, and from His divine heart come all the graces. But he must have a visiblemin istry on earth, and this ministry he did not confer upon angels, but upon weak men. As Jesus became man to have a practical knowledge of our infirmities and our weakness, so He has confided the care of His Church to men also conversant with the infirmities of men, that they might know how to have compassion and mercy. It was to a man He said, "I shall give to thee the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven; whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in Heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be also loosed in heaven." To men, also, He said, "Go, teach all nations; I will send the Paraclete, who will teach you all truth;" and St. Paul does not hesitate to say, "We are God's coadjutors, we are God's ministers," and to his disciple he says "O, man of God." It is therefore no presumption on our part to call ourselves the ministers of God, and for the faithful to call us fathers, because St. Paul says, "We are fathers because we have begotten you spiritually in Jesus Christ; and, therefore, with this authority of Jesus Christ guiding and speaking in us, do we address you today. This Holy Church of God, instituted by Jesus Christ, its Head, and governed by His Divine Spirit, is assailed on all sides. The world always hated the Church because they hated its Founder. The Church of God is His kingdom, and that kingdom must have its officers, its laws, and its doctrines— its officers, the apostles with Peter at their head and the successors, and the 72 disciples; its laws and doctrines, promulgated by Jesus Christ his apostles, and continued to be preached to the end of time. It is therefore an independent society distinct from the kingdom of this earth. It is a spiritual kingdom, as Jesus Christ said, "My Kingdom is not of this world." Its powers, then, come from God, and it is sustituted for the good of the people, to bring them through the desert of this world to the Kingdom of God. It has, strictly speaking, nothing to do with the affairs of this world, only inasmuch as they touch the eternal salvation of your souls, and this Kingdom of God, being from God, is not antagonistic to the kingdoms of this world, properly and legally constituted. Wicked men have arisen, and still exist, that wish to put enmities between the Church of God, the kingdom of Christ on earth, and the kingdom of the kings of this world. Now the civil power is instituted by God himself for the good of the people, for the peace and harmony of his creatures on earth, for their progress and their good, and the Church of God could not be opposed to an institution of God Himself. The kingdom of God on earth and civil governments should proceed hand in hand with a good understanding for the peace and harmony, and the good of the people. But, alas, antagonisms have sprung up from the beginning of the Church. When Jesus sent His apostles to preach and teach, there was opposition immediately from the world. For 200 years the Roman world, which was then the civilized world, was deluged in blood, the State pouring down its legions upon the Church of God. The streets ran with blood in the amphitheatres, and it may be well asked, [illegible] of Christ, "If name thy name [illegible] antagonism about? What was this war for? Why the streets deluged with blood? Because the State did not want to have Jesus proclaimed the [illegible] to follow you" as Jesus Christ said; but Jesus is not outdone in generosity; He promises that they shall "Sit with him on thrones to judge the twelve tribes of Israel." Their reward in this world, however is persecution and calumnies very often. We want you to encourage your children who show signs of piety and this noble generosity and purity of manner, to have them well instructed and sent to college, so that they may be screened from the contagion of vice, and their virtues may be brought to greater perfection, and that then by study, prayer, and mediation, they may become good priests, and good, wise, and prudent men of the Word, to speak and instruct others in the way of salvation. This is the first duty and office of a bishop, to have priests numerous enough and holy and learned for his diocese. This is the most difficult duty for a bishop to perform, because he has not it at his own choice. Young men must have the qualities; he cannot create them, or give talent and virtue where they do not exist, but parents can do a great deal with their children to prepare them, as young Samuel was educated from his infancy and brought to the temple to offer sacrifice to God. We also call upon the people to assist us pecuniarily in these grand enterprises for God, then the orphan asylum, that none should perish, and those other institutions of charity confided to holy men and women, that they more efficiently perform the duties of children bound to God by vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience—of poverty, thus to say they have nothing for themselves, they do not want to make money for themselves; of chastity, to be relieved from all the duties of a family; and of obedience, as soldiers of earth and soldiers of Christ to do all for the general good. We recommend also, that in each parish shall be used the devotion of the Forty Hours, where our Lord Jesus Christ is exposed in the most Blessed Sacrament for the adoration of the people on a pulpit where he preaches best himself. "When I shall be exalted from the earth," he says, "I shall draw all men after me," and its so with our Lord Jesus Christ in the Most Blessed Sacrament. We have promulgated also anew again the apostolic constitutions, and the decrees of general councils, and of particular councils of this Province formerly belonging to Quebec, that this ecclesiastical Province of Toronto may be ecclesiastically and properly constituted, so that there may be no longer any disputes whether a law was promulgated in this country or not. We must provide, unfortunately, for successors of Judas, men who will betray their trust and honor, and break the vows of ordination. None, then, can appeal and say that the laws of the Church are not applicable to this Province. Also to avoid any confusion or conflict with the civil authorities, we have reiterated again that persons can be excommunicated and cut off from the Church singly, and also that societies may come under the same sword of the Church. That is to say, individuals may be told "On account of your sins and crimes you no longer belong to the Church," and also secret societies — societies bound by oaths of secrecy—and societies against the peace of the country, or against the rights of the Church, may be put under the ban of excommunication, and our people may be told that any one who will join such a society is no longer a member of the Church. There is always a door of repentance at the last moment, and we have the consolation of receiving at the last moments those who have been excommunicated with sorrow on their part, and joy on ours at absolving them and bringing those who were reputed out of the Church into it at the last moment through the mercy of God. These, of course, we will allow to have christian burial and other honors granted after death, but those who die excommunicated, either by name or because they belonged to a society, or because they die as open and scandalous sinners, when drunk or in grevious sin after being more than a year from their religious duties, we have a perfect right to say, "You did not belong to the Church of God during life, and your bones or ashes cannot be gathered together amongst those of the true Catholics, which we will look upon as waiting in peace for the general resurrection. And in our deeds granting portions of land in our consecrated cemeteries there will be always the promise that these deeds hold good only for Catholics who in peace with God, and the Church of God, and others cannot avail themselves of the privileges of this land. With these few advices we shall conclude. We wish all, and especially the children of the Church of God, every blessing and grace to lead holy and pure and sanctified lives in this world, in order that they may attain eternal joy. We wish our separated brethren, those who do not actually belong to the Church, grace, mercy, and salvation from God. "Other sheep I have that are not of this fold; them I will bring, that they may be one fold and one Shepherd." What Jesus said in His time is applicable at the present time. Other sheep Jesus has scattered in the world under various religious denominations. They are good hearted, they are anxious to know the truth and if they did not know it actually and really they would quit the denominations which they are in, and come into the fold of Jesus Christ. Our Lord is continually going from fold to fold, outside his own and bringing these into the Holy Catholic Church. You know there are many illustrious men and women that He has called in England, Scotland, Ireland and the United States, and also through the mercy of God in this country. It has been slower, however, here than elsewhere, because, I presume, the moment of God has not come. Those whom He has not gathered into the fold have not the sacramental [illegible] body of our Lord and [illegible] Christ. Those [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] look upon thousands and thousands of our separate brethren as belonging to the true Church of Jesus Christ. They are not Protest

Peterborough Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, OCT. 14, 1875.

WHO BROUGHT Mr. SARGENT OUT

As that gentleman has, over his own signature decided this question, we hope to see the true version of the matter copied into the Review, the Editor is a religious (?) truthful (?) gentleman (?).

In writing to the EXAMINER, he says "neither you, Mr. Editor, nor any Reformer had anything to do with it." My. Proposer is a Conservative who never changed his vote. My Seconder, Mr. Howson, is an independent, who did not vote for J. Stratton, nor was I selected to become a candidate by any prominent Reformer. The men who brought me out live in the East of the Riding.

Let us see whether the Elder will correct his false statements.

THE WICKED WORKETH A DECEITFUL WORK.

The hypocrite who writes for the Review was rightly named, when Mr. John O'Donahoe gave him the castigation he so richly deserved. If he had a spark of honor or honesty, or any love of fair play he would not use the base slanders he is using to injure his opponent. Mr. Cox, during the January contest, acted in the most honorable and straightforward manner. He used no private letters, divulged no private chit chat to injure his opponent. He bravely fought the fight, and won, and when the protest came he did not enter the box and try to clear himself, and afterwards shrink from an investigation, He did not place his acts in his attorney's hands, and claim "privileged" for fear of criminating himself, as did Mr. Scott.

He did not shrink from a full investigation of his every act, as did Mr. Scott at the last moment. But he showed himself what he really is, a gentleman of truth, and fearing nothing, except false swearing, which he had reason to dread, as the trials in other Ridings fully verified.

Then, too, this profound hypocrite seeks to arouse the worst religious passions against Mr. Cox, because he canvassed against Dr. O'Sullivan. If he did he advocated the claims of Mr. Hogan as a Reformer and showed less bigotry than did Mr. John Carnegie.

This unprincipled damagogue forgets every injunction of the divine Law, when he again insinuates the connection of Mr. Cox with that now celebrated $425. On the oaths of Conservatives themselves, it was shown that Conservatives originated the fraud, and Conservatives planned it, and Conservatives carried it out, that Mr. Cox knew nothing of it till it was being discussed in the newspapers, and he knows that a Conservative induced the members of the Council to sign an order to pay the money to the School Board, and that all those signing it were innocent of any knowledge of how the money came, except the Conservative members of the committee. These things were proved on the oath of Mr. James Stevenson, and he is a Conservative of the ultra School, but with more honesty than John Carnegie, he acknowledges Mr. Cox's intire innocence, as Mr. Cox never met the committee till the bridge was built, and then the matter was never spoken of. It was Mr Scotts friends, supporters who planned and carried out the whole transaction, and they are, and must be held accountable, and the Review editor knows all this, but with that lack of honesty and truthfulness which should characterise a man professing to be an elder of a christian Church, he withold the truth and utters a falsehood, as he really must know, and does know. Does the Review hope to make capital out of this transaction? If he does he is mistaken.

MR. SCOTT'S PART.

Mr. Scott was a member of the committe from first to last, he sat at the meetings when the contract was let, he gave legal advice to the County about the time, and was Mayor the greater part of the time. Did he know nothing about those $425? If he did not he must be a shrewd lawyer indeed, when Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Davis could outwit him. Mr. Scott tried to clear himself, but who else will do so?

THE EDITOR OF THE REVIEW IS

As void of principle as he is of truthfulness. He seeks also to raise the question of creed against creed in this matter. "The Separate School supporters have a chance &c." Such hollow professions in favor of Separate School supporters, are too transparent to aid your schemes. This is the man who declared that the designs of your priest were nipped in the bud," when he had a trial about the western boundary of the old burying ground.

This is the man who in South Monaghan declared the letter and word of your priest was false; who denied going to and asking his support in 1871, and this too while the seat in the parlor was not more than vacant after John's using it. This is the champion of Separate School rights. Beware of him, he is a wolf in a sheep's clothing. If disappointed he will bite like a serpent and sting like an adder. There's a maxim that Mr. John Carnegie should remember, and which we may here print for his special benefit. Here it is :—Maledictus a maleficio non distat nisi occasione.

OUT OF WHOLE CLOTH.

The last issue of the 'Review' contains two or three columns of homemade falsehoods and a little over a column of the foreign article. The 'Review' copies from the Lindsay 'Warder' a rehash from the 'Review's' own columns. This is a general practice of our confrere. The 'Review's' misrepresentations are generally given in the 'Warder' as a divine oracle. Although all is trash of which the 'Warder' can know nothing except what appears in the 'Review'. He also draws largely from the Hamilton 'Spectator', an obscure Conservative sheet not read by over one hundred persons outside of Hamilton, and which would have died a natural death long ago, had it not been for Railway pap. To the 'Spectator' it is generally believed, the editor of the 'Review sends the tissue of falsehoods, in order that afterwards he may have the appearance of copying from the 'Spectator' that which it was ashamed to commit at first to its own columns, as the false hoods could be easily disproved at home. From the Montreal 'Gazette' too, edited by Thomas White, well known in Peterboro, so well known, indeed, that if his name were attached to the articles they would be set down at their true value. A man possessed of no religious principles himself, who reviles the profession of integrity in others, and believing that the only governing power in man is that which controls his own actions, namely, a disregard of truth and a readiness to accept or belong to any religious denomination by which he could gain a temporary advantage, which would tend to the elevation of his little self. Yet this is the man who talks about bigotry in others. Better to be an honest bigot than an unprincipled hypocrite, whose piety is selfishness gilded, if possible. And yet forsooth these are the sources from which the 'Review' draws its weekly tissue of misrepresentations. But enough on this question.

What a hypocrite!

We had thought that the editor of the 'Review,' who really has become a religious leader in one of our town churches, would not again indulge in falsely accusing others, although they might be his opponents. Mr. J Carnegie knows as well as he does of his own existence, that when he writes that the grits brought out Mr. Sargent, that he John Carnegie, is writing and uttering an untruth. He knows Mr. Sargent was nominated by a life long conservative, Mr. H. Ferguson, and seconded by a conservative, and that a conservative went round the riding with Mr. Sargent; and he knows that for at least eight years, if not longer, Mr. Sargent has voted for Mr. Grover, Mr. Read, and conservative candidates. He knows too that the reason Mr. Sargent was brought out was because those conservatives would not vote for John Carnegie's candidate and because he was a Catholic; but although an Elder of the Church he withholds these facts in order to slander Mr. Sargent, and blacken the reformers of East Peterborough, but his hypocricy will recoil on himself. He is so lost to every sense of right and justice, so void of principle and political honesty, possesses so much of the spirit of him who was represented as a liar from the beginning, that he cares not how untrue his assertions may be, or how he may injure or slander his neighbors, if he can but gain his wicked ends: and yet this is the man who clad in the garb of truth on Sunday, slanders and defames those who are opposed to him, and that too while he knows well what he is writing is untrue. There is no denying the fact that the conservatives brought out Mr. Sargent, and many of them voted for him, although no doubt several reformers also voted for him: and he who would deny either of the above facts is unworthy of being believed, as he who lies for one purpose will do so for another purpose.

There are too many conservatives who do not hesitate to accept the conservative doctrine that "all is fair in politics," and in consequence stop at nothing that may accomplish their object. The Editor of the 'Review' is one of these, but so long as he claimed no peculiar sanctity, the disposition could be attributed to the old man in his human nature. He cannot now claim privileged under this plea, and must be rebuked until, purged of the old leaven, he changes his ways, or if his day of grace be past, till he don his proper garb and appear in all his naked depravity.

MARK THE HONEST MAN.

Mr. John Carnegie is endeavoring to influence the electors against Mr. Cox, because of a certain $425, of which he Mr. Cox knew nothing until months after he had signed an order to pay some money to the School Board, not knowing what money it was.

Let Mr. Carnegie clean his own skirts of a certain $1,000 he received of paid up gas stock for the influence of the Editor of the Review to get the gas by-law passed.

Let John wash his own hands of casing the electors out of not $1,000 merely, but what Mr. Perry hoped to make by offering a $2,000 bribe, to get newspaper influence. Mr. Perry was not a man to offer and pay over $2,000 of a bribe, worth 14 per cent per annum, unless he had a prospect of twice $2,000 in return. And yet this is the man with clean hands, a man who accepted $1,000 of a bribe for assisting to induce the town to tax the small ratepayers at the out-skirts of the Town for gas, of which they receive hardly a glimmer in the year.

Ratepayers, this John Carnegie, who asks you to believe Mr. Cox did you an injury, is the John Carnegie who was paid by Sir Hugh Allan for endeavoring to tax you for $250,000. If the Review or John Carnegie is convinced of the desirability that the people should give a bonus, for a genuine undertaking, what right had he to $1,000, for pleading Mr. Perry's gas cause, or to a bonus for pleading for Sir Hugh Allan.

John's own hands are not clean. He has still the money in his pocket for both those transactions. $2,000 from the Town electors or ratepayers for gas, and no one knows how much from Sir Hugh Allan, but he got his pay and it was intended that that pay should come out of your pockets if the By-law should pass.

Mr. Cox pocketed none of your money, he asked for none of it. He worked for the town's interests without money, or promise of money, and the man who took a bribe of $1,000 to advocate the gas works, and a bonus to advocate a Railway, prates, about $425, which was, if unjustly taken from the County, taken by a Conservative, of course not for himself, but whatever wrong was done the County, or the Separate School supporters, was done them by a Conservative, whom John Carnegie takes to his bosom in all political events of importance.

John Carnegie, should wash his own hands before he shakes hands with any person friend or foe. He smells of gas yet, and Railway influence did its work in softening his heart, and filling his pocket. It is a sad spectacle to witness a man, an Elder in a church so full of envey, malice, illwill, and untruthfulness. Mr. Carnegie, knows well that Mr. Cox, is innocent of any knowledge of, or connection with that $425, other than signing an order on the strength of Mr. Stevenson's and Mr. Toole's names, and yet with unblushing disregard of fair play and truth, he tries to fasten it on Mr. Cox; with a heart full of bitterness he reiterates from week to week the falsehood. John, it was conservatives who cheated the county and Separate School supporters.

HURON & QUEBEC RAILWAY.

In the absence of Mr. Clinton, the President of the Company, at Quebec, and Mr. Scott being engaged in his canvas. Two of the directors, Messrs. Foster and Dumble, attended the meeting held at Westwood, on Monday, at 2 p.m. The attendance was small, but was unanimous in its expression of desire for the construction of this Railway and its readiness to vote for the By-law. The following resolution was carried unanimously :—

"That after having the explanations of Messrs. Fowler, Dumble, and others respecting the construction of the Huron and Quebec Railway, through the County of Peterborough, this meeting is of the opinion that it will be a great benefit to the County, and ratepayers present, pledge themselves to vote for the By-law granting $15,000 on the 25th of this month."

On Tuesday, the Fair for the Township of Belmont, Dummer and Asphodel, was held at Norwood, over three thousand people from the country were present. At 3 p.m. a Mass Meeting was held to discuss the Huron & Quebec Railway Scheme. The entire people appeared favorable to the scheme, and expressed their intention of supporting the By-law. There appears to be very great enthusiasm in the support the By-law will receive in the entire eastern part of the County. We are much pleased at this and we hope every man who desires the Railway, will on the 20th of this month record his vote in favor of the By-law. This fact should not be forgotten.

The scheme is started now under auspices of a Peterborough Board of Directors. Peterboro Town and County must support the road, else it is needles to apply for aid to other counties, and just as Peterborough leads so will other Municipalities follow. The price we could offer would be too much for the road, and it voting the reasonable bonus asked will secure its construction, then for the sake of our common welfare and for the sake of those who came after us, let not the present opportunity of securing the advantage of another great trunk line be lost, perhaps never to be recalled.

BY-LAWS AND BONUSES.

It is not our intention to do more in this matter than mention the existence of a By-Law to grant a bonus of $6,000, to Mr. Romaine, to aid in establishing a Brick yard in Town. If we opposed it, we would be accused of political enmity. And, if we advocated it, then the charge of being bought, would be raised. All these matters deserve the careful consideration of the ratepayers, who have to foot the bill.

The By-Law we give in full, and leave it with the ratepayers to consider. If they think it right to vote for it, let them do so, if they think they ought not to grant the bonus, let them vote against it.

THE BY-LAW.

A BY-LAW to aid and assist the establishment of Robert Romaine in the Town of Peterborough, for the manufacture of Bricks, Drain Pipes, &c., by granting to the said Robert Romaine for that purpose a bonus of six thousand dollars in debentures of the Town of Peterborough.

WHEREAS the municipality of the Town of Peterborough is desirous of assisting by way of bonus the establishment of Robert Romaine in the Town of Peterborough, for the manufacture of Brick, Drain pipes, &c., to the extent of six thousand dollars in debentures of the said Town of Peterborough.

AND WHEREAS by an Act of the Parliament of the Province of Ontario, passed in the thirty-fifth year of Her Majesty's reign, entitled "An Act to enable the Municipality of the Town of Peterborough to aid by way of bonus or otherwise, in the establishment of manufactures in or about the Town of Peterborough, and in the construction of Water Works for the said Town of Peterborough, and for other purposes," it was amongst other things enacted that it should be lawful for the said Municipality of the Town of Peterborough, to aid by way of bonus, the promotion of manufactures in or about the Town of Peterborough, to an amount not exceeding the sum of forty thousand dollars, subject to such terms, conditions and restrictions as the said Municipality might deem expedient.

AND WHEREAS by the said recited Act the said Municipality of the Town of Peterborough was and is empowered to issue or cause to be issued from time to time, debentures of the said Municipality sufficient for the purposes hereinbefore mentioned, such debentures to be issued and redeemable as provided in and by an Act of the Parliament of the late Province of Canada, passed in the Twenty-fourth year of Her Majesty's reign, intitled "An Act to consolidate the debt of the Town of Peterborough, and to authorize the issue of debentures on the security of the Town property, and for other purposes," provided, however, that no such debentures should be issued and no moneys paid or agreed to be paid for such purpose, until a By-law authorising the same should have been submitted to and approved by the ratepayers of the said Town of Peterborough

The Municipality of the Town of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows :—

1. That it shall and may be lawful for the Municipality of the Town of Peterborough to aid and assist the establishment of Robert Romaine, in the Town of Peterborough, for the manufacture of Bricks, Drain Pipes, &c., by giving to the said Robert Romaine, for that purpose, by way of bonus, debentures of the said Municipality to the amount of six thousand dollars, in the manner and on the conditions hereinafter contained.

2. That for the purposes aforesaid it shall and may be lawful for the Mayor and Town Council to cause to be issued debentures of the said Municipality, under the seal thereof to be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the Treasurer of the said Town, and by the Secretary of the Commissioners of the Town Trust, as provided by the Act 24 Vic., Cap. 61, to the said amount of six thousand dollars, to be payable at the Office of the Treasurer of the said Town, at the end of ten years from the date thereof; each of such debentures to be for the sum of not less than one hundred dollars, and to bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable half yearly; the payment of such debentures to be provided for in the manner and subject to the provisions of the said herein before in part recited Act consolidating the debt of the said Town of Peterborough.

3. That the said debentures shall be issued on and bear date as at the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and shall have attached thereto coupons for the payment of the interest accruing once half yearly, such instalments of interest being payable on the first day of July and the first day of January in each and every year during the currency of the said debentures, and the first of such coupons to be payable on the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained:

4. That the said debentures when so issued shall be handed over to the said Robert Romaine for the purpose aforesaid, when and so soon as the said Robert Romaine shall have executed a good and sufficient bond with two sureties to the Municipality of the Town of Peterborough, such bond and security to be approved by the said Municipality in the amount of six thousand dollars, conditioned that the said Robert Romaine, for a period of ten years, from the first day of April, A.D. 1876, shall manufacture and keep constantly on hand at his said manufactory in the Town of Peterborough, at all seasons of the year, a supply of bricks, both pressed and common, the irregularly shaped bricks ordinarily used in bricklaying, tiles and drain pipes, sufficient to meet all ordinary exigencies of the trade of the said Town of Peterborough.

5. This By-law shall take effect and come into force on the thirty-first day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

6 The votes of the electors of the said Municipality of the Town of Peterborough shall be taken on this By-law on MONDAY, the EIGHTEENTH day of OCTOBER, A. D., 1875, at the places in each of the four Wards of the said Town, respectively appointed for the holding of the Municipal elections in January last; that the polling places shall be open at the hour of nine o'clock in the forenoon, and closed at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon of the same day; that Joseph Landy shall be Returning Officer for Ward No. 1; that J. Edwards shall be Returning Officer for Ward No. 2; that John Irwin shall be Returning Officer for Ward No. 3; and that William Lee shall be Returning Officer for Ward No. 4, for the taking of such votes, and that Mr. Romaine pay all expenses connected with the submission of this By-law.

The vote will be taken on Monday next.

LOOK OUT.

If Mr. John Carnegie, does not cease slandering Mr. Cox, we promise him a revelation of facts concerning Mr. Scott, that will astonish even Mr. Carnegie, foul of heart and hands as he is: astound him, not because he does not know all about them already, but because made public. If therefore, we are compelled to break silence, on Mr. Carnegie be the consequences. The Law of lex talionis is according to human nature, and may, in self-defence, be justly resorted to.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

REMEMBER that since the 1st of the present month all letters put in the Post Office unpaid, go to the dead letter office. If desirous that letters reach those for whom intended, pay them.

A $180,000 LAW SUIT.—Last week at Ottawa, a suit of the Messrs. Edwards against the Ottawa River navigation, for $180,000 was tried. This suit arose out of the burning of the mills and lumber of the Messrs. Edwards, as alleged by the carelessness of the employes of the company on Board the Steamer "Peerless" one of the Company's boats plying on the river. Hon. E. Blake, Messrs. James Bethune, R. Cassels, and A. Chuster were for the Plaintiffs; J. H. Cameron, Hon. M. C. Cameron, and Mr. Cockburn were for defendants. Verdict for Plaintiffs $210,000.

THE RIOTS.—The entire Protestant press of Ontario condems the attack on the Pilgrims in Toronto; just right. Attempts to kill are not genuine missionary efforts. Reason, not blows, should be the herald of peace, and there is a short sentence in some of the Statutes that reads :—"Provoke one another to good works." Would it not be well to read the whole Act and remember it!

NORTH ONTARIO.—The Nomination in North Ontario takes place to-day. The polling will be on the 21st.

BABY SHOWS.—Kingston, Napanee, and Picton have had their Baby Shows, Belleville, Cobourg, and Peterboro must follow in order. The tendency of empire is Westward, of course. The parients should be on exhibition also, a pretty Ma might have something to do with the baby's prize.

MR. D. WYLIE, father of the Canadian press, has disposed of his interest in the Brockville Recorder, and retired from active connection with newspaper business. Mr. Wylie was an honest and faithful advocate of the rights of the people, a live reformer, opposed to class privileges, and highly esteemed by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. The best wishes of the press of Canada will be accorded to him, in his retirement.

SELLING LIQUOR TO INDIANS.—The fine is $500 and two years imprisonment. Rather serious that; who would wish it for the profits on 5cts.? None but simpletons.

THE ELDER FORGOT HIMSELF.—Elder John Carnegie attended a meeting of Mr. Cox's, at Lakefield, on Tuesday night and addressed it. Waxing eloquent on the Agricultural farm and sheet-making, he forgot his christian character and made impure insinuations unbecoming a gentleman and much less becoming in a christian. If John's own imagination of his heart are evil, what right had he to make indecent insinuations against a respectable lady, now the wife of the Sheriff of Wentworth. The people had the good sense to cry shame, shame. John's piety is "oozing" out. Mr. Bertram gave him a fitting rebuke.

THE EASTERN FLY SHEET.—We have good authority for stating that those King William Fly Sheet, were largely reprinted at the Review office and mailed from Allendale to voters. Will Conservatives clean their skirts of those fly sheets? Who at Allendale would mail them.

$6,000.

Reasons why the people of Peterborough, should not give $6,000 of their money to Robert Romaine.

1st. Because he has no claim on them for it.

2nd. He has always been paid for services rendered.

3rd. His services to this town have not been such as to entitle him now to approach them in form of a pauper.

4th. He is not Charity.

5th. He is not giving us anything for our money, as it is very doubtful if his works will be a success, and if a success he will only make brick; and we have good brick made now by men who never looked for a bonus, and who sell them as cheap and as good as we can expect from Mr. Romaine.

6th. The principal of giving the people's money to those who are not successful in their schemes of business is unsound and people who are successfull do not want it.

7th. If you give to him, you must give to others and you must know where to stop.

8th. If Mr. Romaine succeeds he will pocket the profits, if he fails as in all probability he will, the town will lose its money.

9th. If Mr. Romaine's, scheme for making brick is successful as it is now in operation, he wants no help, if not successful, why should the town lose $6,000 to make up for Mr. Romaine's miscarriage?

10th. If Mr. Romaine's business was successful for every man employed with his improved machinery, two men would have to be discharged from other brickyards, and where would be the gain?

11th. For these and other reasons let every ratepayer at once put an end to this system of log rolling which a vote in favor of Romaine's by-law, would inaugurate.

DONEGAL STREET.

October, 1875.

To the Editor of the Peterborough Examiner.

SIR:—

Pending the approaching election for the representation of the West Riding of this County in the Ontario Legislature, I desire, as one of many Irish Catholic electors, to express a few words in reference thereto, and ask your kindness for their insertion in your paper.

Respecting the individual candidates, but one opinion prevails; that both are competent good men.

But the question for us to consider is not one of individual merits, and it has passed beyond the bounds of sentiment.

It is plainly whether at the election now upon us, we shall by our votes elect a man who goes in pledged to turn out the present government, or one who goes in pledged to support it in all just and necessary legislation. Whether we cast our votes to turn out of power the first Ontario government that has given us a Catholic representative at its councils, or put in its place a government, or a party, that has never given us and would not give us in that legislature a representative man. This is the question, truly stated, that my Irish Catholic friends in the West Riding are now called on to consider and to act upon, and I have no doubt but they will discharge that duty in a manner alike creditable to their sense of self respect, and in appreciation of the recognition by the government in power of their just claims to representation in the government of their country.

Unfortunately 'tis but too true that politically, we, Irish Catholics, occupy a very anomalous position in Ontario, indeed in Canada. But it has been of late only that we have received anything approaching to consideration or consultation from any political party, and this has come from reformers who have had the moral courage to come down to our humble level, and condescend to speak to us, and to discuss political questions with us. It used to be the good old fashion at election times for a few self constituted leaders of the conservative party to do all this business for us. They would meet somewhere, nominate their man, and we were expected to do our duty—that's all. But those times have passed away. It cannot be denied that till lately we have not had, since the reformation at least, an Irish Catholic speaker of a House of Commons wherever the British flag floats. We have now one at Ottawa in the person of Timothy Warren Anglin, than whom there is not in the Dominion, or out of it for that matter, any Irishman more racy of the sacred soil that gave him birth, or one who has fought and continues to fight interruptidly, with great ability and power, the battles of his countrymen and co-religionists in Canada, but especially in his own Province of New Brunswick, where, it is to be deplored, the same hostile element meets him that confronts us in Ontario. We also have in the government at Ottawa the Hon. R. W. Scott, the Father of our Separate School Bill, one of the most able, courteous and honorable representatives of any class or creed in Canada, and one who under no circumstances has compromised the proud position which he occupies.

In the government of Ontario we have as our representative the hon. C. F. Frazer, and for the life of me I cannot imagine the feelings or sentiments or the object that could move a real Irish Catholic to cast a vote or utter a word that would go to turn him out. He is perhaps the most prominent member of the Ontario government. He is a young man, yet occupies a foremost place amongst the ablest and ripest scholars and politicians in the Dominion. He has already distinguished himself as the champion of our civil rights and liberties. He has proved the faith that's in him. Only on Sunday last whilst joining in a peaceable religious procession of Catholics performing the last office of the jubilee, and passing through the streets of Toronto from one church to another, was he marked out for the missile from some cowardly fellow who regarded the Sabbath little, and who, I feel confident, was neither a Scotchman nor a grit. Yet this is the man whom doubtless the Catholics of Peterborough and Ennismore will be asked to turn out of power at the approaching election, to make way for Messrs. Rykert, Bonltbee and Carnegie. Catholic electors of the West, you will not do this—you at all events will not be so ungrateful—you cannot be—you will not be guilty of ingratitude so base and so foreign to your thankful Irish nature, but you will like Irishmen and Catholics, ever grateful for services rendered to your creed and nationality, turn out as one man to elect the candidate who goes in to support Mr. Fraser and the government of which he is a member, who goes in as his friend and not as his enemy.

Lately too the satisfaction has been afforded us of having appointed to the Lieut. Governorship of Ontario a Catholic gentleman, who with his educated and amiable Catholic family now grace the halls of Government House.

Now these are all living facts that sophistry cannot get over, and that must force themselves on the attention of every reflecting mind. Upon my mind I must confess these proofs of liberality and fair play have made a strong impression, and contrasted with the narrow ostracism of former political regimes in our regard, they stand out in bold relief as evidences of the fair and conciliatory policy proposed to us by the reform party now in power.

Ought we, Irish Catholics, endeavor to undo this state of things? I do not think so. Rather should we assist in enlarging and perfecting our influence and autonomy in this Province, by strengthening the hands of Hon. Mr. Fraser and his liberal government.

No doubt every nook and corner in the Riding where a Catholic vote can be scented out, will be, and is being visited by oily tongued gentlemen, who with words of honey on their lips, and impressions of scorn, hatred and contempt of us in their hearts will, as of old, endeavor to cajole confiding and unsuspecting Catholic electors.

I am far from putting down the Opposition candidate, Mr. Scott, for any personal conduct of this kind. I respect and know him too well for that. But he is in bad company, some of whom would have shelved him if they could, but who, at the eleventh hour, and as a last resource, had to fall back on him as a probable means of saving a forlorn hope. He has nothing to thank the ambitious leaders for. Truly might he exclaim in the words of our immortal O'Connell, who never boasted much of that "British fair play" to Irishmen or women, of late so much paraded about,—"Thank you for nothing said the Gallypot."

During the coming campaign doubtless the sayings and doings of the Globe newspaper for twenty years back will be rolled up, as if they had anything to do with the sayings and doings at the present time. Witness the late articles in that paper condemning in unmistakable language the conduct of the young rioters,—aye and of old ones too—who disgraced the streets of Toronto on the last two Sundays, and contrast them with the articles that appeared in the Leader newspaper, the organ par excellence of Britons and "British fair play" as it is called in Canada.

The old song of the "Surplus," "Timber sale," "Municipal Loan Fund distribution, Central Prison, Agricultural Colleges, Debentures, Railway Aid, &c., will be unsparingly criticised and enlarged upon by those disinterested patriots and would be guardians of the public interests. Of late these pure economic gentlemen have dropped from their list the Proton Outrage, the Canoe Couch Damask, and the everlasting Fence; but these subects have been rendered threadbare, and the others will soon be likewise.

The "Surplus," so called by the Sandfield McDonald administration, was not at all wholly, if in part, made up by savings out of the legitimate yearly revenue of the province.

It was largely made up of monies that accrued to Ontario by the settlement of affairs with the province of Quebec at confederation, and for which the Government of the day could not have claimed any credit by the economy of closing up such institutions as the Catholic College of Regiopolis at Kingston and kindred institutions that remain closed to this day, and by the pinching cheese paring policy in other respects pursued by that effete Government to the detriment of the country's best interests. This is how the much boasted "Surplus" had been made up.

But in all seriousness might it not be asked, why an undeveloped infant country like ours, is every year obliged to borrow money abroad at a high rate of interest, should have a surplus at all, or at best a comparatively idle surplus drawing scarcely half the amount of interest the country has to pay out of the taxes of the people for borrowed money? Would it not be a sounder policy to let the taxes that go to make up those surpluses remain in the pockets of the hard worked Farmers and Mechanic's and that not one cent should be raised from them beyond the absolute requirements of the public service?

The existence of a Surplus cash is in compatible with the condition, resources and producing power of any new country But when, as in our case, an accidental asset occurs—it is not a Surplus—it is more to the country's weal and creditable to the ruling power that it should have been disposed of as this has been, to the people's advantage than to have retained it as a glittering bait wherewith to purchase political support and corrupt the the morals of the community.

As to the "Timber Sale" it is indeed refreshing to hear the weakly efforts of embryo politicians descanting upon this subject, and what I must pronounce as impertinent flippancy, the manner in which the name of Hon. R. W. Scott is spoken of in this connexion, by these half fledged individuals who presume to utter it. This able, highminded and honorable gentleman needs no advocacy from any man. He has long since made his mark in the Halls of parliament, and imprinted his name on the Statutes of his country. The Father of our Separate School Act, and the guiding star of every measure especially affecting Irish Catholic interests of the past twenty years, he can afford to withstand the impotent malice of Small Fry, who literally are unfit to loose the latchets of his shoes. But what has Hon Mr. Scott done?

Simply this :—About four years ago he being then commissioner of Crown Lands when timber was very high and the country in a prosperous condition, sold by Public Auction, duly advertised for a certain number of times, the Pine timber only on a rocky inaccessible tract north of Lake Superior, It brought about $1.50 per acre, amounting on the sale to some $600,000,00 which so far helped to lighten taxation and to promote public improvements. Never before or since would the Pine timber have brought so much and it is a fact that many of the purchasers, finding they had made a bad bargain after having paid their money, relinquished their claims, and that to-day the government holds the money and the timber too. It is well known that property of this kind is always liable to destruction by fire and other causes, but especially has this been the case over this tract, during the last few years, and is likely to be the time to come, owing to explorations by Railway, mining and other parties. It is a fact that a very large area of these limits was destroyed by fire since they were sold and that some six or seven men employed on the Pacific Railway Survey perished in the flames. Indeed considering the general depression that has since taken place in all branches of industry, more particularly in the timber business, this sale should be accounted a most fortunate one for the Province and the statesman who made it receive praise instead of vituperation.

In one county a sale of nine townships, timber land, water and all, for but a dollar an acre, was made by another government to an English company some few years ago and not a word about it. A family and connexions not far from here have been drawing an income for years from it, and recently, it is said, that one member of this family sold his timber interest in one township only for the nice little sum of $20,000.

The Municipal Loan Fund had been years an unsettled and troublesome matter; a sort of political topsdo the igniting wire of which every successive government was afraid to touch. To the credit of the present administration they did touch it and settle it to the satisfaction of the country without any further explosion than that caused by the feeble popguns that are now discharging their last pent shots.

The Central Prison affair like the other stock grievances of the purists, is always misrepresented.

The Government by concentrating at the provincial capital, Toronto, three prisons in one, have greatly reduced building expenses and management and brought within immediate and chief supervision a very costly and important institution. It is not true that the contract for this building was taken from Mr. Elliott, and given to Messrs. Dickey. The work given to the latter was of a different kind, being the iron work, heating apparatus, gas fittings, &c., and first class work has been performed by them. If the Messrs. Dickey's gave a half holiday to their workmen, what of it? The public interests did not suffer by that—would the faultfinders deprive a poor man of a half holiday and his beer too? Of the nonsense spouted about the Agricultural College Debentures, Railway aid, Funds, &c., arguments and facts quite as effectual and convincing might be adduced, but I feel to do so would be insulting to the intelligence of your readers and trespassing too much on your space. Those gentlemen who go about, with whining cant and hypocrisy on their lips have no aim under heaven for their country's good. The sole object is to put the present government out, and put themselves in. This is the sum and substance of all the froth and fury; for I verily believe, that if the Four Archangels with St. Peter at their head, (and I doubt if he would be acceptable) came down from heaven, and took hold of the Central Prison debentures, Railway Aid Funds, &c., they would fail to satisfy the super legal grumblers, unless indeed some faint prompest of office were held out, and this I don't think St. Peter would hold out to them.

In the course of the canvass it will be said, and it can with truth be said that our people, in this county especially, have not received from Reformers that cordial and hearty support, that we expected and are entitled to at their hands. But it should be borne in mind that for twenty years previously, we received no countenance whatever from Conservatives, and it should not be wondered at, if Reformers whom we during that period opposed, should hesitate somewhat in responding to us, a warm united support. Twenty years we battled to subdue Conservatives into a sense of common justice and rights, but I don't think it will require so long to teach Reformers the necessity and the policy of acting generously towards us. If [illegible] as we are sure [illegible] among the commanders.

[illegible] We leave it to the [illegible] to say whether we have not [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] Reformers [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] Reformers [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] Reformers

More Light.—We understand that it is the intention of the town and village council to place three gas lamps on the new bridge. This is a move that will be appreciated by all who cross the bridge at night, especially by ladies not accompanied by a stong body guard, as it is well known that light prevents much evil.

Huron and Quebec Railway.—The Town of Perth has passed a By Law granting a bonus of $100,000 to this road and the County of Perth is ready to grant $200,000, if the road pass through Perth, the chief town. This will, in all probability be the route yet. It is only a deflection of about 4 miles from a direct line.

Temperance.—A meeting of the temperance men of the united Counties of Northumberland is called for the 20th inst. in Port Hope, to discuss the expediency of agitation for a prohibitory liquor law, and to secure a by-law for that purpose in the County Council. What are the people of Peterboro doing towards this object in our town and county?

The New Bridge is now completed, and looks well. It certainly pleases the eye and if the material is of good quality there need be no fears as to its durability The approaches are all made to suit and now if the work had not been seen beforehand no person could detect any change in the streets, if anything they look better than before. The joint committee of the town and county met yesterday at 2 p. m. to test the structure and take it off the hands of the contractors. They were well pleased with the Bridge. Nine heavy loads of lumber, and a load of two tons from Mr. Roger's mill were taken over at once, at a very rapid rate.

Killed.—A man named Hartley, a stranger here, who had worked at the Asburn Mills, was killed in a factory at Norwook on Tuesday. He was caught in a belt and almost cut into two pieces, between it and the pulley. He was 49 years of age. He leaves a wife and 4 children.

A conductor on the Midland, named Mimms, was killed near Port Hope on Tuesday. He was leaning over to examine the track where a telegraph pole was very close to it, and his head coming against the pole he received such injuries as caused death in about two hours. He was on the train in the place of Mr. Reynolds, who had gone to the lakes for a few days.

Your Committee have, under consideration a proposition from the Reeve of Ashburnham, (received through his Worship the Mayor), offering to pay one half the cost of three lamps on the New Iron Bridge, if the corporation would pay the other half. Your Committee would recommend that three lamps may be erected on the Bridge, provided that Ashburnham and the County would pay two-thirds of all the expenses incurred on that account. Would also recommend that a Lamp be erected on Hunter street, at the intersection of Harvey street to complete the line of lights to the Bridge. All of which is respectfully submitted,

NO HUMBUG.

We do not wish to inform you, readers that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all disease, of mind, body, or estate, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show; but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of Catarrh in its worst forms and stages It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. It is also sold by druggists. A Walking Advertisement, Limestone Springs, S. C. Dr R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sir,—I am a walking advertisement for your Golden Medical Discovery, Purgative Pellets, and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, they having cured me of Catarrh of nine years' standing, which was so bad that it disfigured my nose, and, while curing it, your medicines also cured me of Asthma in its worst and most aggravated form. Before using your medicines I had become reduced in flesh from one hundred and fifty-five to one hundred and fifteen pounds and am in better health than I have enjoyed for twenty years, yours truly, J. L. Lumsden. The above is but a fair sample of hundreds of letters which are received by Dr. Pierce, and in the face of such an evidence who can longer doubt that the Doctor's medicines cure the worst cases of Chronic Catarrh.

GUIBORD'S COFFIN.—Guibord's coffin is to consist of two stones of immense weight hollowed out, and riveted together with malleable iron bars. Ten horses will be required to move the stones. The coffin will be completed on Saturday. An officer from Washington, thoroughly skilled in the preparation of the most efficient explosive known to modern science, has been engaged to prepare a torpedo, to be placed in connection with the grave that the least disturbance of the earth within one foot of the coffin will be attended with an instant explosion of the most terrific character. There will be no danger to a person walking over the grave, but woe to him who digs beneath the surface.

A FEARFUL ATTACK.—It becomes our painful duty to notice a dreadful attack made on a dear child, about four years old, son of Mr. James Jackson, Scugog. The child was in the act of crossing the road from his father's place to where one Stephens was plowing on Friday last, when he was attacked by a boar pig, owned by one Dunn, the pig caught the boy by the side tearing out one of his ribs lying bare part of his bowels and exposing one of his lungs and otherwise tearing him. Mr. Stephens hearing the screams of the child ran to the rescue, he had no weapon in his hand and and he tried to drive of the boar with a switch but the brute made for the man tearing one of his hands badly and giving him a couple of fearful gashes on the high which soon rendered him unconscious other men came and the enfuriated animal show ed fight to three or four there. Medical skill was procured with all haste and everything possible done for young sufferer. Ontario Observer.

NEW YORK WITNESS.

The following is from the New York Daily Witness, and as there are men in this Province who could easily aid in assisting Mr Dougall this may induce them to consider the matter The Witness, whether the Montreal Witness or the New York Witness, is the best paper published in America, and deserves the earnest support of every good man who desires to encourage a good family and religious newspaper:

"HELP FOR NEW YORK WITNESS.—The New York Weekly Witness has attained the largest circulation of any weekly newspaper, religious or secular, on this Continent, and the circulation of the New York Daily Witness is fast increasing. The one is over 80,000, and the other over 12,000, with a prospect of a large increase this winter. The two years of panic through which we have passed, and especially the last three months, have been exceedingly hard times for newspapers in the United States, and though there is a prospect of a good business now it will be some months before the advantage of it will be realized to any great extent. Meanwhile I very much need immediate help, and for that purpose have issued bonds for $10 each, of which about 270 have been taken in the first week here. I want to sell 1,000. May I ask all my old friends who can spare ten dollars or more, to subscribe for one or more of these bonds They can be drawn out either in gold or American currency, which may be paid when they are payable on 31st Dec., 1877. They bear interest at the rate of seven per cent., which if not drawn yearly, will be compounded, so that the bond with interest will be $12,48 at maturity. These bonds will be at any time receivable for subscriptions to New York Witness for their face and accrued interest

JOHN DOUGALL,
Proprietor and Editor of the N.Y. Daily and Weekly Witness, No. 2 Spruce street, N.Y.

P.S.—Help in the way of subscriptions to New York Witness, Daily and Weekly, will be equally welcome with subscriptions to bonds and business men will find the N.Y. Daily Witness remarkably good value at $4 a year post free.

ost. The money may be sent to the Montreal Witness or to me,
